It is currently rumored in South Seabrook that Marshall, who now has a trial pending for the presumed homicide of Joseph E. Knox, while making a passage from Boar's Head to Salisbury in a boat, both parties being intoxicated at the time, procured the cider on which the spree was commenced from the unfortunate young man's father. It has been suggested that young Knox, who was a church member and had been much esteemed, was not drowned or otherwise deprived of life, but ran away from shame on becoming sober after his freak of folly; this hopeful view of the affair, however, is taken by but few of his townsmen.

The Salisbury (Mass.) Thief Detecting Company has circulated and posted bills offering rewards for the detection and conviction of persons unlawfully cutting wood on the land of any member of the company, the rewards varying from $4 to $25, according to the size of the trees so taken; $20 reward is offered for the conviction of any one unlawfully setting woods or other property on fire, $5 for the conviction of any one tearing down the posted bills, and $3 for the conviction of any other malicious offender. A prosecuting committee of three are in charge of the matter.

Robert Butler of East Salisbury, Mass., has been admitted to bail in $500 to appear at a higher court to answer a charge of unlawfully living with Delia A. Merrill, who is not his wife. We are informed that Butler formerly resided in Hampton Falls, where he is very respectably connected; that he was married in 1861, but was afterwards divorced, his wife having liberty to marry again if she choose, but he not. [We are aware that in some States a suit for divorce, if granted by the courts, may only unmarry one of the parties; though how they manage to divorce one-half of a married couple and leave the other half still married, we do not exactly understand. We have no doubt it is first-rate law, but it will hardly pass muster for common sense.] Our informant states that Miss Merrill, by whom Butler has one child, has been considered as his wife until recently, when he induced Miss Sarah Eaton of East Salisbury, formerly of South Seabrook, to elope with him; but in the investigation consequent on that elopement, discoveries were made which have resulted in the present charge being brought against him.

The Panorama

Of the "Wonders of California" was unrolled to a small but appreciative audience, Tuesday evening; the paintings are all new, and some of them very fine. There will be two more exhibitions, a matinee this afternoon, especially for children, and an evening's entertainment for adults. The panorama has never before been exhibited outside the State of Maine, and is well worth a visit; and had notice been given of its coming through the local press a better paying house would have been secured, as but a small portion of our citizens were aware of its advent. Don't hide your light under a bushel basket.

NEW SUBSCRIBERS who now pay in advance for the DAILY CHRONICLE or N. H. GAZETTE for the year 1872, will receive either paper gratis until January. We will furnish the DAILY CHRONICLE and Harper's Weekly, Harper's Bazar, or Harper's Magazine, for $9 per annum; and the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE and Harper's Weekly, Harper's Bazar, or Harper's Magazine, for $5—in advance. We will furnish the GAZETTE and Cultivator & Country Gentleman for $4 per annum—in advance.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

DEATHS.

In this city, Tuesday morning, Nov. 7th, Mrs. ABIGAIL HUBBARD WEEKS, aged 83 years, 3 months, a native of Kennebunk, Me., and widow of the late William Weeks, Esq., a former editor of the N. H. Gazette. A woman of strong character and the most cheerful disposition—very dear to a large family connection, and highly esteemed by all who knew her. Her last sickness, of typhoid pneumonia, was but of five days duration, and her suffering was borne without a murmur; and so peaceful was life's exit that her watching attendant supposed for a while that she had merely fallen asleep. And so indeed had she—that blessed sleep, from which none ever wakes to weep. Well might her last words be, "I'm ready to go, I'm ready to go." P.

BOYS AS FARMERS.

BY CHARLES DUDLEY WARNER.

There are so many bright spots in the life of a farm-boy, that I sometimes think I should like to live the life over again; I should almost be willing to be a girl if it were not for the chores. There is a great comfort to a boy in the amount of work he can get rid of doing. It is sometimes astonishing how slow he can go on an errand, he who leads the school in a race. The world is new and interesting to him, and there is so much to take his attention off, when he is sent to do anything. Perhaps he couldn't explain, himself, why, when he is sent to the neighbor's after yeast, he stops to stone the frogs; he is not exactly cruel, but he wants to see if he can hit 'em. No other living thing can go so slow as a boy sent on an errand. His legs seem to be lead, unless he happens to espy a woodchuck in an adjoining lot, when he gives chase to it like a deer; and it is a curious fact about boys, that two will be a great deal slower in doing anything than one, and that the more you have to help on a piece of work the less is accomplished. Boys have a great power of helping each other do nothing; and they are so innocent about it, and unconscious, "I went as quick as ever I could," says one boy, when his father asks him why he didn't stay all night, when he has been absent three hours on a ten-minute errand. The sarcasm has no effect on the boy.

Going after the cows was a serious thing in my day. I had to climb a hill, which was covered with wild strawberries in the season. Could any boy pass by those ripe berries? And then in the fragrant hill pasture, there were beds of wintergreen with red berries, tufts of columbine, roots of sassafras to be dug, and dozens of things good to eat or to smell, that I could not resist. It sometimes even lay in my way to climb a tree to look for a crow's nest, or to swing in the top, or to see if I could see the steeple of the village church. It became very important sometimes for me to see that steeple; and in the midst of my investigations, the tin-horn would blow a great blast from the farm house, which would send a cold chill down my back in the hottest days. I knew what it meant. It had a frightfully impatient quaver in it, not at all like the sweet note that called us to dinner from the hay-field. It said, "why on earth doesn't that boy come home? it is almost dark and the cows ain't milked!" And that was the time the cows had to start into a brisk pace and make up for lost time. I wonder if any boy ever drove the cows home late, who did not say that the cows were at the very farther end of the pasture, and that "Old Brindle" was hidden in the woods, and he couldn't find her for ever so long! The brindle cow is the boy's scape-goat, many a time.

No other boy knows how to appreciate a holiday as the farm-boy does; and his best ones are of a peculiar kind. Going fishing is of course one sort. The excitement of rigging up the tackle, digging the bait, and the anticipation of great luck; these are pure pleasures, enjoyed because they are rare. Boys who can go a-fishing any time care but little for it. Tramping all day through brush and briar, fighting flies and mosquitoes, and branches that tangle the line, and snags that break the hook, and returning home late and hungry, with wet feet and a string of speckled trout on a willow twig, and having the family crowd out at the kitchen door to look at 'em and say, "Pretty well done for you, bub; did you catch that big one yourself?" This is also pure happiness, the like of which the boy will never have again, not if he comes to be selectman and deacon, and to "keep store."

But the holidays I recall with delight were the two days in spring and fall, when we went to the distant pasture land, in a neighboring town, maybe, to drive thither the young cattle and colts, and to bring them back again. It was a wild and rock upland where our great pasture was, many miles from home, the road to it running by a brawling river, and up a dashing brookside among great hills. What a day's adventure it was! It was like a journey to Europe. The night before, I could scarcely sleep for thinking of it, and there was no trouble about getting me up at sunrise that morning. The breakfast was eaten, the luncheon was packed in a large basket, with bottles of root beer and a jug of switchel, which packing I superintended with the greatest interest; and then the cattle were to be collected for the march, and the horses hitched up. Did I shirk any duty? Was I slow? I think not. I was willing to run my legs off after the frisky steers, who seemed to have an idea they were going on a lark, and frolicked about, dashing into all gates, and through all bars except the right ones; and how cheerfully I did yell at them; it was a glorious chance to "holler," and I have never heard any speaker on the stump or at camp-meeting, who could make more noise. I have often thought it fortunate that the amount of noise in a boy does not increase in proportion to his size; it it did the world could not contain it.

The whole day was full of excitement and adventure. We were away from the farm, which to a boy is one of the best parts of farming; we saw other farms and other people at work; I had the pleasure of marching along, and swinging my whip, pretty boys of whom I knew, who were picking up stones. Every turn of the road, every bend and rapid of the river, and the great boulders by the roadside, the watering-troughs, the great pine that had been struck by lightning, the mysterious covered-bridge over the river just wherein was most swift, and rocky, and foamy, the chance eagle in the blue sky, the sense of going somewhere—why, as I recall all these things I feel sure that even the Prince Imperial, as he used to dash on horseback through the Bois de Boulogne, with fifty mounted hussars clattering at his heels, and crowds of people cheering, could not have been as happy as was I, a boy in short jacket and shorter pantaloons, trudging in the dust that day behind the steers and colts, cracking my black stock whip.

I wish the journey would never end; but at last, by noon, we reach the pastures and turn in the herd; and after making the tour of the lots to make sure there are no breaks in the fences, we take our luncheon from the wagon and eat it under the trees by the spring. This is the supreme moment of the day. This is the way to live; this is like the Swiss Family Robinson, and all the rest of my delightful acquaintances in romance. Baked beans, rye-and-Indian bread, (mark, remember,) doughnuts and cheese, pie and root beer. What richness! You may live to dine at Delmonico's, or, if those Frenchmen do not eat each other up, Philippe's in the Rue Montorgueil, in Paris, where the dear old Thackeray used to eat as good a dinner as anybody; but you will get there neither doughnuts, nor pie, nor root beer, nor anything so good as that luncheon at noon in the old pasture, high among the Massachusetts hills! Nor will you ever, if you live to be the oldest boy in the world, have any holiday equal to the one I have described. But I always regretted that I did not take along a fish-line, just to "throw in" the brook we passed. I know there were trout there.

EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs, No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON, After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proofs of skill and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfebl5

ST. CLOUD HOTEL, NEW YORK. BY RAND BROTHERS. Broadway, Cor. of 42nd Street.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption, or the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize the excess of acid, and cause the stomach to sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, healty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is to free the system from all this by Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily taken into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and strengthening properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has this disease of the lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption. If a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other lung, there is hope for life.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. Take Schenck's Mandrake Pills and Pulmonic Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to enable the system to fill the diseased tissue in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm atmosphere.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason, that those who have put partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is proper to be more in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a fatal return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influences. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutricious diet, and all the medicines continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and healthy; have now been well for years, mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment who I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person can use them at home with as good results as by a strict observance of the same.

THE PRAYER.

A pair of dimpled knees bent on the floor,
Two little dove-like eyes half shut in sleep,
A little gold ringed head—this through the door
I hear—asking the Lord "a crystal soul" to keep.
The crimson cheeks seem by dawn's fingers stained,
The dimpled hands, clasped by the angels, seem,
As sunset's amber o'er her head is rained,
Kindling her curls with many a tapering gleam.

Wreathed are her tiny feet with stories old,
Till rose-leaf atmosphere, methinks I see,
Enwrap them in their soft, ethereal fold,
With love's protection to the dimpled knee;
For still the baby songs and tales will please,
As when at first, like bits from silken skein,
She tried to knot them, sitting on my knees,
In baby accents, into threads again.

The little velvet lips just parted are,
Through which the white-winged thoughts troop forth to rise,
As, through an opening bud, perfumes afar
Invisibly are wafted to the skies.
Now to her downy couch my darling's crept,
Where her bright curls, like Jonquils in the snow,
Gleam out, as if the sunbeams there had swept
A little rift for such sweet flowers to grow.

—Charlotte Cordner, in Appleton's Journal.

A KICK AT THE REFORMERS.—The Labor Reformers have been wounded in the house of their friends. A writer in the Patriot comes out against "sordid and corrupt coalitions with spoils-hunting factions." He deals the Labor Reformers' faction a well-deserved blow as follows:

"And now, if in an evil hour it should be found that the leaders of the once invincible Democracy have stood silently and approvingly and seen miserable soldiers of fortune, or false professors of reform, elevated to the highest offices, let those leaders pause and tremble; for the rank and file of the Granite Democracy are not with them in this work of foul demoralization.

No gain, in reputation or in power, can ever come to the Democracy from coalitions with fragmentary and unprincipled factions. Disaster, contamination, ruin certainly, postponed victory, must be invariably the sad result in every instance of corrupt or selfish amalgamation.

That any pretended fragments of discontent, from the two great political parties in this country, can ever assume and maintain a permanent existence, is simply the pretended believe of knaves, or the sincere conviction of ninnies. No such faction can ever per form, thank God! the more than Herculean task of gobbling up the time honored Democratic party; nor should any such factions, under the mere delusive cry and catching of "reform," be permitted to mislead a single Democrat who values his honor and his reputation.

* * * * * * *

Small schemes of politic chicane will always justly strike their pompous inventors square in the face. And that the Democracy of New Hampshire may be saved further the terrible humiliation of having any part or lot in such unmanly and undemocratic proceedings is the solemn prayer of JUNIUS.

—Among the curious social facts developed by the census statistics is the appearance on the rolls of Pensylvania of one family with seven pairs of twins, one family with six pairs, and another family with four pairs. The mother of the last group had six other children, and was only thirty-eight years old.

—A dove flying around the Westborough (Mass.) station, recently became bewildered in the steam of a locomotive, flew directly under the wheels and was crushed to death.

—A Baltimore paper says: "The President valedictoried and then the convention sine died." —On account of wearing a chignon, a Southern negress has been expelled from church.

—Twenty young ladies are now employed in the registry of deeds office in Portland.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and improprieties in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

Describe symptoms in all communications.]

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use this Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints which have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as it laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1871.

THE ELECTIONS.

NEW YORK elects the Republican State ticket by 35,000 to 40,000 majority. Tweed has 12,938 majority for Senator in the 4th district. Erastus C. Benedict, one of the proprietors of the Times, is chosen to the Senate in the 5th district over Mike Norton, Tammanyite, by 600 majority. Woltman, the Tammany candidate in the 6th district, is defeated by 1546 votes. O'Brien, Reformer, has 12,536 majority over Bradley in the 7th district. Ex-Mayor Tieman, Reformer, is elected in the 8th district by 6700 majority over Genet, Tammanyite. The Republicans and Reformers have chosen twelve Assemblymen in the city to six for Tammany. Horatio Seymur is one of the former. The total vote of the city is the largest ever cast except in 1868 at the Presidential election. Hoffman's majority for Governor last year was 52,277; Democratic majority this year, 27,807. Gen. Sigel, Republican, is elected Register of New York city by 25,645 majority. Hichman, speaker of the last Assembly, is defeated for re-election. Barrett, reform candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, has 31,359 majority. Brooklyn gave 10,000 Democratic majority. The State Senate will consist of 22 Republicans and 10 Democrats; the Assembly of 71 Republicans and 57 Democrats.

MARYLAND shows great Republican gains. Tomes, the Republican candidate for Governor runs closely to Whyte, Democrat. The Republicans had no member of the legislature last year, but now have several Senators and about one fourth of the members of the House. Annapolis gave Tome 569, Whyte 481. Whyte's majority in Baltimore is 8500. Cecil, Frederick and Waddington counties have gone Republican. The Republican candidate for Associate Justice in the 4th circuit has 10,000 majority in Alleghany county.

MASSACHUSETTS increases its Republican majority about 7000. The legislature is Republican by large majorities in both branches. Boston gave Washburn, Republican, 8561; Adams, Democrat, 7848; Pitman, Prohibitionist, 810; Chamberlin, Labor Reformer, 312. Newburyport, Washburn, 677; Adams, 638; Chamberlain, 90; Pitman, 10. Boston elects five Republicans and one Democrat to the Senate, and thirty Republicans and nine Democrats to the House. The anti-annexation candidate for Senator in Charlestown was chosen by 24 plurality.

WISCONSIN shows Republican gains, electing Washburn, Republican, Governor, over Doolittle, a renegade Republican nominated by the Democrats, by 16,000 majority. Both houses of the legislature are Republican.

VIRGINIA gives the conservatives about 20,000 majority. The legislature is the same way.

MINNESOTA elects Austin, Republican, Governor, by 8000 majority.

MICHIGAN shows large Republican gains. For the first time in twelve years the Republicans carried Detroit. Moffatt's majority for Mayor is 823. Republican gain, 1200. Common Council stands 14 Republicans to 6 Democrats.

KANSAS is Republican by a largely increased majority.

ARKANSAS sends meagre returns. The anti-Clayton ticket prevailed in Little Rock by 500 majority.

MISSISSIPPI has probably elected a Republican legislature. At Natchez the Republican vote was about 2600. No opposition.

ILLINOIS gives Beveridge, Republican candidate at large for Congress, 30,000 majority. Medill, Republican, has 15,000 majority for Mayor of Chicago, being supported on a union ticket.

NEW JERSEY elects Joel Parker, Democrat, Governor by 4500 majority. Both branches of the legislature have Republican majorities. Newark gave Parker 828 majority. The Senate consists of 12 Republicans, 9 Democrats; the Assembly, 38 Republicans, 22 Democrats—a Republican gain of four.

A Confiding Republican.

From numerous confessions of actual members of the South Carolina Ku-Klux, the professed objects, actual workings, and the signs and grips of the Klan are fully exposed. The confessing rascals state that the objects sought to be attained are, First, Humanity, Justice, and Honor; Second, Aid to brothers in distress; and Third, To put down the Radical party, and restore the Government Washington fought to establish. When questioned as to what they understood by this last, they explained by saying that they were told that this is a "White Man's Government," and that none but white men should be allowed to rule. The prisoners agree that nearly all the raids are political in their character, and are to punish men for voting the Radical ticket, or to force reluctant persons into joining the order. In some cases, however, the Klan sallies out and whips a negro for suspected theft, or for speaking ill of the order. If the victim resists, the instructions are always to kill him, but murder is never planned in advance except under orders of the Grand Klan. The editor of one of our Republican exchanges, commenting on these disclosures by men who have actually been engaged in Ku-Klux outrages, says: "After this no Democratic paper will have the hardihood to continue the stale cry that the Ku-Klux are a myth, or at the most an organization to punish thieving colored men."

Won't they, indeed? That editor is of a most confiding disposition, if he really thinks the Democratic press will give up one of their pet assertions for no better reason than that it is proved to be wholly false. The fact that innumerable outrages have been committed in the South by bodies of armed and disguised men, the victims being nearly always Republicans and the perpetrators seldom or never brought to justice, has long been notorious, and as fully proved (at least to unprejudiced minds) the existence of a Democratic secret society whose aim was to influence politics by violence as do the recent confessions of members of that society. Yet what Democratic paper at the North either denounced the Klan or failed to stigmatize the reports of their ruffianism as "Radical slanders?" We don't know of one such. The Klan was working in the interests of the Democratic party, like Tammany Hall, —and like Tammany was defended by the Democratic press.

The course of the coppery press regarding the Ku-Klux is an exact parallel with their course concerning Tammany. The gigantic villainy of Tweed, Sweeny & Co. was as well known a year ago as it is now; the ballot-box stuffing, repeating and wholesale stealing were proved—morally proved—beyond the shadow of a doubt; but the ballot-box stuffing and fraudulent voting carried the State of New York for Democracy, and therefore the Democratic press cried "slander" when the Republicans cried "fraud," as they pointed to election districts giving Democratic majorities exceeding their total number of residents, including women and children; and the money sent by Tammany to other States to help carry them for the Democracy, blinded the Democratic press to the fact that it and much more was stolen from the people. Tammany led the Democratic party; Tammany was almost omnipotent, so of course Tammany was virtuous. At last the New York Times published its damaging expose and specific charges of enormous stealings, following up the attack regardless of the bitter denunciations of the Democratic press; this led to the vigorous action of the men who were the greatest pecuniary losers, the heavy taxpayers of the city; legal evidence of the guilt which had long been morally proved was obtained, and then—and not till then—the Democratic papers slowly, reluctantly, and in most cases very feebly joined in the attack on the thieves. So long as Tammany was only known to be a den of thieves, Tammany was defended as a Democratic power; but when Tammany was proved to be a den of thieves the circumstances were altered — Tammany would thereafter have been a source of weakness rather than of strength, and the task of upholding the thieves and their stolen millions promised to be fatal to the party, whose constitution was already broken down by the disasters of ten years and the political blunders and crimes of twenty. Tammany must be ignored, if there was to be enough of the party left to make a decent funeral; so first it was discovered that Tammany was about as much Republican as Democratic, then that Tweed & Co. had been rascals only for their own benefit and not for their party's as well,—and we now gather from some of our Democratic exchanges the astounding information that to the Democracy is mainly due the credit of unearthing the lightly-concealed villainy of the Tammany Ring!

And so it has been with the Ku-Klux. In face of an immense mass of evidence, its existence has been denied, or if admitted to exist, the charge that it is a political—a Democratic—organization has been indignantly spurned. The Democratic party is as innocent of Ku-Kluxism as it has recently been discovered to be of Tammanyism; and by and by, when the Ku-Klux are utterly crushed and life and property in the South are once more safe without regard to the politics of the possessor, we shall be told that to the Democratic party we are indebted for the breaking up of the infamous organization. But one ugly fact will remain to torment the virtuous Democracy, which is that that party is the only one which has ever reaped any political benefit from either Tammany or the Ku-Klux.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING.—We have made great additions to our Jobbing facilities—a mammoth Hand Press (the largest in Portsmouth,) new Display Type, Borders of various styles, &c. —and are prepared to execute With neatness and dispatch, all orders for FULL SHEET POSTERS, DATE SLIPS, PAMPHLETS, SERMONS, ADDRESSES, AUCTION BILLS, CONSTITUTIONS, BY LAWS, PROGRAMMES, HANDBILLS, CIRCULARS, ORDERS DANCES, BLANKS, BILL HEADS, RECEIPTS, TICKETS, BUSINESS, MARRIAGE, ADDRESS AND VISITING CARDS, LABELS, TAGS, and in fact PRINTING OF ANY DESCRIPTION, at SATISFACTORY PRICES. Orders received by mail, express, or at the CHRONICLE OFFICE will be promptly filled.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE DOMESTIC SEWING MACHINE.—Since the Domestic Sewing Machine was awarded the "First Premium" at the late State Fair at Dover, the rush for them has been even greater than ever; Mr. E. A. Joy, the fortunate Agent, whose rooms are adjoining our office, is unable to set them up as fast as they are called for, notwithstanding he has lately employed an able assistant. Everybody who buys a "Domestic" seems happy. At the State Fair it was found to be the only Machine in the world having self-adjusting tensions. It was in operation four days, using all kinds of thread on all sorts of goods, without any change of tensions. If you don't examine it before purchasing any other, you will wish you had.

IT IS SAID that if a puff of air were to be blown into a vein of an animal, death would instantaneously follow, because circulation would be stopped. The blood makes the entire circuit of the human body every seven minutes, and whenever this circulation is impeded or any of its channels are clogged by impurities which ought to be carried off, disease follows—fever or a disorder of liver or kidneys, or scrofula, or dyspepsia. To get at and remove the source of the difficulty use the old and infallible blood purifier, DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. o21 4w

Butter and cheese are almost indispensable articles of food. Properly used, they are nutritious and healthy; but an inordinate use of either causes indigestion and dyspepsia. Parson's Purgative Pills, judiciously used, will remove both of these troubles.

Have you ague in the face; and is it badly swollen? Have you severe pain in the chest back, or side? Have you cramp or pains in the stomach or bowels? Have you bilious colic or severe griping pains? If so use Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

AWFUL DEFEAT!!!

The rout complete! The last hope of the parties who have been getting up SCALP POISONS to compete with

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

is lost, lost, lost! Still, it towers over all rivals, new and old. Still, it remains the STANDARD HAIR DYE OF THE COUNTRY. Still, tens of thousands of heads that once showed the white flag,

Carry Cristadoro's Colors,

and the course of the dye of dyes is ever upward and onward. So much for excellence, wholesomeness, and a true reproduction of Nature's tints. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

The Martyrs of Neglect.

It is not too much to say that ten of thousands are now suffering from biliousness, indigestion, constipation, periodical fevers, general debility, and nervous affections, who might be restored to perfect health within a month or less by the use of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. The multitudes who have been cured of these and other ailments by the use of this well known specific are always ready to testify to its virtue as a preventive and a remedy. They are spread over the whole country: they are eager to praise and recommend it; and yet, notwithstanding its vast popularity, there are many invalids, and many who are continually exposed to the epidemical diseases, against which it is a sure protection, who, either through indifference or incredulity neglect to seize the opportunity to cure, any means of prevention, which they have only to reach out their hands to obtain. This is strange; it is one of the anomalies of human nature which it is impossible to account for or explain. It is, however, quite certain that every day the number of these Martyrs of Neglect are diminishing. This is proved by the statistics of the sales of the great remedy. During the present fall the demand for it has increased beyond all precedent, and it seems as if in the end the entire community would realize the important fact, that when all other medicines prescribed for the above complaints fail, it can and does effect a cure. As a protection against the diseases most common at this season, there is nothing comparable with it.

Political.

The Boston Times, speaking of the effect of the elections on national political prospects, says "things have been in statu quo, or perhaps a little to the south of that position."

THERE WERE NO LIVES LOST at the election in New York city—probably because the Finnegans were afraid Fisk would rally again and crush them with his sprained ankle.

—The burned Chicago buildings, if placed side by side, would reach one hundred miles.

—Chicago received $150 in Confederate money from a Richmond philantropist.

—Texas bewails a scarcity of hogs.

OFFICE OF

FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS & FINANCIAL AGENTS

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company,

No. 5 Nassau Street, New York.

The rails are being laid on the Western Division of 100 miles of the Extension of this

GREAT EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINE,

which in a short time will be ready for general travel and traffic, and for the transportation of Kanawha coal to the Ohio River for the Western markets.

The earnings of the Eastern Division of 227 miles as a local road, awaiting the completion of the Middle Division of 100 miles, will reach, this year, nearly $800,000.

The total cost of the entire road, and the large equipment required for its minerals and through traffic, will be fully $30,000,000.

The total amount of the FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, which we are now selling, is FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS, of which only about FOUR MILLIONS remain unsold, the proceeds of which, with the Cash on hand, will be ample for the Completion of the Entire Line.

The inducements they offer to investors are:

A perfect security.

Great popularity and a high price when the road is finished.

The same rate of interest as Five-twenties.

Principal and interest both payable in United States gold coin in New York City.

Their present low price (93 and accrued interest from Nov. 1,) which is about 20 per cent. less than Five-twenties, with equal certainty of payment of interest and principal.

We recommend them to our friends and customers with the same confidence with which we have always recommended the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT and the CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS.

We continue to buy and sell CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS at the market price, and fully expect they will, in time, reach the price of Five-twenty Bonds. They are dealt in at all the principal money-centres of the world; the Company have none left, and can issue no more, on their Main Line, as the amount was fixed by act of Congress at $25,885,000; the property pledged to secure the bondholders is the net receipts of the road for the year will be nearly three times the interest payments thereon.

WORTH FULLY ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS;

The CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are issued in $100, $500, $1000; either coupon or registered; interest, six per cent., gold, payable May and November.

The CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS are all for $1000 each; interest, six per cent., gold, payable January and July, in New York City.

We buy and sell FIVE-TWENTIES, TEN-FORTIES, EIGHTY-ONES, and CENTRAL OF WESTERN PACIFICS, or receive them in payment for CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS at their current market price.

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

Deposit accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum. Checks drawn on us are payable on presentation, without notice, the same as at a National Bank.

Certificates of Deposit, bearing interest at special rates to be agreed upon, will be issued to Savings Banks, Institutions, Trustees of Estates, and others having sums of money awaiting investment.

Orders for Investment Stocks and Bonds executed at the Stock Exchange. Government Securities bought and sold, as usual, at current market rates.

The Second Lecture

In the Lyceum course is to be delivered this (Thursday) evening, by Rev. W. H. H. Murray of Boston; subject, "Deacons." A gentleman who recently heard this lecture delivered says it is one of the most entertaining and amusing discourses he ever listened to, which will reodily be believed by those who have read the lecturer's famous book about the wilds of the Adirondacks.

The Annual Meeting

Of the "Associated Mechanics and Manufacturers of the State of New Hampshire" was held at their rooms on the 7th. The officers for the ensuing year are:—

William A. Vaughan, President; Isaiah Wilson, Vice President; John Knowlton, Treasurer; Daniel J. Vaughan and Alonzo F. Craig, Trustees; Benj. M. Parker, Secretary; Samuel W. Fire in Greenland.

The residence of Dr. A. P. Stevens was burned to the ground on Wednesday. At 9 o'clock, A. M., fire was discovered in an attic chamber and extinguished. At 2 o'clock, P. M., fire was again discovered just as Mr. and Mrs. Stevens were starting for this city. The wind was blowing quite briskly and all attempts to check it failed. The furniture was saved in a partially damaged condition. A shed between the house and barn was torn down and the barn saved. The loss is stated to be $9000; the house was insured for $5000 and the furniture for $3000.

Not a Personal Attack.

The editor whose daily task it is to supply the Democratic flock in this vicinity with reading matter suited to their intellectual capacity, is apparently satisfied that he made a mistake in venting his spleen against Gen. Kilpatrick in the anti-new-departure manner he did, and in answer to our implied suggestions that it may not be politically advisable for the Democratic press any longer to abuse Union generals merely because they helped crush the slaveholders' rebellion, quietly remarks, "We made no attack upon Kilpatrick." We quote his own words, and the public may judge of his attitude in regard to the general whom he says he did not attack. "He (Kilpatrick) was escorted to the depot and went to Boston by a special train, within an hour after closing his 'lecture.' The band played, the general made a speech and off he went with a flourish to help out the office-holders' party in the New Jersey election. He paid $200 to be taken to New York. These fellows have plenty of money. There is plenty in Uncle Sam's treasury." Oh! certainly he made no attack upon Kilpatrick. He evidently loves Union officers and Boys in Blue, and likes to hear the heroes of the rebellion recount the story of their sufferings at Andersonville and tell other humorous anecdotes; but when they talk about whipping the rebel armies the tender-hearted soul is melted to sneers.

My Friend Tumwell

Is a rare genius. Observation is at once his occupation and his especial forte. His society is cultivated by men of high and low degree, who learn wisdom from his sayings and are disciples ere they realize it. Tumwell is contented, reminding his adherents of the feline character, undismayed while appetite is satisfied and comfortable in out of the way places. He is a born philosopher. Great events disturb not his stoic philosophy. Ambition he has not—neither great possessions. His friends, admiring his steadiness, sought to induce him to accept a minor public elective office. To their sorrow he declined; to their astonishment he criticised; and these are the words he spake.

"I propose to profit by the experience of others. A. B. was chosen Mayor of our municipality. He had the confidence of all classes. The debt must be reduced, expenses lessened and improvements made. It was the old story rehearsed. He could not eat his cake and have it. He retired amidst the execrations of his former supporters. He was held up as a spendthrift, opposed because he advocated reasonable taxation, overslaughed for carrying on improvements. He was succeeded by a good business man, who was to do wonders. One short year sufficed to show no decreased taxation, little public improvement, an over-expenditure of every appropriation and the gradual payment of the debt abandoned. His indignant constituents consigned him to political infamy. None of that for me. The public are but dogs, always ready to growl."

I pondered over these wise words, and thought. Who was hit, say you! No person that you know. It was in "those days" before the millenium arrived. Now, how different! My friend Tumwell has grown and I with few others of all his disciples remain to assume his falling mantle. I am a citizen and pay some tax in Portsmouth. The world has grown and my old friend's righteous example has not borne sufficient fruit.

Wanted, a candidate for the Mayoralty, and forth come a half dozen aspirants, eager for —— what? Successful merchants, wholesale dealers, et cetera—all are in the hands of their friends, and with some, their best friends are themselves. One suggests that he knows a man of opposite political faith who will vote for him, because of personal friendship; another intimates that he knows of a score of persons who will remain away from the polls unless he be the fortunate (?) man; and yet another thinks the two former do not sufficiently possess the elements of popularity to secure an election. Into the canvass they go. Their honorable ambition is half forgotten in their greediness. They strive for the bauble; one is preferred. The defeated may not know that blessings oft come in disguise. If a man has so far the confidence of his fellow citizens that office seeks him, it is well. If he forgets his duty to himself, the self respect he owes his kind, and stoops to cater for public applause — it is not so well. His chief objective point is after all but an ignis fatuus. Attained, it has given him but a title. For what? I sit me down and musing over Tumwell's teachings, philosophically thank the gods that I am humble, that the unanswered question never brings regret or the thought of unsatisfied ambition to

Morning Chronicle.

Correspondence.

BOSTON, Nov. 7.

The light trade in overcoats, heavy cloths, and other winter raiment, tells surely that the weather has been milder than usual at this season, by comparison with such sales in former years. The blustering weather of a day or two past will remind many to replenish, and already furs are worn on the streets, while the large batters, such as Cook & Aldrich, make their annual display of sables, ermines, and other costly skins. The face of Mr. George Tufts, so well known to many of your citizens, still graces their store opposite the Old South, and it is hard to say whether he could be any more courteous in assisting the daughters of Portsmouth in their selection of furs than he has ever been attentive in furnishing hats to the sons thereof.

The Merrimac Valley Dental Association held their semi-annual session in this city last week. It was well attended, and some very interesting clinical operations were performed, while the usual special essays were delivered. Dr. A. P. Stevens, of your city, has the honor of being President of this body, composed of skillful and thinking members of the dental fraternity from New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, and (I think) Connecticut.

In the new front of the Mercantile Savings Institution building, are four large columns of polished Quincy granite, from the quarry of Mitchell, Wendell & Co., fully equalling in appearance the expensive Scotch granite which has hitherto been imported for such purposes. Capt. George S. Wendell, a member of the firm, is a Portsmouth boy, who doubtless prefers the blasts of the quarry to the blasts of the ocean.

"Parker," (every one knows Parker,) has just completed an elegant work of art, and feels hurt that none of the critics have as yet referred to it through the medium of the press. It is a fresco of large dimensions, occupying the four walls and ceiling of his bedroom, and may be seen in any light, although the light the landlady views it in is decidedly glarish, giving too loud a tone. It is entitled "Belshazzar's Feast," from the prominence of the writing in blood upon the walls. Ball Hughes gained a wide renown from his poker portraits burned with a hot iron on pine wood, but Parker claims greater credit for himself, as his materials were simply a pillow and human blood strained through about a peck of mosquitoes. He says the fresco would have been filled in better in some places if the heated term had been prolonged. This specimen of the execution of our artist will remain on exhibition until he saves money enough to pay for whitewashing the room anew. M.

—The Jersey City bartenders have organized a target company. Too bad. They were dangerous enough before.

—Mr. Chamberlain, station master on the Boston and Maine Railroad at Medford, met his death on Sunday from a singular cause. A daughter of his had been troubled with diptheria, and the father in doctoring or in some way "fixing" her throat, got some of the virus into a scratch upon one of his fingers. This the physician says caused the subsequent sickness and death. Mr. Chamberlain was about 38 years old.

A CURE FOR "BONE FELON."—Of all painful things, can there be any so excruciatingly painful as bone felon? As this malady is quite frequent, and a subject of much earnest consideration, we give the latest recipe for its cure, which is given by that high authority, the London Lancet: "As soon as the disease is felt put directly over the spot a fly blister about the size of your thumb nail, and let it remain for six hours, at the expiration of which time, directly under the surface of the blister, may be seen the felon, which can be instantly taken out with the point of a needle or a lancet."

—A California woman blew off the head of her brother-in-law, during a dispute the other morning, and then finished her breakfast in peace.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf&b16

ST. CLOUD HOTEL, NEW YORK. BY RAND BROTHERS, Broadway, Cor. of 42nd Street.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. At this condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and cause a good appetite, and relish, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and cleanses diseased tissue, and heals ulcerated lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of purulent matter and blood, and then comes the, then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and diseased parts are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in health and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is in low par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan for curing Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one lung, and they are now as healthy as any men. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, and then cure the disease.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold keep the feet dry, avoid damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposure to cold, or to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, and the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation before I commence to cure, so many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting frosts of winter or the chilling rains of autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influence. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, and then you will cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutritious diet, and all the medicine continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I have cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured others in this way, very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my medicines, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

A WOMAN'S POEM.

You say you love me, and you lay
Your hand and fortune at my feet;
I thank you, sir, with all my heart,
For love is sweet.

It is but little to you men,
To whom the doors of Life stand wide,
But much, how much to woman! She Has nought beside.

You make the world in wherein you move,
You rule your tastes, or coarse or fine;
Dine, hunt, or fish, or spend your gold
At dice or wine!

Our world, (alas you make that too!)
Is narrower—shut in four blank walls;
Know you, or care, what light is there?
What shadow falls?

We read the last new novel out,
And live in dream land till it ends;
We write romantic school-girl notes
That bore our friends.

We learn to trill Italian songs,
And thrum for hours the tortured keys;
We think it pleases you, and we
But live to please.

We feed our bird, we tend our flowers,
(Poor in-door things of sickly bloom,)
Or play the housewife in our gloves,
And dust the room.

But some of us have hearts and minds;
So much the worse for us and you,
For grant we seek a better life,
What can we do?

We can not build and sail your ships,
Or drive your engines; we are weak,
And ignorant of the tricks of trade;
To think, and speak,

Or write some earnest, stammering works,
Alone is ours, and that you hate;
So forced within ourselves again,
We sigh and wait.

Ah! who can tell the bitter hours,
The dreary days that women spend?
Their thoughts unshared, their lives unknown,
Without a friend.

Without a friend? And what is he,
Who, like a shadow, day and night,
Follows the woman he prefers?
Lives in her sight.

Her lover—he, a gallant man,
Devoted to her every whim—
He vows to die, for her, so she Must live for him!

We should be very grateful, sir,
That, when you've nothing else to do,
You waste your idle hours on us—
Sa kind of you!

Profuse to studied compliments,
Your manners, like your clothes, are fine,
Though both at times are somewhat strong
Of smoke and wine.

What can we hope to know of you?
Or you of us? We act our parts;
We love in jest; it is the play
Of hands, not hearts!

You grant my bitter words are true
Of others, not of you and me;
Your love is steady as a star—
But we shall see.

You say you love me, have you thought
How much these little words contain?
Alas! a world of happiness,
And worlds of pain!

You know, or should, your nature now,
Its needs and passions. Can I be What you desire me? Do you find
Your all in me?

You do. But have you thought that I
May have my ways and fancies, too!
You love me; will you have your thought
If I love you?

But think again. You know me not;
I, too, may be a butterfly,
A costly parlor doll on show
For you to buy.

You trust me wholly? One word more,
You see me young; they call me fair;
I think I have a pleasant face,
And pretty hair.

But by and by my face will fade,
It must with time, it may with care;
What say you to a wrinkled wife,
With thin, gray hair?

You care not, you; in youth, or age,
Your heart is mine, while life endures;
Is it so? Then, Arthur, here's my hand,
My heart is yours.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses, and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in invigorating the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this and result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Bachu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paint and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1871.

THE ELECTIONS.

In New York, Horatio Seymour is defeated for the Assembly by Thos. C. Field, one of the Tammany thieves, by [illegible]tes. Curtis and Sedgewick, Re[illegible]ans, are chosen supervisors of the c[illegible] by about 22,000. Spaulding, Re[illegible]n, was elected to the marine c[illegible] by 21,000. Barrett's majority o[illegible]ed with is nearly 44,000.

[illegible]well, Democrat, has 4839 majority fo[illegible] Mayor of Brooklyn.

The complete vote for aldermen in New York city stands Tammany, 47,-301; anti-Tammany, 72,392. All fifteen of the anti-Tammany aldermen were elected in the city, and fifteen anti-Tammany assistant aldermen were also elected.

The State Senate will consist of 24 Republicans, 8 Democrats; Assembly, 90 Republicans, 38 Democrats.

Victoria Woodhull and Tennie C. Claflin offered votes, Tuesday, but were refused the privilege. Mrs. Woodhull protests in a lengthy card. Mrs. L. D. Mansfield, lady principal, and other ladies of Rockland Institute, at Nyack, voted.

In the 12th ward of Brooklyn, largely Democratic, there were more votes thrown than there are male residents.

The Democratic majority in Maryland is 12,600.

In Mobile, Ala., the Democratic majority is 2900.

The Republicans carry Mississippi by 15,000 majority and have 12 or 15 majority in the Senate.

The entire Republican ticket is elected in Arkansas.

New Hampshire Items.

On the 6th, in Franklin, Mr. Curtis C. Whedler tried arsenic as a means of departing for "that bourne," and Dr. Burleigh took it out of him.

On the 4th Messrs. Whittier of the Union House and S. H. Dumas of the Bear's Head House at Hampton Beach started to go out to ride with a young, spirited horse owned by the former. The horse started before Mr. W. could catch the reins and both were thrown out. Mr. D. had a leg broken.

On the 4th, in Nashua, Mr. William Fitz was passing along one of the streets in the evening and some one hailed him. In trying to see who wanted him, Mr. F. was knocked down with a slung shot and will lose the sight of one eye.

The Governor and Council have appointed Prof. Ephraim Knight of New London Supervisor of the Normal School.

Mr. James W. Fernald, a Wolfeborough man, lost twelve thousand bushels of oats and a large lot of pork-packing apparatus by the Chicago fire.

The Orphans' Home has no vacant chairs and must graduate some of its pupils before more can be taken under Mrs. Mack's wing.

The new Phillips' Exeter Academy building at Exeter will be completed next February. The sum of $550 has been donated by Jesse Seligman, of New York city, to be applied to the purchase of a clock for the tower.

Messrs. A. F. & O. F. Barron, proprietors of the Twin Mountain House, have purchased the Crawford House and some 17,000 acres of land in the vicinity of the White Mountain Notch, for $50,000.

THE GOVERNOR of WISCONSIN has issued a circular to the people of the United States, saying that the sufferers by the recent fires in that State are now amply supplied with clothing, and that no further contributions of that kind are needed. He acknowledges with thanks the general liberality of the people.

—The Troy Times lately spoke of a Republican orator in that place who was to speak at a political meeting, and called him the "old-war-horse." The gentleman referred to has a grandson three years old, to whom the announcement was read at a neighbor's. Going home, the little fellow said: "Grandpa, grandpa, dere is tomething in the paper 'bout you." "What is it?" asked grandpa. "Near as I can 'member, it said you was an old dead horse."

—A German suicide tied a rope around his neck and fastened the string to a chimney, sat down on a roof of a house, blew out his brains with a pistol and fell the length of the rope. He cannot to this day tell whether he took his life by the pistol or by the rope.

—It is estimated that, out of the 110,000 people rendered destitute by the Chicago fire, 65,000 were relieved in that city, while 350,000 are travelling on refugee passes.

—It is estimated that three hundred thousand hogs will be packed at Louisville this season, being sixty thousand more than last year.

—The Cleveland police report shows that more married than single females were arrested in October.

Good Advice.

The Democratic State Convention is to meet in Concord on the second Wednesday of December, to decide what particular platform the Democracy shall have knocked from under their feet next March, and what copper images shall occupy it until then. In view of the great trouble likely to ensue from the possible endorsement by the Convention of the startling heresy that the world moves, the Manchester Public Forum offers the following excellent advice:—

We venture the advice that no manner of dubious principles or distracting questions be permitted to intrude and mar or interrupt the perfect harmony of the party. Let all such possible questions be studiously ignored, and let us unite upon the grand fundamental principles in which Democrats have always agreed.

We cordially endorse the advice given by him who orates in the Public Forum—keep all "dubious principles or distracting questions" out of the way of our Democratic brethren. What good can possibly result from their introduction? The great mass of the party stands to-day just where it did when Lovejoy was murdered at Alton, Ill., for publishing an "abolition" paper,—when church members were expelled and public speakers mobbed throughout the North, for daring to hint that the slaveholder was possibly not the noblest work of God,—when Boston's court house was hung in chains, "federal cannon" planted in her streets, and "federal bayonets" placed at her citizen's throats at the bidding of the State Rights Democracy, — and when the whole copperhead party of the North threw up their hats and sang hosannas over the Union defeat at Bull Run; if it does not now stand there, then it is no longer the "old Democratic party." This being the case, what rank nonsense it is to talk about "accepting the situation" ("nigger suffrage," the nonpayment of the rebel war-debt, the upholding of the national credit by maintaining the national honor, and all the other Radical villainies included,) and taking a "new departure," loaded down with such a disgusting "situation." Will any amount of such talk deceive anybody into believing that there has been any real change in the principles of the men who labored and voted for a candidate for the Vice Presidency in the last election solely on the ground that he demanded that the Democratic President elect — in case there should be such a functionary—should command the army to "trample into dust" the unrepealed laws of Congress, overthrow the government of seven States, dictate who should vote in those States, and, with their bayonets, compel the Senate to submit to the military orders of such a 'decentralizing chief? Nary! Why then intrude such "distracting questions" to "mar or interrupt the perfect harmony of the party?" In the eloquent words of the Public Forum, "let all such possible questions be studiously ignored," and let the Democratic party "unite upon the grand fundamental principles in which Democrats have always agreed," —the only principles the Democracy ever professed before a political victory that they did not abandon immediately on coming into power, viz: "To the victors belong the spoils." If that platform don't bring out the full strength of the Democratic party, nothing will.

New Publications.

Peterson's Magazine for December is a splendid number, with two steel engravings, a mammoth colored steel fashion plate, a colored pattern in Berlin work, and fifty wood cuts. In 1872, in addition to the usual quantity of short stories, five original copyright novelettes will be given, viz: "Bought with a Price," by Ann S. Stephens; "The Island of Diamonds," by Harry Danforth; "Once too Often," by Frank Lee Benedict; "Lindsay's Luck," by Miss F. Hodgson; and "A Wife, yet not a Wife," by the author of "The Second Life." Four copies for $6, with a large engraving, (24 inches by 16), "Five Times One To-Day," as a premium to the person getting up a club; or eight copies for $12, with an extra copy of the magazine and the engraving, as premiums. Specimens of the magazine sent gratis. Address Charles J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

Ballou's Monthly for December is out and is a capital issue. Old and young can find amusement in it and it is not of an expensive kind, for $1.50 secures it for a year. It contains: A Christmas Carol, Moscow, Russia; The Toucan and the Pelican; With What Measure Ye Mete; Somebody's Love in the Years long agone; Gideon Bunker's Exile; Angie Barber's Captain; Cornbury—A Christmas Tale; and other stories and sketches. Thomes & Talbot, 63 Congress Street, Boston.

LEAVES.—The frosts, aided by rains and winds, have scattered a bountiful supply of leaves over the woodlands. These leaves can be made to do an excellent service on the farm. They should be carefully raked together in heaps, and drawn to the homestead, where a shed or some place can be found in which they may be stored away. They may be hauled in a hay rack by weaving in some corn stalks between the stakes, close enough to prevent them from falling through. A large barn basket is a convenient thing to load them with, and it will be surprising how many loads may be gathered from an acre of woodland. They make a very excellent bed for hogs, being, to some extent, the bed provided for them by nature. As a source of manure they are valuable; they rot easily, and have good fertilizing qualities.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE DOMESTIC SEWING MACHINE.—Since the Domestic Sewing Machine was awarded the "First Premium" at the late State Fair at Dover, the rush for them has been even greater than ever; Mr. E. A. Joy, the fortunate Agent, whose rooms are adjoining our office, is unable to set them up as fast as they are called for, notwithstanding he has lately employed an able assistant. Everybody who buys a "Domestic" seems happy. At the State Fair it was found to be the only Machine in the world having self adjusting tensions. It was in operation four days, using all kinds of thread on all sorts of goods, without any change of tensions. If you don't examine it before purchasing any other, you will wish you had.

IT IS SAID that if a puff of air were to be blown into a vein of an animal, death would instantaneously follow, because circulation would be stopped. The blood makes the entire circuit of the human body every seven minutes, and whenever this circulation is impeded or any of its channels are clogged by impurities which ought to be carried off, disease follows—fever or a disorder of liver or kidneys, or scrofula, or dyspepsia. To get at and remove the source of the difficulty use the old and infallible blood purifier, DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. o21 4w

Butter and cheese are almost indispensable articles of food. Properly used, they are nutrious and healthy; but an inordinate use of either causes indigestion and dyspepsia. Parson's Purgative Pills, judiciously used, will remove both of these troubles.

Have you ague in the face; and is it badly swollen? Have you severe pain in the chest back, or side? Have you cramp or pains in the stomach or bowels? Have you bilious colic or severe griping pains? If so use Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

The Martyrs of Neglect.

It is not too much to say that ten of thousands are now suffering from biliousness, indigestion, constipation, periodical fevers, general debility, and nervous affections, who might be restored to perfect health within a month or less by the use of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. The multitudes who have been cured of these and other ailments by the use of this well known specific are always ready to testify to its virtue as a preventive and a remedy. They are spread over the whole country: they are eager to praise and recommend it; and yet, notwithstanding its vast popularity, there are many invalids, and many who are continually exposed to the epidemical diseases, against which it is a sure protection, who, either through indifference or incredulity neglect to seize the opportunity to cure any means of prevention, which they have only to reach out their hands to obtain. This is strange; it is one of the anomalies of human nature which it is impossible to account for or explain. It is, however, quite certain that every day the number of these Martyrs of Neglect are diminishing. This is proved by the statistics of the sales of the great remedy. During the present fall the demand for it has increased beyond all precedent, and it seems as if in the end the entire community would realize the important fact, that when all other medicines prescribed for the above complaints fail, it can and does effect a cure. As a protection against the diseases most common at this season, there is nothing comparable with it.

P. P. S.

ALL ACTIVE MEMBERS of the PORTSMOUTH PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY, either ladies or gentlemen, are invited to meet at MR. TILTON'S MUSIC ROOM, on Market Street, on Thursday evening, Nov. 15th, at 7 1-2 o'clock, on business vital to the society.

FRANK W. MILLER.

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT STATE OF NEW YORK.

ALBANY, Nov. 2d, 1871.

At the request of the Continental Insurance Company of the City of New York, I have taken the earliest opportunity, since the adjournment of the National Convention of Insurance Commissioners, to investigate the affairs of the Company, and I find its condition to be as follows;

Its assets, amounting to Two Million Eight Hundred and Forty-seven Thousand Three Hundred and Seven Dollars and Fifty-four Cents, are judiciously and safely invested.

Its capital of Five Hundred Thousand Dollars is unimpaired, and it has a surplus of net assets largely in excess of the amount required to reinsure its outstanding risks, after providing for all other liabilities, including Chicago losses.

Its losses sustained at Chicago are in course of rapid adjustment, and leave the Company with abundant ability to afford indemnity to its customers, and to respond promptly to all customary claims.

The subscriptions to its voluntary addition of Five Hundred Thousand Dollars to its Capital are much greater than double the amount to which Stockholders are entitled.

(Signed,) GEO. W. MILLER, Superintendent.

OFFICE OF

FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS & FINANCIAL AGENTS

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company,

No. 5 Nassau Street, New York.

The rails are being laid on the Western Division of 100 miles of the Extension of this

GREAT EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINE,

which in a short time will be ready for general travel and traffic, and for the transportation of Kanawha coal to the Ohio River for the Western markets.

The earnings of the Eastern Division of 227 miles as a local road, awaiting the completion of the Middle Division of 100 miles, will reach, this year, nearly $800,000.

The total cost of the entire road, and the large equipment required for its minerals and through traffic, will be fully $30,000,000.

The total amount of the FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, which we are now selling, is FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS, of which only about FOUR MILLIONS remain unsold, the proceeds of which, with the Cash on hand, will be ample for the Completion of the Entire Line.

The inducements they offer to investors are:

A perfect security.

Great popularity and a high price when the road is finished.

The same rate of interest as Five-twenties.

Principal and interest both payable in United States gold coin in New York City.

Their present low price (93 and accrued interest from Nov. 1,) which is about 20 per cent. less than Five-twenties, with equal certainty of payment of interest and principal.

We recommend them to our friends and customers with the same confidence with which we have always recommended the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT and the CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS.

We continue to buy and sell CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS at the market price, and fully expect they will, in time, reach the price of Five-twenty Bonds. They are dealt in at all the principal money-centres of the world; the Company have none left, and can issue no more, on their Main Line, as the amount was fixed by act of Congress at $25,885,000; the property pledged to secure the bondholders is the net receipts of the road for the year will be nearly three times the interest payments thereon.

WORTH FULLY ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS;

The CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are issued in $100, $500, $1000; either coupon or registered; interest, six per cent., gold, payable May and November.

The CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS are all for $1000 each; interest, six per cent., gold, payable January and July, in New York City.

We buy and sell FIVE-TWENTIES, TEN-FORTIES, EIGHTY-ONES, and CENTRAL or WESTERN PACIFICS, or receive them in payment for CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS at their current market price.

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

Deposit accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum. Checks drawn on us are payable on presentation, without notice, the same as at a National Bank.

Certificates of Deposit, bearing interest at special rates to be agreed upon, will be issued to Savings Banks, Institutions, Trustees of Estates, and others having sums of money awaiting investment.

Orders for Investment Stocks and Bonds executed at the Stock Exchange. Government Securities bought and sold, as usual, at current market rates.

The Lyre

Gets much nearer the truth than usual, when it says the Grant party "embodies within itself all the virtue and honesty in this country"—though it does slander a very few of its political friends, in making that statement. It also endeavors to insult and slander Republican citizens by saying that "shins will suffer" at the Republican caucus for Mayor—which shows the meanness its small minded conductor is capable of.

The Rockingham Quarterly Meeting

Of the Freewill Baptist churches closed on Thursday with preaching. The discourse by Rev. S. C. Kimball, Wednesday afternoon, was devoted entirely to the condemnation of Free Masonery as a positively injurious organization. The congregation were evidently surprised and those who were members of the order did not relish the attack made on it. In the evening, a Sabbath School Convention was held. The improvements on the Pearl Street church being uncompleted, use of the Methodist church was tendered and the services were held there.

The Auroral Display

Of Thursday evening was the finest we have ever seen. In the early part of the evening an immense crimson arch in the northern sky, with a pillar of red light at its western extremity and white and green flashes reaching half way to the southern horizon, was very beautiful; but the most magnificent exhibition was at 11 o'clock, when a circle of brilliant red appeared at the zenith, its centre being a few degrees south of that point and its diameter about fifteen degrees; from this central circle rays of bright light radiated in every direction,—some red, some white and others blue and green,—the flashes towards the southeast and northwest reaching the horizon, while those towards the southwest and northeast stopped just short of it. We have never seen or read of a similar phenomenon.

An Impostor.

Messrs. Editors:—I think the public should be warned with regard to an impostor, who as far as I can learn, seems to have selected for her field of operations, our smaller cities. She is a young black girl, of light hair, and pleasing address; expresses herself well, and by divers artifices and stories, is duping the kind hearted and charitable. In Lowell, for instance, she begged for funds to start a store, having an aged mother to support, but when inquiries were made for her at the number and street designated, no one had heard of them. She represents to have been a field worker on a plantation until the war; she must have a wonderful adaptability of manner to have acquired her well-bred style in these few years. Hearing she had presented herself at several houses in Portsmouth, receiving money, and engaging to return to work for the ladies, (that being the last seen of her,) I thought that advisable warning should be given, that money, for which so many honest poor are suffering, may not be expended on an undeserving object.

Deacons.

The second lecture of the Lyceum course was largely attended Thursday evening. Rev. W. H. H. Murray of Adirondack celebrity, gave a very entertaining, instructive and humorous discourse on "Deacons," using the various exemplars of that respected class to illustrate his views. He referred to the broad latitude of sentiment indulged in by members of the same church, and contrasted progression with fossilism and liberality with bigotry. He thought Yankees were possessed of individual characteristics rather than very fixed national traits. Men contend over doctrines on trivial differences. Each person wants a deity to suit his own views. Deacons could be retired only by impeaching their character; some were bigoted, others querulous, timid and garrulous. Some delighted in setting a watch upon the parson, eager to pounce upon an unfortunate sentence or quotation.

He instanced three classes of these officers of the church. The first was Deacon Slowup, senior Deacon of the First Congregational Church in Fossilville. The Church had voted seventeen to four to have a picnic. It had taken three sewing bees, four sociables, two sermons, thirty-nine pastoral visitations and one church meeting to accomplish this, and all Fossilville was in a commotion. The little folks were hilarious, the elder people excited, and the conservatives doubting and gloomy. The evening preceding the picnic a meeting was held in the conference room. It was opened by Deacon Slowup with the same prayer that had served him upon all occasions for thirty-five years. In the course of the meeting a discussion arose as to whether they have "beef" or "ham" sandwiches. This grave discussion was prolonged until a late hour, when Deacon Slowup made a speech in favor of "ham" sandwiches, because the church had always believed in them, and because "Ham" was a Scriptural word, while "beef" was a secular word. This speech clinched the matter, and the pastor dismissed the meeting and resigned his charge. The whole sketch, as drawn at length by the speaker, was typical of those trifling dissensions which are continually creeping into New England churches in half the churches no new measure, however good, could be proposed and not meet with persistent opposition. The motto in such churches was "what has not been shall not be." In church after church a dozen men sat like leeches on the swelling veins of holy enterprise, and by them Christ was made to appear hostile to whatever was most honorable in conduct and noble in aspiration. He had no sympathy with the tendencies of this generation to wash men out into a sea of loose opinions and looser practices, but a man must have some deeply rooted faith. What he urged was that the churches should no longer abide by maxims, which although once proper, are now ill suited to the age. He never let age alone sanctify anything nor prejudice his mind against it. Piety did not put a man into a straight jacket. It did not prescribe the fashion of his necktie or goose-poke him with spinal stiffness. Those who thought that it was an unpardonable sin to row a boat and shoot a rifle and ride a horse, so as not to make a fool of oneself or kill the horse, were not up in their exegesis. If the church would direct the age, it must keep in the van. It had been represented by dyspeptic and consumptive men long enough. He hoped to live to see that day when a stoop in the back would be unorthodox, and a narrow chest put a theological student at an immense disadvantage in candidating. A church should examine its pastor as closely touching hygiene as touching his theological tenets. He was brought up among people like those he was describing and he had preached in a parish where the blast of a steam whistle never sounded, where to skate was unministerial, and to slide down hill a sin, where the crack of his rifle caused as much excitement in the church as the last trump would, and where, if he took a step over fourteen and a half inches from heel to toe, it made the sewing society lively for two weeks. Large hearted, level-headed men in the churches must come to the front.

Deacon Sharpface was unfortunate in his nature, his education and his temper, but his greatest misfortune was that he was born 1900 years too late. The joy and strength of life was his orthodoxy. But in his latter days his rigidity softened, charity came to him, and he died in the full loveliness of the true faith. In the class of which he had been speaking, true piety was the rule and harshness and meanness the exception. Many of them were men of the most Christ-like spirit, and the most progressive minds, and he sketched one of these in his last portrait, under the name of Deacon Goodheart. He was deacon of one of the stiffest orthodox churches, which had a stiff creed. He was an ample and generous deacon, with a full and florid countenance. He was the best of deacons, and his name was spoken in love by the poor and sick. His faults were the result of accident, not design; they were of nature and not of will. The children all loved him. He was not great in prayer, and never used the same prayer twice, which was an unpardonable eccentricity in a deacon. He very rarely wept when he spoke, which detracted materially from his influence with a certain class, but he was kind to the poor, and left his home in the pitiless storm to minister to their comfort. The speaker concluded his lecture with a graphic picture of want and suffering to which the deacon appeared as a ministering angel.

Seabrook.

The action of the Salisbury (Mass.) Thief Detecting Company in offering rewards for the conviction of wood pilferers, has caused the latter to turn their attention to the New Hampshire side, and one of them has made a commencement on the cemetery fence at South Seabrook, while another helped himself to boards from a neighboring farm. The stolen wood has been found, in both cases, and we understand that prosecutions will ensue. The man whose voluntary abstinence from food we have already noticed, died from exhaustion on Tuesday.

Morning Chronicle.

OLD TIME CHRONICLES, No. 40.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

THE SPOTTED FEVER.—This awful epidemic and terribly malignant disease swept through different sections of New England from 1813 to 1816. Some of the medical profession can best describe the nature of the disease. Suffice us to say it was very fatal. Those who had it mostly died after two or three days. It was attended by great stupidity of mind, and not unfrequently spots of a purple color would appear on the surface of the body from the size of a pea to that of a cent. We will give an account of its ravages in a few towns in our section of the State.

In 1813 and 1814 it prevailed in Pittsfield and seventy-five persons died with it. In 1814, many died of the disease in Londonderry. The town then included what is now Derry. In Deerfield in 1814 and 1815 from twenty-five to thirty died with it. Of the disease in this town we have a fuller account; people were in great alarm, and those smitten expected to die, and often those who died were taken to the grave as soon as possible and sometimes in the night. Dr. William Graves was the practicing physician there. He was full of work, and had more calls than he could attend. From four to seven died in a day. In the midst of this state of things, Dr. Graves sent a messenger to Dr. Abner Jones, a minister of the Christian denomination in Hopkinton, to come and help. He declined, saying he had relinquished practice. A week later Dr. G. sent again with positive orders for the messenger not to return without him. Dr. J. at first declined, then finding the persistence of the request, said he would start in the morning. The messenger said that would not do, the sun must rise on them in Deerfield. They sat out in the fore part of the night and by 9 o'clock next morning Dr. Jones, in a sleigh, with Dr. G.'s colored servant boy as a conductor, was on his way over the hills of the town visiting those sick with the disease. It is said Dr. Jones was very successful in his method of treatment in this fever. The common method was to bleed and otherwise deplete and reduce those sick. He did not do so, and the light of the present age justifies Dr. J. in his method.

The same year the fever prevailed in Hopkinton. Dr. Jones was in extensive practice there, after returning from Deerfield. For fourteen days he slept none, except in his clothes, and the harness was not taken from his horse, save to put it on a fresh one. The number of deaths from the disease in that town we have not. Dr. Jones, previously to the times here alluded to, resided in Portsmouth, and was preacher of the Christian church. He died in Exeter May 29, 1841, aged 69 years.

Besides the question to physicians, proposed in the first part of this article, it would be interesting to have them inform us if we have the spotted fever, in some modified form, at this time, and if so, what has changed it so that it is less malignant, less fatal, and death does not ensue in so short a time?

—A Chicago musical criticism reads as follows: "The singing was invariably of the accelerendo order. This extra liveliness was in keeping with the audience's idea of what harmony should be, and the more of melodious 'git' and resonant cussedness there was in the tempo, the surer the singer was of an encore."

—So much fun has been made of Horace Greeley as a farmer that the Louisville Courier-Journal proposes "that base ball shall be abolished and Greeley proclaimed the national game."

—Mrs. Dunniway will stump the State of Oregon, this winter, in behalf of women who are anxious to vote. She thinks women's wrongs should be Dunniway with.

—A grand jury at Terre Haute has found a bill against two peddlers who sold bits of scented candles as "solidified perfumery."

—Autumn leaves — when winter comes in.

A CURE FOR "BONE FELON."—Of all painful things, can there be any so excruciatingly painful as bone felon? As this malady is quite frequent, and a subject of much earnest consideration, we give the latest recipe for its cure, which is given by that high authority, the London Lancet: "As soon as the disease is felt put directly over the spot a fly blister about the size of your thumb nail, and let it remain for six hours, at the expiration of which time, directly under the surface of the blister, may be seen the felon, which can be instantly taken out with the point of a needle or a lancet."

—A California woman blew off the head of her brother-in-law, during a dispute the other morning, and then finished her breakfast in peace.

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proofs of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very moderate charges. A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1ydawfeb16

ST. CLOUD HOTEL, NEW YORK, By RAND BROTHERS,

Broadway, Cor. of 42nd street.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I say that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty, appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. This Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and penetrates every part of a diseased lung. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to throw off the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. If it then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers of the throat are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow fat there, and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are so entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get it to doing its good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whether the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep the rooms in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to continue the use of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long there is imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sore, which the least change or atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation and heal the lungs, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influence. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutritious diet, and all the medicine continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building in the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Office hours accompany all my medicines, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

THE CIRCUS AND THE CHURCH.

BY HENRY W. BELLOWS, D. D.

It is amusing to watch the expectation, curiosity and delight which the travelling circuses arouse in the rural districts. New England and the towns of the West and the Middle States are placarded all the Spring and Summer with the most gorgeous and expensive showbills—covering, no doubt, acres with horses of the proudest build, and camels and wild beasts, and "the ugly mugs" of ambitious performers. They catch you at every place where men do congregate or pass in sparsely settled regions—round the taverns, often opposite the churches, and always in the covered bridges. We by no means despise these rarce-shows. The fact that the farmers and their wives and children enjoy them so much would save them from our contempt, even if we could not account for their popularity. But, really, the noble art of horsemanship, and the love of beautiful horses, and the curiosity about strange animals, and the admiration for feats of physical strength and address, have always witched the world, with discredit to its taste. Then it is certain that the country public grows more exacting, and demands steadily a more excellent and perfect exhibition from its showmen; and the circuses improve all the while, we are told, in comfort, cleanliness, order and in variety and excellence of entertainment. We always notice that the farm hands and girls in the kitchen bring in the liveliest notices of the dance music, and the feats of strength and skill, or mystery and legerdemain; but even beyond these is a very keen enjoyment of and fine discrimination between the wit and side-splitting qualifications of the various rival clowns. If that piebald libertine is not agile of tongue, and swift of repartee, and funny beyond measure; if he does not bring an all conquering badinage and universal spurt of rollicking spirits to the occasion, he is voted a failure! Poor devil! Think of his fate to be gay to order twice a day, for two hours at a time, and for six months together! To be compelled to put his laughing machinery agoing when he wants to cry and is crying inside; and to repeat his stale jokes as if fresh as new-muffins, in the hearing of his own associates, for the hundredth time!

We find the circus a great relief to our scrupulous friends, who do not go to the theatre. It is so different! A mere canvas instead of a slated and shingled roof; a movable tent, and not a permanent iniquity in brick and mortar; no stage, but only a turf-trodden circle; no actors, but only some dressed-up circus-riders; no actresses, but only some ladies who choose to take their exercise a-horseback in public; no scenery, but only some innocent wild beasts and monkeys. And then, besides, just a few jokes to amuse the children; occasionally a little broad, but consider the mouths they come from and the rude company! Ah! there is a great difference to pious minds between the circus and the theatre, if it were only in the very name of the thing! And it is so nice to get rid of that dreadful word, the theatre, and to have the thing without its disagreeable name, only a little coarser and less comfortable; without leaving it open for deacons and elders to throw jibes at one for going into such a recognized and innocent place of amusement. It was a great comfort to notice that some poor ministers, who would not be seen inside the theatre for the world, with their children for an adequate excuse, went freely to the circus in their vacations. Dear souls! who enjoyed it so much! And must not the recording angel have dropped a tear on the mark that he made against them, saying: "Ah! it was only the circus, and it was Summer vacation; and then the children!"

Well, we do not go to the circus; but then we do go to the theatre now and then, which is so much worse. But it is a great relief to think it is called "The Academy of Music," or "Howard Athenæum," or might be called so, and that takes away so much of the shame and sense of wrong. But the worst of it is our conscience is so defiled we feel quite as innocent and out of harm's way in some theatres as we do in some churches. That is to say, we find very bad actors in both, and occasional clowns in the pulpit, and grave and serious gentlemen in the theatre. And we see people going to church with all their worldliness—diamonds and lace and tucks and frills—upon them and saying, with the most beautiful acting in the world, "Lord be merciful to us miserable sinners;" and we can't for all our pains, help for a moment asking if it isn't the theatre. And then at the play we sometimes get so wrought up with noble eloquence and heroism that we feel more than usually like praying and making a church out of the place. But we confess it is not our moral improvement that carries us to the theatre, more than it is that which rolls Mr. and Mrs. Veneer along in gilded harness to the church-door, and deposits a gold cane and a pair of yellow kids on the pew, at the the other end of which sits a mass of Valenciennes lace, with an exquisite finale of "fur and feathers" atop, and a woman inside to keep them in their

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs, No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.'

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf6t6

MANHOOD IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give rest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Other Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, one another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come to our knowledge. We have sold it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINTS, in the City. Also Dealer in GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS, No. 16 & 18 Cabot Street,

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1871.

THE ELECTIONS.

The notorious Joseph H. Bradley, senior, has failed of an election to the supreme judgeship of Maryland, being defeated by a Republican. Bradley was expelled from a Washington court some months ago for impudence to the judge.

County-Controller Green states that the result of the election is already felt in the improved price of the New York city bonds, and he will now have no trouble in raising any amount of money.

Medill has 11,000 majority for Mayor of Chicago.

The Republican majority in New York will reach 17,000.

Political.

The Boston Herald says "the ridiculously small vote thrown from the so-called 'Labor Reform' party in Massachusetts in the late election should convince the leaders of that party that either they have a very dull gimlet or else they are boring in the wrong place."

NEW YORK POLITICS.—The World, the leading Democratic paper in the State, which rejoices over Tammany's downfall, says:—

We cannot profess an equanimity which we do not feel, and must frankly acknowledge our disappointment and chagrin at the result of the election. We regret the defeat of the Democratic ticket, and we grieve still more over the complexion of the new Legislature.

The late supporters of the ring are trying to make friends with the victorious Young Democracy, and profess to rejoice at their late defeat. The fifty thousand dependents of Tammany feel very uncomfortable just now, and are eager to make terms with the victors.

George Jones, of the Times, has been nominated for Mayor by the Standard.

RASCALS COME TO JUSTICE.—Thos. C. Fields, elected to the New York Assembly over Horatio Seymour, has been arrested for thieving through Tammany and is under $200,000 bail.

Ingersoll, another Ring thief, has returned, and voted on Tuesday. He will be arrested.

Alderman James Irving, for assaulting United States Marshal Nooney, who is lying dangerously ill from the assault, has been arrested and ordered to be held in the custody of Marshal Sharpe pending Nooney's recovery or death.

ANOTER EXPLOSION in a coal mine has taken place near St. Etienne, France. About fifty miners were buried in the pit and not a single life was saved. The explosion was caused by fire-damp.

THE HONEST VOTERS of New York were too tam-many for Tammany.

A WONDERFUL MUMMY.—An Albany paper says that Mr. Hurst, a taxidermist doing business in Madison avenue, exhibits a nondescript mummy that was forwarded to him from one of the Chincha islands, off the coast of Peru, and which he had succeeded in restoring to its original shape. Its head, chest, shoulders and arms resembled those of a human being, but the rest of the body is very like a fish—possibly very like a whale—and it has dorsal, pectoral, lateral fins, &c. The probability is that it lived many thousands of years ago, as it was found beneath forty feet of guano, to form a layer of which a few lines in thickness requires about three hundred years. The hair is perfect; the face is somewhat disfigured, yet "enough of it remains to show that it was once human." Its teeth are large, well preserved, and white; the arms are long, the hands small and delicately formed. From the top of the head to the tip of the tail it measures four feet and two inches; its chest is thirteen and a half inches in circumference; its arm is eighteen and a half inches long, and its skull four and a half broad; eight inches is the length from the top of the skull to the chin, and its forehead is two inches high.

A SAD STORY.—In this county resides a man who fifteen years ago was as promising as any young man in his native place—a village in Maine. He contracted the habit of drinking. He married a fine young woman, came west and settled in one of the towns of this county. He kept on drinking, and soon became a confirmed drunkard. Now comes the saddest story of all. Their child is cross-eyed, tongue-tied, and half-witted, and in walking, staggers from side to side, just as a drunken man does. Can you picture anything more painful. — Fond du Lac (Wis.) Commonwealth.

—After all, Ex-Gov. Seymour, the last Democratic candidate for President of the United States, has been defeated in a New York city Assembly District by the notorious Tom Fields, for whose arrest the Sheriff has a warrant, on a charge of stealing about four hundred thousand dollars of the public money. What a commentary upon the preferences of the Democratic voters!—Providence Journal.

—After humorously apostrophizing the White Stockings, the Chicago Post says: "We may laugh now at our fierce, foolish enthusiasm of the past two years, mocking it as childish and unworthy. Still, it had in it the elements of the sublime. For us it sufficed that anything bore the imprint—'Chicago.' In our sports, as in our occupations, we set ourselves against the world, and were jealous of rivalry. So, perhaps, after all the old White Stocking fever did some good for Chicago, if only as an inferior manifestation of the same restless, passionate, egotistical energy which built up one city from the marsh and prairie in thirty years, and will build up another from the ashes of the first in three. For this we say to the captain of the nine—

'Green be the turf below thee,
Friend of our better days,' may thy 'clean base hits' be many, and thy 'outs at first' few, and from Chicago may'st thou make only a 'short stop,' ere returning, like the dove, with a bat, as a token that the waters of adversity have abated from off the face of the earth."

AN ADROIT REPROOF.—A presiding elder of the United Brethren Church was preaching in Minnesota, and was much annoyed by persons talking and laughing. He paused, looked at the disturbers, and said: "I am always afraid to reprove those who misbehave in church. In the early part of my ministry I made a great mistake. As I was preaching, a young man who sat before me was constantly laughing, talking, and making uncouth grimaces. I paused and administered a severe rebuke. After the close of the service, one of the official members came and said to me: 'Brother, you have made a great mistake. That young man whom you reproved is an idiot.' Since then I have always been afraid to reprove those who misbehave in Church, lest I should repeat that mistake, and reprove another idiot." During the rest of that service, at least, there was good order.

DEATH IN A CESS-POOL.—At Newcastle, Pa., on the 2d inst., a crowd of boys, between the ages of ten and fourteen, concluded to have some fun by upsetting a privy, which they accomplished, bringing one of the boys, by the name of Richard McElevey, to a miserable death. McElevey was on a fence in the rear of the building pushing, and, as it upset he lost his balance and fell head foremost into the vault, though his comrades were not aware that he had met such an awful fate (it being very dark and as the building gave way they all ran, supposing McElevey was with them). After the lapse of ten or fifteen minutes, McElevey being absent, they got uneasy, went to his home, and not finding him there, rushed back to the vault and found him there dead.

THE 'TATUR BUGS.—Here is a good one on the 'tater bugs:—Three men were comparing notes. One says, "There are two bugs to every stalk." A second one says "They have eat down my early crop and are sitting on the fence waiting for the late crop to come up." "Pshaw," said the third, "you don't know anything about it. I passed a seed store the other day, and the bugs were looking over the books to see who had purchased seed potatoes."

RUM PROHIBITION. — The returns show that the votes of the political prohibitionists, given to Dr. Kidder, nearly secured the election to the Senate of John K. Tarbox, an avowed open bar, free license advocate, over Nathan S. Kimball, a life long prohibitionist and temperance advocate; and these men prate of consistency! Bah?—Lawrence American.

—A new and strange disease has made its appearance in the neighborhood of Corydan, Indiana. The patient is taken with a chill, alternated with hot flushes of fever, and followed by such excruciating soreness of the muscles that he can hardly be turned on a sheet. He experiences the most intense abhorrence for food, and his flesh soon turns spotted. After lingering in a debilitated state for about two weeks, the patient begins to recover. The doctors say the symptoms are new and strange, and they are at a loss to understand the best mode of treatment.

—The St. Louis Democrat publishes a letter from Knobnosler, Missouri, which says that at that place rain has descended continuously for two weeks, from a cloudless sky, the space moistened by the rain being only 20 feet in diameter. Numbers of people have witnessed the phenomena.

—A thief entered a store in Maysville, Kentucky, one night recently, and stole $50, but got so drunk on some whiskey which he happened to find that he could not get away.

—The experiment of using naphtha for fuel in running a locomotive is said to have been tried in Russia with a saving of fifty per cent. in both cost and weight.

—All the fires in all the cooking-stoves in the country are as nothing compared with the fire now raging in the California coast range.

—An Indianan tried to stop a revolving balance wheel of a stationary engine, and has been turning double somersaults, ever since.

—The persistence with which Mr. Ashbury came in behind the New York yacht, suggests that he thought he had a stern duty to perform.

—In too many lamentable instances, the "last scene of all this strange, eventful history" is—kerosene.

—Evergreens—Merchants who expect to make money without advertising.

—Egypt proposes to use the pyramids for weather signal stations.

—Saturn is the celestial "Boss" of the Ring.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RARE CHANCE.—Persons wanting Sewing Machines, Melodeons, Cabinet Organs, Pianos, &c., can save money by purchasing of E. A. Joy, No. 9 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H. He is selling out a large stock of New Goods, warranted perfect, at one-half and three-fourths the usual prices, in order to make room for the "Domestic" Sewing Machines, the demand for which is sufficient to require his whole attention. You can pay by small monthly installments if desirable. Second-hand Goods almost given away. Don't delay, for he is determined that the entire stock shall be closed out as soon as possible.

IT IS SAID that if a puff of air were to be blown into a vein of an animal, death would instantaneously follow, because circulation would be stopped. The blood makes the entire circuit of the human body every seven minutes, and whenever this circulation is impeded or any of its channels are clogged by impurities which ought to be carried off, disease follows—fever or a disorder of liver or kidneys, or scrofula, or dyspepsia. To get at and remove the source of the difficulty use the old and infallible blood purifier, DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. o24 4w

HOTEL CLERKS must need be very courteous men, or they will merit much of the odium which attaches to those who are the reverse. The AMERICAN HOUSE, Boston, is peculiarly happy in having among its corps such general favorites with the traveling public as Messrs. Myrick, Doyle and Clapp.

It is a broad claim in an article of daily and universal use, that it is better and cheaper than any other; but the public has endorsed this claim for boots and shoes made with Cable Screw Wire. The immense demand of the past is steadily augmenting. In this paper may be found a card in relation to these excellent goods

Winter is now fairly upon us, and the teams are hastening to the lumber woods in various parts of the country. Our advice to every man who goes to the woods, be he captain, cook, teamster, or any other man, is to take along a good stock of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment and Parson's Purgative Pills. Many months of labor (in the aggregative) may be saved by this precaution.

Bad enough to look and feel bad yourself; but no excuse for having your horse look and feel badly, when for a small sum you can buy Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, which given in grain two or three times a week, will make him look and feel well.

BETTER AND CHEAPER.

THAN ANY OTHER

Boots or Shoes;

THOSE FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE.

BETTER—Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

CHEAPER—Because, while their first cost is not in excess of sewed or pegged work of a like grade, their Durability is far greater, they preserve their Shape much better, and the metallic fastening insures a more Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

AWFUL DEFEAT!!!

The rout complete! The last hope of the parties who have been getting up SCALP POISONS to compete with

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

is lost, lost, lost! Still, it towers over all rivals, new and old. Still, it remains the STANDARD HAIR DYE OF THE COUNTRY. Still, tens of thousands of heads that once showed the white flag,

What Dyspepsia May End In.

Indigestion is not dangerous, say the faculty. Perhaps not in itself, while it remains mere indigestion; but look at the consequences to which it may lead, and often does lead when it becomes a chronic disease. A spark of fire is a small thing. A pressure of the foot will put it out; a breath will extinguish it. Yet it may fire a powder mill, or kindle a flame that will consume a city. In like manner indigestion may produce gastritis, cancer of the stomach, congestion of the bowels, apoplexy, liver disease, and many other dangerous maladies. Is it not wise, then, to check it in the germ? Nothing is more clearly and indisputably established than that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS will eradicate dyspepsia in all its stages. The true policy, however, is to extinguish it in the first stages with this wholesome, powerful, and infallible tonic and alterative. It is easier to quench a spark than a flame, and it is easier to cure dyspepsia when it is first developed, than when it has made a headway by neglect, and become complicated with other ailments. There is not the shadow of a doubt that the bitters are as directly antagonistic to dyspepsia as water is to fire. There are thousands of cases on record proving this fact. The remedy is safe and agreeable. All the liquors of commerce prescribed as stimulants, leave a sting behind. But the sting is taken out of the spirituous basis of this great remedy by vegetable medication, and, moreover, the stimulant thus medicated is of exceptional purity. Of all tonics taken as safeguards or remedies for fever and ague, bilious remittents, and other fall epidemics, it is the only one that can uniformly be depended upon.

The Navy Yard.

When anything creditable takes place at the Government Navy Yard Down East the Portsmouth papers speak of it as "the Navy Yard at this place;" but when matters have an opposite complexion it is called "the Kittery Navy Yard."—Boston Times.

The joke is just as good as it would be if the above was true. Pass it along.

The Lecture

Of Rev. W. H. H. Murray led many people to think that the speaker was too liberal in his views to suit the denomination he represents. His language was evidently carefully chosen and the sentiments expressed met a cordial response in the hearts of his audience; but his delivery was in marked contrast to that of Gen. Kilpatrick's dashing style, being so tame and unimpassioned that he seemed to be repeating a well learned lesson written by some more enthusiastic individual. General Kilpatrick and Mr. Murray both expressed great satisfaction with the attention given to their lectures, and spoke in very flattering terms of the high character of Portsmouth Lyceum audiences.

Aid for Chicago.

The following correspondence fully explains itself:—

PORTSMOUTH, N. H. Oct. 27, 1871.

To the Hon. Mayor of Chicago.

Dear Sir.—At an informal meeting of several citizens of this City, held a short time since to express their sympathy and at the same time to extend their aid to the City of Chicago in her great calamity, the undersigned were chosen a Committee to solicit contributions for this purpose.

We have the pleasure to inform you, that your draft for four thousand five hundred dollars will be accepted at sight by Mr. William R. Preston, through the New Hampshire National Bank, Portsmouth, N. H. We have the honor to remain

Very truly yours,
O. H. MENDUM,
W. R. PRESTON,
JOS. B. ADAMS,
Committee of Citizens, for aid to Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4th, 1871.

To Wm. R. Preston, Esq. Portsmouth, N. H.

Dear Sir.—In accordance with your favor of 28th ult. I have this day drawn upon you for the sum or $4,500 in favor of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society, to whose care, as you will observe by enclosed proclamation, I have entrusted the administration of funds raised for the relief of sufferers by the late great fire.

Please accept yourself, and convey to your generous citizens the grateful thanks of our afflicted people, for their kindly help in this the time of great need. Assure them that this donation will go far to carry food and comfort to many of the thousands of families rendered destitute by this sudden calamity.

Yours very truly,
R. B. MASON, Mayor of Chicago.

City Council, Thursday, Nov. 9.

In Board of Aldermen, the Committee on Accounts reported bills approved. Voted, That the report be accepted, and the bills paid.

Subject of obstruction to laying down of sewer in Bridge Street by an Aqueduct log, was referred to the Mayor with power to act.

Voted, That the resolution directing the laying of a water pipe from Bridge and Deer Streets to low water mark in the North Mill pond, be taken from the table.

Voted, That the Mayor be authorized to advertise for proposals for laying a pipe from the North Mill pond below low water to the foot of Bridge and Deer Streets, and to build a reservoir, subject to the approval of the Board.

Voted, That a committee be appointed to confer with Mr. Marston relative to the ice-pond, &c., to see what the pond can be bought for, or on what terms the city can procure the use of the pond for the Fire Department. Aldermen Marvin and Mendum were appointed said committee.

Voted, That the Mayor be authorized to purchase a gravel lot of H. L. Scott, near Sherburne Road, for $450.

Leave to relay sidewalk on Deer Street was granted to Edward T. Huntress.

James P. Bartlett was appointed member of the School Committee from Ward 2, to fill vacancy caused by retirement of G. M. Adams.

The Committee to whom was referred petition of A. B. Mudge and others for acceptance of gas post on State Street, reported that the petition be granted, the post to be located at corner of Washington and State Streets. The report was accepted.

—A Mr. Wolfe died in a New York hospital on Tuesday night from swallowing half a pound of shot on the advice of an old woman, to relieve costipation of the bowels.

—In a Chinese illustrated edition of the "Pilgrim's Progress," Christian is endowed with an extensive pig-tail.

OUR CHEERFUL COTEMPORARY at Exeter says that the items we secured from its columns, to the effect that a call for a meeting to aid Chicago brought but three persons to the town hall, and that the salaries of three pastors are in arrears, refer to, some other place or places—not Exeter. We have no copy of the last week's issue of the News-Letter to refer to but presume that its statement is correct as, its editor is one of the George Washington variety, in one particular. He wouldn't tell a lie half as quick as he would endeavor to write unpleasantly of a Portsmouth man.

Because we publish a better newspaper than the News-Letter, it thinks the CHRONICLE is "numerously edited." Two constitute the whole number included among the "numerous," and they have ample time for leisure after editing a Weekly of double the size of the News-Letter in addition to the trouble of publishing a Daily. What in the world the "numerous" editorial staff of our cotemporary (consisting of two) do with themselves after the five hours' work is finished, which is necessary to fill their weekly of twelve columns of reading matter, is a mystery—but it's no business of ours.

Our contemptible cotemporary, Snarlcyow, has his back up wondrously, now that the Exeter man follows in his footsteps. We had him so completely tamed, that he did not dare iterate "sleepy organ" oftener than once a month. Even now he only "chips in" by publishing another person's nonsense, getting behind the other and "setting him on" because he is too cowardly to contend alone. Mr. Hennessey, why don't you teach your associate self respect, instil into his mind a little common sense, or infuse a degree of courage, moral or physical, into him, to prevent his total subsidence from the clashings of every day life? We excuse the Exeter chap's impudence, as he must be sufficiently punished by being applauded by such an ally!

A SWINDLER SENTENCED.—In the Superior Criminal Court, at its session in Lawrence, John S. Dodge, alias Henry L. Abbott, Heber W. Smythe, Sidney P. Gitswold, etc., was lately sentenced to five years in State Prison for "obtaining money under false pretenses."

Dodge has for years been engaged in this occupation, swindling the people by assuming the garb of a religious man, a theological student, a minister, and in many cases a converted convict from Joliet penitentiary, Illinois. He has also figured as a Bogus Brig. General with one arm, (the other being carefully concealed), as a missionary with Rev. S. H. Tyng, Jr.'s mission on West 23rd Street, New York, and while the detectives were in pursuit of him this summer, he actually preached in Mass., more than once.

He has also flourished as a bogus agent of the American Tract Society, and it was for obtaining subscribers to the new illustrated Christian Weekly, that he was arrested, having been followed three months by detectives of the State Police.

He was indicted on four complaints, plead guilty, and made a speech of twenty minutes, that for its ingenuity and acuteness, astonished every one that heard him.

The Judge made a response that doubtless surprised Dodge not a little. After saying that the speech just made showed that he could be an ornament to society if reformed, the Judge added that the power to make such a speech was exactly what enabled him to swindle the unsuspecting, and closed by giving him the sentence above.—Congregationalist.

About ten years ago this Dodge was at work in the Portsmouth Journal Office where he had come from Freemont, Me. to learn the printing business. He enlisted early in the war, figured here some time afterwards as a bogus Colonel, then as Brigadier General and the last we had heard of him previous to this above was upon his arrest for horse stealing in Boston five or six years ago.

New Hampshire Items.

Ex-Congressman Ela is an applicant for the position of Fifth Auditor, to be made vacant by the resignation of Judge Barron.

Mr. H. Baxter, a shoe manufacturer of Great Falls, was badly if not fatally injured recently by being thrown violently from his carriage, striking upon his head. He was taken up senseless and lies in a very critical condition.

The house and barn of Mr. Frank Forsaith in Londonderry were burned on the 8th.

Barnard Page, who was sent to the State prison for manslaughter for 15 years, in 1860, was pardoned on Thursday last. He is now 70 years of age, and is much shattered in mind and body. It was abundantly proved that the crime was committed under circumstances of great provocation.

AN ELECTION INCIDENT.—An almost toothless old darkey applied to the Board of Aldermen, Monday evening, for the right of suffrage. He "filled the bill" in every respect but one; when asked if he could write, his countenance fell, and he was obliged to confess that he could not. So the Aldermen rejected him, but lo! next morning he appeared before them smiling and confident. He had spent the night to good purpose, and, taking a pen, wrote stumblingly but legibly his name—Timothy Dixon. It was enough, and we dare say no man cast a vote, Tuesday, with a higher estimation of the privilege than Timothy Dixon.—Springfield Republican.

proper places and full display. This comes under the head of dramatic scenery, we opine, or theatrical properties. Then, again, we hear so much of the same music in the church and the theatre that we can't always tell which is which. We find a set of funny fellows coming forward in the opera house and singing some sweet choral or midnight serenade; and lo! the very same persons, for aught we know, are singing it again, with becoming gravity, to some very solemn words, in the church we go to the next Sunday! But when we go to the opera or theatre, and escape, (which is not always) some disagreeable double entendre, or suggestion of what is licentious—go and hear a good play, a pleasant farce, or opera like "William Tell"—how the creases dampen out of our mind, and wrinkles pull themselves smooth, and care and study and sorrow go down cellar, and leave the house open to innocent gayety of heart! We can't make it wicked, even if we see and hear some disagreeable and foolish things; for we be hear so many everywhere—in church, and at home, and in all we read and see—that we must needs go out of the world to avoid them. If there are any persons, for instance, who have not heard Wachtel, go at once and listen to that lovely, brave, adequate, never-flinching voice, that floods you with enough music, and is true as steel and sweet as honey! And how these Germans do enter into their operas and plays! Really, we had no conception of what vivacity and abandon and copiousness of spirits was, or had forgotten, till we saw the company at the Stadt Theatre in "Martha."

But we have a grievance! We do not go to the circus! And perversely, the circus has come to us, and planted itself right under our nose and within constant ear-shot! We can hear the bear howl, and the lion roar, and the monkey chatter! But, worse than that, we are obliged to attend the circus, whether we will or not (not as volunteer or on the flute, nor an extra hand at the kettle-drum!) six evenings in the week and twice in the mornings! What ought a sober and pious mind to think of actually lunching and dining too circus tunes, with a whole series of circus performances alternating with the soup and fish and joint and pudding! And to be obliged to learn, in spite of one's self, all the circus songs; and to know, will-ye-nil-ye, just when the whole troupe enters magnificently, like Spanish grandees a-horseback, to the sound of slow and melancholy music, and just when they scatter and flirt out of the arena with a lively waltz; to know just when the Shetland pony stands upon a chair, or the bear mounts the watchman's box—and all from the rich expressiveness of the music; above all, to hear the gallop of the horses, as they shake the block with their

to catch the sharp snap of the ringmaster's whip, or the laughter that follows the clown's more snappish tongue. But the greatest trial of patience is the temptation to time the explosions of the audience, which have an astronomic periodicity in their recurrence night after night. At 8.20 mild titter, like a pattering mill, buzzes about the company; at 9.05 loud, explosive cachinnations, commencing with the reserved seats, where a little less blunt intelligence first catches the joke, echoed in five seconds in a general guffaw from the slower wits of the common audience. At 9.42 a storm of fun, beginning in distant rumblings from the rim of the circus, the back seats; interrupted with lightning flashes of sharp, surprised acclamation, from individuals evidently lost to control; damped for a moment by a drizzle of giggle from the girls; again swelled by a pelting rain of driving ecstasy of delight, a steady pour of applause; waxing at last into a West Indian hurricane of ferocious chuckle, snorts, hurrahs and screams that make the immense tent flap and snap its sides and bulge its roof and pour a Niagara of sound into my back windows. At 9.57 sudden silence, the instantaneous quenching of light, and total extinction of circus and company till the next day.

It is a curious study in psychology and in the law of averages! Human life is a circus, and men and women ride round in it by music and rule. A thousand people are never, yet always the same, though no one of them is found twice in the same company. There is a wondrous periodicity in their fancies, a wondrous uniformity in their likings, a wonderous order in their irregularities. I forgive the circus that it came to teach me this truth, which furnishes so much food for thought, and so much field for action, and so much wisdom to be applied to the control and entertainment and instruction of masses of men!

—At Minneapolis, recently, a party of children were at play in a miniature tunnel which they had dug in a bank, when the sand caved in and one of them, a little boy, was smothered before he could be extricated.

—George McDonald says of one who suffered: "Patience had mossed her over and made her warm, soft and sweet."

—The Greek government has decided to recall its minister at Washington and to discontinue its legation in this country.

—Newburyport has organized its society for the prevention of cruelty to animals and is now ready to act.

—It is said to be a favorite amusement of the belles of New Bedford in winter to slide down hill on a codfish.

—The fishing schooner Fitz E. Riggs, of Gloucester, is lost with all hands on the Grand Banks.

ST. CLOUD HOTEL, NEW YORK. By RAND BROTHERS. Broadway, Cor. of 42nd Street.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all disease! mucous and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then tone and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will stir up the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which means healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver being thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition that Schenck's Pulmonic Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will cleanse the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to cleanse the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather, avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm atmosphere.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason, that a person who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been perfectly cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so earnestly caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are like a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety be allowed to be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritant influences. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it, under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutritious diet, and all the medicines continued with perfect regularity, adapted to fit the natural quality of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

MOTHERLESS.

"I wish she had not died," she said—
The words were soft and low;
"Most little girls like me, papa,
Have dear mammas, you know.

There's Lulu Hart, next door. I think
It's nice to live that way;
With some one sitting at the blinds
To watch you while you play.

I often see her look up quick,
And smile at some one there;
And when she laughs and hides away,
She knows some one will care.

The time she fell and hurt her arm,
Oh! how her mamma cried,
And kissed her, too. I often wished
My mamma hadn't died.

One day a man gave her a peach,
And then she said so quick,
'A half for mother!' and ran in,
What made my mother sick?

Why didn't Doctor Bishop come
And make her well, papa?
That's what they did the time, you know,
For Lulu Hart's mamma."

The father could not speak. His eyes
Turned tearfully aside;
The little one, unconscious, still
Her cruel questions plied:

"Say, papa, was God good to take
My own mamma away?
For I was just a baby then—
Papa, why don't you say?"

"Yes, always good," he sobbed. "Mamma
Is very happy, dear."
His little girl sprang up, nor cared
Another word to hear.

"Why, papa, crying? Please don't cry.
Do you feel sorry, too?
Now, papa, see; I never meant
I didn't care for you.

If mamma's happy in the sky—
You told me so before—
We mustn't cry, I think it's wrong
To want her any more.

Laugh, papa, quick! I'll pull your hair!
I'll kiss your funny nose;
Laugh, quick, for Minnie; else I'll try
To make you eat this rose.

Poor eyes! all wet. I'll kiss them dry.
What's in your pocket? See.
Oh! where's your watch? Now won't you please,
Just make it tick for me?

It's nice to have a dear papa.
(How big it is, and bright.
I hear it ticky, ticky, tick;
It's very loud to-night.)

Ride me to Banbury Cross, papa!
Now don't you let me fall,
When I was little, how I slipped!
I couldn't keep on at all.

Oh! there's the tea bell. Now you've tossed
My hair like everything!
I'll toss you too. Oho! Oho!
You look just like a king—

For kings have crowns, you know, papa,
And your hair is standing straight.
I knew you'd laugh! There, now you're good—
Come quick and show Aunt Kate."

Aunt, at the table, glanced at one,
And then glanced at the other;
She could not guess what hidden thing
Had happened to her brother.

His shining hair stood like a crown,
His smile was warm and bright;
"Why, John," she said, "you really seem Like your old self to-night."

The Westminster Review (Am. reprint) for October contains The Pilgrim Fathers, Greek Democracy, Faraday, Geoffrey Chaucer, Bearings of Modern Science on Art, The Authorship of Junius, The Baptists, Gotthold Ephraim Lessing, The Session of 1871, and Contemporary Literature. $4 per year. Leonard Scott Publishing Co., 140 Fulton Street, New York.

—General Wimpffen, in his book on the capitulation of Sedan, thus describes the bearing of the ex-Emperor on the occasion of the surrender: "There was no more disgusting spectacle than the attitude of Napoleon III, during the catastrophe. There was so little dignity about him, that nearly all who witnessed what he was doing on that occasion could not help despising the man whom they had never respected. General Wimpffen evidently does not believe that Napoleon will be anything more than ex-Emperor of France.

—The Committee of Seventy of New York city found that the community had been robbed at the rate of two and a half millions per month during the twenty months ending on the first of last September; and an approximate estimate of stealings of Tweed & Co. during that time includes fifty-nine millions.

—The Lousville Commercial says an eloping couple from Amo were married by Mayor Thomas, at Terre Haute, Ind., recently, and can now return to Amo and conjugate it in all moods and tenses. It would be difficult to imagine Amo's felicitous combination of circumstances.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Totter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdwfebl6

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more destructible to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no concentration, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

"The Secret of Carrying Elections."

The possession of which by the Democracy was once exultingly boasted by the New York World, just after that carse "secret" had been successfully used to overslaugh the honest Republican majority of New York State by the fraudulent Democratic majority of New York city, is a secret no longer, and is now shown up by the following specimen of the manner in which the Democratic majorities were manufactured. An eye witness says:

The disgraceful scenes, the ruffianly assaults, the dishonest repeating, fraudulent voting and final surrender of the ballot boxes in the Sixth Ward cannot be described. I saw drunken men come into the second voting precinct, not with Republican votes, for such a man would have been assaulted in three minutes, but with the ticket of the Committee of Seventy, including O'Donovan Rossa, and lay them on the ballot boxes. I saw Edward Coppers, a low, vulgar scoundrel, acting as Inspector, snap those votes off, and before the eyes of Michael Costello, the only Republican who dared to stay in the room, deposit others. I saw four policemen connive at these frauds, I saw thief after thief come in, whom Mr. Costello knew to be voting fraudulently, and their votes were received by their associate thief Coppers, and deposited unchallenged. I saw Michael Costello challenge one brutal repeater, and then I saw five scoundrels assault him and drag him to the ground, while four policemen stood by and saw it done. After this I saw the ballot boxes in the hands of thieves and repeaters. Every Republican vote was rejected unless it was disguised. Only Tweed votes were received.

We presume, now that Tweed is a dead weight on the Democratic party, that his party press will denounce his proceedings, or at least will not defend his supporters from the charge of fraud; indeed they cannot, without admitting what they would fain deny, — that Tweed's record is endorsed by the Democratic party, or rather, is the record of that party. And if the Tammany Ring, in spite of the committee of seventy and their watchers, and of the consternation caused by the onslaught of the Republican press, the defection and confession of the more timid members of the gang of thieves and the adverse action of Judge Barnard, could manage to elect the Boss thief of the Ring to a high office, to what a frightful extent such frauds must have been carried in the scoundrelism of Tammany Hall, before public opinion, indignantly expressed, had driven a Tammany judge to deal justly, and when Tammany Hall was not only the leader but the idol of the northern Democracy and fiercely defended and warmly eulogised by the entire Democratic press of the North. Then that famous "secret of carrying elections," as possessed by the Democracy and improved by Tweed & Co. to carry the elections in New York, was something to boast of; now, every good Democrat is disgusted (and always has been) with any such infamous "secret," and with the erroneous idea that Tweed, Sweeny and the rest of the Ring were ever the loudly praised leaders of the most important and influential organization — except the Ku-Klux—in the Democratic party, or were elected year after year by the square vote of that party simply because their frauds gave the party a political advantage they could not otherwise secure. Circumstances do alter cases, with a vengeance.

Political.

Ten thousand fraudulent votes were thrown for the Tammany ticket in New York city at the recent election. Gen. Sigel publishes a card thanking the people for their confidence in him and requesting that evidence of repeating be sent him in order that the culprits may be punished. It is reported that Senator Fenton and Collector Murphy have buried the hatchet.

At a large meeting in Brooklyn, presided over by Mayor Kalbfleisch, Democrat, it was decided to investigate the frauds of the Ring Democrats at the late election. Samuel Booth, Republican, was legally elected Mayor, but was counted out by inspectors. Mayor Kalbfleisch declared it necessary to go to the legislature for a law to require certain modifications in the inspectors of elections.

It Appears from Georgia papers that much alarm prevails under the apprehension that the President will proclaim martial law in that State. Even the democratic papers there acknowledge the existence of Ku-Klux, and propose that the people take into their own hands the extermination of all such outlaw bands.

A Conundrum For Horace Greeley.—Which is the butt end of a ram?

The Elections for 1871 present a very favorable appearance to Republicans. The classified electoral vote of each State is as follows:—

REPUBLICAN.		DEMOCRATIC.
Connecticut	6	New Hampshire	5
Massachusetts	12	New Jersey	7
Rhode Island	4	Maryland	7
New York	33	Virginia	10
Pennsylvania	26	Kentucky	11
North Carolina	9	Texas	6
Ohio	21	West Virginia	5
Mississippi	7
Illinois	16
Maine	7
Arkansas	5
Wisconsin	8
Iowa	8
California	5
Minnesota	4

A Good Idea.—Under the influences of the high rate of insurance on grain in the Chicago warehouses the proprietors are determined to purchase each a steam fire-engine. The whole number will be called out in a case of necessity. Each warehouse is to have a steam pump connected with a pipe radiating throughout the building, thus averting the necessity of insuring warehouse and their contents.

A Passenger Train was thrown from the track on the Northern Missouri Railroad, Friday, and was precipitated down an embankment. Two persons were killed.

Correspondence.

BOSTON, Nov. 10.

The brilliant auroral display of last evening was too wide spread to need much description from any one point. The great shafts of roseate light gave an idea of the terrible magnificence on which the refugees from Chicago gazed from their asylum upon the prairie. It was followed by a no less gorgeous cloud display just before sunrise this morning.

The business that kills all business, is the most persistent and most far-reaching humanity has ever known. Like the creeping vines that in Southern forests crush the vitality from noble trees with their worthless convolutions, the dram-shops seem hopelessly intertwined with civilization. Go where you will, in the haunts of man, and you are haunted by that which destroys manhood. In the far southwest an aggregation of two or three rude buildings ever includes a grocery, (and "grocery" and "groggery" are unfortunately too often synonyms, not only there, but on the frontier everywhere, and in all the river towns of the great West.) Montreal has its "Coffee Rooms," New Orleans its "Cafes," and the more Anglicised cities their "Restaurants,"—but in all the end is the same; the pandering to an appetite for artificial stimuli that will conquer as surely as Time or the Tomb. The great bar-room of the St. Charles; the quiet coffee room of St. Lawrence Hall; the cramped wine rooms of large Boston hotels under fear of prohibitory law; the "open bars" of lower Hanover and North streets, for 'longshoremen and landsharks' delectation; the fruit and cigar stores of many cities, which act as a blind for the hell within; all have the same object—the coining of money from sacrifices at the shrine of the insatiate god yclept Bacchus.

Neither old traditions nor new ventures are sacred to this unappeasable demon. Open a new street or widen an old one in Boston, with its hairs whitened by two and a half centuries, and you will find the most salient points occupied by beer saloons, groceries that vend liquors, and restaurants that furnish "distilled damnation" as readily as they furnish food. Gough became the best temperance lecturer of our day from his bitter experience in an opposite role, and no man who has not seen its workings is fitted to combat the evils of strong drink.

Books of travel, well written, have ever been most popular, with old as well as young, but we hardly expected to see so interesting a book on the old travelled grounds of Europe as Curtis Guild, Esq., of the Commercial Bulletin, has made in "Over the Ocean." Here, in 507 pages, we have the best of the old world presented in a new dress, such a dress as only a shrewd caterer to the tastes of to-day can fit; while his talent for observation gives us many little points of interest which the ordinary tourist or writer would entirely overlook. The get-up of the volume is excellent, and all who desire the best book on European travel published for many a year, should remit the price, $2.50, to Lee & Shepard, publishers, Boston. M.

—A Tennessee woman recently released her husband from the state prison by walking 150 miles to Nashville with a child in her arms and asking the governor to pardon him.

—A 2,000-pound bar of soap took the place of the big cheese at the recent Atlanta, Ga., fair.

—"Susie, darling," said a mother to her little daughter of five summers, "what would do without your mamma?" "I would put on just such a dress as I pleased every day," was the affectionate reply.

—Owing to the immense quantity of potatoes brought to market at Bangor, Me., the price of them has fallen to forty cents a bushel. Unless the price advances farmers will use them to feed the stock.

—Pecans have made a good yield in Texas this year, and several Alabama planters, who have pecan trees growing on their places, report a fine crop.

—A Georgia dame had one ear excerpted by a locomotive.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Rare Chance.—Persons wanting Sewing Machines, Melodeons, Cabinet Organs, Pianos, &c., can save money by purchasing of E. A. Joy, No. 9 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H. He is selling out a large stock of New Goods, warranted perfect, at one-half and three-fourths the usual prices, in order to make room for the "Domestic" Sewing Machines, the demand for which is sufficient to require his whole attention. You can pay by small monthly installments if desirable. Second-hand Goods almost given away. Don't delay, for he is determined that the entire stock shall be closed out as soon as possible.

It Is Said that if a puff of air were to be blown into a vein of an animal, death would instantaneously follow, because circulation would be stopped. The blood makes the entire circuit of the human body every seven minutes, and whenever this circulation is impeded or any of its channels are clogged by impurities which ought to be carried off, disease follows—fever or a disorder of liver or kidneys, or scrofula, or dyspepsia. To get at and remove the source of the difficulty use the old and infallible blood purifier, Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters. o21 4w

Winter is now fairly upon us, and the teams are hastening to the lumber woods in various parts of the country. Our advice to every man who goes to the woods, be he captain, cook, teamster, or any other man, is to take along a good stock of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment and Parson's Purgative Pills. Many months of labor (in the aggregative) may be saved by this precaution.

Bad enough to look and feel bad yourself; but no excuse for having your horse look and feel badly, when for a small sum you can buy Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, which given in grain two or three times a week, will make him look and feel well.

What Dyspepsia May End In.

Indigestion is not dangerous, say the faculty. Perhaps not in itself, while it remains mere indigestion; but look at the consequences to which it may lead, and often does lead when it becomes a chronic disease. A spark of fire is a small thing. A pressure of the foot will put it out; a breath will extinguish it. Yet it may fire a powder mill, or kindle a flame that will consume a city. In like manner indigestion may produce gastritis, cancer of the stomach, congestion of the bowels, apoplexy, liver disease, and many other dangerous maladies. Is it not wise, then, to check it in the germ? Nothing is more clearly and indisputably established than that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS will eradicate dyspepsia in all its stages. The true policy, however, is to extinguish it in the first stage with this wholesome, powerful, and infallible tonic and alterative. It is easier to quench a spark than a flame, and it is easier to cure dyspepsia when it is first developed, than when it has made a headway by neglect, and become complicated with other ailments. There is not the shadow of a doubt that the bitters are as directly antagonistic to dyspepsia as water is to fire. There are thousands of cases on record proving this fact. The remedy is safe and agreeable. All the liquors of commerce prescribed as stimulants, leave a sting behind. But the sting is taken out of the spirituous basis of this great remedy by vegetable medication, and, moreover, the stimulant thus medicated is of exceptional purity. Of all tonics taken as safeguards or remedies for fever and ague, bilious remittents, and other fall epidemics, it is the only one that can uniformly be depended upon.

OFFICE OF

FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS & FINANCIAL AGENTS

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company,

No. 5 Nassau Street, New York.

The rails are being laid on the Western Division of 100 miles of the Extension of this

GREAT EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINE,

which in a short time will be ready for general travel and traffic, and for the transportation of Kanawha coal to the Ohio River for the Western markets.

The earnings of the Eastern Division of 227 miles as a local road, awaiting the completion of the Middle Division of 100 miles, will reach, this year, nearly $800,000.

The total cost of the entire road, and the large equipment required for its minerals and through traffic, will be fully $30,000,000.

The total amount of the FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, which we are now selling, is FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS, of which only about FOUR MILLIONS remain unsold, the proceeds of which, with the Cash on hand, will be ample for the Completion of the Entire Line.

The inducements they offer to investors are:

A perfect security.

Great popularity and a high price when the road is finished.

The same rate of interest as Five-twenties.

Principal and interest both payable in United States gold coin in New York City.

Their present low price (93 and accrued interest from Nov. 1,) which is about 20 per cent. less than Five-twenties, with equal certainty of payment of interest and principal.

We recommend them to our friends and customers with the same confidence with which we have always recommended the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT and the CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS.

We continue to buy and sell CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS at the market price, and fully expect they will, in time, reach the price of Five-twenty Bonds. They are dealt in at all the principal money-centres of the world; the Company have none left, and can issue no more, on their Main Line, as the amount was fixed by act of Congress at $26,885,000; the property pledged to secure the bondholders is the net receipts of the road for the year will be nearly three times the interest payments thereon.

WORTH FULLY ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS;

The CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are issued in $100, $500, $1000; either coupon or registered; interest, six per cent., gold, payable May and November.

The CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS are all for $1000 each; interest, six per cent., gold, payable January and July, in New York City.

We buy and sell FIVE-TWENTIES, TEN-FORTIES, EIGHTY-ONES, and CENTRAL or WESTERN PACIFICS, or receive them in payment for CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS at their current market price.

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

Deposit accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum. Checks drawn on us are payable on presentation, without notice, the same as at a National Bank.

Certificates of Deposit, bearing interest at special rates to be agreed upon, will be issued to Savings Banks, Institutions, Trustees of Estates, and others having sums of money awaiting investment.

Orders for Investment Stocks and Bonds executed at the Stock Exchange. Government Securities bought and sold, at usual, at current market rates. FISK & HATCH.

The long contested case of the Swamscott Machine Co. vs. Walter D. Richards of Boston was given to the jury, Saturday. On the first ballot they found a verdict for the Co. The case is as follows: — Walter D. Richards purchased and paid for ten steam engines, which were built under the supervision of their Agent, Mr. Baldwin, by the Swamscott Co. of South Newmarket. Baldwin ordered ten more and sold them to J. B. L. Lang. Richards contended that he was not responsible for the purchase. The jury thought otherwise and ordered him to pay $3258.41.

The case of Samuel Woodbury's heirs vs. the Manchester & Lawrence R. R. Co., for killing Mr. Woodbury at a crossing in Salem, will be commenced to-day. This is a suit for damages. The Railroad authorities claim that they took all necessary precautions to prevent accidents at that place and that Mr. Woodbury lost his life by his own carelessness. The plaintiffs hold the opposite view.

Railroad Accident.

The freight train due here Friday at 7.30 P. M. was so heavy that the engine was unable to draw it from Kittery to this city. A portion of the train was taken to a side track in Kittery, leaving the other cars. Both express trains being nearly due, Engineer James D. Akerman was anxious to return as speedily as possible to bring in these cars. Backing swiftly to that locality, a collision occurred with two cars laden with brick, which had been detached from the train by the breaking of a bolt. Mr. Akerman was thrown heavily against the tender, and the fireman, who was just climbing on the wood, found himself struggling on the ground covered with wood. The tender was smashed and the cars collided with considerably damaged. Mr. Akerman was hurt badly in the side but will soon be on duty. The fireman's injuries were not severe. The Pullman express trains were delayed about two hours by the accident. The snow was falling fast at the time of the accident and it was next to impossible to see the cars before the tender struck them.

The First Snow Storm

Of the season visited us Friday night, and furnished about sixty minutes' sleighing. About six inches remained at sunrise of Saturday, nearly as much more having melted previously. Our country neighbors report the total fall at twelve inches. The snow was very damp and clung to the tree limbs with tenacity, overloading and bowing them towards the ground. Trees not yet divested of leaves yet green and of brilliant red plums were fancifully ornamented and presented a beautiful appearance. This is the largest amount of snow that has fallen so early in the season for more than a quarter of a century. Mr. Lafayette Laighton, who is noted as a weather recorder, informs us that about two inches of snow fell on the 7th of November, 1862, after which the weather was very pleasant and mild. During the following Winter (1862-63) not more than twenty inches fell, and in March the ground was as bare as is usual in the month of May. The fall storms have generally been followed by warm weather, which is said by weather prophets to indicate a continuance of the same and an open Winter.

Miss Annie W. Guilford,

Whose singing and rendition of "Queen Esther" was so much praised in this city, two years since, has attained high rank as a vocalist. She announces a grand concert in Lynn for next Wednesday evening, at which she is to be assisted by Mrs. Barry and Messrs. Bartlett, Winch, Lang, Allen and Weston. The Lynn Reporter says:—

Miss Guilford has been known to the citizens of Lynn and vicinity for two or three years, as a young lady of rare vocal powers, which she has labored assiduously to cultivate, and it is very apparent to those who listen to her singing that her efforts thus far have been attended with success. Her rapid improvement has been spoken of in terms of praise by several vocalists, and her vocal ability has received flattering commendations from eminent musicians, including M. Arbuckle, the distinguished cornet player. From singing at small gatherings and social entertainments, she has risen, almost unaided, to such a stage in her profession as to be enabled to command a good salary at the St. James Church, Boston, for her services on Sundays. Her enterprise deserves encouragement. Lynn has furnished two splendid vocalists to the musical world, Mrs. H. B. Smith and Signora Piccioli; let us do what we can to aid Miss Guilford in being added to the list.

Meteors

May be seen flying about the heavens about now. Look for them, o'nights.

The Morning Mails

From Boston, which have heretofore arrived in this city at 10 o'clock, will arrive thirty-five minutes later, for the future, as the postal cars will be put on the express train leaving Boston at 8.30. This will cause great dissatisfaction to our merchants, who desire sufficient time to read and answer letters in season for mailing in the 11.30 train.

Accident.

A job wagon owned by Mr. Augustus K. Brown and driven by one of his employes, was struck and somewhat broken by a freight train on the P. S. & P. Railroad, at the Vaughan Street crossing on Saturday. The train struck one of the hind wheels of the wagon, and the horse was not injured; the driver was thrown out and badly bruised, tho' no bones were broken. We are informed that there was no flag-man at the crossing when the accident occurred.

Sudden Death at York.

By the International Telegraph Line we learn that Mr. William Fernald, a prominent citizen of York, Me., fell dead in church Sunday afternoon. He was about 72 years old, and leaves a family.

THE EASTERN RAILROAD COMPANY will apply the Westinghaus air-brake to the cars of the Gloucester train for the purpose of testing its efficacy, and if succesful, will generally adopt it.

—They do say that they make good Clam Pie "over there."

—The Brunswick Telegraph says it is hinted that the Boston & Maine Railroad Company will seek for a charter for a line from Portland to Bath. At Bath the B. & M. would connect with the Knox and Lincoln for Rockland and Belfast. A few miles of road from the latter place to Bangor would make an opposition line to the Maine Central and give the Bangor people a shorter route to Boston.

THE BRENNANS.—The Town Hall was filled to its utmost capacity last Friday and Saturday nights, which strongly testified to the popularity of the entertainment given by the Brennan's and the Tableaux of Erin. The Tableaux, representing a journey through Ireland, consisted of an exquisite portraiture of the scenery of that beautiful country. It is of thrilling interest, is represented in the most happy manner and the scenery and appointments are of the most elegant description. The view of St. Patrick's Cathedral, illuminated for midnight mass, in the first section, is a most beautiful effort and can be transferred to canvass, only by the hand of a genuine artist. Mr. Brennan, an artist of the foremost rank, gave an interesting description of the various scenes with great power and intensity. At times he touched a chord with which every heart in the audience seemed to vibrate—the cruel fate of poor downtrodden Ireland. Mrs. Brennan, justly styled the Queen of Song, created a general sensation, her voice being marked for strength, purity and sweetness. And not only as a vocalist but as an actress she possesses undiminished powers. Mr. Tim Cohen was a capital Dublin Dan and he played the part with great zest and merry humor, occasionally introducing his favorable terpsichorean qualifications. It was indeed a pleasure to see this brilliant comedian in a part that so aptly brought out his remarkable talents; and the large assemblage could not fail to give him a cordial greeting, which was a very certain register of the high esteem in which he was held. Mr. Shannon was also received with a degree of enthusiasm that showed how genuine was the appreciation of his professional worth. In conclusion, we deem the whole entertainment worthy of the great success it is everywhere achieving.—Great Falls Journal.

—It is estimated that one burning gas jet will consume as much air as five persons.

—Over 2,500 horse skins are used annually for covering balls for the national game.

—The city council of Cleveland has just passed an ordinance against billiard playing on Sunday.

—The true cause of the inequality of the sexes—In early life the boy masters his opportunities, while the girl always misses hers.—Omaha Herald.

—The health officer of the port of Halifax says that only nine deaths occurred on the steamer Franklyn, instead of twenty, as reported.

—An exchange says a Dubuque farmer put out a fire in his barn with a deluge of milk. Like other consumers, the fire fiend couldn't tell it from water.

—One Elder Curry, the head of a new religious sect in Springfield, Mass., called Elijahites, promises his converts forty years of life, and finds some who believe in him.

—A metallic lamp filled with patent burning fluid exploded in the house of W. C. Lord of Berwick Me., on Tuesday night last, and had it not been for the coolness of a young lady of the family, doubtless the house would have been burned. She caught a rug from the floor and threw it upon the burning oil, smothering the flames, thus preventing all damage by fire. — Great Falls Journal.

Morning Chronicle.

THE PROFILE MANAGEMENT.—A correspondent of a Boston paper says:—

Perhaps very few persons are aware of the fact that it is Mrs. Taft, and not Mr. Taft, who keeps the Profile House at the Franconia Mountains. We read in the year's Guide Book that the "House is kept by Messrs. Taft & Greenleaf; that Mr. Taft has for nearly twenty years been associated with the hotels in Franconia Notch, and is thoroughly conversant with the country and the wants of travellers. If faithful attention, clean rooms, a profuse table, can furnish a desirable resting place for the traveller, these are all to be found in this favored spot."

This commendation is well deserved, but it is applied to the wrong individual. The next night after our arrival at the Profile House, one of our party was taken violently ill in the drawing room just as the dancing was about to commence. The awe-stricken crowd thronged about the sick man, threatening suffocation and making contradictory statements, as is customary at such times, when, suddenly, a murmur of—"Here she is; make way; she knows"—caused the crowd to divide and remain silent.

A lady of unusual light advanced with perfect self-possession to the sick man, and gave a few plain and sensible directions in a low voice. This was the first time we ever saw Mrs. Taft. Late into the night she, with her daughter, an accomplished lady, attended in the room to which their sick guest was carried. They not only remained with the invalid, but brought every comfort the house afforded and when they could no longer afford aid, they stationed a man outside the door to keep watch the remainder of the night.

The acquaintance begun under these circumstances ripened the next day when, seated in Mrs. Taft's parlor just back of the office, we entered into conversation. She said: "I keep this house. My husband is too ill to attend to anything. During the first two weeks of the season I had not a satisfactory cook, and I made all the pastry that was eaten here." We asked her how she managed to keep the house always free from bedbugs. She replied: "I never allow a single article to be brought to the house from the servants' quarters, and every fall everything is packed separately; I see to it myself. Once a year every carpet, except one, is taken up and the rooms thoroughly cleaned." While she talked with us, her daughter entered the room. The mother said, "Go and stand by that griddle." The young lady retired to the point of duty without a question or a murmur.

What a lesson in housekeeping is this to those ladies who cannot manage a small household with one or two servants. "Go and stand by that griddle" solved the mystery of the invariable light brown griddle cakes. When the mother leaves a duty which requires personal superintendence, the daughter takes her place. If we in our own homes pursued such a line of conduct, all the evils of American housekeeping would be done away with. Insolent and filthy servants would not abound.

While we talked with Mrs. Taft, her husband entered the room. He is a very agreeable gentleman, although his sunken eyes and sallow face bear witness to his constant ill-health. When we expressed our surprise to our hostess that she should be able to accomplish so much with so little apparent effort, she said quickly, "Oh, I have my husband to refer to always," as though it were unwomanly to possess the ability to conduct successfully the most popular hotel in the whole mountain region.

STEALING LETTERS FROM BOXES.—Traps which are set by thieves to intercept the letters dropped into the pillar-boxes may have the merit of ingenuity, but certainly not that of novelty, for it seems they were in use so far back as 1792. In the Annual Register for that year, it is mentioned that "a scheme of a very singular nature was detected lately at the post-office in Exeter. A gentleman dropping a letter into the letter-hole was struck at not hearing it drop to the bottom, and on examination a case was discovered to have been let down the hole by a string and fastened on the outside by a piece of watch-spring; it was when detected full of letters, and no doubt contained bills to a very considerable amount." It should always be borne in mind by those who are inclined to be hard on letter thieves, that there is no branch of the thieving profession which involves more labor of a wearisome nature than that of stealing letters. For every one letter containing an article of value the thief has to wade through a mass of correspondence of the most tedious description; his time, always valuable, is taken up with the perusal of such petty details as applications for payment of accounts, the love letters of cooks and housemaids, and other trivial matters most trying to the temper and patience of one solely intent on making money, or, to speak more correctly, abstracting it, and few could gaze on the picture presented by a tired thief in an ill-lighted garret intent on deciphering an ill-written, ungrammatical composition, without feeling that even dishonesty has its drawbacks, and that folly unconsciously often avenges itself on crime.—Pall Mall Gazette.

—There is a deal of loud talking and exhortation done by people who would be vastly benefited, as a matter of discipline, by half an hour's silence! When a prayer-meeting falls into the hands of these religious "repeaters," sensible people stay away. The surest way to keep an unconverted man unconverted is to disgust him. I hope every Christian in the land will improve his gifts, including the gift to sit still.—Murray.

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT STATE OF NEW YORK.

ALBANY, Nov. 22, 1871.

At the request of the Continental Insurance Company of the City of New York, I have taken the earliest opportunity, since the adjournment of the National Convention of Insurance Commissioners, to investigate the affairs of the Company, and I find its condition to be as follows:

Its assets, amounting to Two Million Eight Hundred and Forty-seven Thousand Three Hundred and Seven Dollars and Sixty-four Cents, are judiciously and safely invested.

Its capital of Five Hundred Thousand Dollars is unimpaired, and it has a surplus of net assets, largely in excess of the amount required to reinsure its outstanding risks, after providing for all other liabilities, including the contingent liability.

Its losses sustained at Chicago are in course of rapid adjustment, and leave the Company with abundant ability to afford indemnity to its customers, and to respond promptly to all customary claims.

The subscriptions to its voluntary addition of Five Hundred Thousand Dollars to its Capital are made greater than double the amount to which Stockholders are entitled.

ST. CLOUD HOTEL, NEW YORK. By RAND BROTHERS, Broadway, Cor. of 42nd Street.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous and slime which is clogging their proper functions, and by cause to perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this, purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, make the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately, a good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the mucous membrane, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of tubercles or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is healing, by its special healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a healthy action, which assists Nature the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if persons will persevere, the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to build up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. To get this result, Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a good reason. I do not wish to be understood as partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been for a period free from it. I am speaking of a cure in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to any atmosphere that is not pure and free from chill. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The great secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influence. The same caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutricious diet, and all the medicines continued until the body has restored to it its natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

TOO ZEALOUS BY HALF.

In a quaint German town rich in legend and ruin,
There dwelt, in a very hermetical way,
An eccentric old fellow named Jonathan Bethune,
Whose only companion (so people all say)
Was a frolicsome, innocent, infantile Bruin.

'Twixt master and beast there existed a feeling
Intense as the love between mother and child,
Which sentiment fond neither thought of concealing:
And many an hour this strange duo beguiled,
With many an act their affection revealing.

One morning the villagers missed from their number
This quiet old hermit and Bruin mischievous;
But thinking perhaps was protracted their slumber,
(Not dreaming could happen an accident grievous,)
Their minds with misgivings they did not encumber.

But as night grew apace, and no sign of the hermits,
Burst open the door, and if fear there existed,
The scene they beheld was enough to confirm it.
There, prone on the bare floor, the hermit lay dying,
The blood standing forth from a wound in his forehead;
And Bruin dejected, close by him was lying,
A-gnashing his teeth, and a-growling quite horrid,
And brushing his tears off as though he'd been crying.

It seems that the master, o'ercome by a potion,
Lay down to sleep off the effect of his dram,
And Bruin conceived the commendable notion
Of shooing the flies from the slumbering man,
By keeping his paw in continual motion.

But one little blue bottle son of his mother,
Returning too oft, so excited his ire,
That Bruin no longer his feelings could smother;
And bearing all up with zealotical fire,
He waited the coming again of the other.

The fly approached slowly, then fast, and then faster
And settled at last on the slumberer's jaw,
But Bruin was ready, ne're dreaming disaster—
With all of its weight fell his ponderous paw—
The fly was a "goner"—but so was the master!

The moral of which is respectfully shown,—
In service of patron, or neighbor, or friend,
Be not over zealous, and candidly own
That judgment is useful, whatever the end,
And zeal is a fool when it "goes it alone."

THIRTY PROPOSALS.

A CALIFORNIA LOVE STORY.

You don't say that is his wife? Well, she is a stunner, and no mistake. I confess to an overwhelming curiosity concerning that marriage. Why, in the States he was considered an inveterate bachelor.

Somehow he never cared to go around with the girls as the rest of us did; but always took his mother wherever he went, and waited upon her as though she had been queen of England.

All the girls liked him, and if he ever ventured where they were, they would flutter around him, but it was plain that he never gave them a second thought.

His mother used to say, 'If my son ever marries, it will be a very superior woman, quite different from the girls one ordinarily meets.'

When we heard at home that he was married, the girls said, (a little spitefully, I reckon,) 'There must be one wonderful woman in California,' and they hoped she would be 'superior' enough to teach the old bachelor, a lesson or two.' How is it, is she likely to do so?'

'Well, there's more in her than you'd think at first. She must be real good herself, or she never would have appreciated our friend. He is solid and substantial, but not very showy. I've known him intimately for years, and I never knew him to say or do a mean thing.

He deserves his good luck and I will own it, though to be honest, I wanted that woman for my wife, and have not reached a point yet where I can take much pleasure in thinking of the wedding.

Come over here under the trees, and I'll tell you how it came about; but you'd better not let on you know it, for 'tis a sort of understood thing that we are to keep it on the square, and it's rather a tender subject with us boys.

It was the summer of '60; we lived over the canyon I was telling you about—there was thirty of us in the gang, and we had four cabins with a store house, which was public property. We worked hard through the week, and on Sunday did our washing and brought our housework up a little. I suppose we should be called a hard set, but we were not any rougher than men generally who get a living by themselves for a year or two.

Eight of us camped together, and each of us had as distinct an individuality as though we represented different nations.

Some how or other we had acquired a sobriquet which was acknowledged to be characteristic, and we were called by it in camp to the complete ignoring of our real names.

There was Hal Winterton, a southerner and a fierce secessionist, we called him 'South Carolina.' Dave Austin, a Connecticut man, and a regular sell, we called him 'Nutmeg.' 'Dandy' stuck to Charles Chaplin, for he was a regular fop. Then there was Ned Simpson, a perfect 'Aunt Betty,'—you'd know his name at the first

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs, NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON, After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.'

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restoratives," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted to the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

MANHOOD IN THE Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

It is a pleasing and venerated custom of our people to observe a day near the close of the harvest season, set apart to publicly recognize the Divine goodness of Him who bringeth forth the fruits of the earth in their season. That this usage, so universally approved, may be continued, I do with the advice of the Council, appoint THURSDAY, THE 30TH INSTANT, as a day of public thanksgiving and praise; and I recommend to the people of this State, that they assemble in their usual places of worship, to render homage of grateful hearts to Almighty God for the numerous manifestations of His kindness and care. And from the temples of worship, from the gathering of kindred around the family hearth, and from the hearts of all, may there ascend to the Most High, the tribute of sincere and fervent gratitude, that we are preserved from the ravages of war, pestilence, fire, and calamities which have so fearfully scourged other States and nations. And while we rejoice in our own safety and prosperity, let us not be unmindful of those whom sorrow and want render deserving of our sympathy and aid.

"Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first fruits of all thine increase; so shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine."

Given at the Council Chamber in Concord this ninth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one, and of the Independence of the United States the ninety-sixth.

JAMES A. WESTON.

By His Excellency the Governor, with advice of the Council.

JOHN H. GOODALE, Secretary of State.

The Elections.

Evidence of great frauds in the election is still being brought to light in Brooklyn. Two canvassers in the seventh assembly district confessed that they had been guilty of fraud. The election return from the 21st ward, which was stolen two days ago, was found under a desk in a private office connected with the county clerk's department, where it was thrown by the thief. An inspector of elections in one district of the 14th ward confesses to frauds, and now asserts that Morton, Republican, was elected instead of Warnwig, Democrat, to the assembly. A special committee to investigate frauds is busy at work, and affidavits are pouring in upon it.

The next Massachusetts house of Representatives will consist of 168 Republicans, 47 Democrats, 3 Labor Reform men and 4 prohibitionists.

The Mississippi house of Representatives will have 61 Republicans, 53 Democrats and 2 Independents. The Senate will number 24 Republicans and 12 Democrats.

—Hines, who stole $25,000 from Mahaiwe bank, at Great Barrington, is only nineteen years of age. He is an aspiring Connecticut youth, and is early on the way to elevation in society.

—"Uxoreide" is what the Philadelphia Press called it when a man only just killed his wife.

New Publications.

Scribner's for December opens with a charming German legend in verse, "The Count's Little Daughter," by Mrs. Greenough. It is very daintily and poetically illustrated. Other illustrated papers are Bayard Taylor's "Sights in and around Yedo;" Colonel Torope's "Pictures from the Plains;" a very valuable and interesting article on "The Boston Public Library;" a bright little story by Miss Hopkins, "Miss Marigold's Thanksgiving;" "Cyprus—Afloat and Ashore," by A. J. Johnson, and a poem, with one of Bolle's designs, by Dr. Hake, the reclase poet, who has recently been brought before the English world under the auspices of Rosetti. It is called "The Blind Boy—a Parable," and is quaintly imaginative and winningly tender. Besides this poem from over the sea and Miss Greenough's, we have in the present number an autumn song, by E. C. Stedman, "The Flight of the Birds," and "Mare Ignotum," by Ellice Woodruffe. The remarkable story, "Esther Wynn's Love Letters," by Saxe Holm, (author of "Whose Wife Was She," in the September number,) also contains several exquisite little poems. There are two articles which bear upon Russia. Mr. George P. Putnam, the eminent publisher, contributes a gossip paper on "London Revisited," and Miss Trafton an account of "A Visit to Charlotte Bronte's School in Brussels." "Willrid Cumbermede" has tragic interest, and Mrs. Oliphant's "The Two Mrs. Scudamores," is one of her strongest stories. Dr. Holland, in "Topics of the Time," discourses characteristically on the following themes: "Let us be Virtuous," "Chicago," "The Washington Treaty and the Peace Reformers," and "The Young in Great Cities." In "The Old Cabinet" we find, "Behind the Mask," "A Stumbling-block," "Fore-warned is Fore-armed," "The Shaker Side," and "The Yellow Stone." The Departments of "Home and Society," "Culture and Progress Abroad," and "At Home," are sensible, instructive, and entertaining.

THE NEW YORK FRAUDS.—General Barlow, the newly-elected attorney-general, is urging the collection of evidence of corruption on the part of Judge Cardozo and other city judges, in order that he can impeach them as soon as he assumes his office.

The bureau of municipal correction have information leading them to believe that Tweed is preparing to flee. The testimony against him is not only for frauds on the city, but in connection with Erie transactions, which is overwhelming. He is secretly converting everything into available funds while maintaining the outward semblance of firmness.

HOW THE EARTH WILL BE DESTROYED.—A young celestial geologist, Stanislas Meunier by name, has lifted us out of the rut as regards our future fate and for so doing has been complimented by the eminent savant, M. Dumas. For hundreds of years we have steadily believed that in the end this planet will be parched up like a scroll, and it is refreshing to find it proved by M. Meunier that so far from melting with fervent heat we shall proably break in pieces from intense cold, and be distributed through space in aeroliths. A close study of sidereal paleontology has led M. Meunier to this conviction, which would certainly in former days have drawn down upon him the thunders of the Church.

The geologist astronomer arrived at his system in this manner: After a thorough examination of the aeroliths in the museum, he conceived that the asteroids which are constantly falling on our globe must be fragments of some heavenly body, about the same size as the moon, which perished ages ago by spontaneous rupture, having arrived at its last period of cooling. This star, which was probably a satellite of the Earth, M. Meunier has named Geologia, and the stones which fall on our globe are portions of that defunct body. In fact, as Buffon or Cuvier could reconstruct a pre-historical animal from a tibia, so M. Meunier has gone to work to reconstruct an entire planet from a fragment.

The former existence of Geologia having been satisfactorily established, M. Meunier proceeds to show that it must have occupied a place among the solid planets, that is to say, in the region of Mercury, Venus, the Earth, and Mars, as solid stones like those picked up and preserved in the museum could hardly have come from the gaseous or the liquid planets. M. Meunier appears inclined to believe that his Geologia once played the role of a second moon until it cooled and went to pieces.

The other solid planets, according to this theory, are gradually approaching this fatal point of refrigeration, and by the time they break up, Jupiter and Saturn will pass from the liquid to the solid; and Uranus and Neptune from the gaseous to the liquid state. M. Dumas has thanked M. Meunier, for "placing in a new light, questions which had hitherto remained in the domain of abstraction."

—A correspondent who has travelled through the burnt region in Wisconsin, places the number of lives sacrificed at seven hundred and fifty.

—The New York Mail thinks that if the frightfully small vote given in Massachusetts last Tuesday for prohibition represent the strength of that organization, coercive measures have got their quietus.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RARE CHANCE.—Persons wanting Sewing Machines, Melodeons, Cabinet Organs, Pianos, &c., can save money by purchasing of E. A. Joy, No. 9 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H. He is selling out a large stock of New Goods, warranted perfect at one-half and three-fourths the usual prices, in order to make room for the "Domestic" Sewing Machines, the demand for which is sufficient to require his whole attention. You can pay by small monthly installments if desirable. Second-hand Goods almost given away. Don't delay, for he is determined that the entire stock shall be closed out as soon as possible.

IT IS SAID that if a puff of air were to be blown into a vein of an animal, death would instantaneously follow, because circulation would be stopped. The blood makes the entire circuit of the human body every seven minutes, and whenever this circulation is impeded or any of its channels are clogged by impurities which ought to be carried off, disease follows—fever or a disorder of liver or kidneys, or scrofula, or dyspepsia. To get at and remove the source of the difficulty use the old and infallible blood purifier, DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. o21 4w

Winter is now fairly upon us, and the teams are hastening to the lumber woods in various parts of the country. Our advice to every man who goes to the woods, be he captain, cook, teamster, or any other man, is to take along a good stock of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment and Parson's Purgative Pills. Many months of labor (in the aggregative) may be saved by this precaution.

Bad enough to look and feel bad yourself; but no excuse for having your horse look and feel badly, when for a small sum you can buy Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, which given in grain two or three times a week, will make him look and feel well.

What Dyspepsia May End In.

Indigestion is not dangerous, say the faculty. Perhaps not in itself, while it remains mere indigestion; but look at the consequences to which it may lead, and often does lead when it becomes a chronic disease. A spark of fire is a small thing. A pressure of the foot will put it out; a breath will extinguish it. Yet it may fire a powder mill, or kindle a flame that will consume a city. In like manner indigestion may produce gastritis, cancer of the stomach, congestion of the bowels, apoplexy, liver disease, and many other dangerous maladies. Is it not wise, then, to check it in the germ? Nothing is more clearly and indisputably established than that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS will eradicate dyspepsia in all its stages. The true policy, however, is to extinguish it in the first stages with this wholesome, powerful, and infallible tonic and alterative. It is easier to quench a spark than a flame, and it is easier to cure dyspepsia when it is first developed, than when it has made a headway by neglect, and become complicated with other ailments. There is not the shadow of a doubt that the bitters are as directly antagonistic to dyspepsia as water is to fire. There are thousands of cases on record proving this fact. The remedy is safe and agreeable. All the liquors of commerce prescribed as stimulants, leave a sting behind. But the sting is taken out of the spirituous basis of this great remedy by vegetable medication, and, moreover, the stimulant thus medicated is of exceptional purity. Of all tonics taken as safeguards or remedies for fever and ague, bilious remittents, and other fall epidemics, it is the only one that can uniformly be depended upon.

—A Missouri girl sweetly requested a serenader to draw a little nearer to her window in order that she might quench the flame of which he was singing with a bucket of hot water.

The Mayoralty Caucus.

At a meeting of the various Ward committees, Saturday evening, it was voted to hold the Republican caucus for the nomination of a candidate for Mayor on Tuesday, Nov. 21st, at the Ward Room on State Street, from five to eight o'clock, P. M. This arrangement will give ample time for all who desire to vote to do so quietly, and sufficient notice is given to all Republican voters that the polls will open and close at the appointed hours. The committees have also wisely decided to vote by check lists, allowing none but Republicans to deposit a ballot. The town clerks of the 1st and 2d Wards, Messrs. James R. Morrison and E. Washington Brown, and Mr. Charles W. Bailey of the 3d Ward, are to have charge of the check lists.

In addition to those already mentioned for the nomination we hear the names of Messrs. Charles H. Mendum, Christopher C. Jackson, Albert A. Fernald and Henry M. Clark for Mayor. The friends of Mr. Thos. S. Nowell are actively canvassing for his nomination, the other candidates declining to do so thus far.

—At Colt's armory in Hartford they are making a ticket punch for parties in Buffalo, designed as a detector to be used on horse and steam cars. Whenever a ticket is purchased a spring bell is rungy a number is registered on a hidden dial in a small, stout case, like that of a watch, and the piece of card or number punched falls into a receptacle prepared for it, where it is kept until removed by the proper authorities. It is said to be a compact and curious piece of mechanism, and tells its story as does the dial of a watch.

—A farmer in the Empire State is attempting to establish the fact that animals can live without water. Some time in June last he put in an inclosure a number of hogs and a small calf. Neither the hogs nor the calf have had any water during this entire period, and yet, strange to say, they are all as fat as moles, and are in an exceedingly thriving condition.

—The Independent found a good joke in the Chicago fire. It was in the fact that a sick German woman who lay at the point of death on Water street during the recent burning of Chicago, was affectionately drowned in the river by her relatives, to save her from suffocation by smoke and calcination by heat.

—The Chicago Post advises its fellow-sufferers as follows: "If you can not wheel bricks, and to beg at the Relief Headquarters you are ashamed, steal a lot of chimney ornaments, put them in the stove, bake to a brown and sell as relics. If that won't do get up a lecture."

Political.

The newest proposed Democratic departure, viz., the abandonment of the nomination of a Democrat for President and the absorption of that party into the support of some conservative Republican in opposition to President Grant, is checked before attaining considerable growth. In Wisconsin, the Democrats tried the experiment, nominated a renegade Republican, Doolittle, for Governor, and were beaten badly.

Stratham is annoyed by some rascal or rascals who steal guide boards, tie tin pails to the tails of horses and run them around.

MAJOR THOS. L. WHITE, who shot Mrs. Hobbs in Boston eighteen years ago, has been pardoned. He is at the point of death, having been in the hospital ever since his incarceration, and was pardoned that he might go home to Maine to be cared for in his last days by his mother.

"MAJOR."—For little more than a year Charlie Goodwin, of West Lebanon, Me., has had a crow, which he calls "Major." This crow has become perfectly domesticated and the people of that place have set him down as a permanent citizen. He very seldom talks in the crow language except when frightened, but tries very hard to speak the English language and articulates the names of some so correctly that they sometimes mistake it for a human call. His favorite companion is Charlie's dog, "Jumper," but he sometimes perches upon the top of the verandah and strives to warble a little Greek and Latin with the students, but with them seems to think Greek roots difficult. Sometimes he condescends to spend a little time with the domestic fowl, but if he finds he is not very welcome there (as he hardly ever is) he soars around the buildings, then lights on some prominent piece and talks in a very eloquent manner. Oct. 26th a great company of crows gathered on the hill behind the village to hold consultation. Now and then crows from other districts joined them, as "long and loud" they talked, seeming as earnest and anxious, as Cataline's conspirators against Cicero; but as it seemed a natural consequence at this season of the year, nothing was thought about it. But that night "a shout went up" from the apple tree in which "Major" had taken his nightly abode—such a cawing and screaming as they made can only be realized when your fowling piece brings down one from an innumerable flock. It lasted a few moments; then they whirled back to the hills and all was silent. Many in the village heard it and expected there would be one the less of their number town meeting day. But the next morning, as usual, Major came and politely called for his breakfast; and when in the course of the day the conjurations soared along before the house of their Southern flight, "Major" circled around the house in lofty pride, occasionally lighting to make an "oration." This wonderful crow still resides at Mr. Richard Goodwin's in West Lebanon, and always seems very happy to receive and entertain callers.—Great Falls Journal.

THIRTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE IN THE TREATMENT OF Chronic and Sexual Diseases.
A PHYSIOLOGICAL VIEW OF MARRIAGE.
The cheapest book ever published—containing nearly three hundred pages, and one hundred and thirty fine plates and engravings of the anatomy of the human organs in a state of health and disease, with a treatise on early errors, its deplorable consequences upon the mind and body, with the author's plan of treatment—the only rational and successful mode of cure, as shown by a report of cases treated. A truthful adviser to the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain doubts of their physical condition. Sent free of postage to any address, on receipt of twenty-five cents in stamps or postal currency, by addressing DR. LA CROIX, No. 31 Maiden Lane, Albany, N. Y. The author may be consulted upon any of the diseases upon which his book treats, either personally or by mail, and medicines sent to any part of the world.

OFFICE OF
FISK & HATCH,
BANKERS & FINANCIAL AGENTS
OF THE
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company,
No. 5 Nassau Street, New York.
The rails are being laid on the Western Division of 100 miles of the Extension of this GREAT EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINE,
which in a short time will be ready for general travel and traffic, and for the transportation of Kanawha coal to the Ohio River for the Western markets.
The earnings of the Eastern Division of 227 miles as a local road, awaiting the completion of the Middle Division of 100 miles, will reach, this year, nearly $800,000.
The total cost of the entire road, and the large equipment required for its miscellaneous and through traffic, will be fully $30,000,000.
The total amount of the FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, which we are now selling, is FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS, of which only about FOUR MILLIONS remain unsold, the proceeds of which, with the Cash on hand, will be ample for the Completion of the Entire Line.
The inducements they offer to investors are:
A perfect security.
Great popularity and a high price when the road is finished.
The same rate of interest as Five-twenties.
Principal and interest both payable in United States gold coin in New York City.
Their present low price (93 and accrued interest from Nov. 1,) which is about 20 per cent. less than Five-twenties, with equal certainty of payment of interest and principal.
We recommend them to our friends and customers with the same confidence with which we have always recommended the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT and the CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS.
We continue to buy and sell CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS at the market price, and fully expect they will, in time, reach the price of Five-twenty Bonds. They are dealt in at all the principal money-centres of the world; the Company have no debt, and can issue no more, on their Main Line, as the amount was fixed by act of Congress at $25,885,000; the property pledged to secure the bondholders is
WORTH FULLY ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS;
the net receipts of the road for the year will be nearly three times the interest payments thereon.
The CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are issued in $100, $500, $1000; either coupon or registered; interest, six per cent., gold, payable May and November.
The CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS are all for $1000 each; interest, six per cent., gold, payable January and July, in New York City.
We buy and sell FIVE-TWENTIES, TEN-FORTIES, EIGHTY-ONES, and CENTRAL or WESTERN PACIFICS, or receive them in payment for CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS at their current market price.
Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.
Deposit accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum. Checks drawn on us are payable on presentation, without notice, the same as at a National Bank.
Certificates of Deposit, bearing interest at special rates to be agreed upon, will be issued to Savings Banks, Institutions, Trustees of Estates, and others having sums of money awaiting investment.
Orders for Investment Stocks and Bonds executed at the Stock Exchange. Government Securities bought and sold, as usual, at current market rates.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
—IF SO, USE THE—
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.
It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1871, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.
I should keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who have used the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.
I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the glimpse, without my saying a word. Otis Allen would faint if he jammed his finger or had a sight of blood.

Morning Chronicle.

He was 'Our Baby.' Jack Cummings was a wag, and he certainly deserved his cognomen, 'Jack the Wicked.' Jim Woodruff was known all over the country by the appellation of 'Judge;' and your humble servant from his black eyes, swarthy complexion, and jetty locks, perhaps something, too, in my manner, was styled 'Senor.'

Well, we were a good natured set of fellows, always making allowances for each other's peculiarities, and never having any friction in camp.

Sometimes I used to think we joked 'Aunt Betty' and 'Our Baby' rather unmercifully, but a word from our 'Judge' would straighten us at once.

If one was sick, we all took our turn in nursing and watching; but the 'Judge' was the one that knew just what to do and was always near to do it. Tender and patient as a woman, we all humored him, and he held a title higher in our estimation than we did any one else in the camp.

I forgot to tell you that a month before, and when 'Dandy' and 'Aunt Betty' were not of our number, we had in their place Will Browning, who was equal to two men any day. Good to work and good to play, as smart as need be and true to the core. I think 'most any of us would have been glad to have gone with Will over the mountains, but he said 'No, stay where you are, boys; you are doing well, and if I find anything better, I will let you know at once. Then come, all hands of you, and it will be a jolly time when we get together again.'

You know it wasn't the pleasantest traveling in the world to get around two years ago.

We hadn't heard a word from Will, though he had been gone for a long time. Several letters had come for him but of course we could not forward them, having no idea of his whereabouts, and we had come to the conclusion that he would walk in upon us some time dead broke, and cured of his roving disposition.

We had finished work one day, and supped off three B's, as we called our beans, bacon and bread; the table stood just where we left it, for you know that miners are not very fastidious in their notions. We were sitting on a long bench which reached across the end of our rude cabin, talking over our day's work, and speculating on what the boys were doing over to the left side of us, when all at once a young woman stood right in our cabin door.

Now, a woman in those days was a curiosity among bucks here among the hills, and there were men in our camp who had not set eyes on one for more than two years. She stood still just looking at us. I don't know what the rest thought, but 'Aunt Betty' said afterwards, that it 'seemed like a warnin' to some of us,' and said he was wonderfully taken aback for one of the bench, and he rose and took off his hat. One after another following his example slowly, each one getting up in turn and taking off his hat.

We must have looked comical, for we all had on woolen shirts, our sleeves were rolled up, and our collars turned back. Our pants were tied about our waists, and tucked in in no very careful manner into our rubber boot legs. Add to our costume eight faces unshaven and unshorn for weeks, and you catch some idea of our general appearance.

The pale light of sputtering candles added to the weirdness of the scene, and when 'Jack the wicked' murmured, 'To your knees boys, all at once,' I guess we were more than half inclined to obey. The Judge recovered himself the quickest, and advanced towards the door.

'I wish to see my brother, Will Browning; I heard he was here,' said the most musical voice I ever heard.

'He was here a few months ago,' replied the 'Judge,' but we do not know were he is now. How did you come, and where are your friends?'

'I came through the valley and shadow of death, I should think, for I am nearly dead with hunger and for friends I have the gloomiest old teamster you ever saw, though I thought it was rare good luck when I found him, and he engaged to take me up here to Will. I paid him every cent of money I had, and I haven't had a mouthful for days, but bad luck. Is there any hotel within a short distance? If not, perhaps there is some good woman who would let me stay with her until I can get word to Will.'

I guess every man hugged to himself the thought that she would be obliged to stop with us, even for a short time; and the Judge did not look very sorry, though he confessed to feel dreadfully for her dilemma.

He said, and I am sure his full, rich voice must have seemed a tower of strength to her, 'Will is a dear friend of ours, and if you will kindly allow us the honor of protecting his sister until he can be communicated with, we should be under great obligations to you. We must look very odd to you, but we claim to be gentlemen, and I assure you we can and will make you comfortable.'

She had a perplexed look on her face when the Judge told her there was no woman living near; but she was mistress of the situation in a moment, and said very demurely, though with rather a sly sparkle, 'Oh, I shall be quite comfortable but I'm afraid I shall be troubling you terribly.'

Every one spoke at once, 'No trouble, not the least.' And then Dandy said, 'Judge, if you were to introduce us to the lady, perhaps she would feel more at ease with us.'

The Judge must have been awfully smitten at first sight, or he would not be guilty of introducing us by our cognomen. As it was he said, 'Miss Brown, allow me to introduce you to Will's friend, Mr. South Carolina.' He advanced as he was called, and in the most chivalric manner bowed over the lady's extended hand.

'This is Mr. Nutmeg, another friend of your brother.' He bowed stiffly, and looked everywhere but at her.

'Aunt Betty, did not know Will. I believe you didn't, but he will be a friend all the same to you, Miss Browning.'

'You can bet your life on that every time,' said Aunt Betty, and we were all ready to split by that time, the Judge looked so dignified doing the honors of the occasion in such a manner, as he no doubt thought.

He continued:

'This is Mr. Dandy;' I wish you could see the bowing and scraping. By that time she had taken in the drollery of the thing, and when Dandy bowed so profoundly, she swept him a courtesy that liked to finished him on the spot.

'Senor and Will were sworn allies; we used to call them David and Jonathan.'

'She smiled and asked. Which are you?' And for the first and only time in my life I did not know what to say, but I stammered out, 'Either, ma'am.'

There was something like a snicker from our company, but the Judge had no eyes or ears for any one but her; so he kept on, and with a wave of his hand presented 'Our Baby.' The great six-footer looked for all the world as though he would put up his lips and cry, until Miss Browning said, 'How do you do, dear? Can he talk?' and then he blurted out, 'My name is Otis Allen.'

Jack got the start of them, and stepping in front of them, said, in tragic tones, 'Jack the wicked,—known all over the Pacific Coast for my diabolical acts—and let me assist our friend—this is the Judge, who is a terror to all evil doers, and the protector of distressed innocence, whenever we have the good fortune to fall into his hands.'

'Yes,' said the Judge with, the most imperturbable gravity, 'and now you know us, and all, and must consider us your obedient servants.'

She laughed a low rippling laugh, and said, 'Yes I am sure I know you all now, and I should like to shake hands all around, it would give me a sort of a home feeling, and you would feel better acquainted with me, I guess.'

She began with the Judge, and he looked while he held her hand, as tho' he had been translated.

She's got an awful lot of magnetism about her I tell you; My arm and hand thrill now when I think of that first hand-clap.

Concluded to-morrow.

ST. CLOUD HOTEL, NEW YORK. BY BAND BROTHERS, Broadway, Cor. of 42nd Street.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first bringing a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the safest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid matter with which they are loaded from the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens the morbid matter, which is the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and strength. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. Nothing can cure it. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is the agent, the abscesses will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to build up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do for Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while taking Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take proper exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is not prepared to take a second one without imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from every irritating influence. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure is under almost any circumstances a impossibility.

The patient should be kept on a wholesome and nutritious diet, and should not be allowed to suffer until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

The success of this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sold by and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

THIRTY PROPOSALS.

A CALIFORNIA LOVE STORY.

We hadn't a good chair in the cabin, but he gave her our best three-legged stool. She took off her jaunty hat and sack, and each one sprang to take them. She didn't seem to notice us, but left them lying in her lap. She told us that she had some baggage a little way from our house; she had left it there so as to walk in upon Will unannounced and instead of finding her dear old Will she had tumbled upon such a lot of friends.

'Can you give me something real good to eat?' and she glanced at the table with its dirty dishes and scanty remains of our supper.

The table was cleared off in a jiffy; a plate was washed and a can of chicken opened. Aunt Betty made a cup of tea, another stirred up some flap-jacks, and another of us thought to scour a knife and fork by running them into the ground several times. O, There were lively times for a while, you'd better believe. Only the Judge—he never moved, but looked at her. She did not seem to notice him, but watched our operations with great interest.

While she ate—and the quaintness of our surrounding did not affect her appetite—we all stood around and waited upon her. I guess I never saw a day while she lived with us, but what she laughed about her first meal taken there.

We partitioned her off a bed-room in one corner, by putting up some blankets, and all but the Judge and Aunt Betty went into the storehouse to sleep.

You think that when we got there we should be likely to talk of the wonderful event, but we didn't; not a word was spoken concerning it. But I reckon there was considerable thinking done that night.

By light we were all up and pacing in front of the cabin. The teamster had given notice of the charge he had left with us, and all the other boys were over there to learn how things were. There wasn't a stroke of work done in the camp that day, and not much for a week.

Then the Judge called us together, and told us it wouldn't do; we were getting demoralized; that Miss Browning was unhappy because she felt she had interrupted our arrangements, and we must come right down to steady days' work after that. Well, we tried to, but we never could get back to old times. There was a good deal of rivalry among us, and some cutting things were said. The Judge sent letters in all directions for Will, but three weeks had passed without a word in reply. We had all in turn offered to accompany Miss Browning to San Francisco, but she said she knew no one there. Will would be sure to come before long, and would be disappointed if she should leave; besides, hadn't she eight of the very best of brothers in the world? She had a few books she had brought for Will, and she would read to us evenings. We came up an hour earlier than usual, and our table was always ready for us, and it had many an extra touch that none but women would think of. We were a silent set of men during the day, but each did his best when he got home. Stories were told, songs were sung, and with her reading we were all entranced. She always called us by the names which were first given her, and ever so many times went through the introduction, acting all parts. It seemed funnier to her than it did to us. She talked to South Carolina about the beauties of the South sky, and the flowers and trees which eclipsed anything at the North. To Nutmeg she praised New England, and she had some favorite topic to discuss with each of us.

Of course we were all in love with her, but none dared to boast of having received any sign of preference from the lady. We had all proposed to her once, and some of us a half dozen times. She just made light of it; said we were crazy, and didn't know what we were about; but she came to know after a while that we did.

There was an open war. We all acted like madmen, except the Judge; he would not answer any of our taunts, but was most pleasant to all. Yet he grew to look real careworn, and every time he met any of us alone he would say he hoped Will would come soon. He talked to us about keeping the peace, and appealed to our honor as men and our love for our old comrade. Kate herself had quite a talk with each one. I don't know how she managed it, but she left the impression upon us all that we were most likely to be accepted if we behaved ourselves and kept quiet; but it was no go—we could not.

One evening she refused to sit down with us to the table and so little was eaten. She walked up and down the room, and then said emphatically, 'I am going off—I don't know where; but this is getting unbearable. I cannot meet one of you but I am importuned to marry you. Don't you know, gentlemen, I cannot marry you all, and if I choose to show one bit of pleasure in the society of any one, the rest are angry. Now I ask you what shall I do? Will doesn't come, and I am all alone. I wish you would drop all this nonsense

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and improprieties in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

Describe symptoms in all communications.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one object to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, This sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1871.

The Governorship.

There is an evident desire among New Hampshire Republicans that the candidate to be nominated for Governor at the coming convention shall be the man who can poll the largest vote in the state. Governor Weston has failed to satisfy the people thus far that a Democrat can be elected to govern the State or do more service for labor reform than a Republican. The leaders of that forlorn hope designated "labor reform" showed their real intentions at the first opportunity last June, and by their eagerness for office and forgetfulness of the handful of followers whom they had deceived, secured the contempt of all parties. The result of this year's election has been to heal the dissensions among Republicans and awaken the lukewarm to earnest action.

There is honest emulation but no strife for the nomination among a dozen candidates, all expressing their willingness to unite on the strongest man. Under these circumstances, the signs of the times point to a brilliant Republican victory, not a divided nor a drawn battle, but a persistent hand-to-hand contest with the Democracy and their assistants, and a triumph that will sink the political traders who for a brief period rule this State, completely out of sight.

The first campaign of the Presidential year opens in New Hampshire, and we find in the Concord correspondence of the Boston Advertiser a careful resume of the political situation. The writer says, after mentioning the names of candidates for the nomination:—

From the list I would suggest that Hon. E. A. Straw of Manchester, Hon. B. J. Cole of Lake Village, Hon. Horton D. Walker of Portsmouth and Hon. S. W. Hale of Keene are undoubtedly the leading candidates, with perhaps an equal chance in favor of each. Messrs. Walker, Cole and Straw received warm support in the convention of last year, and Mr. Hale would have had many supporters if his name had not been withdrawn. Mr. Walker will receive most of the vote of Rockingham county, and has many friends in other parts of the State. Mr. Cole will command the votes of most of the delegates from Belknap county, and if, as seems probable, he will ultimately receive the support of Mr. Brackett's friends, he will be a formidable candidate, especially as he will doubtless receive many votes from the eastern part of the State. Mr. Straw will be warmly supported by Manchester, and will doubtless receive all the Hillsborough county votes on the second or third ballot, and from his well-known financial ability and business integrity will command a leading influence in the convention. Mr. Hale is a wide-awake business man of Keene, was a member of Governor Stearns' council, and if his friends earnestly push his claims he will receive a very flattering vote, and may possibly prove to be the "available" candidate.

The friends of Hon. HORTON D. WALKER of this city will present his claims, feeling that no more popular man can be found to lead the Republican hosts to victory; that no purer man can be found within the Republican organization; and that in his public record no flaw can be detected. Mr. Walker has the confidence and esteem of thousands outside the party whose principles he advocates. He was the second candidate in the last Republican State Convention, running next to Mr. Pike, and had he been successful his hosts of friends have never doubted that his election would have been assured. Rockingham, Strafford and Cheshire counties especially will strongly urge his nomination and if defeated his support will be cheerfully transferred to the nominee; if nominated, in behalf of our friends who know him best as a citizen and neighbor, everybody's friend, we promise that old Portsmouth shall give its distinguished citizen a rousing majority.

New Hampshire Items.

The house of Mr. Peter Sennott in Lebanon was burned Monday. Loss about $1000, and insured.

The mills at Great Falls and Salmon Falls are running their mills two nights extra each week, in order to answer orders.

The Boston and Maine Railroad Company last week finished the survey of a new road from Nashua to Plaistow, a distance of 16 miles, which will shorten the present route from Nashua to Portland 36 miles. It will be built early next spring.

THE MONTHLY INTEREST on the public debt has been reduced since March 1, 1869, from $10,532,462 to $9,168,453—a saving of $16,368,103 for the year.

ALL the crew and four passengers of American brig Shelehoff perished from hunger and hardship after that vessel was wrecked in the Pacific.

Political.

The New York election seems to have crushed the Greeley wing of the Republican party. So mote it be.

Tweed has been obliged to sell out stocks to pay for his election.

The members of the Brooklyn investigating committee say that they have evidence showing about 4000 fraudulent votes cast, and are sanguine that the canvassers will be compelled to give certificates of election to a majority of the republican candidates of the county ticket, and all the republican candidates, including the mayor, on the city ticket.

Clinton Furbush, a member of the republican general committee, Brooklyn, has begun a $10,000 libel suit against John McDiarmed, a fellow-member, who charges Furbush, as inspector of elections, with counting him out for office in one of the wards.

New Publications.

The November number of The Galaxy has for its frontispiece, instead of a portrait, a representation of the great gale in New York Bay, Febuary 10, 1861. John S. C. Abbott writes of the adventures of the Duchesse de Berri, William R. Hooper of "Black Friday," and Professor Thomson B. Maury of "Weather Prognostics by the People." Three chapters of Anthony Trollope's story, "The Eustace Diamonds," are given. J. W. DeForest contributes a short story entitled "Captain Horsfalls' Romance." Ex-Secretary Welles's second paper on "Admiral Farragut and New Orleans" is a very interesting statement of the proceedings which led to the capture of New Orleans. His statements are in direct conflict with those by Headley, Parton and Greeley, given in their histories or biographies, and if uncontradicted will cause the Navy department to receive a larger proportion of honor from the achievements of Farragut's expedition than has heretofore been awarded to it.

Young America, a joy to the juvenile, has completed another year. $1 per year. W. Jennings Demorest, Publisher, 838 Broadway, N. Y.

Demorest's Monthly Magazine for December is overflowing with good things for Christmas. $3, yearly. Published by W. Jennings Demorest, 838 Broadway, N. Y.

The School Festival is a great quarterly magazine, devoted to original matter, for Day School and Sunday Exhibitions, and public occasions. The October number of this popular Magazine (which was destroyed by the Chicago fire, when all ready to mail,) has been reprinted, and has just reached us. As its subscription list was burned, the publishers request subscribers to send addresses, stating what numbers are yet due them, and to remit their subscription for next year. Fifty cents a year, in advance, or 15 cents for a single number. Send, by mail, to Alfred L. Sewell & Co., Pub., Chicago, Ill.

THE KEROSENE CURSE.—An old woman named Nancy Sullivan was burned to death in New York on Sunday. She was bedridden, and accidently upset a lamp. John Mahn was also burned to death the same night, by the explosion of a kerosene lamp in his chamber.

GOVERNOR SAFFORD of Arizona publishes a letter recounting murders and outrages by the Indians from the reservations, and bitterly arraigning Colyer's late operations.

A SEAT IN THE CITY CARS.

Five o'clock!—getting late!—never mind it a bit,
I've a seat in the car, and here I will sit
Till my street is announced. I will, I declare!
I have paid the half dime—it is no more than fair.

I've been standing all day in the store and the street,
No rest for my limbs or the soles of my feet;
I am tired to death—would not budge for a king,
For an emperor, duke or any such thing.

If a woman comes in, why, they shouldn't try
For a seat in the cars, when the evening is nigh.
"Be home before sunset," I tell Rosalie,
(She's a wife for a pattern; she gets home at three.)

Then they seem so unsteady, and waver about
When the cars with a jerk let a passenger out.
There's one getting in!—I won't look up at all,
But stare out of doors; she looks very small,

Standing up in the crowd among those great men,
Her back is this way—I'll look once again.
'Tis a very nice back, and above and upon it,
With a curl peeping out, is a black velvet bonnet.

"Dear me!" this is bad then!—up goes the hand—
Not bigger than Rosie's—she hardly can stand.
I don't feel quite so tired; I said I'd sit still
In spite of temptation to come; and I will.

Well, I'm glad it ain't Rosie—she's not very strong;
A wee little woman, she couldn't stand long.
But stop! let me think; what if this one should be
To some other man what Rosie is to me?

And how would I feel if some lazy boor
Should allow her to stand in the draught of the door;
I'm not tired a bit; I'm as fresh as can be—
"Here, madam, a seat."—"Oh, Fred!"—"Rosalie?"

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RARE CHANCE.—Persons wanting Sewing Machines, Melodeons, Cabinet Organs, Pianos, &c., can save money by purchasing of E. A. Joy, No. 9 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H. He is selling out a large stock of New Goods, warranted perfect, at one-half and three-fourths the usual prices, in order to make room for the "Domestic" Sewing Machines, the demand for which is sufficient to require his whole attention. You can pay by small monthly installments if desirable. Second-hand Goods almost given away. Don't delay, for he is determined that the entire stock shall be closed out as soon as possible.

IT IS SAID that if a puff of air were to be blown into a vein of an animal, death would instantaneously follow, because circulation would be stopped. The blood makes the entire circuit of the human body every seven minutes, and whenever this circulation is impeded or any of its channels are clogged by impurities which ought to be carried off, disease follows—fever or a disorder of liver or kidneys, or scrofula, or dyspepsia. To get at and remove the source of the difficulty use the old and infallible blood purifier, DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. o21 4w

The genuine Halford Leicestershire Sauce, now so generally in use in families, can be obtained of all good grocers. You have but to try a single bottle to become its reference. It is the cheapest, at the same time that it is best.

Winter is now fairly upon us, and the teams are hastening to the lumber woods in various parts of the country. Our advice to every man who goes to the woods, be he captain, cook, teamster, or any other man, is to take along a good stock of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment and Parson's Purgative Pills. Many months of labor (in the aggregative) may be saved by this precaution.

Bad enough to look and feel bad yourself; but no excuse for having your horse look and feel badly, when for a small sum you can buy Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, which given in grain two or three times a week, will make him look and feel well.

BETTER AND CHEAPER.

THAN ANY OTHER

Boots or Shoes;

THOSE FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE.

BETTER—Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

CHEAPER—Because, while their first cost is not in excess of sewed or pegged work of a like grade, their Durability is far greater, they prefer their Shape much better, and the metallic fastening insures a more Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

What Dyspepsia May End In.

Indigestion is not dangerous, say the faculty. Perhaps not in itself, while it remains mere indigestion; but look at the consequences to which it may lead, and often does lead when it becomes a chronic disease. A spark of fire is a small thing. A pressure of the foot will put it out; a breath will extinguish it. Yet it may fire a powder mill, or kindle a flame that will consume a city. In like manner indigestion may produce gastritis, cancer of the stomach, congestion of the bowels, apoplexy, liver disease, and many other dangerous maladies. Is it not wise, then, to check it in the germ? Nothing is more clearly and indisputably established than that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS will eradicate dyspepsia in all its stages. The true policy, however, is to extinguish it in the first stages with this wholesome, powerful, and infallible tonic and alterative. It is easier to quench a spark than a flame, and it is easier to cure dyspepsia when it is first developed, than when it has made a headway by neglect, and become complicated with other ailments. There is not the shadow of a doubt that the bitters are as directly antagonistic to dyspepsia as water is to fire. There are thousands of cases on record proving this fact. The remedy is safe and agreeable. All the liquors of commerce prescribed as stimulants, leaves sting behind. But the sting is taken out of the spirituous basis of this great remedy by vegetable medication, and, moreover, the stimulant thus medicated is of exceptional purity. Of all tonics taken as safeguards or remedies for fever and ague, bilious remittents, and other fall epidemics, it is the only one that can uniformly be depended upon.

To the Supreme Judicial Court, next to be holden at Portsmouth, on the third Tuesday of October, A. D. 1871, Rockingham, ss.

MARGARETT McILVEEN of Hampton Falls, in said County, wife of SAMUEL McILVEEN, formerly of said Hampton Falls, and now in parts unknown, respectfully represents:—

1st. That she was lawfully married to said Samuel, at said Hampton Falls, on the 3d day of July, A. D. 1856, by Azariah M. Bridge, a minister of the Gospel.

2nd. That at the time of said marriage the libellant and libellee resided at said Hampton Falls, where they remained about three months; they then removed to East Abington, Massachusetts, where they continued to reside until about October 1st, 1866; they then removed to said Hampton Falls, where they continued to reside until July 6th, A. D. 1868, when the libellant was abandoned by her said husband.

3d. That the libellant has ever since about October 1st, 1866, and does still reside at said Hampton Falls.

4th. That the libellant has always continued faithful to her marriage vows; but the libellee, regardless of his marital duties, has been absent from the years together, last past, and next preceding the filing of this libel, and has not been heard of; to wit: from the 6th day of July, A. D., 1868, up to the time of filing this libel.

5th. That the said libellee, without sufficient cause, and without the consent of the libellant, at said Hampton Falls, on the 6th day of July, A. D. 1868, abandoned the said Margaret, and has refused for more than the space of three years together, last past, and next preceding the filing of this libel, to cohabit with said libellant; to wit: from the 6th day of July, A. D. 1868, up to the time of filing this libel.

6th. That the libellee has willingly absented himself from the libellant for more than three years together, last past, and next preceding the filing of this libel, without making suitable provision for her support and maintenance; to wit: from the 6th day of July, A. D. 1868, up to the time of filing this libel.

7th. That the libellee committed adultery with one Susannah Hamilton, at said Hampton Falls, on the 23d day of June, 1865, and often before and since.

8th. That during said marriage two children were born to her and her said husband; the older, William McIlveen, 20th February 22d, 1862; the younger, Samuel McIlveen, Jr., born February 5th, 1865.

Therefore, she prays that the bonds of matrimony between herself and the said Samuel McIlveen may be dissolved and declared void, and that the custody of said minor children may be decreed to her, and such other orders and decrees be made as justice may require.

her

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health or the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yr6w8t6

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Yes!

The engagement of the daughter of one of the most distinguished Admirals in our Navy is announced, to a gentleman of immense fortune and attractive personnel, of Portsmouth, New Hampshire.—Boston Times.

Preparing.

Whether the Russian Grand Duke Alexis visits this city or not, preparations are being made to receive him, rooms having been secured for him and his suite at the Rockingham House,—where they will find accomodations and dinners good enough for European princes or American citizens.

The Organ

Used at the Praise Meeting, at the North Church, Sunday evening, is highly spoken of by a correspondent who says it is one of the celebrated Woods make. It was full, clear, and round in tone, and up to the French concert pitch, which last is a great desideratum to make music bright and sparkling, and is particularly desirable in accompanying children in singing. Dr. Goodall had charge of the organ and selections, Mr. Montgomery kindly loaning the organ for the occasion.

Fair at Kittery.

A Fair under the auspices of the Universalist Ladies' Aid Society of Kittery, was opened at Armory Hall in that town on Tuesday evening, and will continue through this (Wednesday) and to-morrow evenings. Articles useful and ornamental, with oysters, ices, confectionery and other refreshments, are offered for sale, and tableaux, charades, dialogues, recitations and singing are introduced as amusements; and a large, colored engraving is to be given to the pupil of any Kittery town school who shall read or recite the twenty-third Psalm in a manner most consistent with the rules of elocution. The Hall is opened for visitors at half past 6 o'clock, and the admission fee for adults is 25 cts.

PRINTERS' MISTAKES.—That delightful bachelor and most faithful and upright legislator, Abiah W. Palmer, has not heard yet, and is not likely for many a day to hear, the end of the mournful statement to which a careless or waggish printer committed the Tribune. We wrote that no one ever dared to give him a bribe, or would, if he should serve for a century. The types shocked his sympathetic and hopeful friends with the declaration that in all those years no one would dare to give him a bride! Yesterday we had a bit of fashionable intelligence equally startling, and almost as distressing. Our fashions reporter, her eyes in a fine frenzy of economy rolling, explained that calico could be made up into beautiful dresses for the lady in the parlor as well as for the maid down stairs. "Bridget," she exclaimed, "may wear her dingy purple, or brick-red or yellow calico in the kitchen, etc., etc." When the precise, not to say the parcgorical, printer came to "calico," he rendered it—"colic!" When brick-red colics become the ruling mode in the kitchen, what balm can be found sufficient for the woes up-stairs? The other day, in one of our admirable forest fire letters, in the midst of a really pathetic description of the horrid scenes in Peshtego, came the statement that a father had put the knife to the throats of his two children while they were yet smoking! Which moved the office cynic to observe that he had never heard of a more effectual remedy for that vice! And to cap the climax, in the whirl of preparing our unusually full and accurate election returns yesterday, the printers in correcting the proofs of a table of Republican and Democratic majorities, by counties, contrived, besides putting in all the Repub. counties in their proper places, to put six of them also on the Democratic side! A quarter of a million of our bewildered readers who tried to understand how a county could give a majority both ways at once, or vainly sought to make the figures correspond with the footings, must have persuaded themselves that the Caucasian was played out and the multiplication table revolutionized. Indeed, Palmer is said to think that things have come to a worse pass than that!—N. Y. Tribune.

That intelligent compositor who knows more than the editor, exists in every newspaper office in the land. The public scarcely get a glimpse of the curious, ludicrous and provoking mistakes he is guilty of. Recently, we had occasion to mention a wedding ceremony, and wrote that "the bride was elegantly dressed." Compos thought the expression altogether too common; and set a letter "d" upside down. When the "proof" came down we read with no great degree of complacency that "the bride was elegantly pressed!" That boy knows too much. Another blunder, and one which credited a Chicago man with a degree of energy which even that lively place would have been surprised at, was the statement that "one builder made sixteen cornstacks on Tuesday evening;" the "cornstacks" we changed to "contracts," which seemed to read better. More recently we sent up an item stating that "the Boston & Maine Railroad will apply to the next Legislature of Maine for a new charter for a line of railroad from Portland to Bath;" but the compositor, in setting it up, made "charter" into "character," perhaps thinking that a new character would be beneficial to the corporation. Without disputing his belief we corrected the item to read as originally, knowing that all the legislation in the world would not give a railroad company a new character. In a report of the late State Fair at Dover, we gave an account of "the race for 2.40 horses," and were somewhat amused when we discovered that the printer, in his zeal to get everything all right, had prefixed a dollar-mark to the 2.40, so that the report read "the race for $2.40 horses," and that was the way it went into the paper.

THE THEATRE IN CHINA.—In China the dramatic profession is considered contemptible, vile and dishonorable. Those who exercise it are shut out from all literary competition, and cannot indulge in the hope, open to all other inhabitants of the great Empire, of obtaining by merit and administrative rank, walking beneath the official umbrella, "which shines like a silvery cloud." The principal cause of this general contumely comes from the fact that directors of theatres are in the habit of buying the children of slaves in order to bring them up to the stage. In spite of this, Chinese actors are sometimes of good family, stolen perhaps in their infancy.

To console them for this contempt and ignominy which follows them as a class, the comedians of China, as elsewhere, may turn to their triumphs on the boards and in the streets, their influence over the public, their illusive splendors, and their adventurous life, merry and vagrant. They travel from town to town in companies, generally following the course of the rivers, for travelling by water is the most comfortable way in China, letting themselves out for a few days at a time to the bonzee, or to some great personage who wishes to make a show of munificence. They put up at small expense a temporary stage, upon which they move off, carrying with them their joy and laughter which spring up in their path. The junk in which they travel, and which very frequently forms their only home, is gaudily decorated, grotesque and conspicuous, covered with extraordinary pictures, often carrying a figure head in the shape of a huge dragon, fish or grasshopper, with eyes starting from its head. The outside of the cabin on deck is hung with lanterns and fluttering festoons of silk. Within this cabin while on the voyage, the actors study and rehearse their parts under the direction of their stage manager.

Here the Siao-mo or sentimental man practices a squeaky voice to express youth, and strives to give to his bearing that simplicity and humility which would indicate his being always in the presence of old age. The Techin-mo, who takes the leading parts, studies the expression of feature in a mirror of polished steel. The Ouaz, or heavy dignitary, makes himself pompous and full of majesty; the Pei-Lao, elderly parent, studies to be grave and venerable; while Tcheou, comic actor, makes faces and counterfeits his voice. At present, as women are not allowed on the stage in China, the youngest boys of the troupe are trained to represent the young girl of illustrious origin, the virtuous wife, the frivolous woman, and the widow who forgets her duties. Another set of actors study to step lightly, speak in a ghastly manner, and appear pale and diaphanous, in order to depict ghosts, gods or genii. Every member of the company is accomplished in turning somersaults, singing and dancing, and playing on all kinds of musical instruments.

Thus they float along joyously under a clear sky, wondering at the monotony of the lives of the laborers and peasants whom they pass; greeted when they stop with enthusiastic acclamation by the people collected on the banks of the river.

—When a lady fainted at a Wisconsin party, a gentleman thought he could resuscitate her by biting her ear. She recovered promptly. He is going around with a poultice on his eye.

—Dr. Foote, a well-known physician of New Haven, while eating his dinner on Thursday last, became choked, and in coughing burst a blood-vessel and died from internal hemorrhage.

—At New-Orleans a ten year-old negro boy, who had been arrested for theft, refused counsel, and pleaded his own cause so eloquently that he was straightway discharged.

—And now an exchange wants to know, since w-o-r-k is pronounced wirk, why p-o-r-k is not pronounced pirk? These questions are very irksome.

and behave yourselves. Why won't you?'

She looked from one to another, and finally asked Jack, 'Come, you own to being wicked, and you have been an awful tease; won't you reform, and then all the rest will?'

Aunt Betty said:—'If you care for any of us, make it known and the rest shall behave, or there will be a row.'

'That's just it—you will fight any way, you are getting so savage. In being lovers I am afraid you have forgotten to be gentlemen.'

Wasn't that a stinger for us? But we didn't feel it then as we have since. We all promised not to say a word after her decision was made known to us. Each one may have been elated, thinking he was likely to be chosen.

She sat down and put her face on her arm, but it was only for a moment; "I shall ask for two days to think of it. Next Sunday there will be a wedding here and a supper afterward, which we will help to prepare.

If any one speaks to me on the subject between this time and that, his doom is sealed.'

There was an oldish man over at the next cabin, who seemed to have a latherly care of Kate. And I might as well say here, that all of the thirty who were unmarried had offered themselves to her and been refused.

Well, Kate and old man Howe had a long talk together; and then he went off and did not get back till Sunday, and he brought a minister with him. There was some kind of service in the afternoon out under the trees, but none of us paid much attention. Our eyes were all for Kate, and she was crying softly all the time. When it was over, she took the preacher's arm and talked with him some time. Then she went into our cabin, and we all followed. Mean, wasn't it? but we did not see it in that light then.

The man took the Bible from his pocket, and said:—'This lady informs me that you have promised to abide quietly by her decision, and dwell in peace and harmony together. For her sake you will not object to come here, one by one, and take oath which I shall dictate. It is that you reiterate your promise with a hand on this sacred book.'

We advanced and received it as solemnly as though it was to be the last of our lives. Then he told us that Miss Browning was very much attached to us all, but of course could not marry but one, and we must all bear our disappointment like men.

She went and stood beside him. I thought she would faint, but she did not. We all arose when the minister said, 'Let us pray.' When he was half through, the Judge sat down, completely overcome by his feelings. I am free to say this was the longest prayer I ever heard. If the minister had been suspended between Heaven and the other place, as we were, he would have made fewer words I am sure. When it was over he said, 'I am here to solemnize a marriage between Catherine F. Browning (he must have felt an inward chuckle over the torture he was inflicting, for he paused,—well, may be only a minute, but it seemed an hour,) and James A. Woodruff. If any of you know cause or just impediment why these two persons should not be joined in holy matrimony you are to declare it now, or else forever hold your peace.'

Jim had not stirred a step. The minister took his hand and placed him beside the bride. He waked up then, and I guess the look he gave her, satisfied her, for her face cleared up like a summer sky after a rain.

The brief service was soon over that made the Judge a happy benedict, and us, perhaps bachelors for life.

Jim looked up so earnest at us:—'Boys I do not deserve this happiness as much as either of you; but it has fallen to me, and I will do my best to make her happy. Will you not wish us God speed?'—and he held out his hand. Each of us was man enough to walk up and take and shake the little brown hand which had been given to Jim.

Then we had supper. There wasn't much eaten, yet we lived through it; but none of us have felt much hankering after weddings since, I reckon."

Oho!

It is stated that James M. Lovering of Exeter has sued Hon. Nathaniel Gordon of the same place for per diem, services, travel, and disbursements at and before the Congressional Convention held at Dover last fall, in behalf of Gordon and against Ela. The Manchester Union says it is understood that Lovering's bill of $1500 is made up by charging at the rate of two-thirds a Congressman's per diem on travel and twenty per cent. for disbursements from the corruption fund for securing caucuses and delegates. The large amount of the bill is supposed to come from Lovering having disbursed largely from the enormous sum Gordon expended to secure the nomination, as it is well known he did not enter upon the support of Gordon until the canvass was somewhat advanced. Gordon considers the charges exhorbitant, especially as he did not receive two-thirds the votes promised, and failed of a nomination.—Concord Patriot.

—A libel suit against the New York Post resulted in the proprietors being decreed to pay $5000. The case was carried to a higher court and judgment reversed, this week, it being held that the publishers had not seen the offensive article until in print, and had done all they could thereafter to correct it; hence the intention to libel was absent.

—Hon. E. K. Smart, of Camden, Me., a prominent Democratic politician, ex-Member of Congress and once or more candidate for Governor, has been taken to the asylum for the insane. The cause is softening of the brain.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.
The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all disease; mucous and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease in the blood in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.
The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strengthening support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the due process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, which generally takes but a few days, consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup invigorates the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matter, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.
The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to be done is, order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is ready to heal the cavities in the lungs, will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is what I mean and only mean by Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.
I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do for Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.
If is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; take plenty of exercise, and take exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.
I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is not perfectly healed, and until he has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, there is a liability of imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The great secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the healing do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influence. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure is next almost any circumstances is an impossibility.
The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutritious diet, and all the medicines contained in my patent medicines, taken in the natural quantity of flesh and strength.
I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst form of Consumption, and I ought to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.
About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.
Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

THE SHAKER AND THE SHOES.

In one of those inexplicable places,
A Shaker village,
Where women just chastise the graces,
And men grow stout and sober, in their way,
Or temperance and tillage,—
There lived one day,
A fair-faced lady of the faith,
Who, not remembering what the covenant saith,
'Bout men and marriage,
And all that sort of thing,
Could never down her pulses bring.
Indeed, 'twas with much difficulty she slept;
Yet still maintained her outward carriage,
In spite of her younger blood,
Amid the starchy sisterhood,
And kept
Her cap and kerchief ruffleless as they.

There was one elder drab,
Christened Aminadab,
A fellow
Whose feet had grown as bilious as his house—
Most infamously yellow.
And he would steal about like any mouse,
Around those sanctimonious jails,
In hopes, perchance, should he in moonlight hover,
He might some godless, natural "gifts" discover,
Among the priestesses of brooms and pails!
Prowling about one night,
Just underneath the garden wall,
(The moon was most benevolently bright—Aminadab was tall—)
Within the dim protection of the shade,
He heard a smothered kind of noise,
Such as by whispering trees is made,
Or such as come from boiling lead,
When dropped in water by the boys.
He lists again. But nothing said
'Mid these mysterious sounds,
Until at length with echoing bounds,
They seemed to skip,
Like crackings from a coachman's whip.

To raise himself upon a slab,
Was natural for Aminadab.
There, underneath the garden wall,
Our sleepless, sacred sister stood,
While round her neck had bound him fast,
A little hero of the last—
And, innocent as any doll,
Caressed by little misses,
With cheek unvisited by blood,
It was so natural,
She was bestowing worlds of blisses,
For which there's no accounting,
And he was whispering heartily the "gift" was good—
In short, our honest Crispin was discounting
Plain, sensible, substantial kisses.
Aminadab got down his nose forcedly,
But then he felt his peace was flown,
And a strange feeling in his mouth had grown.
He thought he had been salivated!

The next day, meeting with the man of wax,
"Good Levi Lapstone," quoth Aminadab,
"Thee see'st my understanding lacks—
I verily must have a pair of shoes."
Said Levi. "With much pleasure;"
And took his measure.
But then said Drab,
"The cheapest may I choose,
So, Levi, I'll not pay thee for the shoes!"
"Then," Levi cried,
"Thee must find leather in thy hide!"
"Nay, Levi," said the Shaker,
"Thou art a raker—
Thou art ungodly and I know it—
And certainly 'tis best
To miss the devil now:
Though if the truth must be confessed,
The crime was beautiful, I vow!"
The elder rose upon his toes,
And wiped his mouth and nose.
"Yes, Levi, thee must do it—
Because our covenant is so
That if you have a 'gift' to meet a sister,
In moonshine or in dark,
The hapless spark,
Must surely to damnation go,
If ever it be proved he kissed her.
For next, with us, my friend, to cursing,
There's nothing so heretical as bussing.
So take shoes go quick about,
Or else, I swear, I'll bring thee out,
And, Levi, to help make things right,
Perhaps 'twill be agreeable to all,—
Be sure to leave them, by next Friday night,
Just underneath the garden wall!"

Poor Crispin boiled with rage—
"Now, Drab,
I swear"—but then Aminadab
Cut short his oaths with counsel sage—
"Hold, friend, thee must not swear,
Only affirm thee'll surely put them there;"
"Confound old Drab!" cried Levi, as he went,
"So much for kissing with a good intent!"
What course was there to choose?
On Friday night the Shaker found the shoes.

—A Chicago lover went to visit his girl one evening recently, but for some reason, possibly that the fire had materially changed his condition in life, she received and treated him coolly. He remained standing in the parlor a few moments, but finally made a movement toward the door, remarking that "he guessed he'd go." "Oh!" said she, starting from a beautiful condition of semi-unconsciousness, "won't you take a chair?" Well, I don't care if I do," was his reply, and he took the chair, thanking her kindly, and carried it home. He says it is a good chair, made of walnut, with stuffing, and green cover—just what he wanted. But he is down on her, and declares he wouldn't marry her—not if her father owned a brewery.

—A young man named Stricker, a bus agent on the Kansas Pacific Railroad, between Leavenworth and Lawrence, committed suicide on Monday night. His father was kindly remonstrating against his dissipation, and remarked that he would rather follow his son to his grave than to see him a drunkard. The young man replied, "Here goes! father," and instantly put the pistol to his head and discharged it.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Palsafulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following ing symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and improprieties in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

Describe symptoms in all communications.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of their secret sufferings being discovered. Their minds are ever wandering, no wakefulness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1871.

Honesty is the Best Policy.

The man who is honest only because he believes that honesty "pays" better than fraud, in the long run, has not set his standard of morality very high, yet he is a better citizen than one who is no honest from any consideration whatever. That honesty does "pay" best as a rule might be questioned, when rogues are seen riding in gilded coaches while honest men are vainly looking for a day's work; but the honest man enjoys a consciousness of just deserving which he who has lost his self-respect—who despises himself and his deeds—can never know; and often we see a long career of successful villainy end in the confusion and ruin of men who have previously been courted and honored for the only reason that their villainy was successful. And not many men are so degraded that they really despise public opinion, however much they may affect so to do; they would like to stand high in public estimation, though they may not care to deserve it by their acts. An Englishman of high rank, who by every species of villainy had amassed wealth, once said; "Though I would not give a farthing to be virtuous, I would give £20,000 for a good reputation—for by so doing I should gain £100,000." Though dishonesty may prosper for awhile in many cases, the instances in which it comes to grief at the last are so numerous as to justify the popular faith in the correctness of the proverb at the head of this article. The recent overhauling and punishing of dishonest officials of the general government, some of them for robberies and swindles committed years ago and which they doubtless supposed forever secured from detection, and the suspension of others whose affairs exhibit "discrepancies," are examples, as are the troubles of the various members of the Tammany Ring—for the latter, though not yet compelled to disgorge their plunder, are already punished by being prevented from stealing any more and by the universal execration of all honest men.

But it is not of individuals only that we say, "Honesty is the best policy." It is equally applicable to political parties, in this country at least. Fraud and dishonesty may seem to strengthen a party, or a section of a party, for a time, but it is only seeming—a crash will come so surely as the number of honest men exceeds that of the dishonest, or the number of the robbed exceeds that of the robbers, and even in New York city recent events prove that the thieves are in the minority, — and then the party which has profited by the wrong finds itself far weaker than it would have been had it spurned any share in the proceeds of villainy from the outset. Ballot-box frauds—bribery, false counting, repeating and intimidation—carried the State of New York for Seymour and Blair, and a year later finished the defeat which the contending Republican factions had prepared for themselves; but the same means turned Tweed & Co. loose in the treasury, and they did not forget to pay themselves with a generous liberality for their services to their party. The crash came; Tammany fell and great was the fall thereof; and the dismay occasioned by its exposure and downfall is partially shown by the election returns from a dozen or so States which voted on the 7th of November. No one will question but that the Democratic party would have been much stronger to-day had it resolutely repudiated Tammany and all its works two years ago, instead of waiting until it was crushed by the weight of its own evil deeds; nor will any one imagine that the momentary advantages won by that party through the Tammany election frauds are not much more than counterbalanced by the disastrous reaction attending its overthrow. "Honesty" would have been the "best policy" in this case, and the attempts of the Democratic press to separate Tammany from Democracy in the public mind, and to divert public attention from Tammany to trumped-up charges against the general government, show that they fully appreciate the fact, now it is too late; it is a sort of death-bed repentance.

In dealing with the Ku-Klux villainies of the South, too, honesty would have been the best policy on the part of the Democracy. We do not believe that any intelligent man at the North, who reads the papers (and an intelligent man who does not read the papers would be an anomaly) and is not wholly blinded by passion and prejudice, has doubted the truth of a large portion of the statements concerning the Klan. States which had gone Republican suddenly gave immense Democratic majorities, and Republican districts in which the colored voters were numbered by thousands failed to return a single Republican vote, or at most gave in but a few hundreds, when no possible reason could be advanced for such a surprising revolution except that given by the southern Republicans themselves—the terrorism of the Ku-Klux; and evidence of hundreds of outrages was brought forward so convincingly that any one save a Democratic politician or editor would have been forced to acknowledge their commission. It has been asserted, and is doubtless true, that had the leading Democratic politicians and newspapers of the North firmly notified the South that such proceedings must cease, there would have been no further trouble; but the Ku-Klux were carrying states and electing Congressmen for the party, so every fresh piece of damaging evidence was greeted with that good old Democratic reply to any unanswerable argument or statement of facts, "It's a base Radical lie." But the Klan is now being properly dealt with; its captured members, confined in prisons, are implicating many leading politicians in their confessions; a man who was obstinate enough to wipe out the first confederate rebellion has taken the second one in hand and the Democracy can no longer count upon it for efficient aid. Once the Klan is crushed, as it surely will be, the Democratic party will be weaker than though the Ku-Klux had never existed; for the southern Unionists, black and white, will be more than ever united and zealous, and many of the better class of southern Democrats will vote against a return of the Klan to power, while the history of its deeds will bring many lukewarm northern Republicans to the polls and send not a few lukewarm northern Democrats into the Republican ranks. In this case, as in Tammany's, we are sure that "honesty" would have been really the "best policy."

PORTLAND, Nov. 13.

A branch road is to be built from Buxton, on the Portland & Rochester Road, to Bonny Eagle Falls, along the Saco river. It will reach an extensive lumber region and open up one of the largest water power localities in Maine.

Post Bosworth, G. A. R., of this city, for the Chicago sufferers. Good for the Boys in Blue!

The Maine Central Railroad from Danville Junction to Waterville, is now changed to narrow gauge; both lines, the Kennebec and the inner extension are all now running "narrow" gauge to and from Portland and Bangor, from the Portland & Kennebec depot, near that of the P. S. & P. The Maine Central Company have for years used the Grand Trunk depot here and had their business between Portland and Danville Junction done by contract over the Grand Trunk. Saturday was the finis. The consolidated Portland & Kennebec and Maine Central are now one, and with the P. S. & P. and the Eastern, form the Pullman car line between Boston and Bangor. SANCHO.

PERSONAL.—Fred W. Loring of Boston, who was recently murdered by the Indians in Arizona, was a popular young writer already becoming famous. Rev. William R. Alger has arrived home from Europe. He came with a party of friends, and aside from the results of overstudy is in good health. Strong hopes are felt of his entire recovery, after a period of complete rest and mental relaxation.

THE PIMO INDIANS in Arizona have made a raid on the Apaches, killed thirty-five men and captured eight children and a quantity of plunder taken the day previous from the white settlements.

—A Hudson city horse-car in Jersey City was run into by a locomotive on the Jersey Railroad, and eight out of about twenty passengers were severely injured, two of them, it is thought, fatally.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RARE CHANCE.—Persons wanting Sewing Machines, Melodeons, Cabinet Organs, Pianos, &c., can save money by purchasing of E. A. Joy, No. 9 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H. He is selling out a large stock of New Goods, warranted perfect, at one-half and three-fourths the usual prices, in order to make room for the "Domestic" Sewing Machines, the demand for which is sufficient to require his whole attention. You can pay by small monthly installments if desirable. Second-hand Goods—almost new—sold cheap. Don't delay, for he is determined that the entire stock shall be closed out as soon as possible.

IT IS SAID that if a puff of air were to be blown into a vein of an animal, death would instantaneously follow, because circulation would be stopped. The blood makes the entire circuit of the human body every seven minutes, and whenever this circulation is impeded or any of its channels are clogged by impurities which ought to be carried off, disease follows—fever or a disorder of liver or kidneys, or scrofula, or dyspepsia. To get at and remove the source of the difficulty use the old and infallible blood purifier, DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. o21 4w

Winter is now fairly upon us, and the teams are hastening to the lumber woods in various parts of the country. Our advice to every man who goes to the woods, be he captain, cook, teamster, or any other man, is to take along a good stock of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment and Parson's Purgative Pills. Many months of labor (in the aggregative) may be saved by this precaution.

Bad enough to look and feel bad yourself; but no excuse for having your horse look and feel badly, when for a small sum you can buy Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, which given in grain two or three times a week, will make him look and feel well.

BETTER AND CHEAPER.

THAN ANY OTHER

Boots or Shoes;

THOSE FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE.

BETTER — Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

CHEAPER—Because, while their first cost is greater, their DURABILITY is far greater; they preserve their Shape much better, and the metallic fastening insures a more Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

What Dyspepsia May End In.

Indigestion is not dangerous, say the faculty. Perhaps not in itself, while it remains mere indigestion; but look at the consequences to which it may lead, and often does lead when it becomes a chronic disease. A spark of fire is a small thing. A pressure of the foot will put it out; a breath will extinguish it. Yet it may fire a powder mill, or kindle a flame that will consume a city. In like manner indigestion may produce gastritis, cancer of the stomach, congestion of the bowels, apoplexy, liver disease, and many other dangerous maladies. Is it not wise, then, to check it in the germ? Nothing is more clearly and indisputably established than that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS will eradicate dyspepsia in all its stages. The true policy, however, is to extinguish it in the first stages with this wholesome, powerful, and infallible tonic and alterative. It is easier to quench a spark than a flame, and it is easier to cure dyspepsia when it is first developed, than when it has made a headway by neglect, and become complicated with other ailments. There is not the shadow of a doubt that the bitters are as directly antagonistic to dyspepsia as water is to fire. There are thousands of cases on record proving this fact. The remedy is safe and agreeable. All the liquors of commerce prescribed as stimulants, leave a sting behind. But the sting is taken out of the spirituous basis of this great remedy by vegetable medication, and, moreover, the stimulant thus medicated is of exceptional purity. Of all tonics taken as safeguards or remedies for fever and ague, bilious remittents, and other fall epidemics, it is the only one that can uniformly be depended upon.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, passessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf6b16

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT STATE OF NEW YORK.

ALBANY, Nov. 2d, 1871.

At the request of the Continental Insurance Company of the City of New York, I have taken the earliest opportunity, since the adjournment of the National Convention of Insurance Commissioners, to investigate the affairs of the Company, and I find its condition to be as follows:

Its assets, amounting to Two Million Eight Hundred and Forty-seven Thousand Three Hundred and Seven Dollars and Fifty-four Cents, are judiciously and safely invested.

Its capital of Five Hundred Thousand Dollars is unimpaired, and it has a surplus of net assets largely in excess of the amount required to reinsure its outstanding risks, after providing for all other liabilities, including Chicago losses.

Its losses sustained at Chicago are in course of rapid adjustment, and leave the Company with abundant ability to afford indemnity to its customers, and to respond promptly to all customary claims.

The subscriptions to its voluntary addition of Five Hundred Thousand Dollars to its Capital are much greater than double the amount to which Stockholders are entitled.

Got the Wrong Pig by the Ear.

Jerry L—, residing on Bow Street, recently engaged a pork-butcher to slaughter one of his two pigs. The butcher, in fulfilment of his part of the bargain, proceeded to Bow Street to kill piggy, but found he had forgotten Jerry's surname; so knocking at a door, he enquired "if there was a man named Jerry living anywhere near there—a man who kept some pigs?" "O, yes; there's Jerry M—, who lives next door and keeps two pigs," was the answer. The butcher, with the quiet calmness of conscious rectitude, extracted the largest of Mr. M.'s pigs from the sty, and a few hours later returned to the house a nicely-dressed carcass of pork. Both Jerrys work on the Navy Yard, and that evening were returning in the same boat; and Jerry L— happening to mention that he had a pig slaughtered that day, Jerry M— scoffed aloud at his folly: "What do you want to kill now for?" he demanded; "pork's cheaper now than you can raise it, and no man of sense will kill until there's a rise in the price. My pigs won't be killed for a month yet." When the two Jerrys reached their respective homes, Jerry L— objurgated the butcher roundly for not keeping his word; and we are informed that the atmosphere in the vicinity of the other Jerry's house assumed a bluish tinge for about half an hour after he entered and viewed the work of the fell destroyer. The butcher proposes to keep a memorandum book hereafter.

The Lever That Moves the World.

If we were not already aware that this paper is an influence in the community, the oft repeated statements of our coppery local cotemporary concerning the anxiety with which its management is regarded would convince us of the fact. According to its accounts, our slightest expression of opinion is eagerly discussed and creates a mighty stir among the people,—a position which cannot be disputed, and which shows that the approval of this paper is regarded as being worth having and its disapproval something not at all to be desired. We never hear any remarks which lead us to imagine that anybody considers it as of the slightest importance how the copperhead organ is conducted.

A knowledge of the fact that this paper is not conducted in the interests of the Democratic party and that its conductors fear only that they may merit the commendation of the Democratic press, seems to be dawning on the mind of the local Democratic editor, and convincing him that "Democratic thunder" and censure are of no effect when directed at us; for on Tuesday he drew the cork from his ink bottle and let out his entire stock of "prominent Republicans," and had them curvetting around in a dozen places in his columns, "denouncing" the CHRONICLE and the Republican party and giving the public lots of valuable information regarding the superior excellence of the local copperhead sheet! For humanity's sake we rejoice that he let them out, for if he had kept the poor creatures bottled up much longer they must have perished; they were already insane when uncorked.

But though he evidently recognizes that we don't mean to please the Democratic party, he fails to appreciate the totally different circumstances under which his paper and this one are conducted,—that the CHRONICLE was bought and paid for by its advertised proprietors, is not and never was mortgaged, that its circulation is steadily increasing and that it is taken by subscribers for their own benefit and not for ours, that we don't care a snap for the good or ill opinions of "prominent Republicans" who don't take it, that we conduct it on our own responsibility and that any subscriber dissatisfied with it can discontinue his subscription,—in short, that our paper is "owned by its proprietors" and "edited by its editors," and by nobody else. "The party" don't own us and our opinions are not in the market,—but he can't understand any of these things, so 'tis of no use telling him.

The editor who so kindly keeps pointing out to his readers the great influence wielded by the CHRONICLE, not only let out all the "prominent Republicans" he had on hand but used up what he had left of "sleepy organ," in his effort to subdue us; but as the whole lot won't begin to effect that very desirable object, and we never see a man engaged in attempting to perform a job which is manifestly beyond his strength and ability without lending him a helping hand, we will give him a hint: let him get his Kittery correspondent, "the Agent, &c.," to write another half-column concerning the indignation the Kittery Republicans feel at the CHRONICLE's declining to bow in silent adoration of the aforesaid Agent's vast worth,—he hasn't given us a column of that information for a long while, and with the aid of the editor's private "prominent Republicans" it might "settle" this paper and its editors. We don't charge anything for this information.

A Terrific Storm

Raged in this vicinity on Wednesday, and the vessels on the coast must have met with many mishaps. Those in proximity to Portsmouth harbor ran in for shelter, and we hear of but two cases of great damage. Capt. Coombs of Brig Allston informs us that he left Boston for Bangor two weeks ago and had been unable to proceed to his destination, having his sails blown away by the high winds. Seeing the storm approaching he came into the lower harbor. The wind increased to a gale and the Allston went ashore on the southeast point of Clark's Island, smashing a big hole in her bow. Capt. Coombs reports the loss of two anchors and chains and his kedge anchor. Slipping from the point, the Allston drove in on the mud flats north of Harding & Doane's, and lies there at low tide high and dry. She will come off without great difficulty.

An unknown schooner was blown ashore on the north-east point of Peirce's Island in the "Narrows," and hoisted a signal of distress. U. S. Steamer Speedwell proceeded to her relief, in charge of Capt. Baker, and after an hour's hard labor she was towed off, after slipping her chain, and now lies moored to one of the Government buoys in the river. A large number of vessels, mostly laden with coal, are due at this port, and apprehensions are felt for their safety.

The storm was the most severe experienced here since that of April 15, 16 and 17, 1851, which ended in a snow storm and will be remembered as the cause of the destruction of Minot's Ledge light-house. At that time the tide flowed across Market Street to the foot of Deer Street. The storm of Wednesday was next to it in fury. It prevailed at Washington and New York on Tuesday and reached here at an early hour Wednesday morning. The rain fell in torrents and the wind flung the drops in the faces of pedestrians, stinging like hail stones. We made a tour from Goodrich's tan yard at Christian Shore to the region of "Pull and be d—d Point," at high tide, and the wharves were mostly under water. The Raynes ship-yard was inundated and stray timbers were floated to the tan-yard, and the tan seemed very well tanned. The old building formerly used as a spool manufactory was "all surrounded." Fernald's lumber wharf was considerably injured and the section adjoining Sise's wharf sank eighteen inches. Lumber, out-houses, cord-wood and boats were rapidly drifting up river. The wind was blowing from the east and the waves were dashing against the wharves, sending the spray into the air in clouds. The Ladd wharf was knocked into pieces, and a party of Irish lads were at work rescuing the roof of an out-house that had been undermined at Church Hill. The engine room of Mr. George Tompson was four inches under water, and the porgie boat picked up adrift at sea recently had a hole stove in her. At the foot of Daniel Street, a dozen workmen were engaged in shifting piles of lumber belonging to Samuel Adams & Co. In the farther store-house two hundred barrels of lime were in imminent danger of innundation and the building was saved from a conflagration by knocking down a partition and transferring the lime to an adjoining floor, which is a foot higher. The last barrel was removed just as the water reached it.

At the wharf of Russell & Odlon, the waters took complete possession, toppling over the high piles of cord wood until 200 cords went adrift. Some of this drifted into Water Street, which was completely under water; some went up river; and much of it was blown into Puddle Dock, laying off Washington Street with an unknown number of cords of wood belonging to Mr. Oliver Ayers. Water Street was for a time impassable and several of the buildings on the easterly side could not be entered. Newcastle Street was completely washed, the seas breaking over the stone fence leading to the toll bridge. The street was gullied and the foundations of the stones loosened. The mill ponds were both filled to the brim, that at the "South end" encroaching on the field opposite the residence of Mark H. Wentworth, Esq., nearly to the fence. Richards Avenue was submerged to the depth of several inches.

The wharf in the rear of Marvin's cod liver oil manufactory was submerged to the depth of from one to two feet, and several hundred barrels of pickled fish, awaiting shipment, swam again in their native element. Mr. William T. Frye, to whom they belonged, secured them with some difficulty, aided by his neighbors.

We hear of no further damage of any amount, but the continuance of the rain and heavy wind through the night will probably cause a more disastrous flood at next high tide, this morning. A party of young men attempted to reach the vicinity of "Dow's," Wednesday afternoon, but the road was overflowed and impassable; and they were unable to go to Frost's Point, a bridge being washed away.

An extra train left here Wednesday evening for South Berwick, to take the Boston & Maine passengers to Portland. The up train was at Kennebunkport, waiting for it to pass. The train due here at 2.30 P. M., Wednesday, was at Ipswich, Mass., off the track; and the 5.30 train was at Wenham. A Newburyport dispatch announced the washing away of the city railroad.

Near Hampton the railroad track was under water in the afternoon, the marshes presenting a likeness to a lake with billows roaring in imitation of old Ocean's best attempts, the waves washing back into the woods far inland; and stacks of salt hay, fences and outbuildings, were sailing around promiscuously on their own hook. A quarter of a mile of track is reported as being washed away, and a large gang of men were detailed to leave this city this morning to repair damages.

The Alarm of Fire

At 10 o'clock Wednesday evening was occasioned by the burning out of a chimney in the residence of a Mrs. Lolley on South Mill Street. No damage.

By authority of the act of the Legislature of Kentucky, of March 13, 1871, the Trustees of the Public Library of Kentucky, will give a

GRAND GIFT CONCERT,

AT LOUISVILLE, KY.,

Saturday, December 16, 1871.

100,000 TICKETS OF ADMISSION $10 EACH, CURRENCY; HALF TICKETS, $5; QUARTER TICKETS, $2.50.

Tickets will be sent by registered letter; the money for them may sent by P. O. money order, greenbacks or drafts.

Each ticket consists of four quarters, value, $2.50 each. The holder is entitled to admission to the Concert, and to the value of the gift awarded to it or its quarters.

$350,000 IN GREENBACKS will be distributed to holders of tickets, in gifts of from $10,000, the highest, to $100, the lowest, being 721 gifts in all.

The Concert is for the benefit of the Public Library of Kentucky.

THE CITIZENS' BANK of KY., is TREASURER, and the Corporators and Superintendents are Hon. Thomas E. Bramlette, late Governor of Kentucky, and twenty-seven of the most distinguished and respectable citizens of the State.

The undersigned, late principal business manager of the very successful Gift Concert for the benefit of the Mercantile Library at San Francisco, has been appointed Agent and Manager of this Grand Gift Concert.

The drawing and distribution will take place in public, and everything will be done to satisfy the buyers of tickets that their interest will be as well protected as if they were personally present to superintend the entire affair.

For tickets and information apply to

M. A. Wolf, No. 818 Chestnut St., St. Louis.

Tickets also for sale in every prominent place in the U. S.

Owing to the general derangement of mails and advertisements consequent on the disastrous conflagrations in the West, the sale of tickets in this enterprise is extended to Nov. 30, 1871, at which time the main office, 120 Main St., Louisville, Ky., will close for adjustment of accounts and business. Agencies will continue to be open after Dec. 1st, and no orders by mail will be filled after Dec. 16th. The New York office will close Dec. 10th, under the Agency Dec. 9th. Every ticket issued Dec. 11th will be counted by its number. The drawing will take place in public, Dec. 16th, 1871, commencing at 10 A. M., and continue until the 721 gifts are awarded. Payment of awards will commence Dec. 19, at 9 o'clock A. M. Circulars of awards will be found at every Agency as soon as they can be issued correctly, and will also be sent to all ticket buyers as soon as possible. No order will be filled at the wholesale price for less than $10. CHAS. R. PETERS, Manager.

BANKERS & FINANCIAL AGENTS

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company,

No. 5 Nassau Street, New York.

The rails are being laid on the Western Division of 100 miles of the Extension of this

GREAT EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINE,

which in a short time will be ready for general travel and traffic, and for the transportation of Kanawha coal to the Ohio River for the Western markets.

The earnings of the Eastern Division of 227 miles as a local road, awaiting the completion of the Middle Division of 100 miles, will reach, this year, nearly $600,000.

The total cost of the entire road, and the large equipment required for its minerals and through traffic, will be fully $30,000,000.

The total amount of the FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, which we are now selling, is FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS, of which only about FOUR MILLIONS remain unsold, the proceeds of which, with the Cash on hand, will be ample for the Completion of the Entire Line.

The total amount of the

A perfect security.

Great popularity and a high price when the road is finished.

The same rate of interest as Five-twenties.

Principal and interest both payable in United States gold coin in New York City.

Their present low price (93 and accrued interest from Nov. 1,) which is about 20 per cent. less than Five-twenties, with equal certainty of payment of interest and principal.

We recommend them to our friends and customers with the same confidence with which we have always recommended the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT and the CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS.

We continue to buy and sell CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS at the market price, and fully expect they will, in time, reach the price of Five-twenty Bonds. They are dealt in at all the principal money-centres of the world; the Company have none left, and can issue no more, on their Main Line, as the amount was fixed by act of Congress at $25,885,000; the property pledged to secure the bondholders is the net receipts of the road for the year will be nearly three times the interest payments thereon.

WORTH FULLY ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS;

The CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are issued in $100, $500, $1000; either coupon or registered; interest, six per cent., gold, payable May and November.

The CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS are all for $1000 each; interest, six per cent., gold, payable January and July, in New York City.

We buy and sell FIVE-TWENTIES, TEN-FORTIES, EIGHTY-ONES, and CENTRAL OF WESTERN PACIFICS, or receive them in payment for CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS at their current market price.

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be sent safely by Express. Consolidated Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

Deposit accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum. Checks drawn on us are payable on presentation, without notice, the same as at a National Bank.

Certificates of Deposit, bearing interest at special rates to be agreed upon, will be issued to Savings Banks, Institutions, Trustees of Estates, and others having sums of money awaiting investment.

Orders for Investment Stocks and Bonds executed at the Stock Exchange. Government Securities bought and sold, as usual, at current market rates. FISK & HATCH.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of getting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. This is unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part. I make me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

ISAAC BUYS A POOL.

BY FRANK CLIVE.

Hannah: My homeward journey was delayed at Buffalo,
Whose people were profoundly stirred concerning a horse show;
And being, as thou knows, a great admirer of good breeds,
I went to see the concourse of their valuable steeds.

The first lot of ten horses was brought forth, when I got there,
In gigs—so frail each seemed like a delusion and a snare—
Bestrode by drivers—most foolhardy, as it seemed to me—
Who drove, like Jehu, son of Nimshi, even furiously!

I picked the best among them, in the twinkling of an eye,
And wishing that I could afford that noble mare to buy—
I turned, and lo! before me I beheld a noisy crew
Thronging a tent, where one was selling horses at vendue.

He mentioned several horses sold already "in the pool"—
I did not ask what "pools" were, lest I might be deemed a fool.
Much ignorance a silent tongue will frequently disguise,
And even "a fool that holdeth his peace is counted wise."

The favorite being yet unsold, I thought I would be smart,
And bid a hundred dollars ere some other got the start.
It was not near her value: yet the words were scarcely cold,
Before that rapid auctioneer vociferated "sold."

"What horse?" asked he. "The sorrel mare," said I, "and here's the pay."
He took it and returned to me a bill of sale straightway.
My soul was swelled with rapture; yes, exalted was my horn,
At thought of shrewd horse dealers so egregiously shorn.

I thought how friend John Dean would covet my new sorrel mare,
As our old carryall slipped by him, on the throughfare;
And verily I chuckled inwardly enough to "bust," With thinking how some world's people would have to take our dust!

My musings were disturbed by cries of "There! They're coming! There!"
And the whole drove rushed by, pell-mell, led by my sorrel mare.

Away they went, and when I asked, "Wherefore this reckless pace?"
"Why shed!" replied a bystander, "'Tis the three minute race."

"And is this race for money?" queried I. "It is," said he.
"Nay, this, as for the sorrel mare," "it shall not be!"
And burning with impatience, when they came round again
I strode up to the sorrel mare and seized her by the rein.

They fiercely cursed, and pushed me violently to and fro,
Which quickly caused the vials of my wrath to overflow;
And, girding up my loins with my suspenders, I went in,
To get the sorrel mare or else chastise these men of sin!

Up rushed two myrmidons, with clubs, and each one seized me by a Shoulder, and invited me to visit Black Maria!
"I know no colored female named Maria," I replied;
But they pressed me with an urgency that would not be denied.

Yet, after all, I did not see, that female, dark and fickle,
Although they kept me all the afternoon in her vehicle.
'Tis now too late to find my mare; but at to-morrow's show
It is my a.lem purpose, now, to hunt her high and low.

POSTSCRIPT.

My bill of sale turns out to be a "winning pool," so called,
Worth just two hundred dollars! Verily, I am appalled!
Is it a special Providence? Yea, so it seems to me!
Hannah! Be silent and discreet, and I'll divide with thee!

—A singular incident occurred on the steamer Bristol one evening last week as she was going through Heligate, on her passage from New York. A well-dressed gentleman of about 35 years of age was standing with other passengers on the upper deck. Hailing a tug boat which was close at hand, he inquired of the captain if he would pick him up if he should jump overboard. Receiving an affirmative reply, greatly to the surprise of the passengers, who supposed he was joking, he did jump overboard, going down feet foremost as skillfully as if he were the original Sam Patch come to life again. There was much screaming and some fainting among the ladies who saw the feat, and it was so long before he came to the surface, far in the rear of the vessel, that the cooler ones looking for his reappearance feared he had struck some of the sunken rocks in the channel. Finally he came up, swam after and picked up his hat, which was floating away, and was then taken aboard the tug. His reason for this apparently foolhardy act is a mystery.

—Mr. Joseph Kretner had a license issued yesterday for the fifth time in his much-married life. Two of his loves are still in the market as grass widows, and Joseph is now preparing to grass the third. Joseph says that he owes all this good luck to the new railroad to Decatur. He intends bringing his bride to this city, and Decatur replies she owes all this good luck to the same cause. When last heard from Joseph was trying to effect reduction on the price of his license, claiming that he was a wholesale dealer.—Fort Wayne Gazette.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf&tbi

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much embedded to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason was for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appear. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With wo fal measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

—AGAIN—

TRIUMPHANT!

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct., 7th, 1871.

AM. STEAM SAFE CO.,

COLE & LAMBERT, Managers,
300 Broadway, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—The Binghamton Planing Mill and Sash and Blind Factory," together with several other large buildings, were totally destroyed by fire last night. The Steam Safe (No. 7) made by you, and purchased one year ago from Messrs. Falco & Chaffee, Agents, in this city, was in the Planing Mill, and went through the severest part of the fire, it fell into the basement, top down. To-day it was cooled off with water from the hydrant, and when opened the contents were found to be in perfect condition; not even the varnish inside the book-case was injured. Our confidence in the Steam Safe, (and hundreds or other citizens now use it at a red hot stove pipe present at the opening,) is perfect after this severe test. I shall want another Steam Safe as soon as I rebuild. Very truly yours,

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1871.

What Has Occasioned It?

We very much fear that our hitherto able coadjutor in exposing and denouncing the "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain" of that portion of the Democracy who propose to throw away every ancient Democratic principle which stands between them and the national treasury, has gone back on the Republican party entirely; for in the last issue of the Manchester Public Forum we can hardly find an item calculated to assist us in carrying this State next March. We have been highly gratified at the yeoman service it has done the Republican party by "applying the corrective whalebone" so vigorously to the new departure and those renegade Democrats who support it, and shall be more than ever disgusted with the conduct of certain "dirty, meddlesome, pestilent curs" in starting such a "very contemptible and in all respects utterly infamous story" as that the Public Forum had "sold out to the Radicals," if such a ridiculous story is to result in our losing the invaluable aid of that paper in the approaching campaign. All the comfort we find is in its notice of Phil. Sheridan, which is very well adapted to keep the war record of the copperheads fresh in the memories of its readers. It calls little Phil "one of the meanest and most detestable upstart tyrants in this country," a "beast" and other pet names, says that he "refused to have anything to do with the effort to prevent the destruction of Chicago by fire, and refused to aid in catching incendiaries and thieves and enforcing the laws to preserve the peace" unless he could do just as he pleased, and then calmly demands his prompt execution as a murderer because a sentry shot Col. Grosvenor. Poor little Phil! He never, even in his gloomiest moments, imagined he would ever be attacked by such an assailant. He will probably now wish that he had fought on the Democratic side of the rebellion.

The Forum's Portsmouth correspondent supplements the attack made upon Gen. Kilpatrick by the Portsmouth copperhead organ, on account of the gross outrage upon Democratic feelings perpetrated in his change of subject at the first Lyceum lecture. Two such assaults are enough to "finish" any man, and we shall probably never hear any more of Gen. Kilpatrick. The correspondent also prophesies that "it will take many bottles of cod liver oil to smooth over" the matter. Let it take. The more bottles of cod liver oil it "takes" the better the manufacturers' business will be, for "it" will not be able to illustrate to any great extent the Democratic plan of taking without paying for what is taken—Marvin will look out for that.

Political.

Hon. Thomas M. Northwood of Savannah has been elected to the United States Senate by the legislature of Georgia. He is a moderate democrat, and was elected by a large majority.

AT A MEETING of the Boston & Maine Railroad, N. G. White of Lawrence was elected President to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Coggswell.

The Home Circle and Temperance Oracle, formerly published in Chicago, and destroyed by the fire, has been removed to St. Louis, Mo., and published weekly under the title of American Protestant. It is opposed to Romanism in Church and State. Price $2.50 a year, eight large pages, or forty columns of matter. The editor wants an agent in each church and town, and offers $60 in cash for a club of 100. Address, five cents for sample, to S. M. Kennedy, editor, 800 Washington ave., St. Louis, Mo.

AN INCIDENT OF THE CHICAGO FIRE. The following is related as a veritable fact of the Chicago fire: In the confusion of the removal of furniture from a stately mansion on the night of the fire, a marble statue of a veiled female figure was lifted from its pedestal and laid on its back in the hall. Two men entered, and seeing what they supposed was a dead body covered with a thin drapery, lifted it tenderly, bore it to a place of safety, and watched it until daylight. When they found the money value of the form they had so faithfully guarded, they claimed extravagant recompense, which the delighted owner was glad to allow. One of the men quietly said that they knew it was very cold, but were too scared to notice how very heavy it was.

—To cure a cough, an English woman gave her infant some syrup of poppies. Keables was the coroner's name.

—In a Texas town, recently, a smoked legislator was seen with a roll of greenbacks in his hand, over which he was cackling loudly. A bystander inquired: "What are you laughing at Jim?" Jim replied: "You see that money?" "Yes." "Well, boss, I just got that for my vote. I've been bought four or five times in my life, but dis is de fust time I ever got de cash myself."

—"I say Pete, does you know how dey keep oysters from smelling in the hottest ob wedder?" "I don't tink I does, Sam; how'd dey do 'em?" Why, dey cut dar noses off, and dey can't smell nuttin." "O, yah! yah yah! what an unpenuntratum colored pusson you is!"

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RARE CHANCE.—Persons wanting Sewing Machines, Melodeons, Cabinet Organs, Pianos, &c., can save money by purchasing of E. A. Joy, No. 9 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H. He is selling out a large stock of New Goods, warranted perfect, at one-half and three-fourths the usual prices, in order to make room for the "Domestic" Sewing Machines, the demand for which is sufficient to require his whole attention. You can pay by small monthly installments if desirable. Second-hand Goods almost given away. Don't delay, for he is determined that the entire stock shall be closed out as soon as possible.

IT IS SAID that if a puff of air were to be blown into a vein of an animal, death would instantaneously follow, because circulation would be stopped. The blood makes the entire circuit of the human body every seven minutes, and whenever this circulation is impeded or any of its channels are clogged by impurities which ought to be carried off, disease follows—fever or a disorder of liver or kidneys, or scrofula, or dyspepsia. To get at and remove the source of the difficulty use the old and infallible blood purifier, DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. o21 4w

Winter is now fairly upon us, and the teams are hastening to the lumber woods in various parts of the country. Our advice to every man who goes to the woods, be he captain, cook, teamster, or any other man, is to take along a good stock of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment and Parson's Purgative Pills. Many months of labor (in the aggregative) may be saved by this precaution.

Bad enough to look and feel bad yourself; but no excuse for having your horse look and feel badly, when for a small sum you can buy Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, which given in grain two or three times a week, will make him look and feel well.

What Dyspepsia May End In.

Indigestion is not dangerous, say the faculty. Perhaps not in itself, while it remains mere indigestion; but look at the consequences to which it may lead, and often does lead when it becomes a chronic disease. A spark of fire is a small thing. A pressure of the foot will put it out; a breath will extinguish it. Yet it may fire a powder mill, or kindle a flame that will consume a city. In like manner indigestion may produce gastritis, cancer of the stomach, congestion of the bowels, apoplexy, liver disease, and many other dangerous maladies. Is it not wise, then, to check it in the germ? Nothing is more clearly and indisputably established than that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS will eradicate dyspepsia in all its stages. The true policy, however, is to extinguish it in the first stages with this wholesome, powerful, and infallible tonic and alterative. It is easier to quench a spark than a flame, and it is easier to cure dyspepsia when it is first developed, than when it has made a headway by neglect, and become complicated with other ailments. There is not the shadow of a doubt that the bitters are as directly antagonistic to dyspepsia as water is to fire. There are thousands of cases on record proving this fact. The remedy is safe and agreeable. All the liquors of commerce prescribed as stimulants, leaves sting behind. But the sting is taken out of the spirituous basis of this great remedy by vegetable medication, and, moreover, the stimulant thus medicated is of exceptional purity. Of all tonics taken as safeguards or remedies for fever and ague, bilious remittents, and other fall epidemics, it is the only one that can uniformly be depended upon.

—A rural paper remarks: "Cold nights have put a stop to gate sparking. If she doesn't ask you to come in now, you had better quit."

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Piscataqua Agricultural Society.

Meeting of Piscataqua Agricultural Society, at the office of the President, 83 Market street, this (Friday) evening at 7 o'clock.

Personal.

B. D. Laighton, Esq., of this city, has resigned his position as a third class clerk in the Treasury Department at Washington.

The Brennans

Gave a fine entertainment, Thursday evening; the Tableaux of Erin are well worth seeing and we hope the Temple will be filled to-night.

Navy Yard Matters.

Workmen have been engaged for two days in cleaning out the "Alabama" ship house. It is reported that plans for the construction of a new vessel have been received and that the keel will soon be laid.

Perseverance.

The late William B. Stearns had a host of warm personal friends wherever he was known. He was a member of John A. Andrew Lodge No. 46, Knights of Pythias, of Boston, and seventy members hearing of his death engaged a special car for Portsmouth to attend his funeral. Arriving at the Eastern station, Superintendent Prescott informed them that is was impossible to run a train over Hampton marshes. Twenty-six of them took passage in the B. & M., train for Exeter. Arrived there, fourteen abandoned all hope of reaching Portsmouth, while twelve kept on to Newmarket Junction and were at first refused passage on the freight train. Finally, some one in authority allowed them to take passage, and they arrived here Thursday afternoon in season to attend the funeral of their deceased Brother.

The Mails.

The mails from Boston arrived here on Thursday via the B. & M. and C. & P. Railroads. The mails for Boston were forwarded to South Berwick and from there over the B. & M. Road. This arrangement will be continued until trains run regularly again over the Eastern Road. There will be no change in the hour of departure of mails in any direction.

The reception of the morning mail at a later hour than has been the custom for many years, in its results proving an inconvenience to our citizens. Postmaster Peirce has effected through Thos. P. Cheney, Esq., the New England Superintendent of Mails, an arrangement by which the mails from New York and the South for Portsmouth are to be taken direct from the Boston and Albany Railroad to the Eastern Road without delay at Boston, and are to be transmitted to Portsmouth by the accommodation train leaving Boston at 7.30 A. M., arriving here at 10 o'clock as heretofore. The way mails from Boston, with matter at that office, will arrive by the express train at 10.40 A. M. We are glad to see the officials connected with the Post Office Department so readily meeting the wants of the patrons of our office in this respect.

S. B. Plummer,

Our old friend of the boot and shoe persuasion, who appreciates the value of printer's ink and worked up the biggest kind of a trade in this city, is back again after a year's absence, and may be found at No. 24 Market Street as full of business as a boy with every pocket filled with marbles. S. B. understands the trade and caters for the good natured public in his cheery old-time way, with an evident happiness that instils more life into his customers and causes them to drop in oftener and see the man. Plummer is ubiquitous; he sails aloft after indescribable sizes of wearing material for "plantations" of peculiar size and is back in the twinkling of an-eye-and-a-half, eager to satisfy the wants of the next customer. Alive! You'd think so, and say so, to see him burrow among the consolidated stocks of leather down in Market street. Plummer is a live man, is right on his taps, and we wish there were more of him—more pounds of him and more Plummers. Live men are not so numerous but that there may be more of them! Plummer takes a customer in tow and skillfully leads him through the labryrinth of goods to just the article he wants and then boots him satisfactorily—does S. B. Plummer. It's a privilege for people to open their wallets for his inspections. One feels so much better to know that he has made a good trade by dealing with a man who believes that to retain the custom of the public he must use each patron well that he may return! Plummer is one of the faithful, believes in the Golden Rule and that "there's nothing like leather!"

S. J. Court.

The case of State vs. Manchester & Lawrence Railroad was given to the jury, the charge of the Judge being considered favorable to the Company.

Postponed.

The auction sale of real estate and household goods announced by Maj. Hackett for Thursday, was postponed to Saturday, Nov. 18, on account of the weather. See adv't.

Mr. & Mrs. Andrew J. Butterfield

Of Manchester celebrated the 55th anniversary of their wedding on the 15th inst., and were presented with a splendid set of black walnut parlor furniture by thirty-seven citizens, and various other beautiful gifts. Mrs. Butterfield, whose maiden name was Susan Holman, is a native of Portsmouth.

Musical.

After holding three meetings for consideration of the matter, the Portsmouth Philharmonic Society, on Wednesday evening, we are informed, voted to settle their business and dissolve; and their piano and other property were turned over to the new "Portsmouth Music Society," which was formed a week previous, and which it is understood will practice, among other things, the music to be performed at the great Boston Jubilee next year, with a view to joining in it. The next meeting of the new Society will be held at Mr. Tilton's music room, on Market Street, on Wednesday evening next.

The Third Lecture

Of the Lyceum Course was delivered Thursday evening by James T. Fields, Esq., one of Portsmouth's honored sons. By invitation of those having charge of the lectures, the scholars of both High Schools, who have so often been the recipients of presents in the shape of books to the schools, were present and listened delightedly to the friend who has not forgotten his old school days and his native city, though leading a busy life elsewhere. It was announced that there would be no lecture next week, owing to the engagement of Mr. George W. Curtis on the civil service commission at Washington. A Washington dispatch, however, states that the commission expects to close its labors, for the present at least, within the next fortnight. Mr. Curtis has postponed all his engagements until December 15th, and we hope to hear him before the close of the Course. The fourth lecture will be delivered next week by Hon. William Parsons; subject, Michael Angelo.

The Great Storm.

A tide-guage on the Kittery side of the river showed that the water was only a foot lower on Wednesday than during the great gale of 1861.

The spray broke over Wood Island, and an attempt to reach the Island by a steam launch to ascertain the necessities of Mr. Anderson, keeper of the Hospital, failed on Thursday.

The schooner hauled off the rocks on Peirce's Island, Wednesday, was the W. H. Wellington. The U. S. Steamer Speedwell was commanded by Mate John L. Vennard, U. S. N., having Capt. Baker as pilot. The Speedwell hauled schooners Rio and Nile off Clarke's Island, on Thursday, and stripped schooner Nam Shong which was on a ledge inside the Island. The sea dashed two feet over her. Being loaded with lime, the vessel took fire and the decks burst open. She will be a total loss. She hailed from Portsmouth, was commanded by Capt. Patrick Hurley of this city, who was also half owner, and was last from Rockland, Me. The Speedwell starts on a six days cruise to-day, for relief of any vessel found in distress. It is reported that nine vessels are wrecked on the Rye and Hampton coast, but we doubt it.

Our neighbor of the "Lyre," wishing to keep up his reputation as a sensationist, reports a "tidal wave," which is untrue. There was no "tidal wave" during the storm—neither was there any indication of one.

The tides of Thursday rose to within about a foot of that of Wednesday P. M., the wind shifting to the north-east. Owing to the continuance of the storm, the work of repairing the road-bed of the Eastern Railroad is greatly delayed, and it is doubtful if trains pass over it this week. The Boston papers taken from news agents did not arrive at all, but a few came by mail in the morning and evening trains, and were eagerly sought for.

Messrs. James H. Dow and Oliver Gerrish of this city went to Bald Head Cliff, Cape Neddick, Thursday, and after encountering floods of water in all quarters were richly repaid for their energy by witnessing a grand sight, the sea breaking high over the Cliff. On Wednesday, the sea ran over Whalesback light-house, and for a time it was feared it would be demolished, but it still remains a monument to man's ingenuity.

The Boston Advertiser says the storm was particularly heavy on the Eastern Railroad, and on that road between Boston and Salem, and in many places across the immense strip of marsh between Chelsea and Lynn, the waves were breaking entirely over both tracks and washing the road bed from beneath them at noon. Between the Chelsea and Everett stations the water was about four inches deep on both tracks, and the trains for Boston were run with the utmost caution. All along the line of the track the wharves are covered with water, some of them several feet deep, and a large amount of lumber floated off in all directions. The county road between Revere and Chelsea was entirely impassable at one o'clock, and the water forming an immense cateract poured with great fury into the marsh lands lying between the road and the track of the Eastern Railroad.

Among the incidents of the storm are the following:—

The large chimney, on the site of the old Dorr Bakery on Linden Street was blown over.

A portion of the new engine house on Hale's Point was blown down, and the wind made quite an opening in the Cotton barn at the junction of Pleasant and Washington Streets. It didn't go down, however, we are sorry to say.

The bridge over the marsh on Lafayette Road was injured and is impassable for teams. It will be immediately repaired.

Part of the cord wood which went floating up the Piscataqua returned at ebb tide.

The Trains.

The noon train from Boston, due here at 2 30 P. M., Wednesday, met with an accident two miles east of Ipswich. Proceeding slowly, the engineer noticed the track covered with water and whistled down brakes as he felt the engine leave the track and sink under him. The fireman, Mr. James Burns, a young man who had been employed on the Road about two months, sprang to brake up and was caught, crushed and killed between the engine and tender as they fell over into the mud in four feet of water. The passengers intending to leave by the 3 o'clock train from Boston waited in the cars until 4.20. The way passengers to Salem were then transferred to another train and at 4.40 the through train started. No stops were made between Boston and Salem, the breaks between those places being repaired. It being necessary to run slowly, an hour was consumed in running to Salem. At Ipswich, it was ascertained that they could proceed no farther. The passengers remained there until 11 o'clock, Conductor Philbrick doing all in his power to aid them in obtaining supper and to secure their return to Boston, regardless of his own comfort in his desire to relieve the wants of the passengers, who speak in warm praise of his assiduous endeavors. At 11 o'clock, Superintendent Prescott arrived with a special train from Boston and the passengers were taken back to the city, arriving at midnight. Those desiring to reach Portsmouth took the early Thursday morning train over the Boston & Maine Railroad to Newmarket Junction, and arrived here in the trains from Concord at 10.15 A. M. The Portland train due here at 5.30 P. M., Wednesday, arrived at 10.30.

Workmen were engaged all night of Wednesday endeavoring to repair the break near Ipswich, and prevented further damage from storm. It is stated that no engine could approach nearer than two miles of the scene of the disaster from the east. At the Hampton marshes, Roadmaster Cochran had several hundred workmen repairing damages all day Thursday. The breach in the railroad was a very bad one and no trains have run over it since the 11.30 train from this station passed it on Wednesday.

The Pullman express, from Bangor to Boston, which was due here at 3.20, A. M., Thursday, was thrown from the track at Farmingdale, two miles from Gardiner, Me., on the Maine Central Railroad at 11.40, Wednesday night. It passed through Hallowell, 75 minutes late. A dispatch to the Portland Press says the accident was caused by a washout at a culvert. Every car was thrown off. The engine passed over the culvert all right, and dragged the tender about 20 rods down the track, smashing it badly but remained on the track. The baggage car was thrown on its side, the trucks wrenched and platform smashed. Every truck on the passenger car and Pullman sleeping cars but the last two trucks were wrenched off, the floors and platforms somewhat injured. No one killed or very badly hurt. Conductor S. P. Eaton had a slight bruise on hip; roadmaster George Nevins was hurt on head and under eye, not serious; Charles H. Merrill, Western Union Telegraph repairer, belonging in Saco, badly cut in the head; several others slightly bruised, names not known. The passengers were taken to Gardiner by Conductor Holmes in an extra train. The track is torn up badly. An extra train was sent from Augusta, and one from Gardiner, to clear the wreck and render assistance. It seems almost incredible that none were killed and so few wounded.

Morning Chronicle.

CONCERNING A DICTIONARY.—The American Newspaper Reporter says: This sketch of Mark Twain's is not new, but we desire to print in the Reporter as a standing piece of consolation to any of our readers who may happen to be without "Webster." It is from the mouth of one Coon, "a nice, baldheaded man at the hotel in Angel's Camp," in the Big Tree region of Calveras County, California. It was to a request for the loan of a book that Coon replied:

"Well, I've got a mighty responsible old Webster's Unabridged, what there is of it, but they started her sloshing around before I got a chance to read it myself; and she went to Murphy's, and from there she went to Jackson Gulch, and now she's gone to San Andreas, and I don't expect I'll ever see that book again. But what makes me mad is that for all they're so handy about keeping sashayin' around from shanty to shanty and camp to camp, none of 'em had a good word for her. Now, Codington had her a week, and she was too many for him; he couldn't spell the words; he tackled them, regular busters, toward the middle, and they throwed him. Next Dyer, he tried her a time; he pronounced 'em all kinds 'o ways. Dye can hunt quail and play seven-up as well as any man, understand, but he can't pronounce worth a cent; he used to worry along well enough though till he'd flush one of them rattlers with a clatter of syllables as long as a string of sluice boxes, and then he'd lose his grip and throw up his hand. And so finally Dick Stocker harnessed her up there at his cabin, and sweat over her and wrestled with her for as much as three weeks, night and day, till he got as far as R, and then passed her over to Lige Pickerrell, and said she was the all-fired-est driest reading that ever he struck."

WENDELL PHILLIPS AS A PROPHET. Wendell Phillips, in a recent interview, expressed his opinions as to the political future to a correspondent of the New York Times. In reply to a question as to President Grant's chances of a renomination he said:

They are on the whole, good. Within another year—within a few months, probably—we will see Grant add another to his already strong chances of success. He has now four great points in his favor: The Fifteenth Amendment, the Ku-Klux, reduction of the national debt and the assault on the citadel of Mormonism. Let him add a fifth strand to the cord—labor—and his position will be impregnable. Whoever carries the most radical banner wins the next Presidency. Let Grant raise it, and, with his past popularity yet essentially retained, his nomination and reelection are reduced to a certainty. North and South alike, recruits in vast numbers will be added to his standard. The labor vote thrown in the next Presidential election will not be less than two hundred thousand. Let Grant, as all the indications point that he will, attract this vast element of strength to his side by a generous espousal of the cause of the workingman, and he will ride into power on a greater wave of popularity than that which gave him his first election. All the earnestness and magnificence of strength put forth by Sumner in the East, or Carl Schurz in the West, in that case, will be powerless to avert it. The people will sustain him.

—A Sacramento lady found herself guilty of larceny recently under rather peculiar circumstances. She was riding in a crowded railway car and occupied a seat with another lady passenger. Like a great many other women of the present day she wore curls—her own hair, of course, but it wasn't fastened on strictly according to nature's programme. By-and-by, as the train was jolted along, she felt something falling about her neck, and in a second it flashed across her brain that her curls had become detached. The predicament was a shocking one, but she endeavored to save herself as much as possible by quietly passing the capillary ornaments into her pocket, thanking her stars that she was almost at her destination. At the station she hastened to the dressing-room to repair damages to her toilette, when behold! the mirror reflected back the fact that her curls were in their proper position, and an examination of those in her pocket showed that they were not hers, but of a different color, belonging to the lady who sat by her side in the car.

—The Paris Figaro, whose critic was requested by an indigant singer at the opera to consider his ears boxed when she had attempted the process and failed, prints a column or two of "Menus-Propos," on the subject, beginning with an imaginary correspondence between Maurice Strakosch and Mr. Barnum. The American showman instructs Herr Strakosch to secure Hisson for him at any price, and when she demands a dre in her dressing-room, Barnum agrees to give her Chicago fire if she wishes. "A poster is appended announcing the appearance of Mlle. Nilsson as Ophelia in "Hamlet," at the "Theatre de Barnum," with a few starring lines declaring that between the last two acts Mlle. Hisson of the Paris Opera will raise two journalists at arms' length, while she gives the chest C in the grand air of "La Giraffee à Cheval Fendée,"—"The gilliflower has five leaves,"—giraffee being equally translated by the phrase "box on the ear."

—Let the youth who stands with a glass of liquor in his hand consider which he had better throw away—the liquor or himself.

—Stephen says he would rather be laughed at for not getting married, than to be unable to laugh because he is married.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is deranged nutriment of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring healthy digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all disease morbous and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a healthy healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ it torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requires strengthening to act. This is a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline in its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and produce healthy digestion, the source of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure some cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup penetrates the lungs, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matter, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and strength. If a patient has diseased lungs, and they are obscure there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the wound will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. I know what these medicines will do for the Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in the warmest and pleasant weather.

I wish it distinctly understood that what I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so because they are so powerful that they are partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been cured without taking medicine to prepare the lungs to withstand consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptive lungs are as tender as sore, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines is their ability to heal the inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to be cured be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influences. The most caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kepton a wholesome and nutricious diet, and all the medicines continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of healthy blood.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung nearly gone. I know what I recommend is sure, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by strict observance of the same.

OFFICE OF

FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS & FINANCIAL AGENTS

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company,

No. 5 Nassau Street, New York.

The rails are being laid on the Western Division of 100 miles of the Extension of this

GREAT EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINE,

which in a short time will be ready for general travel and traffic, and for the transportation of Kanawha coal to the Ohio River for the Western markets.

The earnings of the Eastern Division of 227 miles as a local road, awaiting the completion of the Middle Division of 100 miles, will reach, this year, nearly $800,000.

The total cost of the entire road, and the large equipment required for its minerals and through traffic, will be fully $30,000,000.

The total amount of the FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, which we are now selling, is FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS, of which only about FOUR MILLIONS remain unsold, the proceeds of which, with the Cash on hand, will be ample for the Completion of the Entire Line.

The inducements they offer to investors are:

A perfect security.

Great popularity and a high price when the road is finished.

The same rate of interest as Five-twenties.

Principal and interest both payable in United States gold coin in New York City.

Their present low price (93 and accrued interest from Nov. 1,) which is about 10 per cent. less than Five-twenties, with equal certainty of payment of interest and principal.

We recommend them to our friends and customers with the same confidence with which we have always recommended the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT and the CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS.

We continue to buy and sell CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS at the market price, and fully expect they will, in time, reach the price of Five-twenty Bonds. They are dear in at all the principal money centres of the world; the Company have more left, and can issue no more, on their Main Line, as the amount was fixed by act of Congress at $25,885,000; the property pledged to secure the bondholders is the net receipts of the road for the year will be nearly three times the interest payable thereon.

WORTH FULLY ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS;

The CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are issued in $100, $500, $1000; either coupon or registered interest, six per cent., gold, payable May and November.

The CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS are all for $1000 each; interest, six per cent., gold, payable January and July, in New York City.

We buy and sell FIVE-TWENTIES, TEN-FORTIES, EIGHTY-ONES, and CENTRAL OF WESTERN STATES, or receive them in payment for CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS at their current market price.

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be sent at our risk in all cases or the Company may at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid by us.

Deposit accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum. Checks drawn on us are payable on presentation, without notice, the same as at a National Bank.

Certificates of Deposit, bearing interest at special rates to be agreed upon, will be issued to Savings Banks, Institutions, Trustees of Estates, and others having sums of money awaiting investment.

Orders for Investment Stocks and Bonds executed at the Stock Exchange. Government Securities bought and sold, as usual, at current market rates. FISK & HATCH.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms. Research made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the validity of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. M. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

THE STAGE-DRIVER'S STORY.

It was the stage-driver's story, as he stood with his back to the wheelers,
Quietly flicking his whip, and turning his quid of tobacco;
While on the dusty road, and bloat with the rays of the moonlight,
We saw the lash of his whip and the juice of tobacco descending.
"Danger! Sir, I believe you—indeed, I may say on that subject,
You your existence might put to the hazard and turn of a wagar.
I have seen danger! Oh, no! not me, Sir, indeed I assure you;
Perhaps 'twas the man with the dog that is sitting alone in you wagon.
It was the Geiger Grade, a mile and a half from the summit:
Black as your hat was the night, and never a star in the heavens.
Thundering down the grade, the gravel and stones we sent flying
Over the precipice side—a thousand feet plump to the bottom.
Half-way down the grade I felt, sir, a thrilling and creaking,
Then a lurch to one side, as we hung on the bank of the ravine;
Then, lo, king up the road, I saw, in the distance behind me,
The off hind-wheel of the coach just loosed from the axle, and following.
One glance above I gave, then gathered together my ribbons,
Shouted, and flung them, outspread, on the straining necks of my cattle;
Screamed at the top of my voice, and lashed the air in my frenzy;
While down the Geiger Grade, on three wheels, the vehicle thundered.
Speed was our only chance, when again came the ominous rattle:
Crack, and another wheel slipped away, and was lost in the darkness.
Two only now were left; yet such was our fearful momentum,
Upright, erect, and sustained on two wheels, the vehicle thundered.
As some huge boulder, unbosomed from its rocky shelf on the mountain,
Drives before it the hare and the timorous squirrel, fat leaping,
So down the Geiger Grade rushed the Pioneer coach, and before it
Leaped the wild horses, and shrieked in advance of the danger impending.
But to be brief in my tale: Again, ere we came to the level,
Slipped from its axle a wheel; so that, to be plain in my statement,
A matter of twelve hundred yards or more, as the distance may be,
We travelled upon one wheel, until we drove up to the station.
Then, sir, we sank in a heap; but picking myself from the ruins,
I heard a noise up the grade, and, looking, I saw in the distance
The three wheels following still, like moons on the horizon whirling,
Till, circling, they gracefully sank on the road at the side of the station.
This is my story, sir; a trifle, indeed, I assure you;
Much more, perchance, might be said; but I hold him, of all men, most lightly
Who swerves from the truth in his tale—No, thank you—well, since you are pressing,
Perhaps I don't care if I do; you may give me the same, Jim—no sugar."

—The latest style of wedding card has not become very popular yet. In fact Mr. J. S. Hart of Charlestown, the inventor, is the only person known to have used it. Here is his:

JOSEPH S. HART.
At Home,
THURSDAY EVENING, Nov. 16, 1871,
Ceremony at 8 o'clock,
At No. 25 Union Street, Charlestown.

We propose changing the name of Miss Murray to Mrs. Hart.
N. B.—The Rev. Dr. Miner, or his colleague, the Rev. Henry I. Cushman, will officiate.
Joseph S. Hart, aged 61 years—Mary Jennie Murray, aged 24 years.

—Stephen H. Branch, who has had a monomania for political distinction, and has written more letters having reference to himself than any one, unless it be George Francis Train, can afford to quit on the following good one to the Tribune of Friday: "I ran for register, and the inspectors have returned only one vote for me, which was my own. Perceiving that I am unpopular in this community, and that I have only one political friend in all this world, I shall emigrate to the North Pole, and dwell on the banks of the ocean recently discovered there by the Germans, and all who desire to go in the vessel I have chartered will be taken on moderate terms. Judge Ledwith and Mr. Nathaniel Sauds will be taken at half price."

—The Piute Indians don't allow any nonsense. One of their medicine men failed to cure a patient recently, and they stoned him to death.

THE KING OF FOX KILLERS will send you a copy right Pamphlet, of full instructions in the secret art of poisoning Foxes, for only 50 cents. A sure thing. Write this address down—J. T. MOXLEY, Owosso, Mich.

PERKINS & HOUSE'S Patent Non-Explosive Kerosene Lamp is an absolute Safety Lamp that will not explode, that will not give off bad odor, that will not break, that will give a light equal to two other Lamps. Lamps for the Kitchen, Parlor, Study, for Churches, Public Halls, Factories, &c., &c., for sale to the Trade and the Public, by ALLEN FOLGER, Agent for the Manufacturers, Durgin's Block, next door west of Post Office, Concord, N. H. Canvassers wanted in every town in the United States. Address as above.

$10 from 10 cts. For particulars, send stamp and name of County. P. MICHAEL, Owosso, Mich.

AVOID QUACKS.—A victim of early indiscretion, causing nervous debility, premature decay, etc., having tried in vain every advertised remedy, has discovered a simple means of self-cure, which he will send to his fellow-sufferers. Address J. H. REEVES, 78 Nassau St., N. Y.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Rootand Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawe8i6

MANHOOD
IN THE
Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scene of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S
EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Endiscretions,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S
Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

HELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATIONS. Established upward of twenty years. Prepared by STEAM SAFES

—AGAIN—
TRIUMPHANT!

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct., 7th, 1871.
AM. STEAM SAFE CO.,
COLE & LAMBERT, Managers,
300 Broadway, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—"The Binghamton Planing Mill and Sash and Blind Factory," together with several other large buildings, were totally destroyed by fire last night. The Steam Safe (No. 7) made by you, and purchased one year ago from Messrs. Day & Hall, Agents, in this city, was in the Planing Mill, and went through the severest part of the fire; it fell into the basement, top down. To-day it was cooled off with water from the hydrant, and when opened the contents were found to be in perfect condition; not even the varnish on the book-case was injured! our confidence in the Steam Safe, (and hundreds of other citizens who saw it at a red heat and were present at the opening,) is perfect after this severe test. I shall want another Steam Safe as soon as I rebuild. Very truly yours,

A. L. HARDING,
Late Proprietor Canal St. Planing Mill, Binghamton.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
—IF SO, USE THE—
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot soda without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this reason a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1871.

Political.

The board of canvassers in Brooklyn report that only two democrats were elected on the city ticket, — Mayor Powell and City Tresurer Sprague. The republicans have all the rest of the offices.

The official majority of Governor Parker in New Jersey is 6007.

A HEAVY EARTHQUAKE occurred at Iquique and the interior of Peru on the 5th of October. There was considerable damage to buildings in Iquique, and a great panic among the people. The effects were more disastrous in the interior, where the towns of Pica and Matilla were destroyed. There was scarcely a house left standing. A fire succeeded the earthquake in Pica. At Tarapacca the church, pantheon, eighteen houses and the dam of the river were destroyed. The towns of Usmagama, Gausquinna and Pachica also suffered severely. Very few lives were lost. The steamer Panama felt the earthquake at sea, and Arequipa had shocks on the 4th and 10th, but no buildings were damaged. There was an earthquake on the 25th ult., at Bajo, Chili, but it was not serious.

ANOTHER COAL-PIT EXPLOSION has taken place in England, by which six or more lives were lost. It occurred on Wednesday in a colliery at Wigan, but luckily at an hour after the miners had left the place, or the loss of life would have been very great.

THE GRAND JURY at Chicago has refused to indict General Sheridan or any other military or civil officer for the shooting of Colonel Grosvenor in that city.

NEW MUSIC. — We have received from Oliver Ditson & Co., the following pieces of Music: The School House in the Lane. It is in the key of C, is easy and pretty, has a good chorus, and only rises to d. Nice title-picture of the handsome schoolmistress with her pupils.

Out in the Storm. A plaintive ballad, key of D, easy. Rises to d. Good chorus, and illustrated title. Both songs are by E. Christie.

Kitty My Darling Has Gone to Rest. By Agnes Ashton. In the key of B-flat, Moderately easy, with chorus, and is a pleasing song in popular style.

Marche Des Tambours, by Mack, is one of a set called "Golden Echoes," which contains 25 excellent and easy instructive pieces.

Gondolina. By Edward Dorn, contains graceful Gondola music. Not difficult. In the key of G.

Welcome to Spring, by Jungman, is marked with the delicate taste of this favorite composer. Key of D. Medium difficulty.

CORRECTION.—In a contributed article on the descendants of Sir Wm. Pepperell, published by us some weeks since, there was one error,—Dr. Chas. Jarvis was spoken of as being the brother of U. S. Consul General Jarvis, formerly at Portugal. Dr. Jarvis was the consul's father.

—Theodore Woodbull and Victoria Tilton are nominated for President and Vice-President by a confused Western editor.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RARE CHANCE.—Persons wanting Sewing Machines, Melodeons, Cabinet Organs, Pianos, &c., can save money by purchasing of B. A. Joy, No. 9 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H. He is selling out a large stock of New Goods, warranted perfect, at one-half and three-fourths the usual prices, in order to make room for the "Domestic" Sewing Machines, the demand for which is sufficient to require his whole attention. You can pay by small monthly installments if desirable. Second-hand Goods almost given away. Don't delay, for he is determined that the entire stock shall be closed out as soon as possible.

IT IS SAID that if a puff of air were to be blown into a vein of an animal, death would instantaneously follow, because circulation would be stopped. The blood makes the entire circuit of the human body every seven minutes, and whenever this circulation is impeded or any of its channels are clogged by impurities which ought to be carried off, disease follows—fever or a disorder of liver or kidneys, or scrofula, or dyspepsia. To get at and remove the source of the difficulty use the old and infallible blood purifier, DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS. 021 4w

Winter is now fairly upon us, and the teams are hastening to the lumber woods in various parts of the country. Our advice to every man who goes to the woods, be he captain, cook, teamster, or any other man, is to take along a good stock of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment and Parson's Purgative Pills. Many months of labor (in the aggregative) may be saved by this precaution.

Bad enough to look and feel bad yourself; but no excuse for having your horse look and feel badly, when for a small sum you can buy Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, which given in grain two or three times a week, will make him look and feel well.

—Mr. Jeremiah O'Donovan Rossa complains that the reform organizations in New York did not aid him pecuniarily in his campaign against Tweed for the Senatorship, which is explained by a New York correspondent in this way: "O'Donovan Rossa, in the opinion of many, was not a citizen of the United States, although it appeared when, too late, that he had been very recently naturalized; and, moreover, there is a feeling abroad in New York city just now that its affairs are likely to be safer in the hands of men who have no followers than in those of a person whose 'tail' is very nearly as long as that of the late Daniel O'Connell. There is no denying the fact that the principle of 'Home Rule' has begun to assert itself as decidedly as it did about seventeen years ago, although in a quiet manner, and that the people of New York do not deem it absolutely necessary to make its latest importations from Ireland Senators, Assemblymen or heads of city departments. This is the truth—plainly stated."

—A despatch from Constantinople reports three hundred and eighty deaths from cholera last week.

BETTER AND CHEAPER.

THAN ANY OTHER

Boots or Shoes;

THOSE FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE.

BETTER — Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

CHEAPER—Because, while their first cost is not in excess of sewed or pegged work of a like grade, their Durability is far greater, they preserve their Shape much better, and the metallic fastening insures a more Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

AWFUL DEFEAT!!!

The rout complete! The last hope of the parties who have been getting up SCALP POISONS to compete with

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

is lost, lost, lost! Still, it towers over all rivals, new and old. Still, it remains the STANDARD HAIR DYE OF THE COUNTRY. Still, tens of thousands of heads that once showed the white flag,

Carry Cristadoro's Colors,

and the course of the dye of dyes is ever upward and onward. So much for excellence, wholesomeness, and a true reproduction of Nature's tints. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

Arrest Decay.

When a plant or a tree begins to decay it must needs die. It cannot be revitalized. But it is not so with human beings. A human rain can be repaired, strengthened, restored, though a brown leaf or a withered blade of grass can never be made green again. In the autumn of life, or even in its winter, when nature seems to be giving way under the pressure of years, it is still possible to retard the process of decay, and to lend to age more than its wonted vigor. As a means of promoting this object, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is unquestionably the most potent of all restoratives. It will not make the old young, but it will prevent, lessen, or sooth the infirmities which are the usual accompaniment of the decline of life. For debility and a lack of nervous power, from whatever cause arising, it is the medicine that of all others before the world, best deserves the name of a specific. In purity, in invigorating properties, in its adaptation to weak stomachs and feeble organizations, it has no competitor among the tonics of the pharmacopœia, nor among proprietory remedies. Besides its strengthening principles, it possesses alterative and regulating properties of the highest order, and as an anti-bilious medicine is far preferable to any of the preparations containing mercury. Time has shown that for physical decay, nervous debility, dyspepsia, bilious disorders, and intermittent fever, Hostetter's Bitters is a remedy without a rival. This is the season of the fall of the leaf; let it remind the old, the feeble, and the sickly to invigorate and regulate their systems with this great vegetable tonic and alterative.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose function they disorange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pustules, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the glow and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

City Council, Thursday, Nov. 16.

In board of Mayor and Aldermen the committee appointed to confer with the Common Council reported that Mr. Mr. Simon Marston, M. declined to sell his pond. Aldermen Marvin and Fernald were appointed a committee to ascertain the area and capacity of the pond.

Firemen's Reunion.

Gov. Langdon Engine Co., No. 5, had a social gathering and oyster supper at their engine house on Thursday evening. The officers of the other five companies were present, with other invited guests, and speeches were made by Alderman Marvin, Chief Engineer Marston, Asst. Engineers Morrill and Brackett, and the Foremen of other engines, and several songs were given. The supper and subsequent proceedings were enjoyed so much that the company did not separate till midnight. These firemen's suppers are gotten up in good style—although the expenses are not extravagant; and besides furnishing a pleasant evening's entertainment they serve to increase the friendship of the different companies and members of the Fire Department for each other, and to keep alive the personal good will without which honorable emulation is prone to degenerate to unworthy rivalry. We have never seen any more dangerous fluids than strong tea and coffee served out at these gatherings—an example which might be beneficially followed at many more pretentious but not more enjoyable reunions. Members of No. 5 Co. have lately fitted up their Hall, and it now is perhaps the best looking hall in the Portsmouth Department. They understand how to get up a good time and are "Always Ready."

The Great Storm.

The schooner Nam Shong was not insured. Capt. Hurley loses $3000.

From Newcastle it is reported that the storm was as severely felt as any for 90 years. The sea made a clean break over Whale's Back light-house, carrying away both boats. One of the attendants went into the new tower at the beginning of the storm, and was forced to remain 24 hours before daring to attempt a return to the old one.

All the small buildings around Fort Constitution were swept away, and the boat house badly damaged. The boat broke loose but was secured by Capt. Davidson after two hours' hard work,—but he is rewarded by a bad cold.

Capt. Becker lost his wharf, and his fish house was much damaged. Messrs. Harding & Doane's wharf was saved by the building on it being full of mackerel, and H. M. Curtis' coal wharf was saved by shifting 25 tons of coal to the windward side; had the tide risen a few inches higher than it did, Mr. Curtis would have had 100 tons of coal ten feet under water. The roads in Newcastle were not badly damaged.

We learn by the Biddeford Journal that a Kennebunk schooner, laying in the harbor, was driven on Cow Island, and considerable trouble is anticipated in getting her off. Schooner Pearl was also driven ashore but succeeded in getting off. From the lower harbor in the vicinity of the Pool, we hear of more damage. The Schooner W. B. D., bound from New York to Biddeford with coal, was dashed on to the westerly side of Stage Island, near the place where the P. S. Lindsay was wrecked recently. Her crew were all got off safely. It is impossible as yet to learn the extent of the damage done to her, but it is supposed that it must be severe. The Steamer Augusta broke from her moorings at the Pool, and had nearly drifted on to the Beach before a large crew got control of her. Three schooners are also reported driven through the "Gutt" at the Pool on to the Beach.

U. S. J. Court.

The jury in the case of State vs. Manchester & Lawrence Railroad were unable to agree—nine favoring the Railroad and three holding opposite opinions.

Looked For.

It is expected that the first train from Boston will arrive in this city this afternoon, the rails having been laid around the engine which has delayed the repairs of the road-bed near Ipswich.

Democratic Economy.

We hear so much of the superior excellence of the Democracy when in power now-a-days that we are wont to distrust their statements made in self laudation. Heretofore, it has been found necessary to have one more Messenger at the Court House during the sitting of the Court. But things are changed. A Democratic sheriff economizes. Appointing two, and Messrs. Joy and M. Parker and Wm. Benjamin Bigle with duties of D. Perkins struggling Mr. Jo[illegible] formerly performed by b[illegible]n M. Davis, and have not yet been overcome by the tremendous amount of labor incumbent upon them.

A Plea for Cheerfulness.

Notwithstanding the storm, the largest audience of the lecture course assembled to listen to "A Plea for Cheerfulness," Thursday evening. We confess to a slight disappointment on hearing Mr. Fields in public for the first time; not from the matter of his discourse, but from the manner of its delivery. If there is one idea which permeates our thoughts, it is Americanism, a pride in the land of our birth and the distinctiveness of its speech, even. Anticipating great pleasure in listening to one of Portsmouth's sons, we were surprised that an American born citizen could have so greatly changed by residence abroad. Consciously or unconsciously the lecturer seemed to have copied the accents of the Englishman, as if there was no other manner of pronunciation so satisfactory. We venture to say that nine tenths of the audiences he addresses will consider him a native of that little island which seems destined ere long to be ruled by a profligate prince.

We could not avoid drawing a distinction also between the lecturer's subject and his manner. He seemed a personified contradiction of his own utterances. Even the tones of his voice were doleful in some passages and his countenance and dress caused us to think he was pleading with himself for cheerfulness. The "sermon" as he chose to style it would have read well and his words were words of cheer. He has the happy faculty of amusing audiences by odd anecdotes, and like the preceding lecturer set himself in advance of the straight-faced bigots who appear almost to think it a crime to smile. Being capable of making such a plea for cheerfulness, we wonder the more that he does not illustrate it personally.

He considered cheerfulness a fine art, almost one of the "lost arts." No people appear so solemn as Americans. Sadness seems hereditary and strangers speak of the absence of happy faces from our thoroughfares. An American sculptor being once asked to make a statue of cheerfulness, enquired where among his countrymen he might find a model—certainly he could not in New England. Mr. Fields thinks melancholy and stimulants equally destructive. There are some who seem natural enemies to cheerfulness—who must always cast a shadow somewhere or touch unwelcome themes. American poetry is too largely of a melancholy character. Even our style of dress is lacking in pleasing varieties of color. The greatest minds of all ages have been cheerful, even under most depressing influences. One of the most cheerful men of his acquaintance was a poor old blind man (Mr. John Hooker) who forty years ago went about this city sawing wood day in and day out. Groping along, racked with pain, the boys would lead him by the hand, and when they asked, "How do you feel today, uncle?" his reply would always be, "Cheerful! cheerful! thank ye!" Gen. Sheridan is one of the happiest of public men, and the speaker considered him a Daniel Webster on horseback, always ready for an emergency and prompt to act, whether it be at Winchester or Chicago. [This reference to "Little Phil" was responded to by the audience with long continued applause. Did it hurt Snarleyow's feelings, or is he ashamed to acknowledge it?] Mr. Fields praised the writings of Holmes, Bret Harte and Joaquin Miller, and closed with Whittier's poem on Chicago, which though beautiful in sentiment did not tend to inspire the audience with a great amount of cheerfulness.

Accident.

Mr. Andrew S. Marden lost the forefinger of his left hand and had the hand otherwise mutilated by a circular saw at the North Mill on Friday. Dr. Whittier dressed the wounds.

Washburn's Last Sensation.

Including a large number of actors and actresses who are claimed to be unrivalled in their respective specialities, is advertised to appear at the Temple on Thursday evening, Nov. 21st. The entertainment consists of character and other songs, dancing, feats of strength and agility, etc., and the show is claimed to be wholly free from vulgarity.

About Cabbages.

—Nathaniel N. Hurd has indeed outrivalled the great philosopher. If any are disposed to doubt this let them step into our office and gaze upon a stupendous cabbage raised by Mr. H. His gigantic cabbageship is but 4 months old and weighs 35 1-4 lbs.—Great Falls Journ.

How is this, George?—we thought Ed's name was Fernald, and that he was raised in Vermont, so we thought. The age and weight are a typographical error.—Biddeford Journal.

Give it up! But we are posted on St. Albans butter now. Mr. C. O. D. Ex. press brought us two tubs recently. Price there 35 cts. per lb. Must be some mistake about age and weight; four months was too young for it and weight was 52 lbs. We dislike cabbage—but we dislike that butter more. We mourn—and cabbage won't comfort us.

Our Next Mayor.

On Tuesday next the Republicans of this city are to nominate a candidate for Mayor, and there is a general desire that they select the citizen who will secure the largest vote of the party. Quite a number of gentlemen have been named for the position thus far, nearly all of whom have received the suffrages of their fellow citizens in times past. The names of some have been used without their consent, and we do not hear that the claims of any one will be urged in opposition to the good of the party. With singular unanimity the choice of the people has tended to a distinguished gentleman who has repeatedly held high office in the State and City governments, who is the soul of honor and has maintained the respect of his fellow citizens, and has an extended reputation throughout the State. Averse to holding the office he has acceptably filled in the past, desiring rather to remain at this time in the ranks rather than become a chosen leader, the office has seemed to seek him, and he never was known to shirk a duty. It is no disparagement to other men to say that he can poll a far larger vote than any candidate named, and that those who have the best interests of the party at heart eagerly desire him to waive personal feelings, and in the present emergency accede to the wishes of his warm personal friends. We are not authorized to state that he will do so, but the feeling is so general that we are assured that with his ideas of duty he will not decline if called on to harmonize the party which has always rallied so unitedly to his support.

—A Danbury, Conn., school-boy disturbed the symetry of a family heirloom by sawing off the tops of his great-grandmother's bed-posts for a set of croquet balls. And the night he did it he slept very warm.

THE GREAT ADMIRAL.

It is to be regretted that the last days of this brave, truthful, amiable, and exemplary man, for whom his country-men had, and always will retain, a deep and abiding affection and regard, should have been subjected to petty annoyances from a few who were envious of his fame, or incapable of doing him justice. Although honored and loved by his countrymen and at the head of the navy, he does not appear to have had the confidence of those who administered its affairs for the last eighteen months of his life, or to have been consulted in matters which personally and officially interested and legitimately belonged to him as naval chief. Great changes were made in the service without his knowledge and against his judgment. He was compelled to receive orders which notoriously emanated from one of inferior rank. The office of Admiral, which Congress had created for him in acknowledgment of his distinguished and unequalled services, was, he saw, destined by favoritism to pass to another. In various ways ignoble and ungenerous minds hastened to mortify the great and unassuming naval chief. In derogation of his real rank and position as chief and head of the navy, he was made Port Admiral or usher, to wait upon and receive naval officers at New York, an employment which self-respect and regard for the navy compelled him to decline. Among other indignities was that of ordering the uniform and the flag of Admiral which he had adopted when the Government created and conferred on him the office to be changed, and substituting therefor a different uniform and another flag, wholly unlike the coat he wore, and unlike the symbol of rank which was identified with him, and from the time the office was created had floated above him. Farragut would neither change his coat nor permit the tawdry substitute for the Admiral flag to wave over him. On his special, personal application, which he felt humiliated to make, the Secretary of the Navy permitted him to be spared these indignities during his life, but it was with the knowledge that the flag which he had earned—the emblem he had cherished and prescribed as the symbol of highest naval rank—was to be buried with him. It would be painful to dwell on the many annoyances to which this brave and noble officer was subjected during the last few months of his existence.

"There is a tear for all that die,
A mourner o'er the humblest grave;
But nations swell the funeral cry,
And triumph weeps above the brave."

The people throughout the Union mourned the death of the good Admiral. Thousands from surrounding towns crowded around his bier at Portsmouth, but high official dignitaries were not there. Neglect of the remains of the great naval chief and of his family marked the close. The expenses of his funeral, which was necessarily public at Portsmouth, where he died, were borne by his widow, who has never been remunerated or notified by the Government. She, who fled with him from her home and native State, became with him an exile and shared his fortunes and privations in a simple hired cottage on the Hudson, now lives in a house purchased with the funds contributed by a few private citizens of New York in grateful acknowledgment for his heroic and patriotic services. Those services were unsurpassed, and the personal perils he encountered were unequalled by those of any military or naval commander. He was exposed to greater dangers in many battles than any general officer in the field, but when he died his pay died with him. His widow has received no recognition or pension. Most naval officers studiously prepared and presented their prize claims, and some have been enriched with large amounts of prize-money. Farragut, in his unselfish patriotism, which called out all his energies and all his time, was neglectful of self and fortune. He never received a dollar of prize money for the conquest of New Orleans, where more extensive captures were made than in any battle of the war. In the day and period when these events took place, Congress and his grateful countrymen cheerfully awarded him their highest honors, but official slight and neglect attended his last days. Nothwithstanding official neglect, the American people revere the memory of one of the most truthful, heroic, exemplary, unselfish and devoted patriots the country ever had in its service, and gratefully remember his many signal achievements.

The people of New York adopted Farragut, who came among them to abide the fortunes of the republic. They respected and honored him as first among our heroes while living, and forgetting all differences united in a public demonstration of mournful regard on the reception of his remains, which were brought from Portsmouth for interment. The municipal government of the metropolis gave the great naval chief what the national Government, did not, a public funeral. Many of the high dignitaries whose previous neglect had called out expressions of popular disapproval followed in the train on this occasion, and did homage to the man and hero.

It is but a simple duty to Farragut, Du Pont, and Stringham, that their position and their acts in these memorable expeditions, which they respectively commanded, should be rightly recorded; and, in the same connection, the truth in regard to the origin of each of those enterprises should appear. Had either of them failed, the Navy Department, which projected them, but has received little or no credit for either, would have been held responsible and blamed. But slight of the navy and abuse of the Navy Department were not unusual with partisan writers of the period. Many of the events of that day are misstated and the actors in them wronged and misrepresented. They will, perhaps, never be correctly understood; for besides the rebellion which broke up old associations, and aside from interested personal motives which influenced many, there were party and personal animosities and friendships to warp the minds and bias the judgments of most of the writers, who hasten to publish their own partialities and prejudices, which they denominate histories of those occurrences and those times.—GIDEON WELLES, in The Galaxy.

—Prominent gentlemen in Washington attribute the spread of the small-pox in Philadelphia and other cities to the sale of buffalo ropes there, taken from the Blackfeet and Piegan camps, where the disease prevailed two years ago.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into all the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of pulmonary disease, without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous and slime which is clogging those organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease in nearly every the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; then a healthy stomach is secured, free from acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the intestinal are weak, and requiring strengthening. In this condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, and healthy blood is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matter, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, and at less expense. In it then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow fat and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helpful, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and all out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to take cold than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are imperfectly healed, just so long is the slightest current danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung must be well, safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It is about impossible to cure an inflamed irritating influence. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure is almost almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kepton a wholesome and nutritious diet, and all the medicines continued until the body has returned to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured hundreds since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

Dr. Schenck of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

Tickets also for sale in every prominent place in the U. S.

Owing to the general derangement of mails and advertisements consequent on the disastrous conflagrations in the West, the sale of tickets in this enterprise is extended to Nov. 30, 1871, at which time the main office, 120 Main St., Louisville, Ky., will close for adjustment of accounts and business. No orders except by mail will be received after Dec. 1st, and no orders by mail will be filled after Dec. 10th. The New York office will close Dec. 10th; other Agencies Dec. 5th. Every ticket unsold Dec. 11th will be cancelled by its number. The drawing will take place in public, Dec. 16th, 1871, commencing at 7 A. M., and continue until the 721 gifts are awarded. Payment of awards will commence Dec. 19, at 10 o'clock A. M. Dollars of awards will be found at every Agency as soon as they can be issued correctly, and will also be sent to all ticket holders throughout the country. No order will be filled at the main office for less than $10. CHAS. R. PETERS, Manager.

OLD TIME CHRONICLES, No. 41.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

BUNKER HILL.—Charlestown, Mass., was settled in 1628. In 1634, George Bunker came from England and settled in the town. This was but six years after the town was begun, and it was then mostly a wilderness; and Boston, just over the river, had cow paths where some of its principal streets now are, and was hardly a considerable village.

Mr. Bunker was quite a landholder. Accounts show that he had at least 140 acres in Charlestown and 220 acres in what is now Woburn. This house was near where Charlestown Square now is, but some of his lands were on the hill and off towards Mystic river. This will commences thus: "In the year of our Lord One Thousand Sixe hundred Sixtie and foure, the twelfth daye of the first month commonly called March, 9, George Bunker of Charlestown, &c," He died in 1664, in Malden, where he went to reside soon after making his will.

In 1665, the next year after Mr. Bunker's death, the hill is called Bunker's in some deeds then given. After 1770 a Mr. Breed came over, and owning land on one of the eminences, it was called Breed's Hill. Just before the battle in June, 1775, Col. Prescott, instead of commencing fortifications on Bunker Hill, as was the plan of those who directed matters, went nearer the river and Boston, and made fortifications on Breed's Hill. All since has passed to the name of Bunker Hill. Bunker Hill! We cannot think of the Revolutionary War without associating this place with it. One of its earliest battles was fought there. All who go to Boston from the North, see it and the monument 220 feet high that commemorates the battle.

New Hampshire was somewhat largely represented in that conflict. The afterwards famous John Stark was there and was Colonel of a New Hampshire regiment. He was from what is now Manchester, and his farm was near the State Reform School. Henry Dearborn was Captain of a Company. His home was in Nottingham, where he was a physician. In the forenoon, while the New Hampshire troops were going to the place of battle, they were exposed to the galling fire of a British ship laying in the river. Capt. Dearborn suggested to Col. Stark the propriety of quickening their steps. The reply is well known and shows the calmness and intrepidity of Stark. "Dearborn," said he, "one fresh man in action is worth ten fatigued ones."

The battle of Bunker Hill was fought Sabbath afternoon, June 17, 1775. It lasted a few hours. The Americans lost 449 men, the British 1,055. In connection with the flight Gen. Gage, the British commander, caused Charlestown to be set on fire. There were 400 dwellings, 200 other buildings and six public edifices. The larger part were wrapped in a winding sheet of flame. This is the history in brief of Bunker Hill in early days and in the stirring times of the Revolution.

—A young man being asked why the hair on the top of his head was so thin, replied: "The girls tore it out pulling me at the window."

—A black frost and cold weather have driven from South Carolina all apprehensions of further trouble from the yellow fever.

—A young man found a skunk in his cellar at Barnstable, and carefully let down a piece of meat covered with arsenic, as he thought, to the floor. It was afterward found that the bait had been lowered into the pork-barrel.

—A Brooklyn husband, who was kissing the chambermaid a little, was surprised by his wife, but got off with only one black eye by quoting Mrs. Stanton, who says, "the freer the relations between human beings the happier."

—The Boston and Maine Railroad Directors have decided to run their line into Portland around by the rolling mills and connect with the Ogdensburg and Maine Central roads above Vaughn's Bridge. They will run a track into Commercial street for city business.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

FIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed off. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct., 7th, 1871.

AM. STEAM SAFE CO.,

COLE & LAMBERT, Managers;

Gentlemen:—"The Binghamton Planing Mill and Sash and Blind Factory," together with several other large buildings, were totally destroyed by fire last night. The Steam Safe (No. 7) made by you, and purchased one year ago from Messrs. Paige & Chaffee, Agents, in this city, was in the Planing Mill, and went through the severest part of the fire: it fell into the basement, top down. To-day it was cooled off with water from the hydrant, and when opened the contents were found to be in perfect condition; not even the varnish inside the book-case was injured. Many gentlemen in the Steam Safe, (and hundreds or other citizens who saw it at a red heat and were present at the opening,) is perfect: after this severe test, I shall want another Steam Safe as soon as I re build. Very truly yours,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1871.

TYRANNY IN THE NAVY.—The closed court-martial which has been in session for some time at the Brooklyn, N. Y., Navy Yard, has been investigating the charges made against Capt. Alexander Semmes, commander of the U. S. sloop of war Portsmouth. About a year ago complaints were made concerning the extraordinary cruelty and brutality of the commander, and one seaman maddened by punishments, deserted the ship in a foreign port and tried to make his way to the United States and report personally to the navy department, giving the whole story of the cruelties. But on the way home he was captured and, tried as a deserter, sentenced to nine years imprisonment. Arriving here as a prisoner he succeeded in bringing his case to Secretary Robeson's attention, and when the facts were made known he was at once released. As soon as this occurred a multitude of complaints rushed in. It is said that the situation upon the vessel had become so unbearable that while the vessel lay in the harbor of Rio Janeiro there were one hundred desertions; guards rowed around the ship in the night time, armed with revolvers, and were ordered to shoot any one attempting to leave the vessel. Men were punished for the most trivial offences by being hoisted into boats alongside the ship, tied hands and feet, and left exposed to the blazing sun until they were burned so that their skin peeled off in huge flakes. The grossest indignities were offered to the seamen of all grades, under the name of punishment. Sometimes the commander ordered a man crammed into a box three feet long and about eighteen inches deep; then heavy planks were hammered down upon the unfortunate victim, and in one case a sailor was kept there crushed and almost dying for one hundred and twenty hours. Meantime, the commander lived luxuriously in his cabin, and refused to commute an hour of the sufferer's sentence. Men were sometimes chained together by tens so they could hardly move, and laid out on the deck to endure the terrible fervor of tropical nights, until their nervous systems gave way under the intolerable torture, and they were transformed into little less than maniacs.

These atrocities seem to be real. They are substantiated beyond a doubt. The court-martial has occupied some weeks with the case, and will probably establish a precedent for disgrace from rank or severe sentence which will teach naval tyrants perforce the humanity which seems lacking in their hearts.

New Hampshire Items.

A Nashua rooster that was decapitated a six o'clock, A. M., was walking about with the biddies at nine, as a portion of the brain wasn't severed with the head, says the Telegraph.

John Lang of New Hampton died recently at the age of eighty-four years. He enlisted in the thirty-third United States infantry in the war of 1812, and served his country sixteen months. He was actively engaged in the battle of Platt-burg, N.Y., when the Americans achieved a signal victory over the English.

The house of Mr. J. Merrill, in Columbia, was burned a few evenings since.

A young man named Straw was struck by a passing train of cars at Plymouth, on Wednesday last, and died soon afterwards. At the time of the accident he had an umbrella spread, and did not hear the train.

Two young men engaged in teaching school at Grafton, got upon the down way-freight over the Northern Railroad last Saturday evening at Canaan, for the purpose of riding toward their homes. Grafton summit the engineer discovered one of them lying beside the road, and going to him found he had jumped from the train upon a pile of stone covered with snow, and had received a bad cut over his left eye and broken his left arm. The other person also jumped from the train, but was uninjured. The injured man was removed to a neighboring house and medical assistance summoned.

Mr. Albert D. Avery of Troy was accidently drowned on Wednesday evening.

HYDE PARK, Pa., is in danger of total destruction by the caving-in of the Oxford mine. An area of twenty acres of land with the buildings upon it, embracing the business part of the town, has sunk two feet, and there are immense fissures in the principal streets. The inhabitants have deserted their dwellings, and the damage to property will be great.

MISS FANNY FISHER of East Medway, Mass., about fifteen years of age, and of unusual promise and prepossessing appearance, while visiting her brother in West Medway, stepped on a needle last Monday morning, which penetrated her foot nearly its whole length. In trying to extract it, it was broken, and she returned home and attended school Monday and Tuesday without mentioning the accident to her mother. Her suffering was so great on Tuesday evening, however, that she was obliged to let it be known. On Wednesday she was taken with vomiting, and a high fever set it, terminating in death on Thursday morning.

THE ACCIDENT on the Maine Central Railroad occurred at the place of collision last summer. The Portland Advertiser says the rear Pullman car of the train was damaged only to the extent of breaking a footboard and some scratches. The other Pullman car was not so exempt, the entire under works being scraped out, leaving the under part quite smooth. The two passenger cars and smoking car were damaged in much the same way; the internal arrangements of all being quite undisturbed.

A MEETING of the State Committee and other prominent Republicans will be held at Concord on Wednesday to arrange the preliminaries of the next campaign in this State. The meeting should be fully attended, particularly by those who think that the Republican party should be put at once into the best possible fighting trim.

HAZING at the naval academy has meet with a summary check by the action of Secretary Robeson, who has dismissed six cadets and deprived others of all privileges for stated terms. He wishes it understood that he will, if necessary, dismiss every cadet who may refuse the fullest obedience to the regulations.

MAYOR HALL of New York acknowledges that he has Tweed's resignation in his possession, but says that it is conditional upon the appointment as his successor of an individual named by himself.

MORRISON R. WHITE of Toledo, Ohio, has been appointed upon the Board of council before the Geneva commission, to fill the vacancy caused by the declination of Judge B. R. Curtis.

THE AMERICAN AND BRITISH COMMISSION have adjourned until the 6th of December. One claim was rejected because of insufficiency of proof.

Correspondence.

DEERFIELD, Nov. 17.

We have little of interest in this quiet old farming town, but have little sickness and few deaths, except from old age. A child some ten years old was brought here from Manchester, and died Nov. 12. She had small pox.

On Saturday morning the 11th, we found the earth covered with some eight inches of snow. After four days of sleighing we were visited by an old fashioned northwest rain storm, such as we had not seen for years. The farmers rejoice, for their wells and streams are filled; and the ground, bare again, furnishes much food for cattle and sheep. Hay is scarce and sells for $30 a ton. All other crops (except fruit) have been good.

The Freewill Society and the Baptist Society have been repairing their parsonages. It is to be hoped that some other societies may follow their examples. The three churches in this places were repaired last year. J. C.

THE STOKES FRAUDS.—We have observed in one or two journals that the name of Gen. Marston of this town, has been mentioned in connection with the recently discovered Stokes frauds, in such a manner as to convey the impression that he was in some way negligent of his duty, in reporting favorably upon the bill when it was first brought before Congress. The claim was for the relief of the members of a military company raised under the authority of the military commander of Tennessee, and actually in service for nearly three years and a half, though never regularly mustered in under the laws of the United States. Generals Thomas and Burnside, under whom the company acted, wrote letters to the Committee on Military Affairs, of which Gen. Marston was a member, recommending the bill, and that the proof of service should be submitted in such form as the Secretary of War should prescribe. Gen. Marston accordingly reported the bill, and on inquiry stated these undoubted facts to the House. This was all that Gen. Marston had to do with the matter. It was not till three years afterward, after he had ceased to be a member of Congress, that the Stokes bill was again introduced and actually passed. To those who are acquainted with Gen. Marston's faithful, upright and punctilious manner of discharging his congressional duties, this explanation is needless. They know full well that no fraudulent claim ever passed Congress by reason of any want of vigilance on his part.—Exeter News Letter.

AWFUL DEFEAT!!!

The rout complete! The last hope of the parties who have been getting up SCALP POISONS to compete with

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

is lost, lost, lost! Still, it towers over all rivals, new and old. Still, it remains the STANDARD HAIR DYE OF THE COUNTRY. Still, tens of thousands of heads that once showed the white flag,

Carry Cristadoro's Colors,

and the course of the dye of dyes is ever upward and onward. So much for excellence, wholesomeness, and a true reproduction of Nature's tints. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

Arrest Decay.

When a plant or a tree begins to decay it must needs die. It cannot be revitalized. But it is not so with human beings. A human ruin can be repaired, strengthened, restored, though a brown leaf or a withered blade of grass can never be made green again. In the autumn of life, or even in its winter, when nature seems to be giving way under the pressure of years, it is still possible to retard the process of decay, and to lend to age more than its wonted vigor. As a means of promoting this object, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is unquestionably the most potent of all restoratives. It will not make the old young, but it will prevent, lessen, or sooth the infirmities which are the usual accompaniment of the decline of life. For debility and a lack of nervous power, from whatever cause arising, it is the medicine that of all others before the world, best deserves the name of a specific. In purity, in invigorating properties, in its adaptation to weak stomachs and feeble organizations, it has no competitor among the tonics of the pharmacopœia, nor among proprietory remedies. Besides its strengthening principles, it possesses alterative and regulating properties of the highest order, and as an anti-bilious medicine is far preferable to any of the preparations containing mercury. Time has shown that for physical decay, nervous debility, dyspepsia, bilious disorders, and intermittent fever, Hostetter's Bitters is a remedy without a rival. This is the season of the fall of the leaf; let it remind the old, the feeble, and the sickly to invigorate and regulate their systems with this great vegetable tonic and alterative.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RARE CHANCE.—Persons wanting Sewing Machines, Melodeons, Cabinet Organs, Pianos, &c., can save money by purchasing of E. A. Joy, No. 9 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H. He is selling out a large stock of New Goods, warranted perfect, at one-half and three-fourths the usual prices, in order to make room for the "Domestic" Sewing Machines, the demand for which is sufficient to require his whole attention. You can pay by small monthly installments if desirable. Second-hand Goods almost given away. Don't delay, for he is determined that the entire stock shall be closed out as soon as possible.

FOUR EVILS.—Whoever habitually uses any alcoholic preparations as an "appetizer" will be likely to suffer from four evils, viz: an overplus of food in the stomach, impaired ability to digest it, the pangs of dyspepsia, and a doctor's bill. DR. WALKER'S VEGETABLE VINEGAR BITTERS, the great Teetotal Restorative of the age, without over stimulating the palate or irritating the stomach, imparts a healthful appetite, promotes digestion, regulates the liver and bowels, purifies the blood, and thus, instead of entailing four evils, confers four inestimable benefits.

We would direct attention to Messrs. BLISS, KEENE & Co's advertisement of CUNDURANGO, the new remedy for Cancer, Scrofula, and all diseases resulting from impure blood. The cures accomplished by this remedy, as reported, are truly marvellous. Messrs. BLISS, KEENE & Co., are regular physicians of high standing, and thoroughly reliable.

TRIALS are the common lot of humanity. Among those best to be endured is a trial of the AMERICAN HOUSE, by tourists or business men, when visiting Boston. Few who have tried the American ever seek another hôtel, finding that central, quiet, and replete with all that pertains to comfort and luxury.

The proprietors of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, Parson's Purgative Pills, and Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, have published a readable and instructive pamphlet, which may be had free at the stores.

Rufus Chapman of Liberty, Me., had a stiff leg bent at the knee, limbered and strengthened by the use of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT STATE OF NEW YORK.

ALBANY, Nov. 23, 1871.

At the request of the Continental Insurance Company of the City of New York, I have taken the earliest opportunity, since the adjournment of the National Convention of Insurance Commissioners, to investigate the affairs of the Company, and I find its condition to be as follows:

Its assets, amounting to Two Million Eight Hundred and Forty-seven Thousand Three Hundred and Seven Dollars and Fifty-four Cents, are judiciously and safely invested.

Its capital of Five Hundred Thousand Dollars is unimpaired, and it has a surplus of net assets largely in excess of the amount required to reinsure its outstanding risks, after providing for all other liabilities, including Chicago losses.

Its losses sustained at Chicago are in course of rapid adjustment, and leave the Company with abundant ability to afford indemnity to its customers, and to respond promptly to all customary claims.

The subscriptions to its voluntary addition of Five Hundred Thousand Dollars to its Capital are much greater than double the amount to which the stockholders are entitled.

Old Stanging Days Revived.

Mr. J. D. Akerman of Jackson & Co's Express, a former stage driver, started for Newburyport at 3 o'clock, Saturday morning, with two express wagons loaded with express matter for Boston, arriving at Newburyport at 7 o'clock. Exchanging his load for a similar one from Boston to Portsmouth, he returned about 2 o'clock, P. M. He also brought the body of the late Gen. Justin Dimick, which was deposited in the receiving tomb of the Proprietors' Cemetery.

The Old Light House

At Whalesback was nearly ruined by the recent storm. It was occupied at the time by Mr. Wm. H. Caswell of this city, (the keeper,) and his son Frank. We learn from Mr. Caswell that they did not escape into the new building until 9 o'clock on the morning of Thursday and remained there but six hours. All through the gale of Wednesday and Wednesday night they kept ceaseless vigil in the old tower, the peril they were in being hardly imaginable by those on terra firma who were snugly ensconced in their comfortable homes. The gathering elements portended no extreme danger at first, but the increasing fury of wind and waves as the incoming tide rose to its height soon warned them. Too late to fly for safety, they spent a terrible night of suspense. Huge volumes of water with fierce momentum dashed against the building, each shock appearing to them like the discharge of a heavy cannon. The weary hours slowly passed. Aid from without was impossible, and the awe struck men felt that their hold on life was frail, that a merciful Providence alone intervened between them and death. The building trembled at each succeeding shock from foundation to summit, but the men in their hazardous situation did not forget that the lives of a thousand other brave men were at stake. The fog bell kept up a constant clanging like a solemn knell until the immense weight which kept it in motion ran down. To rewind it was impossible, as it must be done outside the tower. One of the two safe guards set as a warning to mariners had become useless. There remained only the light to guide the watching sailors to a haven of safety. Frequent trips were made to the top of the tower and the light was kept trimmed and burning.

As morning dawned the anxious men looked out of their prison for the first opportunity to escape. At low tide each chose his time to do so. Waiting for the breaking of a wave they immediately dashed across and were safe. The new tower was safe from harm. There, a dripping of water only was heard as the waves rolled against its unmovable surface. The wind veering to the north-east, the waves were sent against the towers in line instead of between them and the men returned in a few hours to the old tower for food. Mr. Caswell says one more such tide as that of Wednesday afternoon would have swept this tower into the ocean. As soon as practicable, they took a look outside their prison and realized more fully their great deliverance. Both boats had been smashed, leaving their stems hanging to the davits; three of the iron straps and the iron ladder were torn away, and the immense bell weight of 1800 pounds had been moved along the foundation in a northwest direction for the space of ten feet! Two of the foundation stones were broken in two and the whole structure was loosened. Mr. Caswell lifted one of them and could have pushed it into the sea with his hands. The other can be also thrown overboard by means of a crowbar. With these stones gone the tower would have toppled over and the keeper and his son would have perished in their stone bound prison. Mr. Caswell states that the old light must be discontinued, as he knows of no one so foolhardy as to keep it. His remembrances of that awful day and night are most vivid and all the wealth in the world would not tempt him to pass another night during a storm in such a shaky structure.

The Mayoralty.

No decided action of approval of the movement in favor of the nomination of Hon. Horton D. Walker for the candidacy for Mayor being taken by that gentleman, the friends of Alderman Thomas E. O. Marvin have organized a powerful influence in his behalf, and are enthusiastically pressing his nomination.

The First Train

From Boston over the Eastern Railroad since Wednesday A. M., arrived here at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, having left Boston at 3 o'clock. The missing newspapers from the rest of the world came by legions and furnished a plentiful supply of Sunday reading. Trains now run regularly—and Portsmouth feels relieved.

Sudden Death.

Mr. George Whitehouse, master mason, was suddenly taken ill at his residence on Islington Street about 11 o'clock, A. M., of Sunday, and died shortly after. He had enjoyed good health up to the day before his death and was at his work on Saturday as usual, but was unwell at noon of that day. His sudden decease will be lamented by a large circle of friends, who will sadly miss their happy hearted companion, who always had a good word and cordial greeting for all. His age was about fifty-three years.

Fire.

About 15 minutes past 5 o'clock, Sunday morning, an alarm was caused by the partial burning of the old building owned by Mr. Leonard Cotton, corner of Fleet and Hanover streets. It was the work of an incendiary, and was set in two places. The old building is no ornament to the neighborhood or the city, and like other old rattle-traps is a standing menace to other buildings in its immediate vicinity, from the "terrible temptation" it offers to the incendiary to indulge his spirit of malicious mischief. The damage done by the fire is small. The fire being in the neighborhood of City Marshal Johnson's house was promptly arrested and confined to the premises.

The Brennans

Gave their fourth and last performance at the Temple on Saturday evening, and had a very good audience. The stormy weather, Thursday, and the Lyceum lecture together made a large reduction on their probable audience that evening, and there was plenty of room to spare; but on Friday and Saturday evenings they were very well patronized. Their performances are unexceptionable and perfectly free from vulgarity in speech, dress or posture; the characterization is all good, and much of it first class; the views of Irish scenery are well executed and beautiful, and the superior singing and acting of the Brennans make up an entertainment varied and pleasing in the highest degree. When so many shows are travelling about the country, depending for their success on immodesty in dress and indecency in expression, such entertainments as this,—amusing and instructive yet containing nothing liable to crimson the most sensitive cheek—deserve abundant patronage and support.

The Storm.

Great damage was done at York Beach the waves dashing up to the piazzas of the cottages and washing off a large quantity of cordwood and lumber ready for shipment. About 200 cords of wood and 52,000 feet of lumber were swept away at Ogunquit harbor in York.

The new road across the marsh to Wells Beach, and the Wells River bridge, were destroyed by the high tides. The granite sea wall and the land to within twelve feet of the Atlantic House are washed away. It will require several thousand dollars to repair the damage.

U. S. Steamer Speedwell returned to this Station, Saturday afternoon. Her officers report that there is no wreck on the coast, east or west for 30 miles, but the ocean is full of drift debris and the water is very thick within 30 miles of the shore. A stream of water 15 miles long was seen issuing from the Merrimac River, off Newburyport. They spoke several vessels to the Eastward of Boon-Island and learned that there were no wrecks between there and Portland. The Speedwell proceeded to Milk Island bar and returned. Old Ocean is reported in one of its most turbulent moods and the vessels in sight were carrying very little sail on account of the roughness of the sea, which has but partially subsided.

—A little girl not far from Schenectady, after noticing for some time the glittering gold filling in her aunt's front teeth, exclaimed, "Aunt Mary, I wish I had copperhead teeth like yours."

—An applicant for the position of domestic in a Danbury (Conn.) family was asked if she understood how to use kerosene. Her reply exceeded the most sanguine expectations: "Use it, is it?" she exclaimed in a tone of reproachful explanation; "give me a can of karyosane, and I'd never ask for the hift of a shayin'." She was not engaged.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the destruction of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Obstructions of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them dispose it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair, and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the glossy and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

PUTTING AWAY AN OLD HUSBAND.—The poisoning of Barnabas Wagoner, at Upper Sandusky, Ohio, by a mercenary, hired by the wife, is one of the most shocking events in modern criminal history. The whole account reads more like an incident of the sixteenth century, when the taking off of an individual whose existence thwarted the interest or desires of another was a matter of course. The Wagoner case illustrates the old story of the lack of harmony between May and December, but carried out to the bitter end, the uncongeniality resulting from the disparity of the ages of the mated but unmatched pair, first producing neglect and cruelty and culminating in a desire to remove the hated object by anticipating an event which in the course of Nature could not have been delayed much longer. The fact that but four or five thousand dollars—all the property owned by the murdered man—was the prize for the devilish work, would encourage the notion that something other than cupidity and dislike of the husband had instigated the woman, but there was no evidence given of the existence of an "affinity."

The testimony at the inquest showed that every particle of affection for Wagoner on the part of the wife had been lost, if it ever existed. She became a secret of her feelings, and had before others threatened to break her husband's neck, and openly declared that she married him only for his money. She hated the man but loved his pelf, and therefore adopted, as she thought, an effectual method for gratifying both feelings, by putting away the one and retaining the other. She, however, lacked the courage to personally carry out her plan; but a ready instrument was at hand, in the shape of a Dr. Froeming, who undertook to "physic" the old husband with strychnine for the magnificent sum of two hundred dollars, and that part of the arrangement was faithfully carried out, the old gentleman obediently succumbing after one dose from this modern Esculapian bravo.

A brother of the woman was also, according to the doctor's confession, engaged in the deed, he having acted as the go-between to settle the terms and manner of the murder. It is presumable that had not the woman's sympathy over-ridden her prudence she would now be an unencumbered young widow, to whom the few thousand dollars for which she risked her present and future welfare, would have given additional charms in the eyes of many a bucolic admirer, unconscious that they were the wages of death. But when the deed was done the pay was not forthcoming, and, in revenge, the disgusted doctor betrayed the whole affair, in which he appears to think he had been very much ill used. It is do not turn out a case of simple black-mailing on the part of the doctor—though his self-crimination is altogether opposed to such a theory—the case will be worthy to rank with the most celebrated causes that ever came under judicial notice, and furnish a theme for sensational novel and dramatic writers to exercise their genius upon.

—"Blind for fifty years and the father of eight children," was the placard fastened around the neck of a young girl who was soliciting alms in the streets of Taunton a few days ago.

—A negro girl meddled with some bottles in a Louisville apothecary store and was laid out by a sniff of hartshorn. As she thought she was poisoned the druggist kindly gave her an emetic.

—A Louisville lady was relieved of a tumor weighing twenty-one pounds by the operation known as ovariotomy, a few days ago. The most remarkable feature of the case is that the patient took no anæsthetic, but was perfectly conscious throughout.

—A Mr. Cross of Huntsville, Tennessee, who was cross indeed, got mad with his horse a few days ago and was about to shoot it when a neighbor remonstrated. Mr. Cross resented this interference with an axe, but the neighbor smoothed him down with a revolver.

—As Frederick De Costa, editor of the Spanish paper Agonista, was passing the corner of Exchange place and Broadway, New York, a Cuban, name unknown, threw a large tin-pail full of filth into his face and escaped. Mr. De Costa stood with blinded eyes until some gentlemen put him in a cab.

—There is a needle factory at New Haven, where the whole process of changing a coil of wire into needles is performed by a single machine, which turns out 30,000 to 40,000 needles per day, while another machine arranges the heads and points together, and a third piece of mechanism puts them into paper.

—Within five months Rev. Mr. Brock buried his wife, engaged himself to three women, married one of them, was sued for breach of promise by one of the others, got a divorce and married the one who sued him for the breach of promise, was tried by an ecclesiastical council and suspended from conference, then went and joined the Campbellite Church, and he and his third wife were both baptized. It is almost unnecessary to add that this happened in Indiana.

—Little Jessie had been doing something with her mamma had told her she mustn't do. She had been eating currants and of course got her mouth all stained. That's the way she was found out. Her mother said, "You know you were forbidden to eat currants?" "But, mother, Satan tempted me!" "Why didn't you say get thee behind me Satan?" "I did say get thee behind me Satan; and he went and got behind me and pushed me right into the current bushes."

OFFICE OF
FISK & HATCH,
BANKERS & FINANCIAL AGENTS
OF THE
Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company,
No. 5 Nassau Street, New York.

The rails are being laid on the Western Division of 100 miles of the Extension of this

GREAT EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINE,

which in a short time will be ready for general travel and traffic, and for the transportation of Kanawha coal to the Ohio River for the Western markets.

The earnings of the Eastern Division of 227 miles as a local road, awaiting the completion of the Middle Division of 100 miles, will reach, this year, nearly $600,000.

The total cost of the entire road, and the large equipment required for its minerals and through traffic, will be fully $30,000,000.

The total amount of the FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, which we are now selling, is FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS, of which only about FOUR MILLIONS remain unsold, the proceeds of which, with the Cash on hand, will be ample for the Completion of the Entire Line.

The inducements they offer to investors are:

A perfect security.

Great popularity and a high price when the road is finished.

The same rate of interest as Five-twenties.

Principal and interest both payable in United States gold coin in New York City.

Their present low price (93 and accrued interest from Nov. 1,) which is about 20 per cent. less than Five-twenties, with equal certainty of payment of interest and principal.

We recommend them to our friends and customers with the same confidence with which we have always recommended the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT and the CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS.

We continue to buy and sell CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS at the market price, and fully expect they will, in time, reach the price of Five-twenty Bonds. They are dealt in at all the principal money-centres of the world; the Company have now left, and can issue but little more, on their Main Line, as the amount was fixed by act of Congress at $25,885,000; the property pledged to secure the bondholders is the net receipts of the road for the year will be nearly three times the interest payable upon them.

WORTH FULLY ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS;

The CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are issued in $100, $500, $1000; either coupon or registered; interest, six per cent., gold, payable May and November.

The CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS are all for $1000 each; interest, six per cent., gold, payable January and July, in New York City.

We buy and sell FIVE-TWENTIES, TEN-FORTIES, EIGHTY-DOLLARS, and CENTRAL PACIFICS, or receive them in payment for CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS at their current market price.

For the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by Express (Company's Messenger) at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express free of charge.

Deposit accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, subject to draft or orders payable on presentation, without notice, the same as at a National Bank.

Certificates of Deposit bearing interest at special rates to be agreed upon, will be issued to Savings Banks, Institutions, Trustees of Estates, and others having sums of money awaiting investment.

Orders for Investment Stocks and Bonds executed at the Stock Exchange. Government Securities bought and sold, as usual, at current market rates.

Tickets also for sale in every prominent place in the U. S.

Owing to the general derangement of mails and advertisements consequent on the disastrous conflagrations in the West, the sale of tickets in this enterprise is postponed to Nov. 30, 1871, at which time the main office, 120 Main St., Louisville, Ky., will close for adjustment of accounts and business. No orders except by mail will be received after Dec. 1st, and no orders by mail will be filled after Dec. 10th. The New York office will close Dec. 10th; other Agencies Dec. 5th. Every ticket issued Dec. 15th will be cancelled by the drawer. The drawing will take place in public, Dec. 16th, 1871, commencing at 7 A. M., and continue until the 721 gifts are awarded. Payment of awards will commence Dec. 19, at 9 o'clock A. M. Circulars of awards will be found at every Agency as soon as they can be issued correctly, and will also be sent to all ticket buyers as soon as possible. No order will be filled at the main office for less than $10. CHAS. R. PETERS, Manager.

DOWN ON HIS LUCK.

BY FRANK OLIVE.

This yar luck is sometimes runs to a way that's surprisin';
There's days, now and then, when a man's luck is pine,
And days w hen the cussest can't lay up a cent,
Along all' alings sowing to such an extent.

'Twas in Vicksburg, one event, that Joe Bazmo' a struck
One of' hose yar blamed streaks of ornery luck;
Which Joe himself 'lowed he was never tuk down
Any' rass than he was in that ramshackle town

For the liveliest muscle and easiest lip,
Joe, kerried the broom on the Mississip;
A ad—pervidin' he hadn't tuk more'n a cog in—
He was built to tak a slog under the wagin.

Ye mought seek a month without findin' a limb
That was able to get away with him.

The night I allude to I'd ewe on a small toot,
'N' he wore he was spilin' to whop some gallioot!

He went around town from saloon to saloon,
Sayin', "I am Joe Bannon, I'm down, keer a dam!"
Such remarks seldom is of perjacin' a smart,
'N' Joe was quite sudden drapped over a bar!

He was harnessed so lively he hadn't no show,
By a sel-nee' p.h., which he done it to Joe;
And he everlastin'ly mobbed that flor
With Joe, till he didn't prefer any more.

Five times that night Joe tried in on,
But each mustended like number one.

He was disappointed and sad and mad,
Along of the shocks that his feelin's had had.

Gwine back to the levee, he been secont
A cripple, which one of his logs he had lost.

Says Joe, "Yon's a crip, which I know I kin whop him,"
'N' just for a change I reckon I'll hop on I!"

But I'm cussed if that crip didn't party much
Best Joe's grandsun with his one leg!

Leastwise, that is what the tend dun said—
If they chucked a lead doberin the top of his head.

Buffalo Courier.

AN EXCITING RAILROAD RACE.—The Rochester Democrat correspondent of the Utica Herald tells the following as having occurred last week:

Four freight cars, heavily laden with lumber and merchandise, had been brought up to the junction near Canaseraga by a contrary train. They were reckelessly uncoupled on a grade of eighty-five feet to the mile, and immediately began backing toward Dansville. They gained momentum at a fearful rate, and all efforts to stop them by throwing rails and other obstructions upon the track were ineffective. A train had left Dansville five eight minutes before, and every one was well aware that the heavy freight cars would make a tremendous crashing to its rear. For a minute the engine of the east train stood on a switch, and Engineer Farrell at once determined to give the flying cars a chase. All hands mount to the work of duty, the signal is given, and a race for life is begun. There is awful danger ahead, for if the workmen should have the rails up, or the flying cars therein-then should leave the track, every man would be in pieces in an instant. Side after side the cars are kept up, and the locomotive glides inch by inch.

At last the fugitives are overtaken; the critical moment has come. A mistake and all is over; the flying cars will only be lessened in their flight by the collision. But the firemen and trackman are scrambling down from the seat of the tender, one with the drawbar, and one with the coupling-pin. The cars touch; the drawbar, skillfully guided, enters the socket, and the pin drops to its place! The danger is over, the speed gradually checked, and in a few minutes the engine and the rescued cars are again bombing the grade to Cassville. The deed of the engineer and his faithful assistants was one of true heroism and will long be remembered by those in the crowded passenger train which was half a few hundred feet in advance of them, and whose lives they saved at the imminent risk of their own.

BY ALL MEANS.—A sharewish wife, quite sick, called her husband to come and sit by her bed-side.

"This is a sad world, my dear," said the man, plaintively.

"Yes," sobbed the man.

"Were it not for leaving you I should love to quit it."

"Oh, do!" sobbed the lady, hopefully.

"Do, dear," gently responded the fellow, "do you not think I would interfere with your happiness? Go by all means."

The lady got well.

—This is the way the Chicago Post describes the manner of death in a duel:

"Resolution sent to sleep.
His brains on a paper.
Everybody concerned.
Surgeon on the spot."

In another place the Post says: "There have been 117 cables published in this city since the fire—311 of the females. Hitherto, New Chicago."

—Mr. Sadlier, of London, has recently invented a street lamp, with a reflector looking-glass arranged in the form of a hollow cone, to reflect the light upon the pavement. He thinks, if it be the accuracy of the light which would otherwise have gone out of the house. The results of experiments on the lamp, it is said, show that the street receives three times as much light as with the present lamps of the city.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worm, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the sys em of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawfeb16

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Also! instead of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergoes mechanic ga change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parents heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horrors of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often, Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands Flushing of the Body, Eruptions of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Specs Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of SIGHT, Want of Attention, Great Nervous Debility, Restlessness, with Horrors of Sleep, Sometimes more decided symptoms of Paralysis, but seldom, and nothing more dread, Fear of Exposure, no confidence in anything, no energy, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES—SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Spanish Prices of Dr Wilson at the Museum of Anatomy, this and cases of cures were published. Reason has for a time been restored to both, and perhaps deaths of cases of insanity, which at set twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor gladness visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief begoile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no fluid like it. It is an elixir of life to the invalid and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Buy no more of those pills and those cheap decoctions which are composed of which are proposed by some dyspeptic, for dyspeptic ingredients. Buchu is for sale at "every place" and "cheap as others" are. They are miserable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

STEAM SAFES

AGAIN

TRIUMPHANT!

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct., 7th, 1871.

AM. STEAM SAFE CO.,

GENTS: LAMBERT, Manager, 307 Broadway, N. Y.

Gentlemen: The Binghamton Planing Mill and Furniture Factory, with all its valuable and other large buildings, were totally destroyed by fire last night. The Steam Safe (No. 7) were in the office, and such a fire! Roof, floors, walls and Ceiling, fell to the city, and in the morning 300 men went through the ruins for the new 1 till has the heaviest, hottest fire I was exposed to with some from the city, and when opened

Political.

The Troy (N. Y.) Press (Democratic) says: "We are frank to confess that whatever may have been the hopes of Democratic partizans for carrying the Presidential election next year on a strictly partizan platform, the result of the elections for this year has most thoroughly dissipated them."

ACCIDENT.—As the quarter before seven o'clock train on the Boston and Maine Railroad was approaching the Reading, Mass., station on Friday evening, the wife of Mr. James Baker attempted to cross the track, when she was struck by the engine and instantly killed. She had been warned by the flagman that she had no time to cross, but disregarded the warning. She was about 40 years of age, and had for many years resided near the station.

GOOD.—The announcement is made that since the return of Rev. Mr. Alger his condition has so improved that his physician considers his not a case of chronic but acute mania, which will probably disappear on his restoration to physical health.

THE CATHOLICS at Hunter's Point, N. Y., have threatened violence against the public schools in the first ward, in that place, on account of the Bible being read there. The police were detailed to protect the building on Friday.

TWEED owns the Metropolitan House, New York. Such is his unpopularity that for two months past the house has been entirely empty. He has lost nearly two hundred thousand dollars.

GRAND DUKE ALEXIS of Russia arrived at New York on Sunday in Steamer Svetland.

New Publications.

The December number of the Atlantic Monthly contains articles of exceptional power and worth. Bret Harte's story, "The Princess Bob and her Friends" is the best thing from his pen during the year. John Fiske contributes a paper on "Light and Darkness." Mr. De Forest finishes the story of Kate Beaumont. Mr. Field's "Whispering Gallery" gives pleasant reminiscences of Wordsworth and Miss Mitford. E. H. H. are the initials subscribed to an entertaining sketch of "A Japanese Doctor and his Works." Clarence King writes about "Shasta." The number is a rich one and appropriately concludes a very successful volume.

Our Young Folks for December contains the conclusion of "Jack Hazard and His Fortunes" and the January number will contain the beginning of a new story by the same author, entitled, "A Chance for Himself," in which some of Jack Hazard's acquaintances will reappear. The other stories, and the poems, sketches and pictures of the number are very interesting.

The December number of Harper's Monthly, the first of the forty-fourth volume, gives abundant evidence of prosperity without the publishers announcement of a circulation of 130,000 copies. It opens with an article on "The Eternal City," by Lyman Abbott, illustrated by sixteen good engravings of the ruins and other interesting scenes of Rome. "The Haunted Lake," by Constance Fenimore, is a sketch of Fenimore Cooper's life of Cooperstown and its associations with Otsego Lake. It has thirteen illustrations. Dr. I. I. Hayes tells about the "Old Norse Colonies of Greenland," and A. E. Carrell of "The First American Exploring Expedition." Dr. Samuel Osgood contributes a paper entitled "The Arithmetic of God." "The American Baron", is concluded, and there are short stories by Mrs. Harriet Prescott Spofford, William J. Flagg, D. R. Castleton, Rosamond Dale Owen and the author of Won, not Wooed. The "Editor's Easy Chair" pleasantly discourses of several topics having present interest, and the other regular departments are full of various instructive and entertaining miscellany. For sale by E. G. Adams, J. H. Foster, Foster Shores & Co., and Wm. B. Lowd.

Wood's Household Magazine for December is one of our brightest and cheeriest visitants for the month.—Its publishers have recently purchased "Our Magazine," published by Maj. General Kilpatrick and Wm. R. Mattison at Newton, N. J., and "The Eclectic," published at Cincinnati by Dr. J. M. Scudder. The December number will be mailed free. Address S. S. Wood & Co., Newburg, N. Y.

The December number of The Nursery is now ready for the waiting children who find so much real delight in its simple literature and pretty pictures. They will not think the last number in any respect inferior to the previous ones. For next year the publishers promise a tempting array of good things. We know nothing likely to be a more acceptable present to a child old enough to be pleased by pictures and not yet educated to an appreciation of the excellent writing in "Our Young Folks," than the monthly numbers or the bound volumes of this little magazine.

The December number of Oliver Optic's Magazine is so tempting in its contents, that "our boys and girls" will be anxious to subscribe for another year. It is seldom that one periodical contains so much that is good, and in such variety. In this number, Optic, Kellogg, and Sophie May finish their charming stories; there is poetry, both serious and comic, scientific articles, choice sketches, travel and adventure, a profusion of pictures, puzzles enough to satisfy the most exacting, chit-chat with correspondents, "pigeon-hole-papers" on various topics, a lively piece of music, and other good things "too numerous to mention." Published by Lee & Shepard, 149 Washington Street, Boston. $2.50 a year.

The Lady's Friend for December is a Christmas number of surpassing attractiveness. Two steel engravings, a brilliant colored fashion plate, and numerous fine wood-cuts illustrating stories, fashions and fancy work, make a rich array of embellishments. The frontispiece, "Peace be unto this House!" is a most appropriate Christmas subject, finely conceived, and artistically executed. The announcement that Mrs. Wood will begin a new story, "Within the Maze; or, Lady Audinnian's Trial," in the January number, will be welcome to her numerous admirers. It will run the whole of next year. $2 a year. "The Lady's Friend" and the "Saturday Evening Post," $4. Published by Deacon & Peterson, Philadelphia.

Peters' Musical Monthly for December is at hand, containing nineteen choice pieces of vocal and instrumental music, all of which can be had for 30 cents. Bound volumes for 1871 are offered, post-paid, for $5. They come elegantly bound in crimson cloth, gilt sides and edges, and are guaranteed to contain $50 worth of choice piano music. (some 200 pieces.) If ordered per express, $4.50 will secure it. We would advise all those seeking holiday presents to bear this work in mind. Music is always a proper present to a lady, and in no other shape can the same amount of good music be bought. It is published by J. L. Peters, 599 Broadway, New York.

THE CRUELTY OF SLAVERY has passed into history, yet many years must elapse ere its traces disappear. As time rolls on the American people question each other more and more as to their former blindness and hardness of heart in allowing such an accursed system to exist for any length of time in a nation governed by its own citizens. We copy the following from the New Orleans Republican, showing a vestige of the barbarism of ten years ago.

My Mother.—My mother was raised in Virginia. There were three of us children, Sally, Manuel and Laura, the baby, two months old. Our owner, Mr. Royal, who was a kind master, died, and I saw my mother and all the children sold for his debts, and the family scattered. Even baby was torn from mother, and its little hands stretched towards her, and I heard its cries as they took it from her arms, and she was denied the last request to nurse it. Mr. Mathias, who bought mother and two children, but afterwards permitted this cruel separation, will remember. If any one knows where my mother can be found, if living, he will confer a great kindness on me by sending word to SALLY.
Menger House, San Antonio, Texas.

PROTECTING TELEGRAPH POLES.—One of the great obstacles standing in the way of the execution of some of the grandest projects of modern civilization, such for instance as the proposed plan for reaching India in five days from England, is the probability of mischief being done either maliciously or ignorantly to rails, telegraph wires, etc. According to the Independent, a Chilian journal, the authorities of that country have hit upon a shrewd expedient to protect the telegraphic wires and posts from the Indians who were perpetually injuring them, as much from a wish to interrupt the communications between the military posts on the frontier. About fifty of these Indians had been captured by the troops of General Pinto. This officer had them taken to the wires which had been laid along along the ground. "You see these wires?" said he. "I have had them laid down that you may not touch the posts or come within reach of them; for if you touch them you will not be able to let them go." The Indians smiled incredulously. "You do not believe it?" said the general. "Well, you will see. Put your hands on the wires." The Indians obeyed, and a signal from the general an electrical battery with which the wires communicated was brought into play. "Now let go if you can," said the general. "It is impossible," said the Indians. "You see that I am right; do you swear to me never again to touch these posts?" "Yes, yes!" said the Indians. The battery now ceased to act, and the redskins were able to draw away their hands. The general then set them at liberty, at the same time enjoining secrecy; but, as he confidently expected, the prisoners made all haste to inform their brethren of the mysterious property of the wires, and since that time the telegraphic service has had nothing to fear.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RARE CHANCE.—Persons wanting Sewing Machines, Melodeons, Cabinet Organs, Pianos, &c., can save money by purchasing of E. A. Joy, No. 9 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H. He is selling out a large stock of New Goods, warranted perfect, at one-half and three-fourths the usual prices, in order to make room for the "Domestic" Sewing Machines, the demand for which is sufficient to require his whole attention. You can pay by small monthly installments if desirable. Second-hand Goods almost given away. Don't delay, for he is determined that the entire stock shall be closed out as soon as possible.

FOUR EVILS.—Whoever habitually uses any alcoholic preparations as an "appetizer" will be likely to suffer from four evils, viz: an overplus of food in the stomach, impaired ability to digest it, the pangs of dyspepsia, and a doctor's bill. DR. WALKER'S VEGETABLE VINEGAR BITTERS, the great Vegetable Tonic of the age, without over stimulating the palate or irritating the stomach, imparts a healthful appetite, promotes digestion, regulates the liver and bowels, purifies the blood, and thus, instead of entailing four evils, confers four inestimable benefits.

We would direct attention to Messrs. BLISS, KEENE & Co's advertisement of CUNDURANGO, the new remedy for Cancer, Scrofula, and all diseases resulting from impure blood: The cures accomplished by this remedy, as reported, are truly marvellous. Messrs. BLISS, KEENE & Co., are regular physicians of high standing, and thoroughly reliable.

The proprietors of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, Parson's Purgative Pills, and Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, have published a readable and instructive pamphlet, which may be had free at the stores.

Rufus Chapman of Liberty, Me., had a stiff leg bent at the knee, limbered and strengthened by the use of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

BETTER AND CHEAPER.

THAN ANY OTHER

Boots or Shoes;

THOSE FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE.

BETTER—Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

CHEAPER—Because, while their first cost is not in excess of sewed or pegged work of a like grade, their Durability is far greater, they preserve their Shape much better, and the metallic fastening insures a more Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

AWFUL DEFEAT!!!

The rout complete! The last hope of the parties who have been getting up SCALP POISONS to compete with

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

is lost, lost, lost! Still, it towers over all rivals, new and old. Still, it remains the STANDARD HAIR DYE OF THE COUNTRY. Still, tens of thousands of heads that once showed the white flag,

Carry Cristadoro's Colors,

and the course of the dye of dyes is ever upward and onward. So much for excellence, wholesomeness, and a true reproduction of Nature's tints. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

Arrest Decay.

When a plant or a tree begins to decay it must needs die. It cannot be revitalized. But it is not so with human beings. A human ruin can be repaired, strengthened, restored, though a brown leaf or a withered blade of grass can never be made green again. In the autumn of life, or even in its winter, when nature seems to be giving way under the pressure of years, it is still possible to retard the process of decay, and to lend to age more than its wonted vigor. As a means of promoting this object, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is unquestionably the most potent of all restoratives. It will not make the old young, but it will prevent, lessen, or sooth the infirmities which are the usual accompaniment of the decline of life. For debility and a lack of nervous power, from whatever cause arising, it is the medicine that of all others before the world, best deserves the name of a specific. In purity, in invigorating properties, in its adaptation to weak stomachs and feeble organizations, it has no competitor among the tonics of the pharmacopœia, nor among proprietory remedies. Besides its strengthening principles, it possesses alterative and regulating properties of the highest order, and as an anti-bilious medicine is far preferable to any of the preparations containing mercury. Time has shown that for physical decay, nervous debility, dyspepsia, bilious disorders, and intermittent fever, Hostetter's Bitters is a remedy without a rival. This is the season of the fall of the leaf; let it remind the old, the feeble, and the sickly to invigorate and regulate their systems with this great vegetable tonic and alterative.

Lost—a Veil.
Ward Three Republican Caucus.

The Republicans

Are to meet in convention for the nomination of a candidate for Mayor, this evening at the State Street Ward Room, and we presume the nominee will be heartily supported by the party at the polls on Tuesday next. Messrs. Walker, Marvin and Nowell have enthusiastic friends, and a large vote will be polled. The caucus is called at an early hour, five o'clock, P. M., closing at eight o'clock, when the vote will be announced. There being heretofore some doubt as to the acceptance of the nomination by Hon. Horton D. Walker, should he receive it, we are pleased to announce that Mr. Walker "is in the hands of his friends" and will not refuse to accept the nomination should it be tendered him. All statements to the contrary are untrue. We are desired by Frank W. Miller, Esq., to state that he does not wish his name used in the Caucus, and is not a candidate for the nomination.

Communcated.

It is well known that at the nomination of our present mayor two years since, Mr. Thomas S. Nowell held the next strongest position as candidate for the same office. That there might be no obstacle in the way of a successful election, Mr. Nowell withdrew from the canvass, using his personal influence in behalf of Mr. Adams. His claims for the succeeding nomination were then in advance urged by his friends, and the Adams party tacitly agreed to the condition. The time to redeem the promise has now arrived and Mr. Nowell's friends claim and confidently expect for him the unswerving support of the party at caucus and election. His business success is well known, his public spirit and energy are sufficiently evinced in his every day life, while his career hitherto as alderman proves that blindness and heedless haste are no part of his policy. A young man, attached to his party, radical yet not an extremist, standing A. 1 in business repute, a staunch and tried conservator of the public interest, he comes to the polls with a record and with claims inferior to none. Such a record must insure his success. WARD TWO.

His record shows that during four years of public service Alderman Marvin has performed the duties of the positions he has occupied promptly and well. When any question of importance has claimed the attention of the City Government he has always been cool and cautious, never given to hasty advocacy of any public measure, always desiring to know the public will before committing the city to any enterprise or line of policy; he is therefore safe and reliable. As a politician all know which side he is on. He has never been defeated as a candidate for any office to which he has aspired, neither has he ever ran behind his ticket at any election, excepting last Fall when a citizens' ticket was run in opposition to him. As a candidate for the office of Mayor, for which position his service in both branches of the municipal government has qualified him, he is popular and stands a good chance of nomination at the caucus to-night. His friends are zealous and will rally in full numbers.

A VOTER.

Washburn's Last Sensation,

Which created such a good reputation here a year or two since, is coming again this evening with eighteen new stars, and everything new, save the gymnastic troupe, and in capital order and complete condition, in which Washburn is famous. It is patronized by fashionable people wherever it has been given, as well as by those who habitually attend exhibitions, and all unite in pronouncing it complete, chaste, and highly entertaining. It will appear at Newmarket to-morrow evening.

Prime Cider.

The publication of Mr. G. H. Jenness' method of making cider has had the tendency to awaken a general interest among cider makers, and we do not hesitate to act as umpire in testing the products of the various methods. We feel especially partial to that nine months production of Charles Main, Esq., in the shape of champagne cider, the taste of which lingered after the bottles were empty.

Mr. Henry B. Remick,

The Artist, has on exhibition at the Congress Block Book Store, a fine crayon picture of the residence of Dr. A. P. Stevens at Greenland, which was recently burned.

Naval.

Gunner Thompson has been detached from this yard and ordered to Washington.

How's This?

A dispatch to the Associated Press says "the wife of a young mechanic in Portsmouth has borne four children since February, of which three were triplets born on Friday—one boy and two girls—but all died in a few hours, the birth being premature."

Seabrook.

Policeman Abraham Perkins of South Seabrook started out on Saturday evening "to have a little fun with the boys," and the boys, to show their appreciation of his condescension, transferred his badge from his breast to a position in which it would be best seen when he was going away. Abraham was afterwards inveigled into a little unpleasantness, by which the majesty of the law was seriously damaged, though Abraham was not. Steps are being taken by the citizens to have the hilarious officer removed.

For some weeks past the Seabrook farmers have suffered so much from the wood gatherers' change of front, consequent on the energetic action of the Salisbury (Mass.) Thief Detecting Society, that they have had the State laws concerning fences and woodlands printed for general distribution.

In years past Thanksgiving Day has been very generally celebrated in South Seabrook in any but a religious manner, often by a spree in which many of the inhabitants have joined; and a place called Morrills' Plains, in the woods just across the Massachusetts line, has been a grand rendevous for them—gaming tables, grog and shooting matches being the main attractions, a little fighting being introduced occasionally to give variety to the proceedings, which have usually lasted several days. The better class of the citizens of South Seabrook are taking measures to inaugurate a reform in this matter, and a meeting is called for Wednesday evening, the 22d, when the Seabrook officials will be requested to appoint special officers to prevent the recurrence of such disgraceful proceedings, and the authorities of Salisbury petitioned to enforce the laws of Massachusetts on their side of the State line.

The Storm.

The storm had a most damaging effect upon the beaches and driveways along the shore at Hampton. At a point in front of the Ocean House, the original roadbed was broken up, and north of that point great masses of stone were washed over into the marsh. This occurred on the causeway near the Granite House, and the same waves carried Mr. Dumas' Boar's Head bath houses up into the middle of the road.

At Salisbury Beach the high tide and heavy sea occasioned by last week's storm did some little damage to the cottages nearest the beach, and washed the sand from beneath the piazza of the Atlantic House. One cottage door was burst in by a wave of extra size, and the furniture in the front room washed around by the water. But the greatest havoc was among the haystacks on the marshes.

—The economist of the Fremont (Omaha) Herald presents this proposition: "It is the duty of every one to burn corn for fuel this winter. Figure like this: 300 families in this city; each family consumes $40 worth of fuel during the winter; this amounts to the snug little sum of $12,000. This money is spent for coal, goes out of the country into the hand of capitalists, and is seen no more by us. Reverse the situation: $12,000 will buy 60,000 bushels of corn at 20 cents per bushel—this amount of corn, if burned, would raise the price of corn 50 per cent., and would benefit the farmers more, perhaps, than any other move that can be made by the people."

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear; such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them dispose it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The best and most faithful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

UP-TOWN HOTELS.—Hotel life, as regulated on the European plan, is getting to be a great social feature in our leading cities. Ten years ago, there was hardly a hotel in the city where a family could locate itself with any degree of domestic privacy for a season. But now we count up at least half a dozen where persons desiring a comfortable home, without the trouble of housekeeping, can secure all that is desirable in a private residence, with no increase of expense, and with a thorough redemption from all household care.

Among these establishments those located for up-town have undoubtedly the greatest promise of success. Indeed that has ceased to be a matter of question. The nearer you get to those fashionable thoroughfares leading to and lying near the Central Park, the more desirable seems the location for a hotel. The last one that has gone into operation in that direction is the St. Cloud. Situated on the western slope of Murray Hill, fronting Broadway in one direction, and on the thoroughfare of Forty-second street, on a line with, and in sight of, the great Central Depot, it commands three most desirable features—a highly fashionable neighborhood, convenient distance from the great traveling centre, and the command of three street railroads, any one of which can be reached in less than two minutes from the doors.

The building, too, is an imposing and thoroughly elegant structure, quite large enough when it was erected to raise a doubt if it could be specdily filled; but from the first it has done a thriving business, and since the Rand Brothers took it in hand such has been their success that another large building on Forty-second street has been added to the main building, sumptuously furnished and every floor let in suites before the adornments were completed. Another year and we may expect the adjoining mansions to drop into the establishment, and then another and another for families are still coming, and few ever change. Many of the inmates of the house have occupied the same rooms year after year since it was erected. Large windows, numerous balconies and uniform heat make almost every room of the house unusually cheerful.

The restaurant extends along three spacious and elegant rooms on 42d street, where tall and broad windows have just received the addition of display of lace curtains. All the table appointments are perfect. This department, being under the direct control of Mr. Edward Brazil, who is the best supper caterer we have, and one well versed in the St Cloud bills, and whose experience has given musical prestige to his own particular province, can scarcely be improved, for he is also a scholar, and all his ideas rationally carried out by the head waiter, Mr. Matthew Calvin, a Mr. Peter Palange the head cook. With this combined force there is no danger that the appetite will become jaded by the mere mention of the bill of fare. In the grand dining room, gold and silver tableware, which is costly, but elegant, adorns the tables. Specimens of all the meats and game served with wild and tame fowl are displayed in the lower hall, and every possible convenience for the comfort of the guests during the hot summer.

All this seems to be the result of hard and well directed work, and we have no doubt it will be a very paying return. Active business men who have gone to this hotel a good many times, and who are well and widely acquainted, assure us that the number of its inmates is increasing. One young lady, in a conversation with a gentleman of the press, said that she had visited the principal hotels in Europe, and that the St. Cloud was the most like them of any place in America. The gentleman, who is a well known traveler, and who has visited the principal hotels of Europe, and who is a gentleman of the press, said that he

PROSPECTIVE.

At a meeting of poultry
In Farmer Brown's yard,
The peace of fat chickens
Was very much marred
By an elderly hen
In a tauntingly way
Making known the appointment Of Thanksgiving day.

Said a crower, with spirit,
"You will please inform Brown
On Thanksgiving day
I shall not be in town."
"Ah, yes!" cried the peacock,
With a terrible yell,
"You'll be well dressed
At the City Hotel."

Said a slow-stepping hen,
"I'm poor as a rake,
I don't think Brown's patrons
My carcass will take."
"Oh, that will not clear you,"
Screamed a pert little chick,
"Old Brown saves the bones
For his servants to pick."

"Oh, dear," said a pullet,
"Our keeper I'll hate
Whiteon this broad earth
I'm permitted to prate,"
"Now don't be too smart,"
Quacked loudly a duck,
"You may yet hear his name
'I would be just your luck;

For in a brick oven—
The hottest in town—
They surely will keep you
Until you are browsl"
Cried the pullet in anger,
"I don't see the pun,
They had better take you,—
You were never half-done."

"Stop! Stop!" said the gobbler,
"And cease your rude noise,
Here comes Farmer Brown
With his overgrown boys."
They all became quiet
Save one foolish bird,
And she, like some woman,
Would have the last word.

Brown hearing her scolding,
The corner came round—
The very next moment
She was dead on the ground
Thus ended the meeting
In a scurrilous way;
From beginning to end
'T was considered fowl play.

AN EXCITING RAILROAD RACE.—The Richfield Springs correspondent of the Utica Herald tells the following as having occurred last week:

Four freight cars, heavily laden with lumber and merchandise, had been brought up to the junction near Cassville by a coal train. They were carelessly uncoupled on a grade of eighty-five feet to the mile, and immediately began backing toward Utica. They gained momentum at a fearful rate, and all efforts to stop them by throwing rails and other obstructions upon the track were ineffective. A train had left for Utica but eight minutes before, and every one was well aware that the heavy freight cars would, in a few moments go crashing into its rear. Fortunately the engine of the coal train stood on a switch, and Engineer Ferrell at once determined to give the flying cars a chase. All hands mount to the post of duty, the signal is given, and a fearful race is begun. There is awful danger ahead, for if the workmen should have the rails up, or the flying cars themselves should leave the track, every man would be in eternity in an instant. Mile after mile the chase is kept up, and the locomotive gains inch by inch.

At last the fugitives are overtaken; the critical moment has come. A mistake and all is over; the flying cars will only be hastened in their flight by the collision. But the fireman and brakeman are reaching down from the rear of the tender, one with the draw-bar, and one with the coupling-pin. The cars touch; the draw-bar, skillfully guided, enters the socket, and the pin drops to its place! The danger is over, the speed gradually checked, and in a few minutes the engine and the rescued cars are again climbing the grade to Cassville. The deed of the engineer and his faithful assistants was one of true heroism and will long be remembered by those in the crowded passenger train which was but a few hundred feet in advance of them, and whose lives they saved at the imminent risk of their own.

BY ALL MEANS.—A shrewish wife, quite sick, called her husband to come and sit by her bed-side.

"This is a sad world, my dear," said the wife, plaintively.

"Very," coincided the man.

"Were it not for leaving you I should love to quit it."

"By all means."

The lady got well.

—This is the way the Chicago Post celebrates the march of civilization in that city:

"Desolation continues to reign,
But Cupid keeps up his fires;
There have been 359
Marriages since the fire."

In another place the Post says: "There have been 417 babies published in this city since the fire—311 of them females. Hail to the New Shecago!"

—A Mr. Skeiton, of London, has recently invented a street lamp, with strips of lookingglass arranged in its roof, somewhat after the manner of the Venetian blind. He thus reflects into the street rays of the light which would otherwise have gone over the houses. The results of experiments on this lamp, it is said, show that the streets receive three times as much light as would fall upon it from lamps of the ordinary kind.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the [illegible] and all Dropsical of the Cincinnati Chronicle says: "Some years ago, when visiting Boston, I heard much of Miss Fanny Carter, who was called the belle of the Hub, albeit a little showy and fast for that latitude. Her portrait was on exhibition, and most of the younger portion of the community went to see it. She was certainly a very beautiful woman, and was reported to be as sprightly as beautiful, and to sing divinely. Subsequently she married Mr. Lorillard, son, or nephew, of the rich tobacconist of New York, and went with him to Europe. Next we hear of her at the Tuileries, completing, by her voice, the conquest of the Emperor, which she had already made by her beauty. Then it flashed over the world, and "society" in Europe and America was startled by the announcement that the beautiful American had done what none but an American woman would have dared to do. Seeking to rival Eugenie and the Princess Metternich, she had appeared at a court ball, her head surrounded by a halo of light proceeding from tiny jets of gas, the reservoir of which was hidden under the masses of hair which she wore.

Mr. Lorillard died, and his widow married Mr. Ronalds. It was not a happy union, and they separated. She lived much abroad, in Germany, and for a time in Tunis, where she went for her health. She held quite a little court there, being a friend and favorite of the Bey of Tunis. Happening in an artist's studio one day, in New York, I was attracted by the criticism of a lady, who stood with her back to me, on a picture we had gone there to see. She pointed out its beauties, found fault with the coloring and the light in which it was placed, and it was all done with such apparent knowledge and in so assured a manner that I asked who the lady was. She was Mrs. Ronalds, and the picture was a portrait of herself. Now she is dead, after a short, brilliant, yet checkered career. She died recently of consumption at the Isle of Wight.

—The wife of Joaquin Miller, residing at San Francisco, publishes a lengthy letter in the Oregonian, asking the public to welcome her husband as a poet and man of genius but giving her own version of their difficulties, and implying severe censure for his abandonment and neglect of herself and their children.

—The Danbury News says: "They are feeling people, those Bridgeport people are. A loving wife on the decease of her husband sent the following thrilling telegram to a distant friend: 'Dear John is dead. Loss fully covered by insurance.'"

—The small pox is raging to an alarming extent in several counties in Maryland, especially among the negroes.

—An Iowa girl of sixteen committed suicide over a quarrel with her brother about a book.

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable [illegible] and nothing but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

AM. STEAM SAFE CO.,
COLE & LAMBERT, Managers,
300 Broadway, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—"The Binghamton Planing Mill and Sash and Blind Factory," together with several other large buildings, were totally destroyed by fire last night. The Steam Safe (No. 7) made by you, and purchased one year ago from Messrs. Page & Chaffee, Agents, in this city, was in the Planing Mill, and went through the severest part of the fire; it fell into the basement, top down. Yesterday it was cooled off with water from the hydrant in the Steam Safe, (and hundreds of other citizens who saw it at a red heat and were present at the opening,) is perfect after this severe test. I shall want another Steam Safe as soon as I rebuild. Very truly yours,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1871.

Never Say Die!

In the general demoralization of the Democratic press, consequent on the result of the November elections, it is refreshing to get hold of one paper which sturdily stands up for the ancient order of things—the Union as it was and the Constitution as it isn't. The leading Democratic organ of Missouri, the St. Louis Republican, more earnestly than ever advocates its plan for defeating Grant by giving some other Republican the Democratic nomination; the Washington Patriot goes further yet, and wants the Democratic party to nominate a man whose early manhood and maturer years were spent in an uncompromising battle with Democracy and human slavery — Charles Sumner!—on the plea that the colored voters would act with more freedom than at present, and that Mr. Sumner's nomination would draw a large portion of the colored vote to the Democratic side; [the spectacle of a leading Democratic paper, published in the national capital, advocating the nomination of Charles Sumner by the Democracy as a means of enlarging the political freedom of the colored race, leaves no room for astonishment at anything else that may ever take place in this world;] but the Manchester Public Forum does not believe in any such methods of saving the Democratic party, and in commenting on the St. Louis Republican's plan says: "If it were possible for the Democratic party to adopt the course recommended, there would be no such thing as a Democratic party after the next Presidential election." This is a self-evident truth; but then, as there won't be any such thing as a Democratic party any way, after the next Presidential election, it won't really make any great difference whether that party nominates a rebel general or a life-long abolitionist as its candidate for defeat. But of the two lines of conduct, that of the Public Forum certainly commands most respect.

COLLECTOR MURPHY of New York city resigned the office of Collector of the port on Monday. General Chester A. Arthur, who succeeds to the position, is the intimate personal friend and legal counsel of the ex-collector, [illegible]

THE GRAND JURY at Chicago has commended the action of Mayor Mason in calling to his aid the services of General Sheridan at the time of the fire, and expressed the opinion that the thanks of the community are due to the latter.

DISASTERS AT SEA.—Barque Mary Baker of Boston, from Liverpool for Bermuda, and British ship Arrow, from Sierra Leone for Liverpool, have foundered with all on board.

THE REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE meets at Concord this evening.

SHERIDAN IN CHICAGO.—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette gives, in a letter written from Chicago on the 13th inst., the substance of a statement made to him by General Sheridan, at his request, from which it appears that he acted wholly under the orders of the Mayor as a special policeman; that Governor Palmer himself called on the General at his office, and congratulated him on what he had done; and Colonel Grosvenor, who was killed by the sentinel, also had been especially solicitous that General Sheridan should take charge of the city. Says the General:

"He (Grosvenor) was very persistent in asking me to do it. He came to me and urged me to do it, saying that there was no other way of saving the city except by doing so, and if I didn't do it the citizens of Chicago would compel me to. On the plgh of the shooting he was intoxicated, as I have since been informed. He was not known to the sentinel, and using bad language, and drawing a pistol, this boy thought he was only doing his duty in firing. No one can doubt the abstract right of the Mayor to raise extra police, as was done on this occasion. He is the chief executive of the city, and, as such, must take all measures to preserve the public order in grave emergencies. As a citizen I had a right to act under him, using such means as were at my disposal."

A CHANGE OF CIRCUMSTANCES.—In 1841 the following advertisement appeared in the New Orleans Picayune:

$5 Reward.—Run away from the subscribers, on the 23d of November last, the negro boy Oscar Dunn, an apprentice to the plastering trade. He is of grite color, between 20 and 21 years of age, and about 5 feet, 10 or 11 inches high. All persons are cautioned not to harbor said boy, under penalty of the law. Wilson & Patterson, corner St. John and Common streets.

"The negro boy Oscar Dunn," is now Lieutenant-Governor of Louisiana.

Correspondence.

BALTIMORE, MD., Nov. 19th.

Among the things that pays a stranger to visit while in Baltimore are the markets. There are in the city some dozen of them, but they are only occupied on certain days; that is, at one market what are called market days are Monday and Thursday, at another Tuesday and Friday, and at a third Wednesday and Saturday, and the hucksters, as the dealers are called, go from one market to the other on the different days with their truck. The idea is to accommodate the different sections of the city, it being understood that there are but very few provision stores "on the corner" here, where one can go a few steps, order his dinner and have it sent home, without any farther trouble; and it must also be understood that the ladies do the marketing here, and that when they go they take their baskets with them and after getting it filled they take it home again and in many cases it is a good long mile that they trudge along with them on their arms. No family man ever thinks of going to market here; he leaves it all with his wife, and she, good soul, regards going to market two or three times a week as much a part of her duty as is the daily sweeping of half of the street in front of her house, every morning, to help increase the windrow of rubbish which lays their in the middle of the street until a heavy rain washes it away or, what is more likely, the wind blows it back to the sidewalk before the sweeper has fully gone over her alloted space. It might be asked by some, why the city authorities don't send a cart around and take off this dirt after it has been swept up into a windrow so nicely? but that is a conundrum which none can answer but the city fathers, and they have not done it yet.

But about the markets; they are not much like Quincy Market in Boston,—they resemble a saw mill more than they do that institution. That is to say, they resemble a saw mill, inasmuch as there are no floors or windows to speak of about them; the principal part of them consists on the roof. They are literally "open markets," and in the winter it is anything but comfortable either to buyer or seller to be in them; there is nothing to prevent the cold and snow from going in, except the roof, and there are no means of heating them at all. Of course, all the meats are frozen solid on cold days, [illegible] joints. They have almost everything at these markets. On Saturday night for instance, at Lexington Market, the largest in the city, one can purchase anything from a tin whistle to a quarter of beef. A walk through the market reveals lots of queer things if one only keeps his eyes open. At one place you see a huckster skinning eels and close by you can purchase calico and stockings, tin ware, baskets and ice cream, also candy, turnips and enormous cabbages. In fact, in this market, which would fill one-half of Congress Street from the Square to Middle Street, one sees almost everything for sale that goes to make up the necessaries of life, as well as many articles which are never seen for sale in a market in any other city than Baltimore; and the crowds that are present, every one with a basket for holding their Sunday dinner, and the pretty girls — Baltimore beauties toting a basket just the same as anybody else,—all go to make up a scene which it is safe to say is not seen anywhere but in Baltimore.

At twelve o'clock the bell rings, the hucksters tumble their unsold "truck" into their wagons; soon they drive off home, and all is quiet. R.

KITTERY, ME., Nov. 21.

The Fair held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of this town, and which closed last Saturday evening at Armory Hall, was a complete success. The total receipts for the three evenings amounted to the handsome sum of $212; and after deducting all expenses, a sum not far from $175 will be carried to the credit of the society. The entertainment passed off very pleasantly. Mr. John Knox of Portsmouth became the recipient of a handsome rug, the work of Mr. Chas. Gothem; a beautiful quilt, wrought under direction of Mrs. Calvin L. Hayes, became the property of Mr. Jerome Johnson; a very choice quilt presented by Mr. Mark Waterman, (through whose liberality a handsome sum was realized) fell to the lot of Dr. A. W. Johnson; two small, colored engravings were received by a daughter of Mr. John Neal; and the prize (a fine colored engraving) for the best reader of the twenty-third Psalm was awarded to Mrs. Katie N. Gerry. The tableaux conducted by Mrs. C. L. Hayes and Mrs. Leonard Jenkins, were very interesting, and the music by Mrs. Nellie Staples was well received. The Fair reflects credit on the several committees through whose labors the grand success was achieved.

The wife of Rev. Frank Stratton, a daughter of Mr. Joseph Cox of Kittery Foreside, is very sick, and no hopes are entertained of her recovery, which causes feelings of deep sadness to her many friends in this community. S.

On the 12th, in Dover, John Hanna blew down the chimney of a kerosene lamp. The luminary blew back and its explosion burned the original blower very badly about his face and neck.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RARE CHANCE.—Persons wanting Sewing Machines, Melodeons, Cabinet Organs, Pianos, &c., can save money by purchasing of E. A. Joy, No. 9 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H. He is selling out a large stock of New Goods, warranted perfect, at one-half and three-fourths the usual prices, in order to make room for the "Domestic" Sewing Machines, the demand for which is sufficient to require his whole attention. You can pay by small monthly installments if desirable. Second-hand Goods almost given away. Don't delay, for he is determined that the entire stock shall be closed out as soon as possible.

FOUR EVILS.—Whoever habitually uses any alcoholic preparations as an "appetizer" will be likely to suffer from four evils, viz: an overplus of food in the stomach, impaired ability to digest it, the pangs of dyspepsia, and a doctor's bill. DR. WALKER'S VEGETABLE VINEGAR BITTERS, the great Teetotal Restorative of the age, without over stimulating the palate or irritating the stomach, imparts a healthful appetite, promotes digestion, regulates the liver and bowels, purifies the blood, and thus, instead of entailing four evils, confers four inestimable benefits.

The great popularity of the famous Halford Leicestershire Table Sauce is owing, in part, to its adaptation to all soups, fish and meats, making each and all more delicious to the taste. This is really the prince of superior flavors. For sale by all grocers.

The proprietors of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, Parson's Purgative Pills, and Sheridan's Cowdry Condition Powders, have published a readable and instructive pamphlet, which may be had free at the stores.

Rufus Chapman of Liberty, Me., had a stiff leg bent at the knee, limbered and strengthened by the use of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

BETTER AND CHEAPER.

THAN ANY OTHER

Boots or Shoes;

THOSE FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE.

BETTER — Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

CHEAPER—Because, while their first cost is not in excess of sewed or pegged work of a like grade, their Durability is far greater, they preserve their Shape much better, and the metallic fastening insures a more Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

AWFUL DEFEAT!!!

The rout complete! The last hope of the parties who have been getting up SCALP POISONS to compete with

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

is lost, lost, lost! Still, it towers over all rivals, new and old. Still, it remains the STANDARD HAIR DYE OF THE COUNTRY. Still, tens of thousands of heads that once showed the white flag,

Carry Cristadoro's Colors,

and the course of the dye of dyes is ever upward and onward. So much for excellence, wholesomeness, and a true reproduction of Nature's tints. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

Arrest Decay.

When a plant or a tree begins to decay it must needs die. It cannot be revitalized. But it is not so with human beings. A human ruin can be repaired, strengthened, restored, though a brown leaf or a withered blade of grass can never be made green again. In the autumn of life, or even in its winter, when nature seems to be giving way under the pressure of years, it is still possible to retard the process of decay, and to lend to age more than its wonted vigor. As a means of promoting this object, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is unquestionably the most potent of all restoratives. It will not make the old young, but it will prevent, lessen, or sooth the infirmities which are the usual accompaniment of the decline of life. For debility and a lack of nervous power, from whatever cause arising, it is the medicine that of all others before the world, best deserves the name of a specific. In purity, in invigorating properties, in its adaptation to weak stomachs and feeble organizations, it has no competitor among the tonics of the pharmacopœia, nor among proprietory remedies. Besides its strengthening principles, it possesses alterative and regulating properties of the highest order, and as an anti-bilious medicine is far preferable to any of the preparations containing mercury. Time has shown that for physical decay, nervous debility, dyspepsia, bilious disorders, and intermittent fever, Hostetter's Bitters is a remedy without a rival. This is the season of the fall of the leaf; let it remind the old, the feeble, and the sickly to invigorate and regulate their systems with this great vegetable tonic and alterative.

—Before hanging a man in Louisiana, they let from fifteen to forty reporters for the newspapers "interview" him for three weeks. The poor fellow is then not willing but anxious to be hanged.

OFFICE OF

FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS & FINANCIAL AGENTS

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company,

No. 5 Nassau Street, New York.

The rails are being laid on the Western Division of 100 miles of the Extension of this

GREAT EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINE,

which in a short time will be ready for general travel and traffic, and for the transportation of Kanawha coal to the Ohio River for the Western markets.

The earnings of the Eastern Division of 227 miles as a local road, awaiting the completion of the Middle Division of 100 miles, will reach, this year, nearly $800,000.

The total cost of the entire road, and the large equipment required for its miscellaneous and through traffic, will be fully $30,000,000.

The total amount of the FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, which we are now selling, is FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS, of which only about FOUR MILLIONS remain unsold, the proceeds of which, with the Cash on hand, will be ample for the Completion of the Entire Line.

The same rate of interest as Five-twenties.

Principal and interest both payable in United States gold coin in New York City.

Their present low price (93 and accrued interest from Nov. 1,) which is about 20 per cent. less than Five-twenties, with equal certainty of payment of interest and principal.

We recommend them to our friends and customers with the same confidence with which we have always recommended the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT and the CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS.

We continue to buy and sell CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS at the market price, and fully expect they will, in time, reach the price of Five-twenty Bonds. They are dealt in at all the principal money-centres of the world; the Company have none left, and can issue no more, on their Main Line, as the amount was fixed by act of Congress at $26,885,000; the property pledged to secure the bondholders is the net receipts of the road for the year will be nearly three times the interest payments thereon.

WORTH FULLY ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS;

The CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are issued in $100, $500, $1000; either coupon or registered; interest, six per cent., gold, payable May and November.

The CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS are all for $1000 each; interest, six per cent., gold, payable January and July, in New York City.

We buy and sell FIVE-TWENTIES, TEN-FORTIES, EIGHTY-ONES, and CENTRAL or WESTERN PACIFICS, or receive them in payment for CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS at their current market price.

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

Deposit accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum. Checks drawn on us are payable on presentation, without notice, the same as at a National Bank.

Certificates of Deposit, bearing interest at special rates to be agreed upon, will be issued to Savings Banks, Institutions, Trustees of Estates, and others having sums of money awaiting investment.

Orders for Investment Stocks and Bonds executed at the Stock Exchange. Government Securities bought and sold, as usual, at current market rates. FISK & HATCH.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Republican Caucus.

The caucus for the nomination of a candidate for Mayor was called to order Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Frank W. Miller, Esq., and William H. Rollins, Esq., was chosen to preside, and Messrs. Jas. R. Morrison, E. W. Brown and Chas. W. Bailey, Secretaries. But a small number of votes were thrown the first hour. As the time for closing the polls arrived, the Ward Room was filled with a jolly crowd who seemed entirely free from any personal feeling as to the defeat of any candidate. Promptly at 8 o'clock, the Chairman announced the vote, which was as follows:—

Whole number	663
Neccesary for choice	332
Scattering	11
Thomas S. Nowell	79
Thomas E. O. Marvin	131
Horton D. Walker	442

And Horton D. Walker was declared the nominee.

On motion of Mr. Marvin, the nomination was made unanimous. It being announced that the Cornet Band had been secured, Mr. J. P. Morse moved that a committee of five be appointed to wait on the nominee and ask his acceptance. A motion that all in the hall proceed in a body with the committee and band to pay their respects to Mr. Walker was carried with cheers. Mr. John H. Locke was chosen Marshal for the occasion. On arriving at the residence of the nominee, Mr. Walker was introduced by Alderman Marvin, and responded substantially as follows:

Gentlemen of the Republican Party:—It is with feelings of regret and satisfaction that I hear of your action this evening; regret that your choice of a candidate for Mayor had not fallen on some one of the young and enterprising men in your ranks whose names have been used in this canvass and whose faithfulness to Republican principles has been tested; and satisfaction that you have such confidence in me. Fifteen years ago I last held municipal office in this city, and you will all testify that I have preferred to remain in the ranks and follow some other leader to victory. Under the circumstances in which you have honored me with a nomination I cannot refuse it, and should it be ratified at the polls next Tuesday, I shall endeavor to perform the duties of the office with all the ability within me.

Mr. Walker closed by inviting the members of the procession to enter his residence and partake of refreshments, and running the line of march, the residence of Alderman Thos. E. O. Marvin was visited, and that gentleman was called out and greeted with cheers. He spoke as follows:

My Friends; I feel gratified at this demonstration, and thank you for the honor it confers. We have had a fairly conducted caucus, and I am beaten. You have preferred to choose another candidate for Mayor, and he will receive my warm support. From the time that the announcement of the vote was made I have been and am a Walker man. Let us do our utmost to elect our distinguished fellow citizen to the office he has so ably filled in years gone by.

Mr. Marvin's cordial invitation to "come in" was declined, and with hearty cheers for their favorite, the procession moved on to the residence of Mr. Thomas S. Nowell. A serenade by the Band brought that gentleman to the door. He was introduced by Marshal John H. Locke, and made the following speech:

Republicans and Fellow Citizens:—It is always the duty of the minority to submit to the will of the majority. My name has gone before you for your suffrages this evening and you have chosen a gentleman whom you consider your strongest man. It was the refusal of the minority to acquiesce in the decision of the majority which brought on the rebellion. I have no wish to follow such a poor example, and pledge my support by all means in my power, by money if it is needed for any honorable expenditure, to help give Hon. Horton D. Walker the largest majority ever given to a Mayor in Portsmouth.

Cheers for Mr. Nowell were responded to by a selection by the Band, and the procession was dismissed, every Republican feeling especially pleased that the result of the nomination will be to unite all Republicans and bring out a heavy vote next Tuesday.

Boots & Shoes.

Every one who has visited our old friend S. B. Plummer at his new place of business, 24 Market Street, D. E. Leavitt's old stand, is convinced that now is the time and there the place to buy leather-ware at very low prices.

The Story of Chicago

And the great fire by which it was desolated will be told at the Temple this (Wednesday) evening to all who may choose to attend, by Dr. T. R. Nute, who is acting under the authority of the Chicago Relief Committee for Hospitals. Dr. Nute was an eye witness of the conflagration and all his perishable property was destroyed by it, so he should be able to give an interesting account of this the most disastrous fire on record, at least in modern times. The advertisement may be found in another column. Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett will preside.

S. J. Court.

On Tuesday, the jury in the case of Commodore Chas. W. Pickering vs. the Portsmouth Bridge Co., returned a verdict awarding $5 damages. Capt. Pickering was thrown from his horse and very severely injured, owing to a defect in the bridge, and sued for $5000.

The jury in the case of Lamprey vs. Canney, disagreed—it being a suit to recover the value ($26) for hams alleged to have been sent to defendant to be cured, and which were not returned.

Thomas Gough recovered $112 from Alton Bros. for the services of his minor son.

The case of Saltmarsh vs. the town of Candia will probably consume the time of the Court for the remainder of the week. The jury go to Candia to-day to view the premises.

CHICAGO PLUCK.—"California pears—fine pears—only ten cents."

We were on the cars on Saturday evening, going for a quiet Sabbath to one of our beautiful suburbs, when a fine, manly, hearty voice, crying with a right good will, "California pears," caused us to lift our eyes from a copy of the Mail. We beheld moving from seat to seat, bearing his basket of fruit, a young man of fine, healthy appearance, graceful action and wonderful elasticity and courage.

"How do you do, Mrs. S.? Have a pear?" And the young man stopped at the seat just ahead of ours and held up before a beautiful and finely-dressed lady a ripe, luscious specimen of his fruit, which the lady after acknowledging the compliment, with a smile which would have led us to expected to see him selling pears on a train of cars."

"No one before the great fire," replied the gentleman. "Jack and his father lost all they had. Too bad, wasn't it? Always used to luxury, it seems hard to be thown so suddenly on the world."

"I must speak to him again when he comes back," said the lady.

Soon the young man returned, preceded by the cheering voice, again crying, "California pears, California pears."

"Jack, I am glad to see you so cheerful. Why, you surprise me. You act as though you had served a long apprenticeship as train boy."

"Cheerful? Why shouldn't I be cheerful? sold fifteen dolars' worth of pears to-day. Young, good health, guess I can make a living. Don't weary." And away he went, shouting, "Pears, pears, California pears."

The fire can never singe that young man's good will. He will find a way or make one. These are the sons of Chicago sufferers.

Still St. Louis and Milwaukee papers will debate whether Chicago will get her trade back. Don't worry, friends. Make hay while the sun shines, and enjoy your brief hour of advantage. Brief, be assured, it will be.—Chicago Mail.

Owing to the general derangement of mails and advertisements consequent on the disastrous conflagrations in the West, the sale of tickets in this enterprise is extended to Nov. 30, 1871, at which time the main office, 120 Main St., Louisville, Ky., will close for adjustment of accounts and business. No orders except by mail will be received after Dec. 1st, and no orders by mail will be filled after Dec. 10th; other Agencies Dec. 5th. Every ticket unsold Dec. 11th will be cancelled by its number. The drawing will take place in public, Dec. 16th, 1871, commencing at 7 A. M., and continue until the 721 gifts are awarded. Payment of awards will commence Dec. 19, at 9 o'clock A. M. Circulars of awards will be found at every Agency as soon as they can be issued correctly, and will also be sent to all ticket buyers New York office will close on $10. CHAS. R. PETERS, Manager.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1871.

Never Say Die!

In the general demoralization of the Democratic press, consequent on the result of the November elections, it is refreshing to get hold of one paper which sturdily stands up for the ancient order of things—the Union as it was and the Constitution as it isn't. The leading Democratic organ of Missouri, the St. Louis Republican, more earnestly than ever advocates its plan for defeating Grant by giving some other Republican, the Democratic nomination; the Washington Patriot goes further yet, and wants the Democratic party to nominate a man whose early manhood and maturer years were spent in an uncompromising battle with Democracy and human slavery — Charles Sumner!—on the plea that the colored voters would act with more freedom than at present, and that Mr. Sumner's nomination would draw a large portion of the colored vote to the Democratic side; [the spectacle of a leading Democratic paper, published in the national capital, advocating the nomination of Charles Sumner by the Democracy as a means of enlarging the political freedom of the colored race, leaves no room for astonishment at anything else that may ever take place in this world;] but the Manchester Public Forum does not believe in any such methods of saving the Democratic party, and in commenting on the St. Louis Republican's plan says: "If it were possible for the Democratic party to adopt the course recommended, there would be no such thing as a Democratic party after the next Presidential election." This is a self-evident truth; but then, as there won't be any such thing as a Democratic party anyway, after the next Presidential election, it won't really make any great difference whether that party nominates a rebel general or a life-long abolitionist as its candidate for defeat. But of the two lines of conduct, that of the Public Forum certainly commands most respect.

COLLECTOR MURPHY of New York city resigned the office of Collector of the port on Monday. General Chester A. Arthur, who succeeds to the position, is the intimate personal friend and legal counsel of the ex-collector, [illegible]

THE GRAND JURY at Chicago has commended the action of Mayor Mason in calling to his aid the services of General Sheridan at the time of the fire, and expressed the opinion that the thanks of the community are due to the latter.

DISASTERS AT SEA.—Barque Mary Baker of Boston, from Liverpool for Bermuda, and British ship Arrow, from Sierra Leone for Liverpool, have foundered with all on board.

THE REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE meets at Concord this evening.

SHERIDAN IN CINCINNATI.—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette gives, in a letter written from Chicago on the 13th inst., the substance of a statement made to him by General Sheridan, at his request, from which it appears that he acted wholly under the orders of the Mayor as a special policeman; that Governor Palmer himself called on the General at his office, and congratulated him on what he had done; and Colonel Grosvenor, who was killed by the sentinel, also had been especially solicitous that General Sheridan should take charge of the city. Says the General:

"He (Grosvenor) was very persistent in asking me to do it. He came to me and urged me to do it, saying that there was no other way of saving the city except by doing so, and if I didn't do it the citizens of Chicago would compel me to. On the plight of the shooting he was intoxicated, as I have since been informed. He was not known to the sentinel, and using bad language, and drawing a pistol, this boy thought he was only doing his duty in firing. No one can dispute the abstract right of the Mayor to raise extra police, as was done on this occasion. He is the chief executive of the city, and, as such, must take all measures to preserve the public order in grave emergencies. As a citizen I had a right to act under him, using such means as were at my disposal."

A CHANGE OF CIRCUMSTANCES.—In 1841 the following advertisement appeared in the New Orleans Picayune:

$5 Reward.—Run away from the subscribers, on the 23d of November last, the negro boy Oscar Dunn, an apprentice to the plastering trade. He is of grifle color, between 20 and 21 years of age, and about 5 feet, 10 or 11 inches high. All persons are cautioned not to harbor said boy, under penalty of the law. Wilson & Patterson, corner St. John and Common streets.

"The negro boy Oscar Dunn," is now Lieutenant-Governor of Louisiana.

Correspondence.

BALTIMORE, MD., Nov. 19th.

Among the things that pays a stranger to visit while in Baltimore are the markets. There are in the city some dozen of them, but they are only occupied on certain days; that is, at one market what are called market days are Monday and Thursday, at another Tuesday and Friday, and at a third Wednesday and Saturday, and the hucksters, as the dealers are called, go from one market to the other on the different days with their truck. The idea is to accommodate the different sections of the city, it being understood that there are but very few provision stores "on the corner" here, where one can go a few steps, order his dinner and have it sent home, without any farther trouble; and it must also be understood that the ladies do the marketing here, and that when they go they take their baskets with them and after getting it filled they take it home again and in many cases it is a good long mile that they trudge along with them on their arms. No family man ever thinks of going to market here; he leaves it all with his wife, and she, good soul, regards going to market two or three times a week as much a part of her duty as is the daily sweeping of half of the street in front of her house, every morning, to help increase the windrow of rubbish which lays their in the middle of the street until a heavy rain washes it away or, what is more likely, the wind blows it back to the sidewalk before the sweeper has fully gone over her alloted space. It might be asked by some, why the city authorities don't send a cart around and take off this dirt after it has been swept up into a windrow so nicely? but that is a conundrum which none can answer but the city fathers, and they have not done it yet.

But about the markets; they are not much like Quincy Market in Boston,—they resemble a saw mill more than they do that institution. That is to say, they resemble a saw mill, inasmuch as there are no doors or windows to speak of about them; the principal part of them consists on the roof. They are literally "open markets," and in the winter it is anything but comfortable either to buyer or seller to be in them; there is nothing to prevent the cold and snow from going in, except the roof, and there are no means of heating them at all. Of course, all the meats are frozen solid on cold days. Poultry and game are hung up in the joints. They have almost everything at these markets. On Saturday night for instance, at Lexington Market, the largest in the city, one can purchase anything from a tin whistle to a quarter of beef. A walk through the market reveals lots of queer things if one only keeps his eyes open. At one place you see a huckster skinning eels and close by you can purchase calico and stockings, tin ware, baskets and ice cream, also candy, turnips and enormous cabbages. In fact, in this market, which would fill one-half of Congress Street from the Square to Middle Street, one sees almost everything for sale that goes to make up the necessaries of life, as well as many articles which are never seen for sale in a market in any other city than Baltimore; and the crowds that are present, every one with a basket for holding their Sunday dinner, and the pretty girls — Baltimore beauties toting a basket just the same as anybody else,—all go to make up a scene which it is safe to say is not seen anywhere but in Baltimore.

At twelve o'clock the bell rings, the hucksters tumble their unsold "truck" into their wagons; soon they drive off home, and all is quiet. R.

KITTERY, ME., Nov. 21.

The Fair held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of this town, and which closed last Saturday evening at Armory Hall, was a complete success. The total receipts for the three evenings amounted to the handsome sum of $212; and after deducting all expenses, a sum not far from $175 will be carried to the credit of the society. The entertainment passed off very pleasantly. Mr. John Knox of Portsmouth became the recipient of a handsome rug, the work of Mr. Chas. Gotham; a beautiful quilt, wrought under direction of Mrs. Calvin L. Hayes, became the property of Mr. Jerome Johnson; a very choice quilt presented by Mr. Mark Waterman, (through whose liberality a handsome sum was realized) fell to the lot of Dr. A. W. Johnson; two small, colored engravings were received by a daughter of Mr. John Neal; and the prize (a fine colored engraving) for the best reader of the twenty-third Psalm was awarded to Mrs. Katie N. Gerry. The tableaux conducted by Mrs. C. L. Hayes and Mrs. Leonard Jenkins, were very interesting, and the music by Mrs. Nellie Staples was well received. The Fair reflects credit on the several committees through whose labors the grand success was achieved.

The wife of Rev. Frank Stratton, a daughter of Mr. Joseph Cox of Kittery Foreside, is very sick, and no hopes are entertained of her recovery, which causes feelings of deep sadness to her many friends in this community. 3.

On the 12th, in Dover, John Hanna blew down the chimney of a kerosene lamp. The luminary blew back and its explosion burned the original blower very badly about his face and neck.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RARE CHANCE.—Persons wanting Sewing Machines, Melodeons, Cabinet Organs, Pianos, &c., can save money by purchasing of E. A. Joy, No. 9 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H. He is selling out a large stock of New Goods, warranted perfect, at one-half and three-fourths the usual prices, in order to make room for the "Domestic" Sewing Machines, the demand for which is sufficient to require his whole attention. You can pay by small monthly installments if desirable. Second-hand Goods almost given away. Don't delay, for he is determined that the entire stock shall be closed out as soon as possible.

FOUR EVILS.—Whoever habitually uses any alcoholic preparations as an "appetizer" will be likely to suffer from four evils, viz: an overplus of food in the stomach, impaired ability to digest it, the pangs of dyspepsia, and a doctor's bill. DR. WALKER'S VEGETABLE VINEGAR BITTERS, the great Teetotal Restorative of the age, without over stimulating the palate or irritating the stomach, imparts a healthful appetite, promotes digestion, regulates the liver and bowels, purifies the blood, and thus, instead of entailing four evils, confers four inestimable benefits.

The great popularity of the famous Halford Leicestershire Table Sauce is owing, in part, to its adaptation to all soups, fish and meats, making each and all more delicious to the taste. This is really the prince of superior flavors. For sale by all grocers.

The proprietors of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, Parson's Purgative Pills, and Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, have published a readable and instructive pamphlet, which may be had free at the stores.

Rufus Chapman of Liberty, Me., had a stiff leg bent at the knee, limbered and strengthened by the use of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

BETTER AND CHEAPER.

THAN ANY OTHER

Boots or Shoes;

THOSE FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE.

BETTER — Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

CHEAPER—Because, while their first cost is not in excess of sewed or pegged work of a like grade, their Durability is far greater, they preserve their Shape much better, and the metallic fastening insures a more Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

AWFUL DEFEAT!!!

The rout complete! The last hope of the parties who have been getting up SCALP POISONS to compete with

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

is lost, lost, lost! Still, it towers over all rivals, new and old. Still, it remains the STANDARD HAIR DYE OF THE COUNTRY. Still, tens of thousands of heads that once showed the white flag,

Carry Cristadoro's Colors,

and the course of the dye of dyes is ever upward and onward. So much for excellence, wholesomeness, and a true reproduction of Nature's tints. As a dressing after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

Arrest Decay.

When a plant or a tree begins to decay it must needs die. It cannot be revitalized. But it is not so with human beings. A human ruin can be repaired, strengthened, restored, though a brown leaf or a withered blade of grass can never be made green again. In the autumn of life, or even in its winter, when nature seems to be giving way under the pressure of years, it is still possible to retard the process of decay, and to lend to age more than its wonted vigor. As a means of promoting this object, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is unquestionably the most potent of all restoratives. It will not make the old young, but it will prevent, lessen, or sooth the infirmities which are the usual accompaniment of the decline of life. For debility and a lack of nervous power, from whatever cause arising, it is the medicine that of all others before the world, best deserves the name of a specific. In purity, in invigorating properties, in its adaptation to weak stomachs and feeble organizations, it has no competitor among the tonics of the pharmacopœia, nor among proprietory remedies. Besides its strengthening principles, it possesses alterative and regulating properties of the highest order, and as an anti-bilious medicine is far preferable to any of the preparations containing mercury. Time has shown that for physical decay, nervous debility, dyspepsia, bilious disorders, and intermittent fever, Hostetter's Bitters is a remedy without a rival. This is the season of the fall of the leaf; let it remind the old, the feeble, and the sickly to invigorate and regulate their systems with this great vegetable tonic and alterative.

—Before hanging a man in Louisiana, they let him fifteen to forty reporters for the newspapers "interview" him for three weeks. The poor fellow is then not willing but anxious to be hanged.

MARY PEPPERELL SPARHAWK CUTTS.

This volume will be found full of interest for all who enjoy a well written account of past times and anecdotes of a former generation. The headings of some of the chapters are "Boston in the latter part of the 18th Century," "Life in Virginia," "Consul General for Portugal," "Impressment of American Seamen," "Massena's Invasion of Portugal," and they give an idea of the variety and the topics included in the book. OFFICE OF

FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS & FINANCIAL AGENTS

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company,

No. 5 Nassau Street, New York.

The rails are being laid on the Western Division of 100 miles of the Extension of this

GREAT EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINE,

which in a short time will be ready for general travel and traffic, and for the transportation of Kanawha coal to the Ohio River for the Western markets.

The earnings of the Eastern Division of 227 miles as a local road, awaiting the completion of the Middle Division of 100 miles, will reach, this year, nearly $800,000.

The total cost of the entire road, and the large equipment required for its minerals and through traffic, will be fully $30,000,000.

The total amount of the FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, which we are now selling, is FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS, of which only about FOUR MILLIONS remain unsold, the proceeds of which, with the Cash on hand, will be ample for the Completion of the Entire Line.

The same rate of interest as Five-twenties.

Principal and interest both payable in United States gold coin in New York City.

Their present low price (93 and accrued interest from Nov. 1,) which is about 20 per cent. less than Five-twenties, with equal certainty of payment of interest and principal.

We recommend them to our friends and customers with the same confidence with which we have always recommended the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT and the CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS.

We continue to buy and sell CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS at the market price, and fully expect they will, in time, reach the price of Five-twenty Bonds. They are dealt in at all the principal money-centres of the world; the Company have none left, and can issue no more, on their Main Line, as the amount was fixed by act of Congress at $26,885,000; the property pledged to secure the bondholders is the net receipts of the road for the year will be nearly three times the interest payments thereon.

WORTH FULLY ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS;

The CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are issued in $100, $500, $1000; either coupon or registered; interest, six per cent., gold, payable May and November.

The CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS are all for $1000 each; interest, six per cent., gold, payable January and July, in New York City.

We buy and sell FIVE-TWENTIES, TEN-FORTIES, EIGHTY-ONES, and CENTRAL or WESTERN PACIFICS, or receive them in payment for CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS at their current market price.

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

Deposit accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum. Checks drawn on us are payable on presentation, without notice, the same as at a National Bank.

Certificates of Deposit, bearing interest at special rates to be agreed upon, will be issued to Savings Banks, Institutions, Trustees of Estates, and others having sums of money awaiting investment.

Orders for Investment Stocks and Bonds executed at the Stock Exchange. Government Securities bought and sold, as usual, at current market rates. FISK & HATCH.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Republican Caucus.

The caucus for the nomination of a candidate for Mayor was called to order Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock by Frank W. Miller, Esq., and William H. Rollins, Esq., was chosen to preside, and Messrs. Jas. R. Morrison, E. W. Brown and Chas. W. Bailey, Secretaries. But a small number of votes were thrown the first hour. As the time for closing the polls arrived, the Ward Room was filled with a jolly crowd who seemed entirely free from any personal feeling as to the defeat of any candidate. Promptly at 8 o'clock, the Chairman announced the vote, which was as follows:—

Whole number	663
Neccesary for choice	332
Scattering	11
Thomas S. Nowell	79
Thomas E. O. Marvin	131
Horton D. Walker	442

And Horton D. Walker was declared the nominee.

On motion of Mr. Marvin, the nomination was made unanimous. It being announced that the Cornet Band had been secured, Mr. J. P. Morse moved that a committee of five be appointed to wait on the nominee and ask his acceptance. A motion that all in the hall proceed in a body with the committee and band to pay their respects to Mr. Walker was carried with cheers. Mr. John H. Locke was chosen Marshal for the occasion. On arriving at the residence of the nominee, Mr. Walker was introduced by Alderman Marvin, and responded substantially as follows:

Gentlemen of the Republican Party:—It is with feelings of regret and satisfaction that I hear of your action this evening; regret that your choice of a candidate for Mayor had not fallen on some one of the young and enterprising men in your ranks whose names have been used in this canvass and whose faithfulness to Republican principles has been tested; and satisfaction that you have such confidence in me. Fifteen years ago I last held municipal office in this city, and you will all testify that I have preferred to remain in the ranks and follow some other leader to victory. Under the circumstances in which you have honored me with a nomination I cannot refuse it, and should it be ratified at the polls next Tuesday, I shall endeavor to perform the duties of the office with all the ability within me.

Mr. Walker closed by inviting the members of the procession to enter his residence and partake of refreshments, after passing the line of march, the residence of Alderman Thos. E. O. Marvin was visited, and that gentleman was called out and greeted with cheers. He spoke as follows:

My Friends; I feel gratified at this demonstration, and thank you for the honor it confers. We have had a fairly conducted caucus, and I am beaten. You have preferred to choose another candidate for Mayor, and he will receive my warm support. From the time that the announcement of the vote was made I have been and am a Walker man. Let us do our utmost to elect our distinguished fellow citizen to the office he has so ably filled in years gone by.

Mr. Marvin's cordial invitation to "come in" was declined, and with hearty cheers for their favorite, the procession moved on to the residence of Mr. Thomas S. Nowell. A serenade by the Band brought that gentleman to the door. He was introduced by Marshal John H. Locke, and made the following speech:

Republicans and Fellow Citizens:—It is always the duty of the minority to submit to the will of the majority. My name has gone before you for your suffrages this evening and you have chosen a gentleman whom you consider your strongest man. It was the refusal of the minority to acquiesce in the decision of the majority which brought on the rebellion. I have no wish to follow such a poor example, and pledge my support by all means in my power, by money if it is needed for any honorable expenditure, to help give Hon. Horton D. Walker the largest majority ever given to a Mayor in Portsmouth.

Cheers for Mr. Nowell were responded to by a selection by the Band, and the procession was dismissed, every Republican feeling especially pleased that the result of the nomination will be to unite all Republicans and bring out a heavy vote next Tuesday.

Boots & Shoes.

Every one who has visited our old friend S. B. Plummer at his new place of business, 24 Market Street, D. E. Leavitt's old stand, is convinced that now is the time and there the place to buy leather-ware at very low prices.

The Story of Chicago

And the great fire by which it was desolated will be told at the Temple this (Wednesday) evening to all who may choose to attend, by Dr. T. R. Nute, who is acting under the authority of the Chicago Relief Committee for Hospitals. Dr. Nute was an eye witness of the conflagration and all his perishable property was destroyed by it, so he should be able to give an interesting account of this the most disastrous fire on record, at least in modern times. The advertisement may be found in another column. Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett will preside.

S. J. Court.

On Tuesday, the jury in the case of Commodore Chas. W. Pickering vs. the Portsmouth Bridge Co., returned a verdict awarding $5 damages. Capt. Pickering was thrown from his horse and very severely injured, owing to a defect in the bridge, and sued for $5000.

The jury in the case of Lamprey vs. Canney, disagreed—it being a suit to recover the value ($26) for hams alleged to have been sent to defendant to be cured, and which were not returned.

Thomas Gough recovered $112 from Alton Bros. for the services of his minor son.

The case of Saltmarsh vs. the town of Candia will probably consume the time of the Court for the remainder of the week. The jury go to Candia to-day to view the premises.

CHICAGO PLUCK.—"California pears—fine pears—only ten cents."

We were on the cars on Saturday evening, going for a quiet Sabbath to one of our beautiful suburbs, when a fine, manly, hearty voice, crying with a right good will, "California pears," caused us to lift our eyes from a copy of the Mail. We beheld moving from seat to seat, bearing his basket of fruit, a young man of fine, healthy appearance, graceful action and wonderful elasticity and courage.

"How do you do, Mrs. S.? Have a pear?" And the young man stopped at the seat just ahead of ours and held up before a beautiful and finely-dressed lady a ripe, luscious specimen of his fruit, which the lady after acknowledging the salute, of course, had to purchase. We had never seen the young man before, but expected to see him selling pears on a train of cars."

"No one before the great fire," replied the gentleman. "Jack and his father lost all they had. Too bad, wasn't it? Always used to luxury, it seems hard to be thown so suddenly on the world."

"I must speak to him again when he comes back," said the lady.

Soon the young man returned, preceded by the cheering voice, again crying, "California pears, California pears."

"Jack, I am glad to see you so cheerful. Why, you surprise me. You act as though you had served a long apprenticeship as train boy."

"Cheerful? Why shouldn't I be cheerful? sold fifteen dolars' worth of pears to-day. Young, good health, guess I can make a living. Don't weary." And away he went, shouting, "Pears, pears, California pears."

The fire can never singe that young man's good will. He will find a way or make one. These are the sons of Chicago sufferers.

Still St. Louis and Milwaukee papers will debate whether Chicago will get her trade back. Don't worry, friends. Make may while the sun shines, and enjoy your brief hour of advantage. Brief, be assured, it will be.—Chicago Mail.

Morning Chronicle.

MARK TWAIN'S SPEECH at the Boston Press banquet is too good to be lost, and at the risk of violating the privacy that generally surrounds the proceedings on these occasions, we will give a brief sketch of them. He first told how he had been a week too early in getting to the dinner, having come too early to the Revere House the Saturday night previous. He then proposed to deliver in place of any set speech his lecture on Artemus Ward, which he said he had cut down so that it was only an hour and three-quarters long. By taking out the jokes he thought he could get it into an hour and a half. Seeing exasperation depicted in the countenances of his audience, however, and perhaps riot and bloodshed, he would refrain, as the speeches generally had been of a reminiscencial character, he thought on the whole, he would enter that field. He had been a pilot on the Mississippi, had edited a paper a week, (they didn't want him any more,) kept a peanut stand, run for Congress and got defeated, been a silver miner, and also a local reporter. He proceeded to give some of his experiences while acting in the latter capacity. He said he had received an offer to take the position of reporter on the Virginia City Enterprize, while at the mines and out of money. He knew nothing about its duties, but if he had been asked to edit a new edition of Josephus, he should have undertaken it, throwing in all the jokes he could. He was told he must have a "basis of facts," and then "branch out." His first attempt to find an item was fruitless. He was asked if there wasn't any hay wagon in town, and told that "Dan," his predecessor, used to make a very good thing out of a hay wagon when nothing else offered. He found one. He 'rastled with that hay wagon, he said, and made sixteen items out of it. He brought it into town from sixteen different directions, producing such hay excitement as was never known there before. Then he reported the particulars of an Indian massacre, and by adding the names of a company of emigrants who happened to come into town and leave the same day, to his list of killed and wounded, got ahead of the other reporters. He was in despair, as nothing in the way of items was to be had, when a desperado came to his relief and shot a citizen a few yards off. He took the dying words of the man who was shot—or the dying words he would have said if he had had time—and then thanked his benefactor, promising to do him any favor in his power. He then went up the street and tried to get up a mob to hang the murderer, but was defeated by the police, who had the man arrested and lodged safely in jail. His account of the struggles which he had with the reporter of another paper to get the monthly school report, which, through favor, was given to the latter. Twain was left at the bottom of a mining shaft, target out as best as he could, while his companion departed "to get that school report," which he had chanced to miss getting the month before. His relation of the manner in which he got square with a Justice of the Peace he didn't like, by imparting to him the holding of an inquest on a petrified man, said to have been found up in the mountains. The account of the finding of the petrified man and the inquest appeared in print, and was copied far and wide. First, the California papers began to come in with it, and he marked the article and sent the papers one after another to the Justice of the Peace. Then the Eastern journals came along, and eventually the European papers in various languages. The Justice had eighteen bushels of papers about the petrified man in his back yard, and never heard the last of it from the miners.

HOTEL ACCOMMODATION IN TEXAS.—One of the exhibitors at the recent Texas State Fair, at Houston, gave an amusing account of his experience at the hotel, which illustrates the crowded condition of the taverns at that time. "When I got there I just said, 'Captain, I wrote you about six weeks ago to save me a room; I hope you have done so.' 'Certainly, I have; waiter show the gentleman to No. 91.' I'm blessed if there wasn't forty others besides myself in that same apartment, and when they went to undress at night the room looked like an arsenal, for every man had a knife and a six shooter or two. My partner had an immense pistol, which he coolly took off and placed in bed between us. 'Say, stranger,' says I, 'if I had to carry a thing like that, blamed if I wouldn't put it on wheels.' 'Guess if I choose to wear it it's nobody's business,' he replied. 'Well, says I, 'is all this an artillery company in this room?' About half the occupants were changed every day, and I could tell every new arrival the number of his room as soon as I set my eyes on him. 'Halo, Colonel, just got in?' I would say. 'Yes—just in, and lucky enough to get a room. 'What's your number?' I would ask. 'Ninety-one,' was sure to be the reply.

—A large dog that was left on the platform of the railway depot at Peabody, Mass., on the morning of the terrible accident at Revere, by his master, Mr. Ernest Merrill, who was one of the victims of the great tragedy, still keeps watch at the depot for the return of his master.

—It is nonsense to go shivering about with a notion of its being a toughening process. A man's wits were given him partly to fend him under cover when it rains, and partly to circumvent the sheep out of enough wool to keep him warm on a cold day.

—A Detroit bride was unable to go through the marriage ceremony until her corset strings were cut.

UP-TOWN HOTELS.—Hotel life, as regulated on the European plan, is getting to be a great social feature in our leading cities. Ten years ago, there was hardly a hotel in the city where a family could locate itself with any degree of domestic privacy for a season. But now we count up at least half a dozen where persons desiring a comfortable home, without the trouble of housekeeping, can secure all that is desirable in a private residence, with no increase of expense, and with a thorough redemption from all household care.

Among these establishments those located for up-town have undoubtedly the greatest promise of success. Indeed that has ceased to be a matter of question. The nearer you get to those fashionable thoroughfares leading to and lying near the Central Park, the more desirable seems the location for a hotel. The last one that has gone into operation in that direction is the St. Cloud. Situated on the western slope of Murray Hill, fronting Broadway in one direction, and on the thoroughfare of Forty-second street, on a line with, and in sight of, the great Central Depot, it commands three most desirable features—a highly fashionable neighborhood, convenient distance from the great traveling centre, and the command of three street railroads, any one of which can be reached in less than two minutes from the doors.

The building, too, is an imposing and thoroughly elegant structure, quite large enough when it was erected to raise a doubt if it could be speedily filled; but from the first it has done a thriving business, and since the Rand Brothers took it in hand such has been their success that another large building on Forty-second street has been added to the main building, sumptuously furnished and every floor let in suites before the adornments were completed. Another year and we may expect the adjoining mansions to drop into the establishment, and then another and another for families are still coming, and few ever change. Many of the inmates of the house have occupied the same rooms year after year since it was erected. Large windows, numerous balconies and uniform heat make almost every room of the house unusually cheerful.

The restaurant extends along three spacious and elegant rooms on 42d street, where tall and broad windows have just received the additional drapery of lace curtains. All the table appointments are perfect. This department, being under the direct control of Mr. Edward Brazil, whose tasteful super-tables have made the great feature of the St. Cloud balls, and whose experience has given unusual prestige to his own particular province, can scarcely be improved, for he is ably seconded, and all his ideas faithfully carried out by the head waiter, Mr. Matthew Cahalan, and Mr. Peter Potangi, the head cook. With this combined fare there is no danger that this department will lose any of its present popularity. To the business man, the Rands have office room in a gold and stock indicator, which gives constant information of every change in the market. Spacious cloak rooms and rooms furnished with marble wash-basins open from the lower hall, and every possible convenience has been added to the building during the last summer.

All these generous efforts to please have met with a corresponding return. Active business tact has given to this house a good and well-deserved popularity, which must increase so long as the management retains its present vigor. One thing the Rand Brothers may be especially proud of: they have proved that a fine hotel, leading all others in an up-town direction, can secure to itself superior means of prosperity by good management and a generous regard to the wants of the public. They have proved, too, that whole families may live in elegant comfort and desirable privacy without being the slaves of their own servants.—N. Y. Express.

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE IN ENGLAND.—Our foreign exchanges of Oct. 14th, report the foot and mouth disease as having broken out anew in many districts, even after the most careful precautions had been taken to check it. The official returns show that in one week ten hundred and eighty-nine head of cattle, thirteen hundred and forty head of sheep, and four hundred and fifty-six head of swine were affected by the disease. The above figures showing the enormous extent of the disease in Great Britain, added to the facts that last winter it prevailed to some degree in this country, particularly in Massachusetts, and that it is a contagious disease, induces us to caution farmers, especially Board of Cattle Commissioners, to be on the watch for its appearance, and ready to take measures to prevent its spreading, should it occur.—Mc. Farmer.

—There was something rather scissory in a joke which was made recently in the Texas House of Representatives. Five Democrats had been elected to fill unexpired terms, and, coming up to the clerk's desk to qualify, took the customary oath to support the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments. At this a colored member moved that "whereas the spectacle of five Democrats swallowing all the amendments in one day was glory enough the House do now adjourn." From the democratic side came a request that the mover read his resolution over, and then were developed the facts that the gentleman could neither read nor write. Both blades of that pair of scissors cut sharply.

—The charred remains of John McDevitt, the billiard-player, were found on Saturday afternoon under the ruins of the Chicago Tribune building. He was last seen on the day of the fire in front of the building in a somewhat intoxicated state. He refused to escape, declaring that he was not afraid of being burned.

IN THE TUNNEL.

Riding up from Bangor,
On the Pullman train,
From a six weeks' shooting
In the woods of Maine;
Quite extensive whiskers,
Beard, moustache as well,
Sat a "student feller,"
Tall and fine and swell.

Empty seat behind him,
No one at his side;
To a pleasant station
Now the train doth glide,
Enter aged couple,
Take the hinder seat;
Enter gentle maiden,
Beautiful, petite.

Blushingly she falters,
"Is this seat engaged?"
(See the aged couple Properly enraged.)
Student, quite ecstatic,
See her ticket's "through;"
Thinks of the long tunnel—
Knows what he will do.

So they sit and chatter,
While the cinders fly,
Till that "student feller"
Gets one in his eye;
And the gentle maiden
Quickly turns about,—
"May I, if you please, sir,
Try to get it out?"

Happy "student feller"
Feels a dainty touch;
Hears a gentle whisper,—
"Does it hurt you much?"
Fizz! ding, dong! a moment
In the tunnel quite,
And a glorious darkness
Black as Egypt's night.

* * * * *

Out into the daylight
Darts the Pullman train;
Student's beaver ruffled
Just the merest grain;
Maiden's hair as tumbled,
And there soon appeared
Cunning little ear-ring
Caught in student's beard.

Harvard Advocate.

DARWINIAN RETROGRESSION.—A New-Zealand correspondent of the San Francisco Alta is responsible for the following story.

Howard Malige Mr. Darwin's theory—that man is descended from a monkey—may seem to be to many, the following particulars in the early history of one of the present members of Parliament for New-Zealand are related in all sober earnestness in Southern papers. Mr. B.'s early life was spent in the wilds of South Africa. When a mere infant he was one day laid peacefully at rest at the door of his woodland home. His worthy parent, near the cabin, shot the young offspring of a large monkey, at which the feelings of the affectionate mamma were of course much wounded. She was, however, driven away by the approaching hunter, and in passing the cabin door noticed and stole the future New Zealand legislator. The loss was not discovered for nearly an hour afterward, and then all efforts to find the robber proved unavailing. Three months after this period a hunting party came across a family of monkeys in the wilderness, and there, in the arms of the careful although untutored wet-nurse, was the long-lost child, who chattered and jibbered in the most approved monkey fashion, apparently fully equal to the exigencies of the situation. Could there be any more convincing evidence than this of the affinity between our race and those hairy denizens of the woods?

PRACTICAL DARWINISM.—Monkeys are scarce in Michigan. A saddler in Detroit kept one for a pet, who usually sat on the counter. A countryman came in one day, the proprietor being in the back room. The customer, seeing a saddle that suited him, asked the price.

Money said nothing.

Customer said, "I'll give twenty dollars for it," laying down the money, which monkey shoved into the drawer. The man then took the saddle, but monkey mounted him, tore his hair, scratched his face, and the frightened customer screamed for dear life. Proprietor rushed in and wanted to know what's the fuss.

"Fuss?" said the customer, "fuss? I bought a saddle of your son, sitting there, and when I went to take it he wouldn't let me have it."

The saddler apologized for the monkey, but assured him that he was no relation.

—Grass widows are highly favored in England. It has been judicially decided in that tight little island that a married woman is entitled to vote at municipal elections, if she happens to be living apart from her husband. The law, as now interpreted, is that every woman can vote for municipal officers if she is an independent householder; or, having a husband, if she is not under his control; which puts the grass widows on a political footing with spinsters and sure-enough widows.

—George Alfred Townsend tells of a Philadelphia paper which appears, by its general thinness, to use bean soup for printing ink and to be edited by an oyster.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES. — Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous Depositions and all Urinary Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is locked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, [illegible] Solitude, [illegible] ble to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

TRIUMPHANT!

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct., 7th, 1871.

AM. STEAM SAFE CO.,
COLE & LAMBERT, Managers,
300 Broadway, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—"The Binghamton Planing Mill and Sash and Blind Factory," together with several other large buildings, were totally destroyed by fire last night. The Steam Safe (No. 7) made by you, and purchased one year ago from Messrs. Paige & Chaffee, Agents, in this city, was in the Planing Mill, and went through the severest part. To-day it was cooled off with water from the hydrant, and when opened the contents were found to be in perfect condition; not even the varnish inside the book-case was injured. Our confidence in the Steam Safe, (and hundreds of other citizens who saw it at a red hot and were present at the opening,) is perfect after this severe test. I shall want another Steam Safe as soon as I rebuild. Very truly yours,

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1871.

STEAMER BURNED.—Steamer City of New London, Capt. Brown, of the Norwich and New York line, took fire Wednesday morning on the river Thames, about five miles below Norwich, Ct. The captain ordered the boat anchored, and immediately set to work to extinguish the flames, and after a short time the efforts were apparently successful, and a rigid examination discovered no traces of fire. The anchor was then weighed and the boat proceeded up the river. When three miles below Norwich fire was discovered in the cotton on deck. The donkey pumps were started, but despite all exertions the fire spread with great rapidity, and soon enveloped the forward part of the boat. The captain ordered the boat beached, but the engineer could not start the engine. The donkey pumps were, however, still kept at work, until the engineer notified the captain that he feared an explosion of the boilers, in which case all would be lost. The spread of the flames had cut off all communication with the boats and rendered the life preservers inaccessible. The passengers and crew threw themselves into the water, clinging to such portions of the cargo and boat as had fallen overboard. Those who were able to swim had not much difficulty in reaching the shore. Some were picked up by boats from the floating pieces of the cargo in an exhausted condition, and taken to farm houses in the vicinity where they were cared for and resuscitated. Some half dozen of the crew and passengers are missing and it is feared are lost. A train, with a fire engine, was taken down from the city, but too late to be of any service. The City of New London was a first class boat and had a large cargo on board. Those known to be lost are C. B. Rogers, Wm. T. Norton, and Harrison Aldrich, passengers; Mat Baker, engineer, and Harry Duggan, steward.

THE STORE of W. F. Weld & Co., at Boston, has been entered on a search warrant by United States Marshal Usher, who asked for their books, the firm being suspected of false invoicing of imported goods. The firm refused to give up the books and one of their safes was drilled open by order of the Marshal. The court has decided that the books shall be examined by the collector in their own store.

A LOCOMOTIVE standing on the Boston and Providence Railroad at Hebronville, Mass., was run into by one of the trains from New York, and the shock of the collision opened the throttle and sent the machine whizzing on its own account, the driver and fireman jumping off when they found they were in danger. The steam ran down so that the runaway was stopped at Mansfield.

ALEXIS, son of Czar Nicholas, had a royal welcome at New York on Wednesday. The reception was equal to that of the Prince of Wales. It is understood that the Grand Duke will spend a fortnight in Washington in January, and that he will attend balls at West Point, Annapolis, and this city.

THE NEW AIR POWER has been successfully applied at Brunswick, Me. The air is compressed by a water-wheel and conducted through a 2 1-2 inch pipe, under ground, three-quarters of a mile, and furnishes the motive agent for an engine at the railroad station, used for sawing wood.

NEW HOTEL.—We are informed that Boston is to have a new hotel, to surpass anything in the city in size and magnificence. It is to be called the "Wakefield House," and is to be built by a gentleman of immense wealth who has no children to inherit it.

THE COMMISSION for the arbitration of the Alabama claims will meet at Geneva on the 12th of December, and its sittings will continue all winter. About five thousand cases will be presented for the consideration of the commission.

THE PRESIDENT has appointed Francis A. Walker, the present superintendent of the census, to be commissioner of Indian affairs.

—A London "gent," walking in Dublin for the first time, got into easy conversation with a native, and chaffed him considerably, winding up with this smart observation: "Now tell me, Pat, where you would be if the devil had got his due." Pat replied, with feigned simplicity, "Shure, then I'd be alone, yer honnor."

—John S. Living, a mulatto, was found dead in his house in Cleveland, O. His head was terribly battered with a hammer, and a soldering iron was thrust down his throat.

Correspondence.

BOSTON, Nov. 14.

A few weeks since the Richmond (Va.) Enquirer contained this item:

A telegram from Memphis says: "Captain David H. Todd, formerly of Lexington, Ky., and brother of Mrs. Lincoln, died at Huntsville, of consumption." He was a Captain in the Confederate army, from Louisiana. His brother, Sam Todd, a young and handsome fellow, was a private in the Crescent regiment of the city of New Orleans. At Shiloh, about 10 o'clock on Monday morning, when the army under Beauregard advanced towards the river and was met by Buell's re-enforcing column, young Todd was killed. A bullet pierced his forehead and he was left upon the field to be buried by Grant's army. He was quite well known in the Western army, and attracted a good deal of notice as the brother-in-law of Mr. Lincoln. In camp, when he was present, "the boys" were always very careful to say nothing offensive about the Northern President. He was a very popular young man, and a true and devoted soldier. In the same regiment was a nephew of Secretary Seward, who still lives.

The above brings a host of busy memories to your correspondent, who was a member of the same regiment, company and "mess" with Samuel Todd, and in close proximity to him at half-past 12 on the 7th of April, 1862, when he received his death wound. The fatal ball entered the groin, and not the forehead. "Sam" lingered until the terrible day faded into a more terrible night, and then passed from life into the darkness that knows no sunrise for mortals. We were in the First Division (Brig. Gen. Ruggles,) of the Second Corps, Major Gen. Braxton Bragg, of "a little more grape" memory, commanding. Todd was hit by a minie ball which passed through the groin into the abdomen. He died before reaching the hospital, and was buried at nightfall on the Montery Road, about four miles from Shiloh Church, while the Confederate army was on the retreat. His own comrades performed this last sad service for him, among them Private Donovan (since dead) and Dr. Stille, the regimental surgeon, who still resides in New Orleans. At the time I was informed that his ring was removed from his finger to be returned to the wife for whom he manifested so much concern in his last moments, and who with several young children anxiously waited the news of his safety at her home in the Crescent City.

Todd was a favorite with his company, a highly prized member of his mess, [illegible] in his manners. In all our intercourse I heard no words of politics from him, and well might his comrades refrain from aught that should injure the feelings of one who so carefully avoided giving offence. The regiment also numbered among its members a brother-in-law of Jefferson Davis.

I write this correction as a matter of history, which needs to be "set right" about as often as anything else. If any one will ever undertake the preparation of the Crescent Regiment, the flower of New Orleans, which left that city eleven hundred strong for a ninety days' campaign, and returned nearly four years after reduced to about three score, I shall be pleased to aid them by such memoranda as I have preserved.

M.

LOVERS of lively fun enjoyed a rare treat at Steinway Hall, New York, Monday evening. Mrs. Victoria Woodhull had advertised to lecture there on The Principles of Social Freedom, and a pretty good audience assembled. The lecturer was introduced by Theodore Tilton. All went on smoothly enough until she came to the topic of free love, on which she spoke very freely indeed, expressing the most radical sentiments and theories. Some hisses were heard in various parts of the hall, and at length Mrs. Brooker, sister of Mrs. Woodhull, jumped down upon the platform from her seat in one of the stage-boxes, demanded of the lecturer how she dared to utter such things, and then, turning to the audience, delivered a counter-blast, amid wild confusion and a Babel of noises. Her harangue was ended by a policeman taking her from the stage; but after Mrs. Woodhull's lecture had been resumed and finished, she gave another, in which she criticised her sister's doctrines with most entertaining persistence and vigor.

—The Eastern Argus alluded to an eminent citizen as "a noble old burglar, proudly loving his native State;" which neat little compliment came from the compositor's hands reading, "a nobby old burglar, prowling around in a naked state."

—Mr. Fields, in his lecture on Cheerfulness, describes a man so shut in with dignity and exclusiveness that when you shake hands with him you always feel as if you were doing it through a knot-hole.

—Conundrum intended solely for those who are well up in Muscovite court gossip: Why is the Czarine Catharine like a bald-headed person? Answer: Because her heir is Orloff.

—A young lady who, with a number of others was injured by a railroad accident, was carried to a hospital. The surgeon came around and said to the young and fashionable miss, "Well, madam, what can I do for you?" Said she, "Doctor, one of my limbs is broken." "One of your limbs?" said he; "well, which limb is it?" "Oh, I can't tell you, doctor, but it's one of my limbs." "One of your limbs!" thundered the doctor, out of patience, "which is it, the limb you thread a needle with?" "No sir," she answered, with a sigh, "it's the limb I wear a garter on." The doctor attended to her, and then said, "Young woman, never say limbs to me again in a hospital; if you do, I shall pass you, for when a woman gets as fastidious as that, the quicker she dies the better."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RARE CHANCE.—Persons wanting Sewing Machines, Melodeons, Cabinet Organs, Pianos, &c., can save money by purchasing of E. A. Joy, No. 9 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H. He is selling out a large stock of New Goods, warranted perfect, at one-half and three-fourths the usual prices, in order to make room for the "Domestic" Sewing Machines, the demand for which is sufficient to require his whole attention. You can pay by small monthly installments if desirable. Second-hand Goods almost given away. Don't delay, for he is determined that the entire stock shall be closed out as soon as possible.

FOUR EVILS.—Whoever habitually uses any alcoholic preparations as an "appetizer" will be likely to suffer from four evils, viz: an overplus of food in the stomach, impaired ability to digest it, the pangs of dyspepsia, and a doctor's bill. DR. WALKER'S VEGETABLE VINEGAR BITTERS, the great Teetotal Restorative of the age, without over stimulating the palate or irritating the stomach, imparts a healthful appetite, promotes digestion, regulates the liver and bowels, purifies the blood, and thus, instead of entailing four evils, confers four inestimable benefits.

The great popularity of the famous Halford Leicestershire Table Sauce is owing, in part, to its adaptation to all soups, fish and meats, making each and all more delicious to the taste. This is really the prince of superior flavors. For sale by all grocers.

BETTER.—Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

CHEAPER—Because, while their first cost is not in excess of sewed or pegged work of a like grade, their durability is far greater, they preserve their Shape much better, and the metallic fastening insures a more Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

Arrest Decay.

When a plant or a tree begins to decay it must needs die. It cannot be revitalized. But it is not so with human beings. A human ruin can be repaired, strengthened, restored, though a brown leaf or a withered blade of grass can never be made green again. In the autumn of life, or even in its winter, when nature seems to be giving way under the pressure of years, it is still possible to retard the process of decay, and to lead to age more than its wonted vigor. As a means of promoting this object, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is unquestionably the most potent of all restoratives. It will not make the old young, but it will prevent, lessen, or sooth the infirmities which are the usual accompaniment of the decline of life. For debility and a lack of nervous power, from whatever cause arising, it is the medicine that of all others before the world, best deserves the name of a specific. In purity, in invigorating properties, in its adaptation to weak stomachs and feeble organizations, it has no competitor among the tonics of the pharmacopœia, nor among proprietory remedies. Besides its strengthening principles, it possesses alterative and regulating properties of the highest order, and as an anti-bilious medicine is far preferable to any of the preparations containing mercury. Time has shown that for physical decay, nervous debility, dyspepsia, bilious disorders, and intermittent fever, Hostetter's Bitters is a remedy without a rival. This is the season of the fall of the leaf; let it remind the old, the feeble, and the sickly to invigorate and regulate their systems with this great vegetable tonic and alterative.

OFFICE OF

FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS & FINANCIAL AGENTS

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company,

No. 5 Nassau Street, New York.

The rails are being laid on the Western Division of 109 miles of this, the Extension of the

GREAT EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINE,

which in a short time will be ready for general travel and traffic, and for the transportation of Kanawha coal to the Ohio River for the Western markets.

The earnings of the Eastern Division of 227 miles as a local road, awaiting the completion of the Middle Division of 100 miles, will reach, this year, nearly $800,000.

The total cost of the entire road, and the large equipment required for its minerals and through traffic, will be fully $30,000,000.

The total amount of the FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, which we are now selling, is FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS, of which only about FOUR MILLIONS remain unsold, the proceeds of which, with the Cash on hand, will be ample for the Completion of the Entire Line.

The inducements they offer to investors are:

A perfect security.

Great popularity and a high price when the road is finished.

The same rate of interest as Five-twenties.

Principal and interest both payable in United States gold coin in New York City.

Their present low price (93 and accrued interest from Nov. 1,) which is about 20 per cent. less than Five-twenties, with equal certainty of payment of interest and principal.

We recommend them to our friends and customers with the same confidence with which we have always recommended the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT and the CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS.

We continue to buy and sell CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS at the market price, and fully expect they will, in time, reach the price of Five-twenty Bonds. They are dealt in at all the principal money-centres of the world; the Company have none left, and can issue no more, on their Main Line, as the amount was fixed by act of Congress at $25,885,000; the property pledged to secure the bondholders is the net receipts of the road for the year will be nearly three times the interest payments thereon.

WORTH FULLY ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS;

The CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are issued in $100, $500, $1000; either coupon or registered; interest, six per cent., gold, payable May and November.

The CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS are all for $1000 each; interest, six per cent., gold, payable January and July, in New York City.

We buy and sell FIVE-TWENTIES, TEN-FORTIES, EIGHTY-ONES, and CENTRAL OF WESTERN PACIFICS, or receive them in payment for CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS at their current market price.

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail or express. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

Deposit accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum. Checks drawn on us are payable on presentation, without notice the same as at a National Bank.

Certificates of Deposit, bearing interest at special rates to be agreed upon, will be issued to Savings Banks, Institutions, Trustees of Estates, and others having sums of money awaiting investment.

Orders for Investment Stocks and Bonds executed at the Stock Exchange. Government Securities bought and sold, as usual, at current market rates. FISK & HATCH.

Masquerade.

The fifth annual Masked Ball under the management of Mr. W. I. Trafton, is to come off in Congress Hall on Tuesday evening, Dec. 5. Harlow's quadrille band will furnish the music.

Firemen's Ball.

The Twelfth Annual Ball of Sagamore S. F. E. Co., No 2, will be given in Congress Hall on Thanksgiving Eve, Wednesday, Nov. 29. Firemen and military are requested to appear in uniform. Gilbert's quadrille band will make the music, and tickets are placed at $1.50. We are informed that this promises to be the most successful affair of the kind ever given by the Company.

Sales of Real Estate.

We hear that Messrs. Main & Winchester have purchased the Rogers estate on Congress St. for a sum exceeding $25,000. Rumor has it that the buildings thereon will be removed and that a large block of buildings will be put up, having a public hall in the second story and finely fitted stores below.

The residence of the late Joseph Holmes, corner of Islington and Cornwall Streets, was sold to Mr. Heman Eldredge on Wednesday for $4900.

Washburn's Last Sensation

Gave a good show to a good house, Wednesday evening. The gymnastic performances and dancing were of the very best of their kind, the burlesques were good and the contortionist "didn't have no bones into him." The performers looked as though they lived up to the first part of their motto, "Sobriety and Morality;" and if there is nothing particularly moral to comic dancing and "turning puddings," there was nothing offensive to decency in the performance—and as shows go now-a-days that fairly entitles this one to call itself a "great moral exhibition." Those who patronize it get their money's worth.

Mr. Audrew Jackson.

Formerly a slave, and a passenger for Canada and freedom per underground railway in the good old days when liberty and slavery were nearly synonymous terms in the United States, will speak at the Middle Street vestry on Friday evening. He is endeavoring to procure means to erect a large schoolhouse for the freedmen at Darlington, S. C., and is vouched for by Wendell Phillips, (who was the underground engineer when Mr. Jackson passed over that now neglected road,) Mr. Woods of the Boston Advertiser and other gentlemen connected with that and other Boston papers, as well as by prominent citizens of other places.

An Absurd Idea.

Several good Republicans—we hope they will not feel aggrieved when we say that their indignation must have for the moment unsettled their reasoning powers—have asked us why we did not resent the scurrilous personal attack made on Hon. Horton D. Walker in a recent issue of the local copperhead organ. If any person entertains the absurd idea that Mr. Walker or any other reputable citizen is likely to suffer from such an attack, from such a source, that person can reply to it; but when we become convinced that filth-slinging at political opponents simply because they are political opponents is recognized as honorable and gentlemanly conduct in an editor, by the better portion of the Portsmouth Democracy even, we shall have a still poorer opinion of that party than we now hold, which is needless.

New Railroad Enterprise.

A few of the heaviest capitalists of this city met in the office of Geo. L. Treadwell, Esq., Wednesday evening, to listen to the unfolding of a plan for building a railroad from Wolfeborough to Wakefield, connecting with the Portsmouth, Gt. Falls & Conway Railroad at Sanborn's Station. The proposed road is 12 miles long, and Mr. John W. Sanborn showed that the Eastern Railroad is ready to build it at once, provided $100,000 of stock is subscribed for,—of which sum only about $20,000 remained to be taken. The Eastern road engages to lease the new road for 65 years, to pay 6 per cent. per annum on the stock, free of all taxes, and to divide any surplus equally between the two roads, the Eastern to have the option of terminating the lease by purchase at any time within the run of the lease, the stockholders of the new road to elect whether they will accept cash for their stock at its par value or exchange for Eastern Railroad stock, share for share.

The town of Wolfeborough gives a bonus of $37,000 to the new road, the entire cost of which will not exceed $200,000, and the Eastern will provide one half that amount. The road will benefit this city, and there is but one possible view to be taken of the scheme for building it. That the proposed road will command a heavy traffic, will pay so well that it will soon be bought up by the Eastern road and that it is a thoroughly safe and extremely advantageous investment, was made so evident that two of the shrewdest—we might almost say the two shrewdest—business men of this city at once subscribed liberally for stock; and doubtless Mr. Sanborn, who will call on others to-day, will secure enough good names to warrant the immediate commencement of the road, ensuring its completion in time for next summer's travel.

The Narrow Escape on the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth Railroad.

PORTLAND, ME., Nov. 22.

Messrs. Editors:—A correspondent of the Boston Journal writing from Portsmouth seems to have magnified an occurrence on the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth Railroad, which happened on Friday night week, into larger proportions than the facts warrant; and as the affair was only one which every railroad man knows is liable to occur any day, and was one really involving no danger, I shall feel obliged if you will give the facts in the case.

A freight train of the ordinary number of cars left Portland for Portsmouth at 1.30 P. M. The Pullman express and another passenger train passed it, and still another crossed it before dark. At the junction of the Great Falls and Conway road, ten miles from Portsmouth, it took on additional cars, making the number 39, to take to Portsmouth, but it coming on to snow hard when within 2 1-2 miles of Portsmouth, and when an hour clear of any other train's time, the engine stopped, and the Conductor decided to go ahead with ten of his cars to a siding about one mile distant, and return for the balance of his train. He accordingly despatched one brakeman with the engineman and fireman to do so. This was safely accomplished, and on leaving the switch at the siding, the man in charge there was left with his light to haul up a passenger train from Portsmouth, which would be due in three-quarters of an hour, in case they were detained in getting up the balance of the train to the siding, the Conductor remaining with his train to warn any trains coming up behind him, in case the engine did not return in season. Up to this point of time, certainly, all was made safe from any possible collision—men with good lights at each end, and at sufficient distance to make sure to stop any coming train from either direction, and provided with torpedoes in case the lights failed to arrest these trains. The result was no train approached to within half a mile of the spot without coming to a full stop. Now comes the cause of the subsequent delay.

In hauling up the ten cars when some half way from the train to the siding, the two cars in the rear became detached from some unknown cause; probably the shackle pin flew out, and instead of leaving ten cars on the siding, as the men supposed, but eight were left there, and in backing the engines to get the balance of the train in the thick snow and darkness, it struck these two cars, punching a hole in the rear of the tender tank, and throwing one of the freight cars off its trucks. The three men on the engine were thrown down into the tender and somewhat jarred, but not seriously hurt; all of them are now out of doors walking around; three days only have elapsed. To get a sufficient number of men together and to put the cars on the trucks and the train out of the way took some three hours, and a detention of three passenger trains for about that time was the consequence. The engine was not disabled, excepting by the loss of water from its tender. Your correspondent speaks feelingly of sundry contingencies, which if not heeded or seen would have led to serious results. This we all know, and we also know that disastrous consequences are almost sure to follow any neglect of observance of signals on the part of an engineman—signals both of danger and of safety which he is bound to notice and obey on almost every mile of his journey. And I am happy to give my testimony to their uniform care and watchfulness in this as well as the other important issues intrusted to their hands.

F. CHASE, Supt. P. S. & P. R. R.

—Two good-natured Irishmen on a certain occasion, occupied the same bed. In the morning one of them inquired of the other: "Dennis, did ye hear tundher last night?" "No, Pat, did it rally thundher?" Yis, it thundhed as if hiven an airth wid come together." "Why in the devil, thin, didn't ye wake me, for ye know I can't slape whin it tundhers."

—Worth, the man milliner, only needs to look at a woman to immediately decide what style of dress will become her; but in Paris there's considerable difference between Worth looking at women, and women worth looking at.—New York Evening Post.

PROTECTING SHRUBS.—There are a few good gardens in our Northern States that do not contain more or less small shrubs, that require a slight winter protection. Rhododendrons, roses and a few of the more delicate evergreens are the plants most generally protected. The usual method of doing this is to tie them up with long, straight straw, drawing the branches in close together, forming a conical bundle that will shed rain and snow. In cities and their suburbs one can see thousands of plants done up in this kind of "straight jacket," every winter, and I have known a good many to come out in spring as dry as a pipe stem, and of course dead. Such straw jackets may answer very well for deciduous shrubs, but the leaves of evergreens require moisture even in winter and a far better plan of protection is to place several stakes about the plants, and put straw or hay in loosely about the branches and stem. The stakes may set leaning in towards the stem, forming an open, loose cone that will admit rain, but not retain a large quantity of snow. All that is required for such plants is a slight shading to ward off the cold and drying wind; but there is no use of attempting to prevent freezing. All tender deciduous shrubs I protect by laying down and covering with soil; and evergreens by surrounding with straw or hay held in its place by stakes or loose bands.—Rural New Yorker.

A REMARKABLE CAT STORY.—A Chicago correspondent wonders if a cat has nine lives. "A cat has actually been recovered," he says "from the desolate ruins of the Post Office and Custom House building. She still wears her royal vestments of fur, and retains her lung power and her appetite, both marvellously improved. James M. Hubbard, Esq., Uncle Sam's mail dispatch officer at this point, was hunting the ruin recently for something he thought might still be preserved. Meaow! He distinctly heard the familiar melodious voice. He is a judge of music, and could not be deceived. Again arose the muffled falsetto. "It must be the ghost!" He stepped lightly over the crumbling brickbats and helped some workmen to excavate the ruins in the corner whence the sound proceeded. La. There eight feet under ground, at the mouth of a sewer pipe, upright in a pail of water, sat grimalkin, with a cold in her head and cinders in her eyes. Sister of Shadrach, Meshach & Co., she had survived the fiery furnace, and came forth unscathed. It seemed on examination, that she had exhibited the presence of mind to stick her legs in the water and her head in the sewer, and when the building collapsed a column fell so as to shelter her. A million dollars in gold had melted into bullion within twenty-five feet of her. Puss is an immense favorite in the Post Office, and has resumed her place as a regular member of the staff.

AN INCIDENT.—Yesterday evening, a lady of this city was surprised, and, on the whole, she had reason to be. She was at supper, and on the table reposed, among other edibles, a plate of brown, and apparently toothsome "doughnuts." The lady took up one and was conveying it to her mouth, when there sprang from it a vigorous little mouse, which landed on her shoulder scampered around her neck, descended to the floor, and speedily vanished in some friendly crevice. The lady screamed, of course, as, under the circumstances she was perfectly excusable for doing, and when she had recovered from the shock, the doughnut was examined. It was found that while it remained in the pantry the mouse had gnawed a hole through one side of the article, had scooped out a little hollow, and had there established his winter quarters. The pressure of the lady's hand on the doughnut as she took it up probably troubled his mousship, and he made an abrupt departure as above stated. The lady now don't really relish doughnuts.—Hartford Post.

A DISAPPOINTED MAN.—An old man of seventy, living near Newport, Indiana, quarrelled with his wife, and taking down his shot-gun announced that he would commit suicide forthwith. He went into the yard, lay down on the ground where he could be seen from a front window, fired the gun off in the air, and remained motionless for an hour, during which time he silly watched the door and window for the appearance of his grief-stricken wife: "But he was sadly mistaken," says the old gentleman's home paper. "They did not come out to see whether he had blown the top of his head off or not. This was more than the old man could stand; he rose up, went into the house, and made things hot for the old woman and the children for a while. He'd show them whether they wouldn't come out when he had killed himself."

—Samuel Bowles, the editor of the Springfield Republican, has invented a patent hen-roost. The peculiarity of this invention is that of the astronomical contrivance attached to the roost, and the hens are compelled to awaken exactly at daybreak. It is not generally known, but investigation shows that in counties as cold as New England the hens are apt to roost an hour or two after the sun rises, which effects the character of the eggs and the quality of the young chickens. Mr. Bowles, himself, is a practical farmer, and has been investigating this subject for a great many years; the result is an invention which will add largely to the value of the poultry throughout the country.

—In Lowell it is "stilted" to say "gentlemen boarders." They are called "mealers."

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittant and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and of the Vital Organs. 1yrdawf6t16

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearances the surface gives humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Bowels, Skin and Blood, Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworms, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Pleuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes it to fall off prematurely, and then leaves it unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, and many have gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Where comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, unsightly and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first step will be clear the passages, the stomach, and bowels from all diseased mucous and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the foul matter and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the tubuals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic comes in to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the poison that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strongly caution my patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety be exposed to the cold, biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds or spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influence. The health of the patient should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutritious diet, and all the medicines continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may call on it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than half a dozen of other kinds. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to supply dealers and customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had bad luck with them, and those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at my Price Wages. R. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

AN OREGON ROMANCE.—The Oregon Bulletin tells this romantic story:

Twenty-five years ago a young couple residing in the State of New Hampshire met, loved, and determined to marry. Like other human beings, they had passions, and they parted in anger. The young man moved into another part of the country, where he met another woman, whom he married. A few years later he moved to the Pacific Coast, and in time became a citizen of Oregon. The young woman fitted herself for the occupation of a teacher and went to Iowa, where she engaged in teaching school.

Fifteen years passed by, and then the schoolmarm joined a family that was emigrating from the vicinity of where she had been residing to Oregon, and in due time arrived there, and endeavored to procure employment in her profession, but met with indifferent success, and finally determined to accept employment as a domestic until she could do better. Shortly after making this resolution she was offered a position in the family of a gentleman and accepted it, but, the first time she saw the head of the family, recognized in him her former lover. The recognition was mutual, and of course the lady could not remain. Her old lover, who had grown rich, furnished her with funds, and she went to San Francisco, where she obtained a position in the School Department of that city. About eighteen months ago the wife of the gentleman died, after having been in feeble health for some years. After a while the widower wrote to his flame, telling her of his loss. She replied with a letter of consolation, and a correspondence sprang up between them, and finally the widower made a proposal to the lady to bury their old differences and consummate the engagement of their younger days. The woman who had loved so steadily and so long signified her willingness, and a couple of months ago our friends proceeded to San Francisco and led his first love to the altar. They returned to Oregon, and are now residing on one of the most beautiful farms in the Willamette Valley.

PIGEONS.—We noticed a short time ago the wonderful flight of the carrier pigeon "Tempest." We have now to record the still more extraordinary time of two other birds sent home. The following notes were found on them on their arrival:

"Dear Father: September 15, 1871, latitude 27 10 north, longitude 79 30 west, 1004 statute miles from Montclair, N. J.—I will let the male bird 'Tornado' go with this note at exactly 9 o'clock A. M., New York time. I let the bird 'Tempest' go on the 10th. She rose up about five hundred yards high, and then made one tremendous plunge to the north, and was out of sight about as quick as a flash of lightning.

HARRY C. BLEECKER."

"Dear Father: September 21, 1871, latitude 26 north, longitude 93 5 west, 1596 statute miles from Montclair, N. J.—I will let the old bird 'Typhoon' go with this note at exactly 8 o'clock A.M., New York time. He is a powerful bird, but he has a fearful job on hand. He must go through it or perish. All well. HARRY C. BLEECKER."

The bird "Tornado" arrived at Montclair the same day, at seven minutes past 2 o'clock P. M., making over one hundred and ninety-six miles an hour. "Typhoon" arrived the same day, at fifty-four minutes past 3 o'clock P. M., and fell dead on his arrival, but he brought the note in the unprecedented time of two hundred and two miles an hour.—Newark Courier.

—"Gentlemanly sport" is what the cadets at the naval academy have been in the habit of calling such conduct as this: The recent investigation shows that one of the cadets was held and made to drink a mug of mixture composed of castor oil, mucilage, ink, tooth powder and quinine, and another held out of the fifth story of a building by his heels till he was nearly dead. A third was taken out at night and made to kneel before the Herndon monument on the ground, and pray for the President, the American eagle, the Star Spangled Banner, and lastly, his persecutors. And this is what is called by some people "harmless pleasantry." We are glad that the perpetrators of these "gentlemanly" freaks are not to be let off with a mere disgraceful dismissal from the academy, but they are to be made fully answerable for their crimes, as the parents and guardians of the youths they have so maltreated are ready to ask that the civil law should be applied to them for assaults and batteries on their younger and weaker brethren. This is only justice; and it would be well that the example should be copied in the cases of certain things connected with sundry of our colleges, who have lost the title of gentlemen and earned that of brutes by misconduct of a similar nature with that of the degraded and disgraced at Annapolis. —Boston Times.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the organs to healthy action. Incontinence of Urine, Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Urinary Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and improprieties in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion of Vision and Loss of Sight with Horror of Society. Blushing, Unfitness to be in Society, Unable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

—AGAIN—

TRIUMPHANT!

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct., 7th, 1871.

AM. STEAM SAFE CO.,

COLE & LAMBERT, Managers,

300 Broadway, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—"The Binghamton Planing Mill and Sash and Blind Factory," together with several other large buildings, were totally destroyed by fire last night. The Steam Safe (No. 7) made by you, and purchased one year ago from Messrs. of the city, I fed into the furnace. On opening it to-day it was cooled off with water from the hydrant, and we found the contents in fine condition; not even the varnish inside the book-case was injured. Our confidence in the Steam Safe, (and hundreds of other citizens who saw it at a red heat and were present at the opening,) is perfect after this severe test. I shall want another Steam Safe as soon as I rebuild. Very truly yours,

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 763 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for prosecuting claims or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1871.

The Republican State Committee

Held a session at Concord, Wednesday evening, which was attended by several hundred prominent members of the party. It was decided to hold the State Convention for the nomination of a candidate for Governor, at Concord on Wednesday, Jan. 3d. Other conventions will be held as follows: Councillor District No. 1, at Newmarket, Jan. 4th; Rockingham County, at Exeter, Jan. 9th; Senatorial — District, No. 1, at Portsmouth, Jan. 10th; District No. 2, at Exeter, Jan. 9th.

Hon. E. H. Rollins, the best organizer and canvasser in the United States, presided, and urged the most thorough work on the part of each individual member of the party for success in the coming campaign. With such an effort success is inevitable. Speeches were made by Hon. J. Henry Elliott of Keene, Senator Patterson, S. L. Bowers of Newport, O. C., Moore of Nashua, Major Farr of Littleton, Hon. C. H. Campbell of Nashua, L. W. Quint and Judge Cross of Manchester, Judge Foster of Concord, Ex-Congressman Benton of Lancaster, Hon. George S. Peavy of Strafford, Ex-Congressman Ela of Rochester, Col. Daniel Hall of Dover, Hon. Horton D. Walker of Portsmouth, Ex-Senator Fogg, Hon. E. L. Goddard of Claremont, Charles A. Doe of Haverhill, Mr. Spring of Lebanon, Mr. Pillsbury of Londonderry, Ex-Governors Smythe and Harriman, Hon. John D. Lyman, Col. A. Bellows and others. There was a general feeling of confidence of success and intention to bring out every Republican vote in March.

The Elm Street Universalist society of Manchester has been suspended. It was organized in 1859.

The American Gas and Water Pipe Company of Jersey City are laying pipes for conveying water from the Amoskeag Company's reservoir, at Manchester, through some of the principal streets for fire purposes. The water commissioners have not yet decided the question as to whether Maple Falls, in Hooksett, or Lake Massabesic, shall be the course of supply for the water-works, which are to be begun early in the ensuing spring before the decision will be made.

Mr. Benjamin M. Carpenter of Keene left his home to go about four miles distant, Friday evening, and was found dead in his wagon a short time after. His head was caught between the wheel and the step, and his neck broken.

The new cotton mill which the Amoskeag Company in Manchester has been erecting for a year or two past to replace the old No. 3 mill, is now completed, and the machinery is being put into the portion which was last finished. It is five stories high and nearly 500 feet long.

Miss Silence B. Peabody, aged 83 years, and well known in Nashua as "Aunt Silence," fell down a flight of stairs Monday morning at her residence, breaking her neck causing instant death.

The inmates in the jail at Keene set their building on fire Saturday afternoon, and then tried to pursuade the jailor's wife to release them, to prevent their suffering. The fire was extinguished and their object failed.

Rochester held a railroad meeting on Saturday for the purpose of promoting subscriptions to the stock of the Nashua and Rochester Railroad. There was quite a good representation of capital present, and the amount of the subscriptions was increased from $15,000 to $31,000. A committee was appointed to solicit further subscriptions among the citizens of Rochester and vicinity. It is expected that $50,000 will be raised.

Mr. D. T. Neale has sold out his interest in the Pittsfield Times and that paper will hereafter be conducted by Edward Johnson & Co.

An ox walked out of the door of a cattle car near Canaan, on the 13th, and was killed. A cow tried the same thing and wasn't hurt.

Fisk, Jr., Loses.—In a Massachusetts court, Wednesday, a verdict of $4.60 for the plaintiff was rendered in the case of Rev. Alexander Ellis (a colored clergyman) vs. Narragansett Steamship Company, an action to recover damages for being assaulted and not being served by the waiters at the dining table of the "Providence," a boat on the defendants' line.

The Second Term of the new institution for the qualification of teachers has closed at Plymouth, with a three days' examination. Its roll contained 130 normal pupils and 120 in the model classes, under the charge of S. H. Beard, Amos Hadley, and eight assistant teachers. The school is rapidly increasing in numbers and in the newly appointed trustees are Dr. Paul A. Stackpole of Dover and John W. Simons of Franklin. At a meeting of the board of trustees, which was attended by the governor, treasurer's exhibit showed that the receipts of the institution were paying its running expenses for the first two terms of its existence. The winter will begin with skilled teachers, and already gives promise of large increased numbers.

—We notice with pleasure the re-election of George W. Young, Esq., formerly connected with this office, as member of the House of Delegates in Virginia, where he has been residing since the war.—While other counties have lost ground the county he represents, Mecklenburg, has been carried by a majority of near 1200 and that against the most bitter opposition of the rebel democracy. His success shows what may be done by earnest effort, as he had organized the party throughout the county, made nine speeches, and performed much other important labor in order to secure complete victory. He may well feel proud of the honor he is receiving in his adopted State, and we doubt not he will ably, faithfully and honestly represent the interests of his constituents. He had acceptably filled several important positions of honor and trust previous to this election.—Dover Enquirer.

Ringing Rocks and Singing Stones. The Virginia (Nevada) Express gives the following:

An item which is going the rounds in regard to what are called the "Ringing Rocks" of Pennsylvania, reminds us of a hill in this State which constantly emits a musical sound without being struck by a hammer or even being touched by anything. The hill is situated in the vicinity of Pyramid Lake, in the old Truckee Mining District, and the peculiar musical nature of the stones covering it was first observed by the prospectors who discovered the district, and who had pitched their camp at the foot of the hill. For several nights they were puzzled and not a little startled by a peculiar, low musical tinkling which seemed to float upon the breeze, coming and going, like the notes of an eolian harp.

This occurring regularly each evening when all was quiet, the miners set to work to solve the mystery, and soon found that the sound they had heard proceeded from small stones which had formed a sort of drift, or debris, on the hill side, and their myriads of tinklings mingling together, produced a musical murmur of considerable volume. The stones emitting these sounds were described as containing much iron, and some supposed that the musical tinklings were produced by magnetic action, while others thought that the whole drift of stones might be slowly working down the hill, and that the sounds were caused by the attrition of the fragments composing the mass. The district is now deserted, but while it was inhabited this hill was the one "lion" of the place to which all new comers were introduced.

A Strange Accident.—A strange and extremely unpleasant mistake occurred in East Boston recently. A new domestic had just been engaged by a family on London street. The lady of the house had had occasion to use an application of Croton oil and had left a bottle of it in the kitchen. The new girl supposed it to be hair oil and thought an application would benefit her hair. So she poured on a good quantity of it—they seldom do anything of the kind by halves—and went to bed. The effect of it was not only very surprising but very painful. When she arose in the morning her head was as bald as the traditional billiard ball, and the oil which had trickled down her face had run into her eyes, burning her face and seriously endangering her eyesight. She was removed to the city hospital for treatment.—Boston Advertiser.

—A little girl six years old was on a visit to her grandfather, who was a New England divine. "Only think, grandpa, what uncle Robert says." "What does he say, my dear?" "Why, he says the moon is made of green cheese. It isn't at all, is it?" "Well, child, suppose you find out for yourself?" "How can I, grandpa?," "Get your Bible, and see what it says." "Where shall I begin?" The child sat down to read the Bible. When she had read about half through the second chapter of Genesis, she came back to her grandfather, eyes all bright with the excitement of discovery.—"I've found it, grandpa! It isn't true; for God made the moon before he made any cows."

—A gentleman travelling in Tennessee, just after the close of the war, overheard the following conversation between two women of that country, who had been to town and were returning home on the cars: No. 1:—"What has you in that paper?" No. 2—"Soda" No. 1—"Soda! what's soda?" No. 2—"Why don't you know what soda is? that ere stuff what you puts in biskits that makes 'em git up and bump themselves."

—A mischievous Pennsylvanianess dressed herself up as a man and courted the servant girl several weeks before the deception was discovered.

—A clergyman wished to know whether the children of his parishioners understood their Bible. He asked a lad whom he found one day reading the Old Testament, who was the wickedest man. "Moses, to be sure," said the boy; "Moses," exclaimed the parson, "how can that be?" "Why," said the lad, "he broke all the commandments at once."

—A Danbury man being told that his father, noted for his meanness, would tell a lie for six and quarter cents, indignantly denied the allegation, but at the same time admitted that he might relate sixteen for a dollar.

—The Norwich Advertiser considers E. Pluribus Unum a good name for the son of a Mormon.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Rare Chance.—Persons wanting Sewing Machines, Melodeons, Cabinet Organs, Pianos, &c., can save money by purchasing of E. A. Joy, No. 9 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H. He is selling out a large stock of New Goods, warranted perfect, at one-half and three-fourths the usual prices, in order to make room for the "Domestic" Sewing Machines, the demand for which is sufficient to require his whole attention. You can pay by small monthly installments if desirable. Second-hand Goods almost given away. Don't delay, for he is determined that the entire stock shall be closed out as soon as possible.

Four Evils.—Whoever habitually uses any alcoholic preparations as an 'appetizer' will be likely to suffer from four evils, viz: an overplus of food in the stomach, impaired ability to digest it, the pangs of dyspepsia, and a doctor's bill. Dr. Walker's Vegetable Vinegar Bitters, the great Tretotal Restorative of the age, without over stimulating the palate or irritating the stomach, imparts a healthful appetite, promotes digestion, regulates the liver and bowels, purifies the blood, and thus, instead of entailing four evils, confers four inestimable benefits.

The great popularity of the famous Halford Leicestershire Table Sauce is owing, in part, to its adaptation to all soups, fish and meats, making each and all more delicious to the taste. This is really the prince of superior flavors. For sale by all grocers.

Arrest Decay.

When a plant or a tree begins to decay it must needs die. It cannot be revitalized. But it is not so with human decay. A human tree can be repaired, strengthened, restored, though a brown leaf or a withered blade of grass can never be made green again. In the autumn of life, or even in its winter, when nature seems to be giving way under the pressure of years, it is still possible to retard the process of decay, and to lend to age more than its wonted vigor. As a means of promoting this object, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is unquestionably the most potent of all restoratives. It will not make the old young, but it will prevent, lessen, or sooth the infirmities which are the usual accompaniment of the decline of life. For debility and a lack of nervous power, from whatever cause arising, it is the medicine that of all others before the world, best deserves the name of a specific. In purity, in invigorating properties, in its adaptation to weak stomachs and feeble organizations, it has no competitor among the tonics of the pharmacopœia, nor among proprietory remedies. Besides its strengthening principles, it possesses alterative and regulating properties of the highest order, and as an anti-bilious medicine is far preferable to any of the preparations containing mercury. Time has shown that for physical decay, nervous debility, dyspepsia, bilious disorders, and intermittent fever, Hostetter's Bitters is a remedy without a rival. This is the season of the fall of the leaf; let it remind the old, the feeble, and the sickly to invigorate and regulate their systems with this great vegetable tonic and alterative.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

The Republican Caucuses

For the nomination of candidates for city and ward officers are to be held this evening at the various ward rooms, commencing at 7 o'clock. Success is a duty in the coming election, and the careful selection of men who will bring out the largest number of votes at the polls is a paramount necessity. Our friends are especially fortunate in having for a candidate for Mayor, a distinguished gentleman whose strength is beyond that of his party. Let him not be hampered with any nominations which may tend to decrease the number of his supporters. The battle is easily won with good nominations, and the common enemy hope for victory only through division in Republican ranks.

Furniture at Auction.

See Betton & Co.'s advertisement of Furniture sale next Tuesday, at house 41 State Street.

Portsmouth Music Society.

At the organization of the new Society, on Wednesday evening, Frank W. Miller was elected President, L. V. Newell Secretary, Edmund M. Brown Treasurer, and E. A. Tilton Musical Director. The next meeting and rehearsal will be on Wednesday evening, Dec. 6,—and it was voted to use the Chorus Wreath for practice at present.

Mr. E. A. Joy,

Of this city, the General Agent for the sale of the Domestic Sewing Machine, has opened an Agency at Dover. Mr. Joy has built up a large trade in these Machines, which are favorites with the public. The citizens of Dover can fully rely on what he tells them. Joy to E. A. in his new Agency and to the fortunate possessors of the machines E. A. sells.

The Young People's Christian Union

Are soon to give a novel entertainment at the Temple. Besides the rendering of dramas, there are to be presented some novel features which will be sure to "take." Although "mum" is the word, we hear the programme of novelties is such as cannot fail to draw a full house. As the exhibition is for the benefit of the Union, whose work among the young has met with much success here, we predict a generous return for the labor bestowed.

Lookout Mountain,

and above Lincoln Hill, was formerly called Seven Pine Hill, (to distinguish it from Six Pine Hill, or Breakfast Hill, in Rye,) as per a plan of the premises now in possession of Alexander Ladd, Esq., of this city who with his brother owns the land, which has been in possession of the family for about two hundred years. This is the highest point within the limits of Portsmouth, and the White Mountains can easily be seen from there in pleasant weather; and the Shoals were formerly in full view, but growing pine woods now intervene and hide these Islands.

The field next west, containing eight acres, (on a front corner of which Mr Wm. Evans has just built himself a neat dwelling,) is now the property of Mr. Simon Marston, and includes the fine ice-pond about which there has been considerable discussion of late. The ice cut here has proved of excellent quality the past season, and Mr Marston is now erecting a larger and better house for the business another year. This pond, notwithstanding its high elevation, never fails or shrinks in the greatest drought; and it is very strange that its pure and limpid waters were not used years if not ages ago, for the supply of the whole South End—and indeed, why all the attractions and advantages of this whole section were allowed to lay so long undeveloped, until taken hold of by Mr. Miller.

And in this connection, we wish to express our approval and satisfaction as citizens and journalists, that the Board of Mayor and Aldermen have recently decided to lay out and construct Wibird Street to South Road, for we regard this a public benefit and improvement, and for which the small outlay will pay well. The new extension of the street is now being constructed, and the whole will form one of the finest thoroughfares in the city, being beautifully situated, and sixty feet wide for its whole length from Middle to South Street.

We are told that the land now owned by Mr. Marston, was many years since willed to a society for the relief of aged ladies; but the provision that a certain amount of money should be expended thereon in a given time, not being complied with, it reverted back to the wife of the late James Smith, Esq., and was purchased by Mr. Simon Marston for $200. It is worth many times that to-day.

Alexis.

It is stated that the Grand Duke will visit Boston and Portsmouth the week after Thanksgiving.

Subscriptions

For the Wolfeboro' branch railroad from Wakefield may be made at the office of Geo. L. Treadwell, Esq. The investment is a safe one, interest being guaranteed by the Eastern Railroad.

A New Departure, Indeed.

Gen. Josiah G. Hadley, the Democratic candidate for Mayor of this city last year, presided at the Democratic caucus held at the Court House, Thursday evening, was unanimously renominated and declined the honor of being run down again. A ballot for a candidate resulted as follows:—

Whole No. Votes	134
Necessary for choice	68
Scattering	4
Samuel W. Moses	32
Jerome C. Butler	98

and Mr. Butler was declared the nominee. A committee waited on the gentleman and escorted him to the caucus, arriving just after the wind waster of Ward Three had launched on a diatribe against the Republican party. The candidate sat down and the one hundred and thirty-four voters waited impatiently for the description of "what a sad state this country is in" to end. Finally, he exhausted himself and subsided, allowing Mr. Butler to say that he would accept, thanking his friends for the honor.

Mr. Butler is of the firm of Butler & Laighton, a right down good man personally—altogether too good to be set up to lead such a forlorn hope. He is one of the most advanced Democrats of the present day, having it is said voted the Republican ticket in war times—and for that reason will lose the votes of scores of old "hunkers" who can not see an inch beyond their noses. No one anticipates that he will poll the strength of his party and the only credit our respected friend will be entitled too will be that he can boast after election of being handsomely whipped by Hon. Horton D. Walker, and that's glory enough for the whole of one day.

Random Thoughts.

Come, Republicans; the party needs your votes next Tuesday.

One of our friends, a believer in spiritualism, promises to let us know "how the old thing works," if he graduates into corporeal invisibility before [illegible] we hope it may be many a year ere he is called upon to redeem his promise.

Are there any Republican hotel landlords in this city?

Peletiah Moulton is a nuisance. He visits us daily in search of a democratic paper. Won't some of his party friends care for him tenderly? We decline the job. Better run him for Mayor, William.

The three moderators should be able to produce warm weather next Tuesday.

Last March, Portsmouth gave Pike 1044 votes, Weston 914, Scattering 5. Pikes majority 125.

A Portsmouth citizen, temporarily residing in Boston, who took unto himself a wife recently, but in no other way changed his condition, is disfranchised according to a decision of the selectmen of the ward he claims a residence in. He declares that he'll not vote any where if not at his own home.

We saw a fire at Concord, Wednesday night, and contrasted the tardiness with which the fire department turned out, with the alacrity displayed by the Portsmouth firemen on similar occasions. We then and there congratulated ourselves on behalf of the property holders of this city that our fire laddies are "always ready," and never waste five minutes' time. A finer corps of firemen than Portsmouth boasts off cannot be found in any city of its size in New England.

The White Mountains were plainly visible from Lincoln Hill on Thursday.

Street Commissioner Ham would save the city from expense, if he would just mend that sidewalk near the residence of Stephen H. Simes, Esq., before somebody breaks a leg.

Morning Chronicle.

THOMAS NAST.—A New York letter to the Cincinnati Gazette says:

Professional duties called me to the cosy cottage home, away up above Central Park, of that most renowned of all our young "masters," Thoms Nast. I found him busy as a bee in his adorned and illuminated retreat. His welcome was sufficiently artistic, but cordial and home-like. He is a muscular, medium height, dark haired, square, and rather handsome faced person, with the tout ensemble of the Tenton, modified by a hot dash of the old Latin stock direct from the Roman republic. He has bright eyes, and his smile is winning. He expresses his deep convictions in words as unambiguously as he suggests his views to the world in those inimitable, terrible cartoons in and out of Harper's. Among the bulk of good things that Mr. Nast said, I condense (from memory) the following:

"I have for years told those who desired my views that the coming question is whether the Jesuits shall, or shall not, rule the republic. Gradually this subtle power has been undermining the institutions of our adopted country. When I first began my cartoon war on the Paddy rule in New York the boys of the company of the Seventh Regiment to which I belong laughed at me; but when I turned out with my musket last July they cheered me and said: 'Tommy, guess you were right after all. It has come—your prediction was true. It might just as well be settled now as to put it off to some future day." The boys called in 'Nast's Riot,' because I had exasperated (as the Irish expressed it) the devils, and exposed their infamous designs. They have threatened my life. In fact I have sent my family out of town, that they may not witness any 'bloody work' of these murderous Irish mobs during election times.

The most consoling thing to me is that I feel certain that I am hurting somebody, for I have had all sorts of offers made me by certain gentleman, and I knew they came directly from the Tammany throne. One was $100,000 paid to do nothing in Europe for three years. They knew no sum on earth could induce me to lift my pencil in their favor; but they presumed on their seductive golden egg when trying to placate me with a magnificent offer of lazy luxury. One woman holds in her hands the key to unlock the diabolical secrets of Tammany and the despots of this municipality. I refer to Helen Mansfield (ish rosa, Mrs. Jim Fisk No. 2), and I am now taking some delight in sketching the modern Joan of Arc who will unloose the mysterious fastening which keeps in its hiding place the charmed sword to cut this Gordian knot. Hail! Our new Joan of Arc! As we have failed, to give the idea of Shakespeare, let her come to the front, and receive all the laurels of victory."

As he lounged in a graceful, easy manner on the sofa, participating in the pleasant conversation, he was scribbling away on a paper I handed him. I had called to ask him to design a cartoon in which, among others the face of Tweed appeared, and I had indicated the place to be occupied by it by the outlines of a human face bearing not the remotest resemblance to Tweed's. While conversing he had unconsciously converted my miniature face into a most perfect likeness of the "Boss;" and there he stood, ponderous abdomen on tiny legs, ornamented with a Mansard head and a huge Tammany ring diamond! O, wonderous power of the artist's pencil.

A GRAVE JOKE.—On Sunday, October 29, the relatives and friends of Mr. John Eddy assembled at his dwelling-house to attend the last sad rites to his mortal remains, and was somewhat astonished to find Mr. Eddy not only alive but well, and he in turn was very much surprised to learn that he was to be buried that day. A hearse, and also a hack from Woonsocket, were in attendance, ordered by some one by letter. Upon inquiry into the facts of the case, and the probable cause, it was ascertained that Mr. Eddy was owing a small debt, and upon being pressed for payment said, "If God spares my life, I will pay that bill by Thursday next," and as the bill remained unpaid on Friday morning, some one supposed that Mr. Eddy had "gone to that bourne from whence no traveller returns," and therefore appointed his funeral, notified his friends, and engaged the hearse and hack, as before stated. Madame Rumor says to-day, that the author of this mischief has been discovered, and that the gentleman who furnished the hearse and hack will probably be paid for his services.—Woonsocket Patriot.

A MIXED UP FAMILY.—A sufferer by alliances between connections by marriage thus explains his positions;

"I married a widow who had a grown-up daughter. My father visited our house very often, and fell in love with my step-daughter and married her. So my father became my son-in-law, and my step-daughter my mother, because she was my father's wife. Some time afterwards my wife had a son—he was my father's brother-in-law and my uncle, for he was the brother of my step-daughter. My father's wife, i. e., my step-daughter, had also a son; he was of course my brother, and in the meantime my grand-child, for he was the son of my daughter. My wife was my grandmother, because she was my mother's mother. I was my wife's husband and grandchild at the same time. And as the husband of a person's grandmother, is his grandfather I was my own grandfather.

TESTIMONY.

PERMANENT CURE OF GRAVEL OF TWENTY YEARS' STAND—STONE PASSED, AND TO BE SEEN.

BURNSIDE, Conn., Dec. 15, 1869.
DR. HELMBOLD:
Dear Sir:—It is with much pleasure that I write you some facts respecting myself. I do not know hardly how to express myself. I have been for the last ten or twelve years the greatest sufferer man could be and live, but more some times than others. The complaint was the "Kidneys" and "Bladder." I have been sometimes from twelve to fourteen hours and wanted to make water every minute, but could not. Have consulted doctors both in Massachusetts and this State, and taken pills, I may say, by the quart; also liquored medicine; but found no relief from any, and got worse the last six months. I was so that I could scarcely get about. I could not rest night or day. It would soon have been "all up" with me if I had not seen your advertisement in The Berkshire Courier, headed "Kidneys." I read it through, and thought I would try it. I purchased a bottle; but, mind you, I had not much faith in it. Why should I, when I had been trying so many things and failed to no end? Well, before I had taken the first bottle I felt bad; but I finished it and got another. By the time I took half of the second I still got worse (apparently.) When I walked it seemed as if my kidney was falling from its place, and I made up mind it was of no use trying any more. And at this time the "Buchu" was doing its work, but I did not know it; so I gave it up and went to Hartford, on Saturday, to one of the best doctors in the city. He said it was the neck of the bladder, and I should have to undergo an operation. He gave me medicine, and I went home quite downhearted. On Sunday I was unable to go to church. I had not taken of his medicine, but, on my return, continued using the "Buchu;" and in the afternoon I had a desire to make water, but could not. About one hour after this I tried again, with the same result; but the next time I took the vessel it was the same as turning a faucet and stopping it off again. It was so for three times, and the third time there was something came through the passage and struck against the side of the vessel. I examined it, and it is the ugliest stone or gravel you ever saw, covered over with little pieces which collected together. I looks like the color of a mud turtle, and is as hard as flint. So you see the "Buchu" was doing its work, although I was feeling so badly. I procured another bottle, thinking there might be some behind; but since that has passed, which is eight weeks ago last Sunday, I have been as well as ever I was in my life. I have the stone securely wrapped, and those who have seen it in this place are surprised. I cannot tell you all; but this is a true story of my case. If you are welcome to make such use of my name as you think proper. I am pretty well known in Berkshire; also in Connecticut. The advertisement saved me. Why not publish more? The Springfield Republican is a wide-spread paper. If any one wishes to see this wonder, they can do so. I could write all day, but I think I have said enough this time: so I remain your ever well-wisher, EDWARD L. HOWARD,

A CASE OF TWENTY YEARS' STANDING.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 25th, 1867.
H. T. HELMBOLD, Druggist.
DEAR SIR: I have been a sufferer for upwards of twenty years with bowel, bladder, and kidney affections, during which time I have used various medical preparations, and been under the treatment of the most eminent physicians, experiencing but little relief.
Having seen your preparation extensively advertised, I consulted my family physician in regard to using your Extract Buchu.
I did this because I had used all kinds of advertised remedies, and had found them worthless, and some quite injurious; in fact, I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies hereafter, unless I knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy. As you advertised that it was composed of buchu, cubeb, and juniper-berries, it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination, and with his advice, after an examination of the matter and consulting again with the druggist, I concluded to try it. I commenced to use it about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room.
From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks was able to walk out. I felt much like writing to you a full statement of my case at the time; but thought my improvement might be only temporary, and therefore concluded to defer, and see if it would effect a perfect cure, knowing that it would be of greater value to you and more satisfactory to me.
I am now able to report that a cure is effected, after using the remedy for five months.
I HAVE NOT USED ANY NOW FOR THREE MONTHS, AND FEEL AS WELL IN ALL RESPECTS AS I EVER DID.
Your Buchu being devoid of any unpleasant taste and odor, a nice tonic and invigorator of the system, I do not mean to be without it whenever occasion may require its use on such occasions.

FROM THE PRINCIPAL PHYSICIAN SANITARY INFIRMARY OF THE STATE OF LOUISIANA.

PARISH LA FOURCHE, La., April 29, 1870.
H. T. HELMBOLD, Esq.:
Dear Sir:—I have in my practice used (in a majority of cases when diseases of the urinary organs existed) HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU, and confidently say that I have never known it to be used without the greatest beneficial results. I have consulted patients after partaking of it, and they invariably confirm my statement. I am satisfied that the preparation is an established fact, convincingly proved by the practical test of long experience. Yours, respectfully,

PERMANENT CURE OF DIABETES WITH FOUR BOTTLES.

HACKENSACK, Bergen Co., N.J., April 25, 1870.
DR. H. T. HELMBOLD,
Dear Sir:—I have been suffering for a long time from Diabetes, and had been under treatment for the same by (3) three of the most eminent physicians of this place—viz: Drs. Hazbrook, Hall, and Smith—without any apparent beneficial result. Having heard of your "Fluid Extract Buchu," I concluded to try it, although I had but little faith in its curative properties. I am happy to state, after having taken four bottles of your "Buchu," I am entirely cured, and deem it but my duty to you and the community at large to inform you of the fact that I have been perfectly cured by your medicine, having been informed by the three physicians, above stated, that my disease was incurable.
Truly yours, JOHN H. WYGANT.
I respectfully refer to any citizen of Hackensack.

CURE OF BLADDER AND KIDNEY AFFECTION OF LONG STANDING—STONE PASSED AND TO BE SEEN.

WESTPORT, Conn., Sept. 5, 1869.
H. T. HELMBOLD, Esq.
DEAR SIR:—I commenced taking your "Extract of Buchu" about two weeks since for an affection of the kidneys. I have suffered by spells very much for a few days past, but yesterday relief came, through the effect of your "Buchu." A stone passed from my bladder about the size of a large pea, and now I feel perfectly well and entirely free from the pain that I have suffered with "so hard." I attribute my cure to your medicine entirely, and would recommend all persons similarly affected to try it. I have great faith in its curative powers.
Yours, truly, THOMAS J. BENNETT.

CURE OF KIDNEY AND BLADDER AFFECTION OF A PATIENT SEVENTY-EIGHT YEARS OF AGE.

THANKS TO MR. HELMBOLD.

GIRARD, Penn., March 31, 1869.
EDITOR COSMOPOLITE:—I desire, as an unsolicited tribute to the merits of HELMBOLD'S BUCHU, and for the benefit of those similarly afflicted as myself, to say that, after consulting many eminent physicians, and trying nearly all the best advertised remedies, in the vain hope of finding relief from aggravated kidney and bladder diseases from which I have suffered excessively for many years, good fortune finally suggested to me HELMBOLD'S BUCHU, which I commenced using with little faith and no apparent beneficial result for about a month. At the expiration of that time, however, I thought I commenced to experience slight relief, which encouraged me to persevere in its use. Now, at the expiration of four months, although I am an infirm man, nearly 78 years of age, and consequently medicines cannot be expected to favorably affect me as they otherwise would, I have found such unspeakable relief and permanent benefit from this valuable discovery, and I feel that I ought to publicly record the fact as an acknowledgment to him and a valuable suggestion to the public. Yours respectfully,
D. M. LAREN.

H. T. HELMBOLD, Esq.
Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in sending you a certificate, in addition to the many you have received from suffering humanity. I can scarcely find language sufficiently strong to express my heart-felt gratification at the wonderful cure your Buchu has effected. For four years I have suffered beyond description. All my friends (with myself) came to the conclusion that my case was incurable. ACCIDENT placed your advertisement in my hands. I commenced taking your Buchu.
I followed the directions, and to my utter astonishment, before I'd taken seven bottles of your valuable medicine—(I would give ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS a bottle, if I could not get it at any other price)—am entirely cured. I most earnestly recommend it to all those suffering from disease. I told many persons to take your valuable medicine, and they are doing so with great success. Any information my fellow-citizens may require will be freely given by the subscriber, at his residence, 73 Milton ave, Rahway, New Jersey.

CERTIFICATE OF A DISTINGUISHED MID-WIFE.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18, 1869.
MR. HELMBOLD:
SIR: I have used your EXTRACT BUCHU with many of my patients, and can speak of it in the highest terms in every case, and consider it a valuable remedy, and one that should be in the hands of every mid-wife.
Very truly yours, REBECCA STANTON, M.D.

CURE OF NERVOUS PROSTRATION AND DECLINE OF A YOUNG LADY.

H. T. HELMBOLD: I have given your EXTRACT BUCHU to my daughter, who has been unable to sleep, very nervous, loss of appetite, general debility, and rapidly failing into a decline—in fact, consumption was talked of. I was recommended to try your BUCHU by a highly respectable lady of this place, who had given it to her son with complete success. My daughter had been troubled for a long time. I purchased one bottle some eight weeks since, which lasted one week, and from which she received great benefit, and induced me to purchase one-half dozen bottles, as I tried many other remedies and my family physician is no avail. It is now more than two weeks since she has taken the last bottle, and I am happy to inform you of its complete success.
Very truly yours,

SPEEDY RELIEF FROM KIDNEY AFFECTION OCCASIONED BY ACCIDENT.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1, 1870.
DR. HELMBOLD:
Dear Sir: On the 23d of August I received severe internal and external injuries, occasioned by an accident on a Philadelphia Railroad car. On my arrival in New York I was attended by DR. WILSON of East Fifty-fifth St. and another physician, whose name I do not remember. After my wounds were dressed I suffered for three (3) days intense agony from internal injuries, which affected my kidneys. I can say that after taking but three doses of your EXTRACT BUCHU I feel greatly relieved. I used the balance of the bottle, and am happy to state that since that time I have experienced no further difficulty.
Very truly yours,

GREAT CURE OF DIABETES OF A LADY.—FIFTY DOLLARS A BOTTLE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6, 1869.
DEAR DR. HELMBOLD:
Dear Sir: For the past eight months I have been suffering from diabetes. I have consulted several of our leading physicians; but have failed to receive the slightest benefit from their costly medicines.
Four months ago I saw your advertisement in The Herald. I was persuaded by a friend who had been benefitted by your world-renowned Buchu. I purchased a bottle, took the contents, and was so relieved that I continued the use of it. The diabetes has entirely disappeared, after using it for three months. I would give $50 a bottle, if I could not get it at any other price.
I most earnestly recommend it to all those suffering from this disease.
Sincerely yours,
ANNA E. STOUGHTON,
123 West Twenty-seventh St.

FROM A PRACTITIONER OF TWENTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

MR. HELMBOLD.
Sir: I have prescribed your Buchu in affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, with a gratifying result. Truly yours,
EDWARD L. SHAW, M.D.
NEW YORK, April 12, 1865.

DISEASE OF THE BLADDER AND GOUT OF THE KIDNEY CURED.

H. T. HELMBOLD: I consider thy Compound Fluid Extract Buchu one of the best medicines for Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder. One bottle relieved me of severe Gout of the Kidneys, and I was entirely cured by the use of six.
Respectfully, thy friend, S. M. JOHNSON.
BURLINGTON, N. J., May, 1867.

CURE OF A CASE OF GRAVEL OF NINE YEARS' STANDING.

PHILADELPHIA, GIRARD HOUSE, April 19, 1866.
DR. HELMBOLD:
Dear Sir: Having suffered with gravel for upwards of nine years, and not obtaining any relief from the various physicians in my section, I visited Philadelphia for the purpose of having an operation performed some ten or eleven weeks since; but, on my arrival, I saw your advertisement in the Ledger, and I determined to try it first, having a great aversion to the operation. I purchased three bottles, although at the time I had little faith in medicine in my case, but hoped it might relieve my suffering. I soon found my pain decrease, and felt much more comfortable. I then purchased one dozen bottles. I continued to use it, and at the expiration of six weeks I noticed a deposit in my chamber and upon inspection I found this to be gritty, and I was determined to examine more closely; and to my surprise I found this to be small particles, larger than a pin's head. I continued to use the medicine, and have collected a few of the same, which I inclose. I continued to pass them until within three weeks. My water previous to using it was foverish, and a sediment would form upon it. Since that period it is much lighter, the pain has ceased, and I am able to inform you that it is now of a natural color, and I have no pain, or inflammation in any part of my body, and can walk, ride, or rest, without any inconvenience.
I shall leave for home to-morrow, and shall take a supply with me, as I intend using it for some time, although I feel well now, and can candidly say that it has effected a cure when all other remedies and medical skill had failed.
Feeling grateful that I was so fortunate to find you to prepare such an excellent medicine, believe me, in the comprehensive sense of the word.
Your friend, J. S. SANDERSON.

(DR. KEYSER IS A PHYSICIAN OF OVER THIRTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE, AND GRADUATE OF THE JEFFERSON MEDICAL COLDEGE, AND OF THE UNIVERSITY OF MEDICINE AND SURGERY OF PHILADELPHIA.)

MR. H. T. HELMBOLD:
Dear Sir: In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say I have seen and used every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves, the simple decoction, tincture, fluid extracts—and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all to your's. Thirty years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and, without prejudice or partiality, I give yours precedence over all others.
I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu, or any other proprietary compound, of whatever name.
Respectfully yours, etc.,
GEORGE B. KEYSER, M.D.,
140 Wood St., Pittsburgh, Penn.
August 11, 1865.

FROM A PROFESSOR OF SURGERY, SURGEON AND CLINICAL LECTURER TO THE ALMS-HOUSE INFIRMARY, ETC.

I have employed the medicines of Dr. Helmbold in numerous instances within the last three years, and have always found them extremely efficacious, especially in diseases of the Urinary organs. I have no hesitation in pronouncing them of inestimable value, and worthy the confidence of the Faculty. WM. A. COLEMAN, M. D.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1871.

Independence.

So far as our observation and experience go the Republican organization in this State would be a great deal better off if its newspapers would always express their views in an honest, fearless and manly fashion. We had supposed that the notion of a muzzled press was played out. We incline to think it is in this part of the State.—Nashua Telegraph.

Dots here. If the party press dare not utter its sentiments, the party can hardly be independent. When a man has an honest conviction, it is time to speak out. We decline to sacrifice our opinions of rigid for policy. Honesty is the best thing of that kind we know of.

THE KU-KLUX.—A Raleigh, N. C., special says that nearly two hundred Ku-Klox are to be tried at the next term of the circuit court. All confess, many of them making conflicting and ridiculous statements. They are an ignorant, abject and demoralized set. One of them swears he was sworn into the order by a Methodist preacher, who informed him that Plate Dunham, a defeated candidate for Congress, was the chief, Jonah Turner, editor of the Raleigh Sentinel, was grand chief of North Carolina; Wade Hampton was grand chief of South Carolina; N. B. Forrest was grand cyclops of the Southern States, and Frank Blair was grand cyclops of the order for the United States. For defence it will be claimed that the order is purely political, and more patriotic than any other secret order in the country.

ECONOMY AND PURITY.—Tammany does not monopolize all the "financiers" in the Democratic party. The report of the legislative committee of Wyoming Territory on the condition of the Treasurer's accounts for the past two years shows a worse state of affairs than exists in New York. Neither can Tammany claim all the corrupt and ignorant "guardians of the purity of the ballot." The election returns of Hancock county, Me., gave the election to a Democratic Sheriff, County Commissioner and Clerk of Courts. Examination shows that the Republican candidates for these offices were elected, and certificates of election will be given them. At the hearing the counsel for the Republican side promptly appeared, but the counsel on the other side, did not show himself, neither did any of his witnesses appear on the ground for examination.

They also have a novel and curious way of voting in Aroostook county, Me., and a curious and novel way of counting, as shown in a hearing before the Governor and Council, which has been concluded in the case of the town of Frenchville, where the Democratic tactics were so practiced that their candidate for Sheriff of the county was elected. It seems that in this little borough the town officers, who are Democrats, are so illiterate that they cannot read nor write, but have to make their marks when called upon to put their autographs on paper. These officials, in their incompetency and unfitness to discharge their duties, called to their assistance a foreigner, not a citizen, but a man who had brains enough to supply their mental deficiences.

During the progress of voting the ballot-box was empted of its contents, and a count was to be made, when it was decided by the parties present to put the ballots back into the box and resume voting, which was done. In putting them back it is claimed by the Republicans present on the occasion that by some strange and mysterious way more ballots were returned than taken out, and the result was the Democratic candidate for Sheriff was elected on the strength of the hocus pocus operation that was perpetrated. These fraudulent votes were counted and included in the returns made by the intelligent foreigner, and assented to by the officials whose signatures appear by their marks on the records of the town meeting. Irregularities quite as barefaced and illegal were practiced in other places in the same county, but no measures will be taken to investigate or correct them, as the Republican county officers are elected in spite of them. By throwing out these illegal votes the Republican candidate for Sheriff will be elected.

THE ELECTION in the District of Columbia resulted in obtaining a large republican majority in the territorial legislature and the success of the four-million loan bill for public improvements.

BOSTON is to have a steam fireboat to protect the water front and shipping from fire.

New Publications.

The Publishers of "Old and New," edited by Edward E. Hale, offer free to new subscribers, the last three months of 1871, and also "The Christmas Locket," a Holiday Gift Book, published early in December, containing Stories, Poems, and other papers by Mrs. H. B. Stowe, George MacDonald, H. H., Joaquin Miller, Miss Williams, Charles T. Brooks, Mrs. Morris Perkins, Edward E. Hale and others of the favorite contributors to "Old and New."

By this very liberal offer, subscribers obtain the whole of George MacDonald's new story, "The Vicar's Daughter," the first part of which appeared in "Old and New" for October, 1871, which proves to be of peculiar interest, and takes up and carries forward some of the characters first met in "Annals of a Quiet Neighborhood."

They will also obtain the whole of a new serial entitled, "Six of One by Half a Dozen of the Other," the first chapter of which appears in the December Number.

This serial will be quite a literary curiosity, being written jointly by Mrs. Stowe, Mr. Loring, Miss Hale, Mr. Perkins, Mrs. Whitney, and Mr. Hale.

As the authors of the different chapters are not to be announced, and each one will undoubtedly endeavor to imitate the style of the other, this serial will be a great novelty in magazine literature, and doubtless secure for "Old and New" a large number of new subscribers among the many admirers of the popular writers who are to contribute the different chapters.

Four dollars sent to George A. Coolidge, Business Agent, care of Roberts Bros., Publishers, 143 Washington St., Boston, will secure this valuable periodical for one year, and also, the extra numbers offered to new subscribers.

A CAT TRADE.—Jim Stewart, sometimes called "The Commodore," is the most noted darkey in Erie. He is a good-natured, shrewd sort of fellow, somewhat addicted to doing business now and then on the Jeremy Diddler style, as the following incident will testify: Living near the residence of the Hon. Morrow B. Lowry, he was frequently employed by the latter to do odd jobs around the house and in the garden. One day Mrs Lowry concluded that the peccadillos of a worthless and venerable tom cat, long an attache of the family, were such as demanded the infliction of capital punishment, and Jim was called upon to play the part of executioner. After a long chase, the victim was captured and put in a basket, over which an old shawl was securely fastened. The next move was how to dispose of the prisoner.

Mrs. L. suggested drowning; but Jim, with tears in his eyes, protested that he could no more drown "that ere cat" than he could "drown blisself;" that were he to do so, his conscience, acting on a naturally tender heart, would trouble him so much at nights that he was sure he could never sleep a wink thereafter. Not wishing to ruin Jim's peace of mind, Mrs. L. compromised the matter by giving him a dollar and directing him to take the cat and dispose of it any way he pleased, so that she should never see it again. Putting the dollar in his pocket and the basket on his arm, Jim started down town. He had not got out of sight of the house when he met Morrow walking leisurely toward his home, and the following colloquy ensued:

Morrow—Hello, Jim, what have you got there?

Jim—One ob de celebrated Rocky Mountain cats, sah.

Morrow—A Rocky Mountain cat! Why, Jim, where did you get him, and what are you going to do with him?

Jim—I golly, sah! Didn't you heah ob de big bunch ob dem cats dat kum to town yesterday from Kaliforny, sah! Bes mousers in de wurl, sah, and dis is de biggest and bes one ob de lot, sah. Dey are swine to gib me foah dollars for him at de Reed House, sahr.

Morrow, (recollecting the "general cussedness" of the family cat)—Jim, we want a good cat up home, and I guess I'll take this fellow, but—but—don't you think four dollars is mighty steep for a cat?

Jim—Why, all de res' sold for five dollars, sah.

This decided Morrow, so he paid Jim the price asked, and told him to carry the "Rocky Mountain cat" up to Mrs. Lowry. Jim, however, had very important business elsewhere, and begged Morrow to take the basket himself, which the latter consented to do.

Arriving at home he took his prize into the sitting room, carefully closed the doors, slightly lifted the basket covering, and smiling benevolently at Mrs. L.'s apparent astonishment, remarked: "My dear, I've brought you a Rocky Mountain cat—the best mouser"—at this moment the cat jumped out of the basket and commenced rubbing himself against his master's legs. Morrow stopped short, while his wife broke it impatiently: "La, Morrow! why that's the same old cat I gave Jim Stewart a dollar to drown, not more than ten minutes ago."

What followed we know not, but, a few minutes later, the Hon. Morrow B. Lowry might have been noticed on the streets of Erie, armed with a walking stick, and wondering "why a man can never find that nigger when he wants to see him badly."—Beaver Radical.

Political.

The Louisville Courier Journal (dem.) strikes the true keynote when it exclaims: "Up with schoolhouses and down with the Ku-Klux is the word; and if it be spoken in time, and with proper spirit and emphasis, it will prove a word of enchantment."

MR. CHARLES BERRY, a musician in Augusta, Me., played at a ball at Kendall's Mills on Monday evening, and after the ball retired to rest as usual, but was restless and unable to sleep, and a sensation of dread of something wrong took hold of his mind. He strove to shake it off, and courted sleep in vain. So strong did this uneasiness become, that he at length arose and took the first train for Augusta, and immediately went to his home, where he found his wife and little son of four years of age, both nearly suffocated from coal gas. It was a long time before they could be revived. Had he been absent an hour longer they would doubtless have both been dead.

DURING THE PAST YEAR at the two separate yards of Messrs. David and Robert A. Smith, in Newburyport, 4,000,000 of bricks have been made, 1600 cords of wood used and about forty men regularly employed. The wood has been obtained principally from the sawmills at Seabrook and Hampton. The demand for these bricks this year has been very good, and nearly all have been sold. Last year the Messrs. Smith introduced machinery at their yards. By these improvements the clay is shovelled in its original state into the receivers, is ground, worked and pressed by steam power, and is delivered from the machine ready for drying without hand labor.

HON. JAMES PIKE addressed a letter to Hon. E. H. Rollins, last June, authorizing him to say that "under no circumstances" would he again consent to be a candidate for Governor.

Arrest Decay.

When a plant or a tree begins to decay it must needs die. It cannot be revitalized. But it is not so with human beings. A human ruin can be repaired, strengthened, restored, though a brown leaf or a withered blade of grass can never be made green again. In the autumn of life, or even in its winter, when nature seems to be giving way under the pressure of years, it is still possible to retard the process of decay, and to lead to age more than its wonted vigor. As a means of promoting this object, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is unquestionably the most potent of all restoratives. It will not make the old young, but it will prevent, lessen, or sooth the infirmities which are the usual accompaniment of the decline of life. For debility and a lack of nervous power, from whatever cause arising, it is the medicine that of all others before the world, best deserves the name of a specific. In purity, in invigorating properties, in its adaptation to weak stomachs and feeble organizations, it has no competitor among the tonics of the pharmacopœia, nor among proprietory remedies. Besides its strengthening principles, it possesses alterative and regulating properties of the highest order, and as an anti-bilious medicine is far preferable to any of the preparations containing mercury. Time has shown that for physical decay, nervous debility, dyspepsia, bilious disorders, and intermittent fever, Hostetter's Bitters is a remedy without a rival. This is the season of the fall of the leaf; let it remind the old, the feeble, and the sickly to invigorate and regulate their systems with this great vegetable tonic and alterative.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RARE CHANCE.—Persons wanting Sewing Machines, Melodeons, Cabinet Organs, Pianos, &c., can save money by purchasing of E. A. Joy, No. 9 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H. He is selling out a large stock of New Goods, warranted perfect, at one-half and three-fourths the usual prices, in order to make room for the "Domestic" Sewing Machines, the demand for which is sufficient to require his whole attention. You can pay by small monthly installments if desirable. Second-hand Goods almost given away. Don't delay, for he is determined that the entire stock shall be closed out as soon as possible.

FOUR EVILS.—Whoever habitually uses any alcoholic preparations as an "appetizer" will be likely to suffer from four evils, viz: an overplus of food in the stomach, impaired ability to digest it, the pangs of dyspepsia, and a doctor's bill. DR. WALKER'S VEGETABLE VINEGAR BITTERS, the great Tectotal Restorative of the age, without over stimulating the palate or irritating the stomach, imparts a healthful appetite, promotes digestion, regulates the liver and bowels, purifies the blood, and thus, instead of entailing four evils, confers four inestimable benefits.

The great popularity of the famous Halford Leicestershire Table Sauce is owing, in part, to its adaptation to all soups, fish and meats, making each and all more delicious to the taste. This is really the prince of superior flavors. For sale by all grocers.

The proprietors of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, Parson's Purgative Pills, and Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, have published a readable and instructive pamphlet, which may be had free at the stores.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

George William Curtis.

We regret to announce that Mr. Curtis will be unable to deliver his promised lecture before the Lyceum course.

Rev. Carlos Martyn

Will preach a special sermon to young men on Sabbath evening next, at 7 o'clock, in the North Church. All are invited.

A Slight Contrast.

"A large and enthusiastic meeting of citizens" on Thursday evening nominated Mr. J. C. Butler as the Democratic candidate for Mayor. "Whole number of votes, 134."

The Caucuses.

In the 1st Ward, Friday evening, the Republicans nominated Richard Waldron, George Annable and Isaiah Wilson for candidates for Aldermen.

and Messrs. Giddings, Marvin and Mendum were nominated.

In the 3d Ward, Messrs. Joshua Stackpole and Michael J. Vaughan were nominated for candidates for Aldermen.

City Council, Thursday, Nov. 23.

In Board of Aldermen, Elijah Clough requested leave to grade in front of his house at the Plains, and to set out trees; granted.

Wm. Sladden petitioned for a cross walk at Creek St., referred to Com. on Streets.

The Committee on Fire Department were authorized to have hydrants attached to Dover Street Reservoir if they think best.

Petition of J. D. Pillow and others for repair of sidewalk on Islington Street was referred, the Committee being authorized to cause the sidewalk to be relaid if abutters or others will bear one-half of the expense.

The Committee appointed to ascertain the capacity of Marston Pond, reported that it contained about 750,000 gal. Report accepted.

Voted; That Committee on Fire Dept. be instructed to ascertain on what terms the use of the Water can be obtained from Marston's Pond.

Voted; That the Committee on City Lands & Buildings be authorized to put in a chimney pipe for teamster's tenement under Court House, and charge 10 per cent. to rent of tenant, the committee to collect the rent.

Voted; That the Ordinance relative to the Fire Department be considered at next meeting.

Voted; That when the Board adjourn it be to meet Wednesday evening, Dec. 6, at 7 o'clock.

Saved From Fire.

About fifteen minutes before four o'clock, Friday afternoon, fire from a stove in the upper loft of the paint shop of Edward D. Coffin, on Penhallow Street, caught the paint around it and instantly flamed up. Mr. Thomas Mayo, who was working near by sprang to put it out, and Mr. Coffin flung two carriage robes over it for the purpose of smothering it. An alarm was given, and Ex-Ald. Thos. S. Nowell, who always appears in the nick of time, being in the Ten Cents Savings Bank, saw the flame and went for his Extinguisher. Meeting Stoodley's express wagon he chartered it for the occasion, and the little Extinguisher was dispatched to the scene of the fire. Arriving there, Alderman Nowell put it to the best of use and then resigned it to Assistant Marshal Entwistle, who extinguished the fire and ruined his uniform.

This is the third time Alderman Nowell has saved the city from a disastrous fire and every man thanks him for his energy and public spirit. The Insurance companies owe him a debt of gratitude for saving them thousands of dollars.

We never saw a Fire Department rally quite as quickly as at this fire. Two minutes after the alarm was given, an engine was on hand and others quickly followed. All honor to our enterprising citizen Nowell for what he has done and to the Fire Department for what they would have done if needed. Every private dwelling should have one of the Fire Extinguishers, which may be purchased of Mr. Nowell, who is the agent for their sale in this city and vicinity.

Mr. Coffin's loss is about $100, including the ruined robes.

The Biggest Pig

Hereabouts has been slaughtered by Solomon Seymour, Esq. Piggy's age was 9 months and 7 days. He weighed 400 pounds with 15 pounds rough fat.

A CARD.—A year has passed since I took charge of the Dining Rooms on Ladd Street, and for the success attained and the encouragement given I tender my hearty thanks to a most generous public. The first year of experiment has taught me that an establishment of this kind, kept orderly and with neatness, will secure the patronage of those only whom I am pleased to cater for. With a feeling of satisfaction and desire to suit customers, I commence the second year, respectfully asking a continuance of first-class trade. With the improvements made of late, I am enabled to cook dinners for families at short notice, and will deliver at the residence of any citizen who orders, boiled dinners, cooked fowl, or meats of any kind, prepared to be placed on the table on delivery. Guaranteeing satisfaction in all cases, I again solicit the patronage of the public. Meals served at all hours, at the Ladd Street Dining Rooms. CHAS. B. PARKER, Proprietor.

A MERCANTILE STORY.—A correspondent of the Providence Journal, writing of 'Musings on North Main Street," in that city, tells this story:

Before the railroad was built to Boston, the stages all came down this street, and stopped at the Manufacturers' Hotel. One summer afternoon, a delegation of Boston merchants arrived, and immediately wended their way to the dry goods store of Mr. Geo. Freeman, which was situated on Cheapside. Mr. George Freeman was as hard up as Julius Cæsar, without any great military resources, and all he could do whenever his notes payable vanquished his bills receivable on the battle-field of his little dry goods business, was to send a flag of truce to his creditors by the hands of a notary public, asking for a cessation of hostilities, and time to bury the dead.

Since he had been in the dry goods line he had sent these white flags as many as five times, and, like Frederick the Great, he had got to be more dangerous to his enemies in defeat than in victory. On that summer afternoon he was sleeping sweetly on the counter of his shop, with his head buried in a pile of calicoes, and his honest face covered with a red silk handkerchief, to shut out the world or to keep off the flies. To see a man enjoying the slumbers of an infant, when you have not been able to close your eyes from thinking of the debt, is hard to bear even for men nurtured under the superior light of Boston liberal Christianity, or educated under the classic roof of Harvard University.

The Boston gentlemen, when they arrived at Mr. Freeman's store, dispensed with those salutations customary among the refined and cultivated, and rudely shook the sleeper, asking him, in that tone of voice common to Boston men whenever they feel that the dearest and most sacred feelings of the human heart have been torn and lacerated, "Why did you not pay your notes, sir?" Mr. Freeman rubbed his eyes and asked the gentlemen to free their minds from all excitement and prejudice, and to take a dispassionate view of a written statement of his affairs, which it would now become his duty and pleasure to show to them. The statement was, of course, like all such statements, showing clearly that if the assets would only increase in volume, and the liabilities diminish in bulk, there would be a surplus left sufficient to pay the assignee without making any further assessment on the creditors. In short, to go back to our military simile, it was a regular Waterloo defeat of the bills receivable: not even the canteen of an old guard was left on the bloody field.

"I see," said one of the creditors, "that you have taken $2500 out of your assets and given it to your wife. What do you mean by that, sir?" "I mean by that," said Mr. Freeman, "that this business has not anything to do with that money. That money was made years ago in the tack business over in Rehoboth, and almighty hard work it was, too, gentlemen." "But," said one of the creditors, "did you not take this tack money out when you failed before?" "To be sure I did," said Mr. Freeman, warmly; "I fought out the great principle of the sacred nature of this tack money at my first failure, five years ago, and if it were right then it must be right now—a thing cannot be absolutely right five years ago and absolutely wrong now; besides, I have not spent this money in riotous living or foreign missions, but have given it to my wife, the best woman in the world." This happy blending of the abstract principles of right and wrong, about which there can be an endless dispute, with the affections of the heart, about which there can be no difference of opinion, made a deep impression on the Boston merchants, and they took the return stage home. They might cavil at George Freeman when they viewed him in the light of an unsuccessful haberdasher, but far above the haberdasher stood the husband.

—If there are 665,000 grains in a bushel of wheat—and somebody says there are—how many drams are there in a quart of old rye.

—It is suggested that the church collections would be materially increased if they were to be taken up by young ladies.

—It is said that Boaz married because he feared that his laborers would think him a ruthless master.

—Lieutenant-Governor Oscar J. Dunn of Louisiana died in New Orleans Wednesday.

Mr. Tiffany's graceful essay on "Day Dreaming" in the December number of "Old and New" will interest all thoughtful readers; Mr. Jones gives us a second paper on "The Language of Brutes," with curious anecdotes; and there is a strange account of a mysterious portrait of a bear on one of the cliffs of the Colorado mountains.

Mr. Hale's "Ups and Downs" is continued, showing how an enterprising firm of carriage makers declined to receive a lucrative government contract, for the reason that they thought the work was wrong in which the proposed wagons were to be employed. Terms (payable in advance), $4 per annum.

—The Albany Argus thus shows how a colored prisoner pulled the wool over a police officer:

"The constable of Adams the other day took a sable son of Africa to the depot to carry him to Watertown Jail. Africus was lame and could not runaway, but was sound mentally, so the officer purchased him his ticket, and bade him set down on a barrel of salt while he "went to see a man." The darkey espied a countryman en route for Watertown, and sold him his ticket at a discount of five cents on the cost to the constable. The countryman was delighted with the purchase, the darkey ditto with the sale. The constable came back; the sable citizen kept dark; the train arrived, both stepped aboard; the constable sat in one end of the car, it being full, the darkey in the other; the conductor came along, the darkey "didn't hab no ticket, sah," the conductor pulled the bell cord, the train stopped, the constable came back to see who was being ejected just in time to pull him into the car again; the train and the darkey went on, but not until the officer had paid double fare for his prisoner."

—A Connecticut Enoch Arden returned home, took in the situation at a glance, tearfully borrowed a dollar from his successor, and departed.

—A noble red man drank fire-water to excess, planted his wigwam on a Minnesota railroad, and soon departed to the happy hunting-grounds.

—An old lady thinks the Bonds must be a family of strong religious instincts, because she hears of many of them being converted.

—In a dispute at Charlestown, an unoffending axe was badly injured by coming in contact with one of the disputants' heads.

—And now deriding him when he is down, they declare that Tweed is like the Black Sea, because he is not the Boss-for-us.

—It is estimated that 3,000 pianos were destroyed in the Chicago fire, beside $1,500,000 worth of other instruments.

—Alexander II., the Emperor of Russia, is said to have signed the temperance pledge at the request of his wife.

—When Medill dies the Chicagoans will have to embalm him. To buy him would be intermedilling.—Mobile Register.

—A vigorous Georgia mule jumped from a two-story window to the ground without the slightest injury.

Morning Chronicle.

Is He Guilty?—The Pittsburg (Pa.) Leader publishes the following curious statement concerning W. H. Stout, a peddler, condemned for the murder of P. Kimball, his partner, in Pike county, Missouri:

The relatives of the dead man in Pike and an adjoining county offered a very liberal reward—something like $1500—for the capture of the accused man, but it was fully two years before the eager detectives could strike any fresh trail of him they sought. At last, however, about six months ago they ascertained that a person calling himself W. H. Stout, and in some particulars answering the description of Kimball's trencherous partner, was living at Grand Island, in Nebraska, and they at once telegraphed the authorities of that place to arrest him on a charge of the murder, and with a requisition of the Governor of Missouri, hastened thither to pull down their prey.

By a curious fatality, the Nebraskian (Stout) was the telegraphic operator at Grand Island, and, of course, the telegram denouncing him by name as the murderer, and calling for his arrest, was ticked out by the lightning, letter by letter, and under his own eyes, before any other mortal could see it. But either from the confidence of heroic innocence or a matchless audacity of guilt, he delivered to the authorities the despatch which was to place him in prison. There the officers from Missouri found him, and thence carried him to the State in which Kimball had been killed.

The City Marshal at Hannibal has positively identified him as the man who had been with Kimball when the two crossed the Mississippi from that town before. On the other hand, four of the most respectable citizens of Grand Island followed him at their own expense, expressly to testify that for three months before the time of Kimball's murder, and for six months thereafter, Stout was not and could not have been absent from Grand Island for three days at one time, and Stout solemnly declared that he had never seen the man he was accused of having killed, and would accept no less reparation for the cruelty of such a charge than a unanimous acquittal by a jury.

In proof of his disposition in this respect, after he had been removed, by change of venue, to Mount Sterling, in Brown county, for trial, he actually refused an offered opportunity to escape from prison, when every other captive of the institution broke loose from thence, and was found by the jailor waiting solitary and alone, to be more securely locked up. At the trial still other citizens of Grand Island testified, from personal knowledge, that he was 700 miles away from Pike county, in a Nebraska hotel, on the very day when Kimball must have been slain. Yet, strange to say, after all this, the jury found him guilty, and the Circuit Court sentenced him to the penitentiary for 20 years.

Wintering Stock.—Now to determine how much stock can be wintered on a given amount of hay. We may say by way of parenthesis, that almost every one of our readers is satisfied by this time, that he can winter much less than formerly. But to look at the thing in a business point of view. From the results of numerous experiments—many of which have been conducted in the most accurate manner possible by careful and capable men—it has been ascertained that a working horse requires a trifle over 3 pounds of hay or its equivalent per day, to each one hundred pounds of its live weight; oxen, 2 1-2 pounds; cows in milk, from 2 1-4 to 2 1-2 pounds; farrow cows, nearly 2 1-2 pounds; young growing cattle, 3 pounds; sheep 2 pounds. This will give a very fair basis upon which to make an estimate of the amount of hay required to winter certain animals. But as the hay secured was limited, and as corn will be largely made use of in feeding the coming winter, it is well to remember that from similar tests to the above, it has been ascertained that fifty-six pounds of corn meal are equal to one hundred pounds of good hay. Among farmers—men too, of good judgment—it is said that fifteen (some even go as low as twelve) bushels of corn will go as far in wintering a stock of cattle as a ton of hay. But it must also be kept in mind that thirty bushels will not go as two tons. Cattle need a certain amount of wadding.—Mc. Farmer.

—The New Albany, Indiana, Ledger gives the following account of how the nuptial knot is tied in that State: "This afternoon a highly romantic marriage took place in this city, James A. Rennsor, an old Kentuckian, of some fame as a stock raiser, and author of a work on hog cholera, and Margaret Cleveland, of this county, were married in the street, in front of the residence of Rev. C. Hutchinson, the loving couple rising in a wagon, with an umbrella over, while the genial and good-natured clergyman leaned against his fence, and, with the rain of heaven spattering in his face, pronounced the words which made the couple happy."

—The Troy Press, in some remarks concerning the sanitary condition of that city, said that "the reason of so many deaths among our citizens of late was accounted for by a well-known German, who said that they were taking advantage of the low price of lumber."

—A servant in the employ of Mr. Travis, in Natick, fell down a flight of stairs recently, breaking her left forearm. At the moment of the accident she had in her hand a lighted kerosene lamp, which was broken, but the oil did not ignite.

$1,000,000$.

By authority of the act of the Legislature of Kentucky, of March 13, 1871, the Trustees of the Public Library of Kentucky, will give a

GRAND GIFT CONCERT,

AT LOUISVILLE, KY.,

Saturday, December 16, 1871.

100,000 TICKETS OF ADMISSION $10 EACH, CURRENCY; HALF TICKETS, $5; QUARTER TICKETS, $2.50.

Tickets will be sent by registered letter; the money for them may sent by P. O. money order, or by check or draft.

Each ticket consist of four quarters, value, $2.50 each. The holder is entitled to admission to the Concert, and to the value of the gift awarded to it or its fraction.

$550,000 IN GREENBACKS will be distributed to holders of tickets, in gifts of from $100,000, the highest, to $100, the lowest, being 721 gifts in all.

The Concert is for the benefit of the Public Library of Kentucky.

The CITIZENS' BANK of KY., is TREASURER, and the Corporators and Supervisors are Hon. Thomas E. Bramlette, late Governor of Kentucky, and twenty-seven of the most distinguished and respectable citizens of Kentucky.

The undersigned, late principal business manager of the very successful Gift Concert for the benefit of the Mercantile Library at San Francisco, has been appointed Agent and Manager of this Grand Gift Concert.

The drawing and distribution will take place in public, and everything will be done to satisfy the buyers of tickets that their interest will be as well protected as if they were personally present to superintend the entire affair.

For tickets and information apply to

M. A. Wolf, No. 318 Chestnut St., St. Louis.

Tickets also for sale in every prominent place in the U. S.

Owing to the general derangement of mails and advertisements consequent on the disastrous conflagrations in the West, the sale of tickets in this enterprise is extended to Nov. 30, 1871, at which time the main office, 120 Main St., Louisville, Ky., will close for adjustment of accounts and business. No orders except by mail will be received after Dec. 1st, and no orders by mail will be filled after Dec. 10th. The New York office will close Dec. 16th; other Agencies Dec. 5th. Every ticket issued Dec. 11th will be cancelled by its purchaser. The drawing will take place in public, Dec. 16th, 1871, commencing at 7 A. M., and continue until the 72d gift is awarded. Payment of awards will commence Dec. 19, at 9 o'clock A. M. Circulars of awards will be found at every Agency as soon as they can be made correctly, and will also be sent to all ticket buyers as soon as possible. No order will be filled at the main office for less than $10. CHAS. R. PETERS, Manager.

OFFICE OF

FISK & HATCH,

BANKERS & FINANCIAL AGENTS

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company,

No. 5 Nassau Street, New York.

The rails are being laid on the Western Division of 100 miles of the Extension of this

GREAT EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINE,

which in a short time will be ready for general travel and traffic, and for the transportation of Kanawha coal to the Ohio River for the Western markets.

The earnings of the Eastern Division of 227 miles on a local road, awaiting the completion of the Middle Division of 100 miles, will reach, this year, nearly $800,000.

The total cost of the entire road, and the large equipment required for its minerals and through traffic, will be fully $30,000,000.

The total amount of the FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, which we are now selling, is FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS, of which only about FOUR MILLIONS remain unsold. The proceeds of which, with the Cash on hand, will be ample for the Completion of the Entire Line.

The inducements they offer to investors are:

A perfect security.

Great popularity and a high price when the road is finished.

The same rate of interest as Five-twenties.

Principal and interest both payable in United States gold coin in New York City.

Their present low price (93 and accrued interest from Nov. 1,) which is about 20 per cent. less than Five-twenties, with equal certainty of payment of principal and interest.

We recommend them to our friends and customers with the same confidence with which we have always recommended the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT and the CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS.

We continue to buy and sell CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS at the market price, and fully expect they will, in time, reach the price of Five-twenty Bonds. They are dealt in at all the principal money-centres of the world; the Company have none left, and can issue no more, on their Main Line, as the amount was fixed by act of Congress at $25,885,000; the property pledged to secure the bondholders is the net receipts of the road for the year will be nearly three times the interest payments thereon.

WORTH FULLY ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS;

The CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are issued in $100, $500, $1000; either coupon or registered; interest, six per cent., gold, payable May and November.

The CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS are all for $1000 each; interest, six per cent., gold, payable January and July, in New York City.

We buy and sell FIVE-TWENTIES, TEN-FORTIES, EIGHTY-ONES, and CENTRAL or WESTERN PACIFICS, for which we issue Pamphlets; CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS at their current market price.

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company of our acquaintance, at our expense. Our Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

Deposit accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum. Checks drawn on us are payable on presentation, without notice, the same as at a National Bank.

Certificates of Deposit, bearing interest at special rates to be agreed upon, will be issued to Savings Banks, Institutions, Trustees of Estates, and others having sums of money awaiting investment.

Orders for Investment Stocks and Bonds executed at the Stock Exchange. Government Securities bought and sold, as usual, at current market rates.

—A MOORISH WEDDING.—In due time we arrived at the bridegroom's house, where men were screaming and firing guns. An old Moor seized me by the shoulders and pushed me into the doorway. I thought I might as well go in and see all that was to be seen; so I ventured in. On Mr. Y—— trying to follow me, he was seized by half a dozen stalwart Moors and detained outside, and none of the men were allowed to enter; the rest of the ladies came in fear and trembling, though there really was no danger. In the house there was a terrible row; seven or eight women were beating drums of various dimensions, and screaming at the highest pitch of their voices, "ai, ai, ai," in the shrillest of tones.

In another room were women cooking on the ground, over charcoal earthern ware fire-places. They have no tables or chairs, and it was very strange to see the women with their plates on the ground, stepping about over them with their bare feet and legs. The entrance to the bridegroom's room was closed by a curtain. I had just time to notice all this when we heard loud screams of "ai, ai, ai," and in came four men, carrying the box containing the bride. They deposited the box in the curtained room, and expeditiously retired, all the women having hidden their faces when the men entered. We tried in vain to see into the room and catch a glimpse of the bride. An old slave held up her blanket before the door and would not allow any one to look in.

Presently a man came in and carried out the empty box, which was immediately hoisted on to the roof and left there. Then the men outside commenced firing in the house; and we, finding no one but the bridegroom could see the bride that night, and being half suffocated with smoke, determined upon trying to make our exit, and in a lull in the firing, rushed out as fast as we could run for fear of being shot, for they were aiming straight for the house, and marking the walls and door.

We ladies afterwards went and saw the bride. She was seated on a kind of bed, covered with a thick gold and silk shawl or veil, and looked like a pyramid. In front of her, on the bed, were four women, holding candles, and on the ground some eight women playing Moorish music, and singing in a doleful minor about the charms of the bride.

When they saw me looking steadily at the pyramid, they slowly raised the veil, and I beheld the bride. She was most gorgeously dressed in gold and scarlet; gold chains around her neck, huge ear-rings in her ears, and a cloth of gold head-dress. Her face was excessively painted; two large triangular patches of scarlet, with blue and white and black patterns on her cheeks, a blue cross on her chin, her eyebrows and eyes blackened, and the latter glued shut for three days! Her hands were traced over with Indian ink in wonderful patterns, and the inside and nails dyed orange. There she sat like a great doll, while we stared at her. Some of the women were very anxious to paint me, but I shook my head and ran away.

We have also seen a Jewish wedding. The cap of pearls and jewels on her head were worth more than £100 (as the bridegroom told us,) beside other splendid gems. We ladies have also visited several harems, the bashaw's among others; and we have had tea at one—such tea! It is considered a great luxury, and is given as a great compliment. To be offered it and to refuse, is an unpardonable insult; so, of course, we had to drink it. The sugar, six huge lumps, were put into the teapot, and the chief wife calmly stirred it with a spoon for about five minutes, then three times over poured out a cup and returned it to the teapot, and finally gave each of us a cupful of this weak, syrupy tea. The slaves handed us horrible, nasty, Moorish sweets and cakes. We had to pretend to eat, and some we managed to swallow, but glad enough were we for the ceremony to be over. Our Own Fireside.

—The only women women fear; Grundy.

Many plain young ladies live to be pretty old ones.

Wear your old clothes until you can pay for new ones.

Hair-pins to match the color of the hair are coming into use.

Man's great enemy is the wine glass; woman's is the looking-glass.

Imagine the distress of the milliner who forgot which side of the rose to put the hat.

Joys are the flowers on the path of life, and like flowers can be cultivated.

The passion for antiquities is on the increase, but old ladies are not appreciated more highly than ever. It is one of the paradoxes of life that the men who want their wine always old want a wife always young.

Women have never forgiven Lady Mary Wortly Montague for saying: "The only satisfaction I have in being a woman is that I shall not be compelled to marry one of my own sex." Her sin is unpardonable.—Revolution.

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—The odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudences in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

Describe symptoms in all communications.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the indescribable, by application to medical effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scene of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

TRIUMPHANT!

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct., 7th, 1871.

AM. STEAM SAFE CO.,
COLE & LAMBERT, Managers,
300 Broadway, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—"The Binghamton Planing Mill and Sash and Blind Factory," together with several other large buildings, were totally destroyed by fire last night. The Steam Safe (No. 7) made by you, and purchased one year ago from Messrs. Paige & Chaffee, Agents, in this city, was in the Planing Mill, and went through the severest part of the fire; it fell into the basement, top down, as they it was cooled off with water from the hydrant, and when opened the contents were found to be in perfect condition; not even the varnish inside the book-case was injured. Our confidence in the Steam Safe, (and hundreds of other citizens who saw it at a red heat and were present at the opening,) is perfect after this severe test. I shall want another Steam Safe as soon as I rebuild. Very truly yours,

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1871.

Political.

The newest departurists, who wish to organize a new party, of disaffected Republicans and the remains of the Democracy, are called Possumites.

The official vote of Massachusetts is as follows: Washburn 75,129, Adams 47,725, Chamberlain 6848, Pitman 6598, scattering 493. Republican plurality 27,404; majority 13,465.

Newton Talbot is the Republican candidate for Mayor of Boston.

The Tammany aldermen have been counted in by the New York city canvassers.

THE REASON.—The telegraph has reported the passage of a bill by the lower House of the Wyoming legislature, depriving women of the right of voting, which they have enjoyed in that Territory. Whether the other branches of the government will concur, and if they do whether the courts will allow the ballot to be taken from those who have once exercised it, remains to be seen; and a correspondent of a Boston paper explains the "opposition to Woman Suffrage, in Wyoming," as follows:—

The "opposition" spoken of comes solely from the Democratic party, who oppose it for the same reason that they opposed the enfranchisement of the negro, because it tends to swell the ranks of their political opponents. That woman suffrage in Wyoming is in every way a practical success, no one at all familiar with the affairs of that Territory can or will deny, but this success we cannot expect the Democratic party particularly to admire, since it has been the chief means of weakening their own political influence and threatens in time to oust them from many positions of power. The telegraphic report of the vote reached shows that it was treated purely as a party measure, the Republicans voting together in its favor, and the Democrats in a body against it. As the latter have still a strong majority in the House they have carried the day there; what the Council will do with the bill remains to be seen. It will be remembered that the measure was passed in the first place by the Legislature when it was composed entirely of Democrats, but it was done only as a joke, under full belief that the Governor would veto it at once. This he refused to do, and to their surprise his sanction made it law. Now they find that their little joke costs them dear. The women's vote has permitted the Republicans to send into the body three representatives, where before they had none, and the sweet harmony of their councils is disturbed by such presence. They have now resolved to undo, if they can, their fatal work.

THE WORK OF REMOVING the obstructions in the harbor of New York is progressing satisfactorily, although the final results will not be visible until all the excavations under the reefs are completed and the grand explosion of the mines takes place. The miners are busy drilling and blasting Diamond Reef, which is 366 feet long by 255 feet broad, and crops out irregularly, and is covered in parts by mud. Coenties Reef, a ledge of rocks 250 feet long by about 150 feet wide, has already been removed. At Hallett's Point there is a huge excavation, thirty-three feet deep and one hundred feet in diameter. The sides of this immense pit are perforated with ten galleries, radiating in every direction, to the length of 150 feet. When these galleries are completed, the intervening stone piers are to be removed, and replaced by brick columns. The entire hollow reef will then be blown up in one grand explosion. Hallett's Point is now so situated that vessels trying to escape its jutting extremity are driven by the violence of the current upon the Gridiron and other dangerous reefs. Before the partial improvements were made on the East River by the removal of Frying Pan and Pot Rock reefs, a thousand vessels a year were wrecked or seriously damaged by these obstructions. About $750,000 have already been expended in improving the navigation of the East River, and of this sum about $150,000 have been invested in expensive machinery and tools. Twice the above sum, it is estimated, will be required to complete the work, and Congress at its next session will be asked to grant the necessary appropriations.

BUSINESS HOURS.—An English correspondent of the London "Nonconformist," now in the United States, writes that Americans have a preposterous way of lengthening business hours. Lawyers and merchants, it is stated, start for their offices and counting-rooms at seven o'clock in the morning and keep up a show of work until seven o'clock in the evening, but waste hours during the day in dawdling and gossiping with chance callers. A London man who sticks to his business, it is asserted, gets through more real work during the six hours between ten and four.

New Hampshire Items.

On the 21st, in Sullivan, Mr. Adams Nims was instantly killed by the falling of a rafter from an old barn he was taking down.

On the 22d, in Keene, John Foley, a man who had been a switchman since the opening of the Cheshire Road in 1848, was caught between two cars and crushed to death.

Out of four hundred turkeys in a car at Nashua on the night of the 18th, fifty-one died for want of food, water and chance to move.

The house and barn of Mr. Moses Carter in Concord were burned on Thursday last. Loss about $1000, with no insurance.

The town of Kensington, with a population of less than 700, has raised and forwarded $125.75 for the Wisconsin and Michigan sufferers by the forest fires.

New Publications.

The Children's Hour.—In their December number, the publishers say: "We will not promise to make the 'Hour' any better or handsomer next year than it has been in 1871, for we do not really know where to improve it. But we will promise to keep it fully up to this high reputation as 'the best and most attractive of the children's magazines.' The illustrations in this number are remarkably fine. $1.25 a year; T. S. Arthur & Son, Philadelphia, Pa.

Random Thoughts.

You can't eat enough in a week to last you a year, and you can't advertise on that plan either.

Don't let your neighbor shiver with cold this winter, but give him of your abundance, a load of coal. The fires of charity should never be allowed to go out.

GENERAL SCHOFIELD has issued a stringent order concerning military operations against the Apache Indians of Arizona, the effect of which will be to compel them to go on their reservation and remain there, where they may be protected and fed, or take the alternative of extermination.

A HUSBAND'S LIABILITY FOR A WIFE'S BILLS.—An action was decided in Philadelphia, recently, by Judge Thayer, in favor of a husband who had been sued by a dry goods firm for the amount of a bill run up by his wife. Defence set up that defendant furnished his wife with an ample supply of necessaries. In the course of his charge, Judge Thayer said: "It is a false and foolish notion for tradespeople to entertain that a husband is bound to pay all bills contracted by his wife. No such monstrous doctrine is allowed in the law. Tradesmen must ascertain the facts and true relations of man and wife before allowing the latter to run up bills which he is to be looked to pay."

ACCIDENT.—A steamer crowded with Pilgrims, from Algiers en route to Mecca, via the Suez Canal, was run into and sunk on the 23d. Seventy-five passengers were drowned.

—In ordering the expulsion of six cadet midshipmen from the Naval Academy for indulging in the particularly silly amusement of "hazing" newly arrived students, Secretary Robeson has very forcibly reminded the light-headed boys of Annapolis that they are pensioners upon the bounty of the Government, wherefore a decent respect for the authority of the department is particularly becoming to them. The reminder is a timely one, and may possibly be heeded by some of the young men, but the Secretary's persistence in inflicting adequate punishment upon such offenders will be even more wholesome and effective in conserving discipline. So much conceited stupidity manages to get itself graduated from both our national training schools, that the service will be greatly benefited by the expulsion of young men who have not wit enough to invent some more rational amusement than that of "hazing," and the officers of the Navy doubtless feel relieved to know that six more brainless ones are forever estopped from claiming comradeship with them.—Hearth and Home.

AN INCIDENT ON THE EASTERN R. R.—When the train which leaves Boston on the Eastern Railroad at a quarter before five o'clock on Wednesday was just this side of Wenham it seemed to those on board that they had run over something which shook the cars, and the conductor pulled the line for the engineer to stop. It was found, however, that the engine had become unshackled and was on its way toward Ipswich at a rapid rate, leaving the cars on the track for fifteen or twenty minutes, with a freight train not far in the rear. The engineer soon discovered that there was no train attached to his engine, and backed up and took the cars along.—Newburyport Herald.

—A man narrowly escaped death at Rollinford, Wednesday night, by jumping on the express train starting for Boston. In trying to catch hold of both railings he missed one, and was swung between the cars, but fortunately a passenger stood on one car and a brakeman on the other, who, by great exertion saved the man's life.—Great Falls Journal.

—A Louisville boy tried to scare a rat to death, but the joke was reversed when the rat ran up his trowsers' leg and used his claws and teeth with such effect that the boy does not sit as comfortable as he did before.

—A dying man at Grand Tunnel, Pa., said that the Avondale breaker was never fired by accident, but that he was one of a party of six who fired it.

VERMONT DIVISION

OF THE

PORTLAND & OGDENSBURG

TRUNK R. R. LINE.

We urge upon capitalists and all having money to invest, the most careful investigation of these securities, believing them to combine more safety and profit than any Railroad Bond now in the market. The Portland and Ogdensburg Railroad line will be the shortest route by more than fifty miles from the Lakes to the Atlantic.

The road will have local business enough to pay all its running expenses and to insure the prompt and regular payment of interest on its small bonded debt. It will be the greatest pleasure though labor in the Eastern States, unless by the shorest route Saratoga and Lake George and Champlain with the White Mountains, Lakes Memphremagog and Willoughby, Mount Mansfield and the celebrated Mineral Springs of Northern Vermont.

The Road is under the management of some of the most experienced, successful, and widely-known business men in the country, who will insist upon the closest economy and honesty in the administration of its affairs.

The managers of the Road have themselves invested largely in its capital stock, the cash subscriptions being nearly sufficient to complete the Road ready for iron, (thus showing their appreciation of the importance and value of this enterprise.) For convenience of investors, the Bonds (coupon or registered) are of the following denominations:—

$1000, $500, and $100,

and the interest, six per cent., gold, is payable semi-annually in Boston on the 1st of May and 1st of November. These bonds are offered, until further notice, at 90, and accrued interest in currency.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

A MILLION IN THE FIELD!

Yes, a million of men, to say nothing of the ladies, know by experience that

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

produces shades of color that seem to have been brought out by nature herself. They know, too, that it is free from all injurious matter, because they have used it for years, and thus tested it by a process more certain than even chemical analysis itself. In fact, the daily experience of multitudes of both sexes, confirms the declaration of the first analytical chemist in America, that the Excelsior dye contains "nothing deleterious to health." A good dressing should be used after the dying, and the best is

BETTER—Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

CHEAPER—Because, while their first cost is not in excess of sewed or pegged work of a like grade, their Durability is far greater, they preserve their Shape much better, and the metallic fastening remains in Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

The True Ground of Confidence.

Whence comes that firm reliance, that absolute, undoubting faith in the efficacy of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS as a remedy for indigestion, bilious disorders, intermittent and remittent fevers, which notoriously prevail in all parts of the United States? This confidence has been growing for twenty years, and it is still extending. It is not the result of credulity; it has not been engendered by any human device, but is the spontaneous and natural consequence of experience. What people see daily going on under their own eyes they cannot question. When families in unhealthy districts, who resort to this wholesome vegetable tonic as a preventive, escape periodical fevers, and their immediate neighbors, who neglect that precaution, are prostrated by the disease, how is it possible that the phenomenon should be without its lesson? In like manner when it is seen that obstinate cases of dyspepsia, of liver complaint, of constipation, of nervous weakness, and of general debility, yield to the operation of the famous remedy, how can even incredulity itself withhold its endorsement? Eye-witnesses of the salutary effects of the bitters, are to be found in every civilized settlement on this continent. The thousands upon thousands who owe their restoration to health and strength, or their preservation from sickness to its celebrated curative and medicinal properties, are enthusiastic in its praise. The multitudes who recommend it in a neighborly way to their friends and acquaintances, as well as those who make public their estimate of its virtues, are always ready to state their reasons for the faith that is in them. They have all either felt or witnessed its beneficent operations.

$25 Reward.

We are constantly annoyed at complaints from many of our patrons that the CHRONICLE is stolen from their premises. The thieves who abstract these papers from the doorways of their neighbors, if detected, will be made to suffer, and we offer a reward of $25 for such evidence as will result in the conviction of any person guilty of such theft.

A Teapot Tempest.

An editor who claims to be especially friendly to Mr. Mendum, says "a desperate effort" was made to defeat the renomination of that gentleman at the Republican caucus. The statement is untrue. There was but one ticket in circulation and that was printed and had the name of Mr. Mendum on it. It was given out to all, and those who chose to do so scratched Mr. Mendum's name. Twenty-two voted for Mr. Lewis G. Davis without any preconcerted movement, while others voted for but two of the three candidates on the ticket, scratching Mr. Mendum's name. Not content with one wilful falsehood, Mr. Mendum's new born "friend" misrepresents Collector Shannon by insinuating that he and his friends endeavored to defeat the renomination of Alderman Annable. Mr. Shannon we know was one of the strongest advocates of the renomination of Alderman Annable, and opposition to it arose from the fact that he had declined to allow his name used. Was any copperhead scheme upset by the renomination of Messrs. Mendum and Annable, that makes the coppery editor feel so badly about it? Quien Sabe? It is a "gross Radical outrage"—this managing of Republican caucuses (and elections) in a manner so displeasing to the Democracy!

Communicated.

The Fire Department.

Messrs. Editors:—The local Democratic organ says, in regard to the fire at Mr. Coffin's, that the Department was on hand as quick as possible; I can say that the North bell had not struck once before there was one Hose carriage (if not more) in sight of the Parade. The same paper says that the fireman of one of our steamers is at the navy yard, which is true; but it don't say that another man is ready at a moment's notice to take his place. It also says that had the fire gained much headway a disastrous conflagration would have taken place, with no Chief Engineer to direct the movements of the Department. Does it remember where the Chief Engineer was at the time of the great fire in Penhallow Street? The then Chief Engineer was not employed on the navy yard, yet he did not direct affairs on that occasion, as he happened to be fifty miles away when the fire broke out; and if my memory serves me true he was accidentally absent from the city on every occasion of a large fire during his term of office, and the Assistant Engineer who on each occasion efficiently directed the efforts of the firemen, came over from the navy yard to take charge. Chief Engineer Marston hardly ever leaves the immediate neighborhood of the city, can reach it in ten minutes' time at any hour in the day, and no fire of any size has taken place since his appointment without his being present to direct affairs.

A member of the Democratic party says had he (Marston) known his business at the time of the Bridge street fire, he would not have laid 1200 feet of hose! I ask, where then could he get water unless he took it from a mud puddle?—for the nearest point from which any one of the steamers could get water was 1200 feet distant; and having belonged to and seen the working of fire departments in other places, I do not hesitate to say that no place of the size of our city has a better organized or more efficient fire department than Portsmouth. If some of those who waste all their "public spirit" in croaking would go in for furnishing plenty of water, or help lay the hose and give a pull on the drag-rope when needed, they might have less time to find fault with the best efforts of others but would certainly do more good. FIRES.

Consolidated.

The Mechanics and Rockingham Bands of Hampton Falls have consolidated under the name of the Mechanics Cornet Band of Hampton Falls. The services of Mr. Joseph Turner of this city have been secured to instruct them.

The Lecture

This evening, in the Lyceum course at the Universalist church, is to be delivered by Hon. Wm. Parsons. See advertisement.

Church Burned.

At about quarter past 1 o'clock, Monday morning, fire broke out in the Roman Catholic church on Mason's Hill, and in an hour's time the church was destroyed and the priest's house adjoining ruined. Nothing worth mentioning was saved from the church, but the furniture in the dwelling was safely removed. Several other buildings were scorched by the heat or fired by cinders, but no other material damage was done.

Again our citizens may congratulate themselves that there was no wind, as is usually the case when we have fires; for not a heavy breeze was needed to have made the conflagration most disastrous. Water was a long way off, and the necessity of sending for more hose to reach the fire increased the peril of the numerous wooden buildings near it by retarding the putting on of the engine streams. The house of Miss Lydia Pickering was in great danger but escaped with a bad scorching. The church steeple was a source of anxiety, but it fell most favorably, in the street; and the fire was confined to the two buildings we have mentioned as being destroyed.

A gentleman who happened to be out of doors when the alarm was given, distinctly heard voices crying "fire" when he was in Rice's Hollow in Kittery, and when he got to the hill top on this side he saw a dense volume of black smoke rising. When he reached the railroad overhead bridge he heard a fire engine bell clanging; he arrived at the middle of Portsmouth Bridge when the flames burst out, and was at the toll-gate—a good mile from where he heard the first vocal alarm—when the Christian Shore bell rang out, quickly followed by others. While passing the Eastern depot he saw a dozen firemen dragging on an engine, and took hold of the rope to lend a hand; and he grumbles considerably because "at least a hundred men ran by us while we were toiling along, without offering to give a pull." He supposes that those men are quite willing to growl at the firemen for not being earlier at the fire.

We are informed that there has been no fire built in the church for a long time, and that when discovered Monday morning it was near the altar. The loss is estimated at $20,000; insured, —how much we could not learn. The occurrence of the fire so near our hour for going to press prevents our giving further particulars.

RICHARDSON'S NEW METHOD

FOR THE PIANO-FORTE.

This well-proved Method has been 12 years before the public. Carefully prepared, and highly recommended at the outset, it has steadily increased in public favor, until, some years since, it fairly reached the highest position, and seems likely to retain it for a long time.

Annual Sale,.....25,000 Copies.

Commencing to take lessons, now-a-days, and purchasing a "Richardson's" are very apt to be cotemporaneous events.

Price, $3.75. Sent, post-paid, for the retail price.

Morning Chronicle.

A GOOD STORY, whether or not it be a true one, is told of Thurlow Weed:

Weed had about as much system in keeping his accounts (and his money) as Micawber. He was a little greater man, though, and had that grain of good sense which suggested to him the propriety of placing any specifical sum of money which he didn't want spent at random in the hands of some financier friend. In 1856 "T. W." came to New York and received $25,000 from his Republican friends—$10,000 for the purpose of defeating Fillmore for President, $10,000 for the use of the Republicans in Albany, and $5,000 for the Evening Journal. For safe-keeping he gave the Albany Central Committee $10,000, placed $5,000 to the Journal's credit, and requested his partner (Mr. Sinclair, I believe) to place the secret $10,000, to be used against his old friend Fillmore, to his, Sinclair's, credit in bank, which could be drawn as required. He did so.

One fine morning Sinclair dropped dead from heart disease. The $10,000 stood to his personal credit without a word of explanation. In vain Thurlow Weed sought the ear of the bank officer. They could do nothing. The executors of the estate found the $10,000 to Mr. Sinclair's credit. They could not, without proof, hand it over to Mr. Weed or his political friends. Thus it was swept into the dead man's estate and into the hands of his fascinating widow. Not a dollar was freed to defeat the placid Millard Fillmore. A year thereafter, the honorable ex-President from Buffalo and the charming widow of Mr. Weed's partner were attracted by that mysterious influence presided over by Venus. A few months later they were united by the hymeneal knot; and poor Weed saw his darling ten thousand dollars raised to defeat Mr. Fillmore in 1856, directed from its original purpose into the unsuccessful candidate's "marriage portion!"

—A Missouri horse thief was hung to a telegraph pole while on his way to the voting place, and according to the Providence Herald "that manner of polling a vote is calculated to deaden one's interest in town politics."

—A Pittsburg paper has a department for the ladies headed "The Suppressed."

BANKERS & FINANCIAL AGENTS

OF THE

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company,

No. 5 Nassau Street, New York.

The rails are being laid on the Western Division of 100 miles of the Extension of this

GREAT EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINE,

which in a short time will be ready for general travel and traffic, and for the transportation of Kanawha coal to the Ohio River for the Western market.

The earnings of the Eastern Division of 227 miles as a local road, awaiting the completion of the Extension of 100 miles, will reach, this year, nearly $800,000.

The total cost of the entire road, and the large expenditure of money on the Eastern Division for through traffic, will be fully $30,000,000.

The total amount of the FIRST MORTGAGE BOND, which we are now selling, is FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS, of which only about FOUR MILLIONS remain unsold, the proceeds of which, with the Cash on hand, will be ample for the Completion of the Entire Line.

The inducements they offer to investors are:

A perfect security.

Great popularity and a high price when the road is finished.

The same rate of interest as Five-twenties.

Principal and interest both payable in United States gold coin in New York City.

Their present low price (93 and accrued interest from Nov. 1,) which is about 20 per cent. less than Five-twenties, with equal certainty of payment of interest and principal.

We recommend them to our friends and customers with the same confidence with which we have always recommended the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT and the CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS.

We continue to buy and sell CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS at the market price, and fully expect they will, in time, reach the price of Five-twenty Bonds. They are dealt in at all the principal money-centres of the world; the Company have none left, and can issue no more, on their Main Line, as the amount was fixed by act of Congress at $25,885,000; the property pledged to secure the bondholders is the net receipts of the road for the year will be nearly three times the interest payments thereon.

WORTH FULLY ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS;

We also recommend OHIO BONDS now offered in $100, $500, $1000; either coupon or registered; interest, six per cent., gold, payable May and November.

The CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS are all for $1000 each; interest, six per cent., gold, payable January and July, in New York City.

We buy and sell FIVE-TWENTIES, TEN-FORTIES, EIGHTY-ONES, and CENTRAL or WESTERN PACIFICS, or receive them in payment for CHESAPEAKE and OHIO BONDS at their current market price.

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

Deposits made by mail of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum. Checks drawn on us are payable on presentation, without notice, the same as at a National Bank.

Certificates of Deposit, bearing interest at special rates to be agreed upon, will be issued to Savings Banks, Institutions for Savings, Trustees of Estates, and others having sums of money awaiting investment.

Orders for Investment Stocks and Bonds executed at the Stock Exchange. Government Securities bought and sold, as usual, at current market rates.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges put the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Dropsies and Erupt ions. Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Colds settled upon the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption with without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all diseased mucous and slime which is clogging their machinery, so they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and decay in the whole system. They will clear the liver of the diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is typoid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strength and support. It is in a condition like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making it sweet stomach and bowels; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure most cases of consumption is the free and powerful use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup nourishes the system, purifies the blood, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it ripens all morbid matters, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of free expectoration, when once it ripens. It is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcers and cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has diseased lungs, a cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal; the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature is helped, the cavities will heal, the matter will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one sound lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take out-door exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I do so for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The grand secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of the faculty do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influence. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure under almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutritious diet, and all the medicines continued until the body has restored to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung only gone. I have cured others in this way, and very many have been cured by this treatment whom I have never seen.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I shall be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them dispose it to fall off prematurely, and either effect it unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the glow and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, passessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawfebl6

LOVE WON AT LAST.

"I tell you no, Agnes! I won't have it. The fellow wants my money—I know him—I know him. I know all these dandified jimcracks. They hang around a few bags of dollars, as crows do around carrion. I won't have any such thing. Now you know."

"Father, you judge Walter too harshly. He is a good man—honest and industrious, and—"

"Industrious, say you! By the big lamp, I'd like to know what he's got to show for his industry?"

"He has a superior education, father."

"Education! fiddlesticks! Can he live on his education? Can he make dollars out of it?"

"Yes, he can live on it. He has already obtained a good situation as a clerk."

"And can earn just enough to keep him in the fine clothes he wears. I know these fellows. But there's an end on't. If you choose him rather than your poor old father, you can do so. I can live alone. I shan't live long; you can—"

"Stop—stop, father. You know I could not leave you." And Agnes Breman threw her arms about the old man's neck and kissed him, and then she left the room.

"It's curious how these young folks act," the miser muttered to himself, as he watched his child depart. "There's been twenty of these sharks after that girl—twenty of them hovering about her like man-eaters after a dead body. Don't I know what they want? Can't I see? Aha! can't I, though? It is my money. But Agnes has never loved one of 'em till Adams came along. The jackanape! And now she wants to get married right away. Nonsense!"

The old man dropped his head as he spoke, and he saw a drop on the back of his hand. "I don't see what makes her so tender-hearted. She never took it from me. But she may have taken it from—"

The old man stopped, and a cloud came over his wrinkled brow, for there was a pang in his heart. He remembered the gentle, uncomplaining being who had once been his companion—the mother of his child. He remembered how she became his wife, even when the bloom of maidenhood had passed from him, and how she taught her child to care for him, too. And he remembered how she had never complained, even while suffering, and how she died with a smile and blessing upon her lips, though the gold of her husband brought her no comfort.

Noah Breman bowed his head lower, and in his heart he whispered that he could forget all but the few fleeting joys of his life. But he could not forget that it had been whispered how his wife might have lived if she had had proper clothing and proper medical attention.

"But it would cost so much! I saved money!"

Aha—the reflection would not remove the pain. The other pang was uppermost.

Noah Breman has passed the allotted age of man, being over three-score-and-ten, and all his life had been devoted to accumulating money. He had denied himself every comfort, and his heart was as hard as the gold he hoarded. But as his hair grew more and more white and spare, and the years came more and more heavily upon him, he thought more, reflected more. The sweet smile of his dead wife was doing its mission now; and the pure love of his gentle child was now a continual remembrance to him that there were better hearts than his own.

At length the miser arose and passed from the room. He would have left the but, but as he reached the entry he heard a voice from the garret. It was his child's. He crept up the rickety stairs, and looked through a crack in the door. He saw Agnes upon her knees. Tears were rolling down her cheeks, and her hands were clasped toward heaven. And she was praying:—

"O God, be good to my father, and make his heart warm and peaceful. Make me love him with all tenderness, and enable me to do well and truly the duty I pledged to my sainted mother! I promised her I would love and care for him always. Father in heaven, help me! Oh, help me!"

The old man crept down stairs and out of doors, and for a whole hour he waited among the trees. He thought again of his wife—again of his child—and then—of his gold. And this was the first time he had walked alone there. He did not himself know how great was the influence his child was exerting over him.

Agnes—pure, good, beautiful Agnes—wept long and bitterly in the little den, and when she had become calm, got supper. But she was not the smiling, happy being that had flitted about the scanty board heretofore.

A few days after this, as Noah Breman approached his cot in the morning, he heard voices within. He peeped through a rent in the coarse window curtain, and saw Walter Adams with his child. Her head was upon Walter's shoulder, and his arm about her.

Walter was an orphan, and had been Agnes' schoolmate and her fervent lover through all the years of opening

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and imprudence in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

STEAM SAFES

—AGAIN—

TRIUMPHANT!

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct., 7th, 1871.
AM. STEAM SAFE CO.,
COLE & LAMBERT, Managers, 300 Broadway, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—"The Binghamton Planing Mill and Sash and Blind Factory," together with several other large buildings, were totally destroyed by fire last night. The Steam Safe (No. 7) made by you, and purchased one year ago from Messrs. Paige & Chaffee, Agents, in this city, was in the Planing Mill, and went through the severest part of the fire; it fell into the basement, top down. To-day it was cooled off with water from the hydrant, and when opened the contents were found to be in perfect condition; not even the varnish inside the book-case was injured. Our confidence in the Steam Safe, (and hundreds of other citizens who saw it at a red heat and were present at the opening,) is perfect after this severe test. I shall want another Steam Safe as soon as I rebuild. Very truly yours,

(Signed,) A. L. HARDING,

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.'

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. TAMMANY.—A new order of arrest for Ingersoll, Garvey and Woodward has been issued to the Sheriff. The Times says that Mayor Hall will shortly be arrested on a similar complaint to that under which his fellow-conspirators now await the course of justice. The property of A. J. Garvey is offered for sale at 40 per cent. of what was paid for it, but finds no buyer owing to supposed insecurity of the title. Richard B. Connolly, late controller of New York city was arrested on Saturday on a charge of fraud similar to that preferred against Tweed. His bail was fixed at $1,000,000.

NOT TRUE.—The story about the discovery of public frauds in the Territory of Wyoming, which would put to shame the achievements of Tammany, is contradicted. The investigation by a committee of the legislature showed the territorial finances to be in the main correct.

HEAVY SNOWSTORMS and very cold weather are reported from the West. In Montana several soldiers have been frozen; in Utah snow slides have overwhelmed several people; and in Kansas large numbers of cattle and at least five hunters have perished from cold.

EXPLOSIONS.—Two colliery explosions have occurred in England. One was on Saturday, near Bromwish, killing eight miners. The other was near Haversford, by which twenty men were injured but none killed.

A CANARD.—There is no foundation for the statement that Mr. Schenck has been recalled from the court of St. James and that secretary Fish is to succeed him.

WILLIAM OF PRUSSIA will act as arbitrator between the United States and England in reference to the disputed line in the Straight of San Joan de Fuca.

Hon. William S. Stevens has been renominated by the republicans as their candidate for mayor of Dover.

The Concord common council on Saturday passed the bill appropriating $200,000 for the purpose of bringing water from Long Pond to supply the city, with an amendment submitting it to a majority vote of the people, the voting to be by wards.

A PLUCKY CONDUCTOR.—A conductor on a freight and passenger train on the Syracuse and Binghamton railroad performed a daring feat a few days since, by which a fearful catastrophe was averted. The train consisting of twenty-four stock cars and one passenger car, which was filled with passengers, was going at a tolerable high rate of speed, when the engineer, William Hardy, discovered a rail entirely out of the track some distance ahead. He immediately reversed his locomotive, but upon second thought, determined to attempt running the train over the place where the rail was missing, and at once turned on a full head of steam. The engineer and fireman, however, did not remain to see what success the experiment would meet with, but jumped off the engine, leaving it without any one to control it. The train bounded over the disconnected track at a fearful rate of speed, every car retaining its position on the track.

The dangerous spot was passed, but with no one upon the locomotive to control its speed; a most terrible fate awaited the train somewhere. The state of affairs became known to the passengers, and a panic was at once raised. At Whitney's Point there was every probability that the track would not be in readiness for the train, and at the rate it was going it would reach there some minutes before its time. In this extremity Conductor John Vrooman proved himself to be a hero. He was in the passenger car at the rear of the train, but clambering up the ladder of the freight car next in advance, he ran the whole length of the runaway train on the tops of the cars, and was soon in the locomotive cab, seized the throttle, and in the next moment had the train under control. A less heroic man, in charge of the train, and it is impossible to tell what the result of the extraordinary runaway might have been.

—Again we find a good word of the infants terrible. A gentleman of ripe age was courting a rich widow. "See mamma," said her small son, who was playing in the room, "this poor M. Bonhomme has lost all his back hair. Won't you give him some of yours, which you bought to day."

—The Adams House, a hotel in West Amesbury, was destroyed by the late storm. The roof was being raised in order to add another story to the house, and the wind took away the supports and let the roof down, crushing out the sides of the building.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RARE CHANCE.—Persons wanting Sewing Machines, Melodeons, Cabinet Organs, Pianos, &c., can save money by purchasing of E. A. Joy, No. 9 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H. He is selling out a large stock of New Goods, warranted perfect, at one-half and three-fourths the usual prices, in order to make room for the "Domestic" Sewing Machines, the demand for which is sufficient to require his whole attention. You can pay by small monthly installments if desirable. Second-hand Goods almost given away. Don't delay, for he is determined that the entire stock shall be closed out as soon as possible.

FOUR EVILS.—Whoever habitually uses any alcoholic preparations as an "appetizer" will be likely to suffer from four evils, viz: an overplus of food in the stomach, impaired ability to digest it, the pangs of dyspepsia, and a doctor's bill. DR. WALKER'S VEGETABLE VINEGAR BITTERS, the great Teetotal Restorative of the age, without over stimulating the palate or irritating the stomach, imparts a healthful appetite, promotes digestion, regulates the liver and bowels, purifies the blood, and thus, instead of entailing four evils, confers four inestimable benefits.

An Irishman called at a drug store to get a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment for the Rheumatism; the druggist asked him in what part of the body it troubled him most, "Be me soul," said he, "I have it in every hool and corner er me."

For loss of cud, horn ail, red water in cows, loss of appetite, rot, or murrain in sheep; thick wind, broken wind, roaring and for all obstructions of the kidneys in horses, use Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders.

A MILLION IN THE FIELD!

Yes, a million of men, to say nothing of the ladies, know by experience that

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

produces shades of color that seem to have been brought out by nature herself. They know, too, that it is free from all injurious matter, because they have used it for years, and thus tested it by a process more certain than even chemical analysis itself. In fact, the daily experience of multitudes of both sexes, confirms the declaration of the first analytical chemist in America, that the Excelsior dye contains "nothing deleterious to health." A good dressing should be used after the dying, and the best is

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE.

BETTER AND CHEAPER.

THAN ANY OTHER

Boots or Shoes;

THOSE FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE.

BETTER.—Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

CHEAPER—Because, while their first cost is not in excess of sewed or pegged work of a like grade, their Durability is far greater, they preserve their Shape much better, and the metallic fastening insures a more Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

The True Ground of Confidence.

Whence comes that firm reliance, that absolute, undoubting faith in the efficacy of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS as a remedy for indigestion, bilious disorders, intermittent and remittent fevers, which notoriously prevail in all parts of the United States? This confidence has been growing for twenty years, and it is still extending. It is not the result of credulity; it has not been engendered by any human device, but is the spontaneous and natural consequence of experience. What people see daily going on under their own eyes they cannot question. When families in unhealthy districts, who resort to this wholesome vegetable tonic as a preventive, escape periodical fevers, and their immediate neighbors, who neglect that precaution, are prostrated by the disease, how is it possible that the phenomenon should be without its lesson? In like manner when it is seen that obstinate cases of dyspepsia, of liver complaint, of constipation, of nervous weakness, and of general debility, yield to the operation of the famous remedy, how can even incredulity itself withhold its endorsement? Eye-witnesses of the salutary effects of the bitters, are to be found in every civilized settlement on this continent. The thousands upon thousands who owe their restoration to health and strength, or their preservation from sickness to its extraordinary medicinal properties, are enthusiastic in its praise. The multitudes who recommend it in a neighborly way to their friends and acquaintances, as well as those who make public their estimate of its virtues, are always ready to state their reasons for the faith that is in them. They have all either felt or witnessed its beneficent operations.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?
—IF SO, USE THE—
AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

To-Day's Election.

Never did the Republicans of this city enter an election with better prospects of victory than they do to-day. The Democracy were beaten by the action of the Republican caucuses last week. Their exertions will be concentrated in the first and third wards, hoping that through some division in the former they may gain a ward officer, and anxious to preserve their prestige in the latter. We know that there are Republicans who deem it no matter of importance to cast their votes at this election, feeling assured that victory is certain. To these men, we address a word of warning. If the control of the city is to remain in Republican hands, a Republican Board of Aldermen must be chosen. In the first ward a strenuous effort will be made to defeat the Republican candidates. Every man's vote is needed. Still more important to Republican ascendency in that ward is the choice of Moderator and Selectmen to serve the coming year. Let every Republican vote in the ward be polled. This election will have a great influence in the coming campaign throughout the State. The election of four Republican representatives to the legislature which is to choose a United States Senator is at stake should the Republicans lose the ward to-day. This should be guarded against. The first duty of active Republicans is to vote; their next to secure the doubtful voters early. Get them to the polls early. Whiskey might make some of them Democratic, as in times past; therefore no time should be wasted in allowing Democratic whiskey to demoralize them. Earnest work in the early part of the day will ensure a victory to be proud of.

The Republicans throughout the city should act as if their opponents were as strong as they. They have solicited a respected citizen to accept their nomination for Mayor, and it is due that citizen that he be strongly endorsed. They propose him for the honorable position of Governor, and next to the coming candidate's qualifications and character, availability must be considered. The Republicans of Portsmouth honor the man they put forward at this juncture, and can show their appreciation of him in no better way than to swell his majority to hundreds. To-day commences the Republican campaign which is to end in March, and the Republicans who have waited so impatiently to undo the mischief of last March are waiting to hear the first gun. Ours is the opportunity to make the report so loud that even Democratic wayfarers may not err in judging its results. The disgraceful bargaining at Concord last June, the outrageous assaults on Senator Smith because he would not turn his back on a record of honesty and probity and forfeit a good name, and the bullying of Bingham, the Democratic leader of the House who itches for the U. S. Senatorship, should not for a moment be forgotten, but should act as an incentive to every Republican to cast his vote. The interest in our State politics is such that we hear of absent Republicans making preparations to return in season to vote to-day. Let none who have the privilege to vote by taking a few minutes' walk, neglect to do so. Vote early and see that your Republican neighbors do likewise.

Electioneities.

Vote the straight Republican ticket. All votes thrown against the Republican nominees by Republican voters are wasted. A plurality elects in every case of every officer voted for to-day.

See that your name is on the check list. The selectmen meet at the various ward rooms this morning from 7 to 9 o'clock, for the purpose of revising and correcting the lists. Voting commences at 9 o'clock.

On Hand.

The firemen and citizens who so readily responded to the alarm, early Monday morning, and labored unremittingly in preventing the spread of the fire and in saving property, found that well kept Dining Saloon of Parker's, on Ladd Street, open as early as 3 o'clock, affording the best accommodations for hungry men, in the shape of hearty meals of roast beef, chicken, steak, et cetera, and hot coffee in abundance.

Our Friends

The ward clerks will favor us greatly by transmitting the correct returns of to-day's elections as speedily as convenient after the closing of the polls.

The Roman Catholic Church,

Burned on Monday morning, was insured $10,000, and the priests dwelling $2,500, in the Ætna and Home Companies of Hartford, Conn. The loss is said to be much less than was at first estimated, and to be about covered by the insurance. The resident priest, Rev. Mr. Walsh, was absent from the city when the fire occurred.

Communicated.

Tread Cautiously.

Messrs. Editors:—Is it not a part of the duty of our Street Commissioner to attend to the sidewalks as well as to the carriage-ways in our streets. To the latter a most careful attention is paid, and holes are filled and repairs made as soon as the need is observed; but on several of our most frequented streets there are very dangerous places in the sidewalks which have remained untouched (and growing worse) for at least two years. I will only instance one on Court street, near the Christian Chapel, and one on Congress Street, near Middle. I know that new pavements are only laid by action of the Board of Aldermen, and a payment of half the expense by abuttors; but these cases that I allude to only require a few bricks and a few hours' work to repair otherwise good sidewalks. PEDESTRIAN.

Communicated.

The Water Question.

Messrs. Editors:—I was glad to see in your paper of Monday morning the communication headed "The Fire Department;" for without going into the merits of the peice itself, it answers this good purpose,—that of keeping the subject before the public, for it cannot be too much discussed, and out of these discussions it is hoped some good will arise. Your correspondent speaks of running hose 1200 feet—this is a good argument for urging the building of more Reservoirs. The burning of the Catholic Church, Monday morning, should stimulate the city authorities to carry out a former vote to have a Reservoir at the junction of Summer and Islington streets,—and it ought to be done without further delay. There is but one voice in the city on this subject, it is daily repeated, and there is nothing to prevent having one or two Reservoirs built how. It only needs a vote of the city authorities.

AN OLD FIREWARD.

The Fire and Firemen.

We have alluded in a previous issue to the remarkably good fortune our city has long enjoyed, of having its fires in calm weather. How much depends on a continuance of this good fortune was evident on Monday morning, when the Catholic church was destroyed, for a high wind would have caused the fire to make sad work with many other buildings besides those then burned. The firemen worked hard and well, as they always do; but water could only be procured from long distances, (excepting at the 15,000 gallon reservoir in Austin Street, where steamer Kearsarge was stationed,) and much valuable time was of course lost in laying out the almost interminable lines of hose. Atlantic No. 6, at the jail pump-well, was unable to do any good with its first stream, the hose being too short; and steamer Dearborn had to get an extra length to reach from the Brewster Street reservoir to the fire. Steamer Sagamore took water from Haymarket Square, running the hose through back yards in a direct line to the burning church. The Kearsarge put two streams on the fire, and the other steamers could have done the same at the same distance; but the great length of hose required great force, and the Dearborn and Sagamore played but a single stream each when twenty would not have been too many.

For a while it seemed that Miss Lydia Pickering's house must be burned. The clapboards were blackened and shrivelled, and fires were kindling in various places on the sides and roof of the building, the heat being so great that a man who attempted to dash water from a scuttle in the roof was compelled to beat a hasty retreat; and the steeple of the church was blazing furiously, and appeared as likely to fall towards the house as in any other direction, in which case nothing could have saved it,—when No. 3's hosemen came running up the hill, received the order to enter the narrow passage between the burning church and the smoking house, and without hesitating an instant and hardly looking at the flaming danger over their heads, they obeyed the order and in a few moments a stream of water was directed upon the house and it was saved.

The yearly pay of the whole Fire Department wouldn't have sent us into that passage while that steeple was standing,—much less the $15 per year of any one fireman; nor was that the inducement which made those hosemen so coolly face the danger in the discharge of their duty, for there are but few of the firemen with whom the actual loss in clothing and time at fires does not exceed their yearly pittance. An honorable desire to receive the commendation of the public for a thorough and prompt discharge of duty is the great motive power, and a knowledge that their arduous and not unfrequently dangerous service is properly appreciated by the reasoning public will and does go further in encouraging the efforts and increasing the efficiency of the fire department than all the carping and croaking of all the stand-abouts who so love to look on when the workers are doing all that men can do, and facetiously ask why they don't do more—at the same time taking the best of care not to lend a hand themselves.

We saw one fireman when he arrived on the ground, dressed up in regular "Sunday clothes;" perhaps he had been sitting up with some young person, and failed to notice how the time was going. An hour later we saw him, ducked and drenched with dirty water and looking more like a chimney-sweep than a spruce fireman, and heard him remark to a comrade. "There's my new dancing-boots gone to the Old Harry,—cut right through on the sole, and I only bought 'em Saturday." His $15 a year won't repair damages, at that rate.

While the fire was still burning but had been got well under, the Chief Engineer received a report that the Navy Yard buildings were on fire. Sagamore and Kearsarge engine companies at once volunteered to render assistance at the Yard, the Chief Engineer consented that one should go and directed No. 3 (it being drawn by horses) to proceed to that point, and the engine was limbered up, ready for a start, in three minutes; but the silly hoax was discovered and the order countermanded before the engine left the ground. That funny fellow who got up the report would make a decided gain could he swop his head off in exchange for a medium sized squash.

We noticed a burning timber tumble gracefully down near the man who was directing the pipe of the Dearborn; but he didn't bother himself to look at it. Foreman Waterhouse of the Kearsarge was also a little surprised while in the passage beside the church, by the descent of an 8-inch timber so near him that about two feet difference in its landing place would have necessitated the choice of a new foreman for No. 3.

Alderman Marvin was at the fire, and of course set a good example,—he worked, though we did not hear him find fault with anybody. Unlike the young fireman we have previously noticed, the Alderman wasn't very handsomely got up as to dress; but then he is a married man, which precludes all necessity of wearing one's Sunday clothes over into Monday morning. [We do not charge the young fireman anything for this hint.] Ald. Marvin is not only a staunch champion of the firemen in his words, but shows his faith by his works.

We mentioned, Monday morning, that the cry of fire was given some time before the bells sounded an alarm. We learn that the night watch then on duty (Officers Fernald and C. Wesley Rand) were at the South Millbridge, near the lower end of their beat, discovered the column of smoke rising from the church, gave the alarm and hurried towards the Police Station, arriving just as the North Church bell was sounded by another officer.

BREWSTER, SWEET & CO., 1m o26 No. 40 State St., Boston.

youth. He was an honorable, virtuous man, and loved the gentle girl because she was so good, and so gentle, and so beautiful. And she loved him, not only because he had captured her heart in the time agone, but because he was, of all her suitors, the only one whose character and habits promised joy and peace for the future.

"I cannot leave my poor old father, Walter," the old man heard his daughter say. "I must live to love and care for him. On all the earth I am the only one left to care for him. It is hard! My heart may break! But the pledge of love I gave my dying mother must be kept."

"And so the great joy-dream of my youth must be changed to this reality!" exclaimed Walter, sorrowfully. "I cannot ask you to leave your father, sweet Agnes, for the very truth in you which I worship would be made a lie, could you do so. But I have a prayer, an earnest, sincere prayer. I pray that God in His mercy may remove the curse from your father's bending form."

"The curse, Walter?"

"Aye—the old curse!" rejoined the youth, fervently. "I hope God may render him penniless!"

"What! penniless?" repeated Agnes, with a stare.

"Aye—penniless! for then he would be far more wealthy than he is now. Then he would know how to appreciate the priceless blessing of his sweet Agnes' love, and then the crust might be broken, and his heart grow human again. And more than all," Walter continued, winding his arm closer about the fair form of his companion, and speaking more deeply, "then I could take you to my home—and we could both love and care for him while he lived."

Noah Breman stopped to hear no more, and as he walked away he muttered to himself:—

"The rascal! he'd do great things. Me penniless! and he prayed for it. The young villain!"

When the old man gained his accustomed walk among the great sycamores, he wiped something from his eye. He acted as though a mote had blown in there.

Two weeks passed on, and Agnes grew pale and thin. She did not sing as she used to, nor could she smile as had been her wont. Still see murmured not, nor did her kindness to her father grow less.

"O God! help me to love my father," she prayed one night. "Let not my grief make me forget my duty."

And the old man heard it.

One night Noah came home from the city, and in his hand he brought a small trunk. He barred the door, and drew the tattered curtains close.

"See!" he said, as he opened the trunk and piled the new bank-notes on the table. "Look here Agnes, and see how I have worked in my lifetime. I had no education, but I've laid up money—money—money! How many men would sell me all their brains to-night for this? See! One thousand—two—three—four—five—count them, Agnes. There's a thousand dollars in each package."

Agnes counted them over, for she thought her father wished it, and she made fifty packages.

"Why have you taken it from the bank, father?" she asked.

"To let it, my child—to let it at a round interest, Agnes—I shall double it, darling—double it, double it."

And while the old man's eyes sparkled with evident satisfaction, his child's face wore a sad, sorrowful look. And after that she sat and look at the working features of her father, and prayed that the gold fiend would get him free.

When Agnes retired she left her father up; but ere long she heard him put his little trunk away, and then go to his bed. Then she slept.

Hark! What sound is that? Agnes started up in affright and listened. But see! A bright light is gleaming out in the night, and thick volumes of smoke poured into the garret.

"Fire! Fire!" shouted a voice from the entry, and she hears the sharp crackling now, and feels the heat. "Agnes, my child!" and in another moment she meets her father on the stairs. He is dressed, but she is not.

"Take all your clothing, Agnes, and you can put them on in the entry. The house is all on fire."

In a few moments more the father and child stood in the road, the latter with a bundle of clothing in her hand, while the former held a small trunk. They gazed upon the burning building, but neither of them spoke.

And others came running to the scene, but no one tried to stop the flames. And the effort would have been useless had it been made, for the old shell burned like tinder.

But more still—no one would have made the effort even success had been evident, for the miserable old hut had too long occupied one of the fairest spots in the village. There were no other buildings to be endangered so they let the thing burn.

"You have your money safe," said Agnes.

"Yes, see—I took the trunk; I left the candle burning so I could watch it. But I went to sleep, and the candle must have fallen over. But I got the trunk!" And as he spoke he held it up and gazed upon it by the light of the flaring ruins.

"That is not the trunk," whispered Agnes, in affright.

"Not—" But the old man spoke no further. He saw that he had taken the wrong trunk. This was only filled with old deeds and rusty receipts.

"Ruined! lost!" groaned Noah Breman and he turned from the scattered embers. "I had fifty thousand dollars in that trunk, and where are they now?"

"Never mind," said Agnes, winding her arms about her father's neck, "we shall be happy without it."

Concluded to-morrow.

The total cost of the entire road, and the large equipment required for its minerals and through traffic, will be about $30,000,000.

The total amount of the FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, which we are now selling, is FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS, of which only about FOUR MILLIONS remain unsold, the proceeds of which, with the Cash on hand, will be ample for the Completion of the Entire Line.

The inducements they offer to investors are:

A perfect security.

Great popularity and a high price when the road is finished.

The same rate of interest as Five-twenties.

Principal and interest both payable in United States gold coin in New York City.

Their present low price (93 and accrued interest from Nov. 1,) which is about 30 per cent. less than Five-twenties, with equal certainty of payment of interest and principal.

We recommend them to our friends and customers with the same confidence with which we have always recommended the UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT and the CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS.

We continue to buy and sell CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS at the price, and only expect they will, in time, reach the price of Five-twenty Bonds. They are dealt in at all the principal money-centres of the world; the Company have none left, and can issue no more, on their Main Line, as the amount was fixed by act of Congress at 20,000; the property pledged to secure the bondholders is the net receipts of the road for the year will be nearly three times the interest payable thereon. The CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS are issued in $100, $500, $1000; either coupon or registered; interest, six per cent., gold, payable May and November.

WORTH FULLY ONE HUNDRED MILLIONS;

The CENTRAL PACIFIC BONDS are sold for $1000 each; interest, six per cent., gold, payable January and July, in New York City.

We buy and sell FIVE-TWENTIES, TEN-FORTIES, EIGHTY-TENS, and CENTRAL or WESTERN Pacifics, or receive them in payment for CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO BONDS at their current market price.

Orders for Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, accompanied with Drafts or Checks, may be forwarded to us by mail. Bonds or money may be forwarded by any responsible Express Company at our expense, and the Chesapeake and Ohio Bonds, in exchange, will be sent by return Express, charges paid.

Deposit accounts of banks, bankers and others received, on which we allow interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum. Checks drawn on us are payable on presentation, without notice, the same as at a National Bank.

Certificates of Deposit, bearing interest at special rates to be agreed upon, will be issued for Savings Banks, Institutions, Trustees of Estates, and others having sums of money awaiting investment.

Orders for Investment Stocks and Bonds executed at the Stock Exchange. Government Securities bought and sold, as usual, at current market rates. FISK & HATCH,

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, all the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

The Cause and Cure of Consumption.

The primary cause of Consumption is derangement of the digestive organs. The derangement produces deficient nutrition and assimilation. By assimilation I mean that process by which the nutriment of the food is converted into blood, and thence into the solids of the body. Persons with digestion thus impaired, having the slightest predisposition to pulmonary disease, or if they take cold, will be very liable to have Consumption of the Lungs in some of its forms; and I hold that it will be impossible to cure any case of Consumption without first restoring a good digestion and healthy assimilation. The very first thing to be done is to cleanse the stomach and bowels from all disease, putrefaction and slime which is clogging these organs so that they cannot perform their functions, and then rouse up and restore the liver to a healthy action. For this purpose, the surest and best remedy is SCHENK'S MANDRAKE PILLS. These Pills cleanse the stomach and bowels of all the dead and morbid slime that is causing disease and death in the whole system. They will clear out the liver of all diseased bile that has accumulated there, and arouse it up to a new and healthy action, by which natural and healthy bile is secreted.

The stomach, bowels and liver are thus cleansed by the use of Schenck's Mandrake Pills; but there remains in the stomach an excess of acid, the organ is torpid, and the appetite is poor. In the bowels, the lacteals are weak, and requiring strengthening medicine. It is a fact tion like this that Schenck's Seaweed Tonic proves to be the most valuable remedy ever discovered. It is alkaline, and its use will neutralize all excess of acid, making the stomach sweet and fresh; it will give permanent tone to this important organ, and create a good, hearty appetite, and prepare the system for the first process of a good digestion, and ultimately make good, healthy, living blood. After this preparatory treatment, what remains to cure Consumption in the free and persevering use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. The Pulmonic Syrup is a medicine that ripens the sputum, loosens it from the lungs, and is readily absorbed into the circulation, and thence distributed to the diseased lungs. There it does its healing work, whether in the form of abscesses or tubercles, and then assists Nature to expel all the diseased matter in the form of ripe sputum. The morbid matter, when it ripens, it is then, by the great healing and purifying properties of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, that all ulcerous cavities are healed up sound, and my patient is cured.

The essential thing to be done in curing Consumption is to get up a good appetite and a good digestion, so that the body will grow in flesh and get strong. If a person has disease in the lungs, cavity or abscess there, the cavity cannot heal, the matter cannot ripen, so long as the system is below par. What is necessary to cure is a new order of things, a good appetite, a good nutrition, the body to grow in flesh and get fat; then Nature has helpers, the cavities will heal, the tubercles will ripen and be thrown off in large quantities, and the person regains health and strength. This is the true and only plan to cure Consumption, and if a person is very bad, if the lungs are not entirely destroyed, or even if one lung is entirely gone, if there is enough vitality left in the other to heal up, there is hope.

I have seen many persons cured with only one lung, live and enjoy life to a good old age. This is what Schenck's medicines will do to cure Consumption. They will clean out the stomach, sweeten and strengthen it, get up a good digestion, and give Nature the assistance she needs to clear the system of all the disease that is in the lungs, whatever the form may be.

It is important that, while using Schenck's medicines, care should be exercised not to take cold; keep in-doors in cold and damp weather; avoid night air, and take all the exercise only in a genial and warm sunshine.

I wish it distinctly understood that when I recommend a patient to be careful in regard to taking cold while using my medicines, I am not for a special reason. A man who has but partially recovered from the effects of a bad cold is far more liable to a relapse than one who has been entirely cured, and it is precisely the same in regard to consumption. So long as the lungs are not perfectly healed, just so long is there imminent danger of a full return of the disease. Hence it is that I so strenuously caution pulmonary patients against exposing themselves to an atmosphere that is not genial and pleasant. Confirmed consumptives' lungs are a mass of sores, which the least change of atmosphere will inflame. The great secret of my success with my medicines consists in my ability to subdue inflammation instead of provoking it, as many of my brethren do. An inflamed lung cannot with safety to the patient be exposed to the biting blasts of winter or the chilling winds of spring or autumn. It should be carefully shielded from all irritating influence. The utmost caution should be observed in this particular, as without it a cure cannot almost any circumstances is an impossibility.

The person should be kept on a wholesome and nutricious diet, and all the medicines continued until the body has recovered to it the natural quantity of flesh and strength.

I was myself cured by this treatment of the worst kind of Consumption, and have lived to get fat and hearty these many years, with one lung mostly gone. I have cured thousands since, and very many have been cured by this treatment from I have never seen or heard.

About the first of October I expect to take possession of my new building at the northeast corner of Sixth and Arch Streets, where I will be pleased to give advice to all who may require it.

Full directions accompany all my remedies, so that a person in any part of the world can be readily cured by a strict observance of the same.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them dispose it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduced lost hair, and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of this art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf&w8

LOVE WON AT LAST.

* * * * * * * * *

"What!" muttered Noah Breman, gazing into Walter Adams' face. "Do you mean you will give me a home, too? That you will provide for me and help me?"

"Yes," returned the youth, hopefully. "I could never be happy with Agnes, much as I love her, if I thought her dear old father had no home. Come, we'll live together, and be as happy as the days are long."

"Is your salary, young man—"

"Is sufficient for us, sir. I have five hundred dollars a year. We can live on that, and lay up something, too."

"Well, well—take her—love her—be good to her—make her happy—don't never—"

When the old man saw the joyous tears leap from the child's eyes, he turned away and walked quickly from the house; but he was not so quick but that he heard the blessing that followed him. And when he walked alone beneath the starry heavens he wiped his eyes as though something troubled them.

Gay as a lark was gentle, beautiful Agnes, when she became the wife of Walter Adams. The rose bloomed again upon her cheek, and the smiles were upon her happy face like sunshine, all the day long.

"Do you pray God to help you to love me now?" the old man asked, after he had lived with Walter some months.

"Why—what do you mean?" Agnes asked in surprise.

"You used to pray so, for I have heard you," returned Noah.

A moment the young wife gazed into her parent's face, and then she answered, while she threw her arms about his neck—

"Oh, I pray that you may be spared to us for long years, in peace and happiness; but—love you? Oh, I could not help it if I should try. And Walter loves you, father—he loves you very much, for he has told me so many times."

There was something more than usual in the old man's eye now.

One evening, as the happy trio sat at the tea-table, Walter looked more thoughtful than was his wont.

"What is it, love?" Agnes asked.

"O, nothing," the husband, said with a smile. "I was only thinking."

"But of what?"

"Only castle-building, that's all."

"In the air, Walter?" asked Noah.

"Yes, very high in the air," the young man returned, with a laugh.

"But tell us what it is?"

"Well I'd as lief tell you as not. Mr. Osgood is to retire from our firm in a few days. He is well advanced in years and has made a fortune in the business, and he will live now for comfort and health alone. He has not been very well of late years."

"And is that all?"

"No. I am to be advanced to the post of head book-keeper, with a salary of twelve hundred dollars."

"And is that all?"

"Yes."

"But what 'castle in the air' is there in that?"

"O, that isn't the castle.

"Then what is the castle?" urged the old man, playfully.

"Why, simply this," said Walter, laughing, but yet almost ashamed to tell it; "this noon Mr. Osgood patted me on the shoulder, and said in his playful way, 'Walter, I'll sell you all my interest here for fifty thousand dollars.'"

"Ha, ha, ha!" laughed Noah Breman. "And you thought he was in earnest?"

"No, no," quickly returned the young man. "I did not think that, though I know that the two other partners would willingly have me for an associate."

"But it seems to me that Osgood holds his share in the concern at a high price.

"Oh, no. It is a very low one. There is a clear capital of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars in the business at this moment. And then think of all the standing and good will which goes for nothing."

"Ha, ha, ha!" laughed the old man again.

Then Walter laughed, and then Agnes laughed, and then they finished their supper.

On the next evening Walter Adams came in and sat down on the sofa without speaking. He was pale and agitated, and his eyes had a vacant, wandering stare.

"Walter!" cried Agnes, in terror, "what has happened?"

"He's sick," muttered Noah Breman, without looking around.

"No, no—not sick," returned the young man, starting up; "but I am the victim of a miserable trifling."

"Eh, how so?" asked old Noah, now turning in his chair.

"I'll tell you," said Walter, with a spasmodic effort. "I had some long entries to post this evening, so I remained in the counting-room after the rest had gone. I was still at work, when Mr. Osgood came in and placed some papers on my desk, saying as he

BUCHU

[From Dispensatory of the United States.]

DIOSMA CRENATA — BUCHU LEAVES.

PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic; their taste bitterish and analogous to mint.

MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate Gland, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections and Dropsy.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Confinement or Labor Pains; Bed-Wetting in children.

In affections peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrous State of the Uterus.

DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL AND DROPSICAL SWELLINGS.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the Absorbents to healthy action, so that Dropsical Watery or Calcareous depositions and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pains and Inflammation.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given. Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick-Dust Deposit and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for enfeebled and delicate constitutions of both sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Diseases, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from habits of dissipation, excesses and improprieties in life, impurities of the Blood, etc., superceding Copaiba and other Nauseous Compounds.

Beware of counterfeits. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

Price $1.25 per Bottle, or 6 Bottles for $6.50.

MANHOOD

IN THE

Young and Rising Generation.

The vegetable powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercises, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it is fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

TRY HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness Arising from Excesses or Early Indiscretion,

attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more deplorable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of matter, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES — SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients. Reason has for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths of Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibitions appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguile."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract of Buchu.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it.

Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoctions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and "larger bottles," etc. They are unreliable and frequently injurious. Ask for Helmbold's. Take no other.

STEAM SAFES
—AGAIN—
TRIUMPHANT!

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct., 7th, 1871.
AM. STEAM SAFE CO.,
COLE & LAMBERT, Managers,
300 Broadway, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—"The Binghamton Planing Mill and Sash and Blind Factory," together with several other large buildings, were totally destroyed by fire last night. The Steam Safe (No. 7) made by you, and purchased one year ago from Messrs. Paige & Chadbo, Agents, in this city, was in the Planing Mill, and went through the severest part of the fire; it fell into the basement, top down. To-day it was cooled off with water from the hydrant, and when opened the contents were found to be in perfect condition; not even the varnish inside the book-case was injured. Our confidence in the Steam Safe, (and hundreds of other citizens who saw it at a red heat and were present at the opening,) is perfect after this severe test. I shall want another Steam Safe as soon as I rebuild. Very truly yours,

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. Political.

An analysis of the recent vote of New York shows Scribner's (Rep.) majority for Secretary of State, outside of New York city, was forty-eight thousand, and the majority for Republican State Senators average 60,000 outside the city. Official figures of the State election show that Scribner, Republican, received 386,107 votes, and Willis, Democrat, 368,214.—Republican majority, 18,893.

DAMAGES PAID.—The Eastern Railroad corporation have settled several of the claims made upon them on account of injuries or loss of life occasioned by the accident at Revere. Among others, Mr. S. E. Mudge, of Salem, who was badly injured, has received twelve thousand dollars; the administrator of Mrs. Shaw—or Miss Rawson, as she was generally called—who died the day after the accident, four thousand dollars; and several other parties larger or smaller sums, according to circumstances. One young man of Lynn, who was cut by the glass of a broken window, has received $150, and there are several cases yet unsettled, the condition of the injured persons not having yet been definitely ascertained.

HEAVY SNOW STORMS.—A despatch from Cottonwood, Utah, says that the storms have not in the least subsided, and if possible were more fearful than ever, and they had not seen the sun since the 19th. Since Friday no teams have passed up or down the canon. A despatch from Tintic mining district says that a terrible snow storm has been raging there for six hours. Another slide in Cottonwood is reported, by which four men lost their lives. The snow at Alta City is ten feet deep, and at last accounts it was still snowing furiously.

Reports from the Northern Pacific Railway say that the thermometer was down to 23 degrees below zero, and a heavy wind prevailing. Trains were stopped and telegraph wires broken.

RUSSIA has undertaken armament on a gigantic scale and is forming two fortified camps each to hold 180,000 men. It is believed that these preparations are directed particularly against Austria.

New Hampshire Items.

New Ipswich has had a grape festival to raise funds to aid in the support of preaching.

While the jailer of the prison at Lancaster was in the cell of a convict named Horn, last week, the latter quietly slipped out, locked in his keeper, and walked out unmolested. The jailer remained in prison several hours before he could make himself heard and gain a release, and meantime Horn made good his escape.

On the 22d, in Great Falls, Mr. John Murray had his left leg broken in trying to get a barrel of lime down a flight of stairs.

On the 23d, in Canaan, Mr. David Hoyt, a gentleman of three-score years and ten, was seeing that two ladies drove their carriage safely up a steep bank, holding on to the back of the conveyance to steady it. At the critical point the horse gave a quick start, and over went the moveable seat, the ladies going over also. Both came plump upon the gentleman's head, with seat, robes, &c. As one of the ladies is a two hundred-pounder, his shoulders were both dislocated, but he is now doing finely.

Taylor Page of Dover, while walking on the Boston and Maine Railroad track, near Salmon Falls, was instantly killed by the 5 o'clock express train from Portland, Monday night.

A fire in Pool's bakery on High Street Great Falls, destroyed the building and contents, Monday night. The damage is about $3000; insured for $1200.

—California weather is extremely hot and dry.

—Three thousand alligator hides were tanned by a firm in Boston the past summer, which will doubtless be all consumed by the demand of the fall trade for water-proof boots.

—A man in Leavenworth attempted to bridle a woman's tongue by placing his thumb in her mouth. It was amputated, and the Commercial reports the attack of the victim by hydrophobia.

HOW TAMMANY MAINTAINED ITS RULE.—The New York Tribune says:

As the secrets of the City Hall are dragged to light, it becomes more and more clear that the Tweed gangs have received constant and active support from the best class of our citizens, and but for this they would have fallen long ago. It is well known that the municipal Ring has been in the habit of buying the adhesion of rich and respectable property owners through the medium of the tax office. A leading merchant whose assessment has been reduced, by favor of the Boss, from $100,000 to $10,000, shuts his eyes while his neighbor is robbed, and professes to be quite satisfied with the condition of the local government. A manufacturer who succeeds in getting seventy-five per cent. of his tax bill remitted, excuses the frauds in the new Court House, and urges all his workmen to vote the Tammany ticket. Democratic politicians whom the world accounts honorable gentleman, thankfully accept Tweed's bogus ballots, and keep him in power so long as his dishonesty is profitable to the party. The ring has bought these men, as absolutely as it buys the barroom striker and the Sixth Ward repeater.

—The loss of life by the Chicago fire will probably not exceed 200, including all those now missing.

—Dr. Hamill of Martinsburg, Va., fell into an excavation and broke his neck, while on his way to visit a patient one dark night recently.

—"Cast iron sinks, all sizes," is the legend a Hartford plumber inscribed on his "outer wall." "Well, who the devil (hic) said it didn't?" was the inquiry of an inebriated man.

A MILLION IN THE FIELD!

Yes, a million of men, to say nothing of the ladies, know by experience that

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

produces shades of color that seem to have been brought out by nature herself. They know, too, that it is free from all injurious matter, because they have used it for years, and thus tested it by a process more certain than even chemical analysis itself. In fact, the daily experience of multitudes of both sexes, confirms the declaration of the first analytical chemist in America, that the Excelsior dye contains "nothing deleterious to health." A good dressing should be used after the dying, and the best is

Boots or Shoes;

THOSE FASTENED WITH

CABLE SCREW WIRE.

BETTER—Because they are more Pliable, more Comfortable, are Water-proof, and are warranted not to Rip or Gape.

CHEAPER—Because, while their first cost is not in excess of sewed or pegged work of a like grade, their Durability is far greater, they preserve their Shape much better, and the metallic fastening insures a more Equal Wear.

Equally applicable to light and heavy work.

The immense demand having called forth imitations, consumers should be sure that every boot or shoe bears the Patent Stamp.

The True Ground of Confidence.

Whence comes that firm reliance, that absolute, undoubting faith in the efficacy of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS as a remedy for indigestion, bilious disorders, intermittent and remittent fevers, which notoriously prevail in all parts of the United States? This confidence has been growing for twenty years, and it is still extending. It is not the result of credulity; it has not been engendered by any human device, but is the spontaneous and natural consequence of experience. What people see daily going on under their own eyes they cannot question. When families in unhealthy districts, who resort to this wholesome vegetable tonic as a preventive, escape periodical fevers, and their immediate neighbors, who neglect that precaution, are prostrated by the disease, how is it possible that the phenomenon should be without its lesson? In like manner when it is seen that obstinate cases of dyspepsia, of liver complaint, of constipation, of nervous weakness, and of general debility, yield to the operation of the famous remedy, how can even incredulity itself withhold its endorsement? Eye-witnesses of the salutary effects of the bitters, are to be found in every civilized settlement on this continent. The thousands upon thousands who owe their restoration to health and strength, or their preservation from sickness to its extraordinary medicinal properties, are enthusiastic in its praise. The multitudes who recommend it in a neighborly way to their friends and acquaintances, as well as those who make public their estimate of its virtues, are always ready to state their reasons for the faith that is in them. They have all either felt or witnessed its beneficent operations.

—A boy squirrel hunter in Wisconsin recently came across two buck deer with their horns so locked together that they could not separate, and shot them both. Since the animals were killed it is found that the horns cannot be parted without breaking them. Moral; boy squirrels must not kill deer.

—The Bishop of Manchester, England, in a recent lecture, said that, no matter how lowly a man's estate might be, if he was good, and pure and true, he was a gentleman. About thirty years ago the law in England defined a gentleman as one who kept a gig.

—Smart young school-ma'ams, entirely without the aid of a sewing-machine, frequently collar and cuff a small boy in less than thirty seconds.—N. Y. Post.

☞ THE NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for this week, is now ready for delivery, at the Chronicle Office. Each number contains all the reading matter of the week's Dailies. Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

RARE CHANCE.—Persons wanting Sewing Machines, Melodeons, Cabinet Organs, Pianos, &c., can save money by purchasing of E. A. Joy, No. 9 Pleasant St., Portsmouth, N. H. He is selling out a large stock of New Goods, warranted perfect, at one-half and three-fourths the usual prices, in order to make room for the "Domestic" Sewing Machines, the demand for which is sufficient to require his whole attention. You can pay by small monthly installments if desirable. Second-hand Goods almost given away. Don't delay, for he is determined that the entire stock shall be closed out as soon as possible.

FOUR EVILS.—Whoever habitually uses any alcoholic preparations as an "appetizer" will be likely to suffer from four evils, viz: an overplus of food in the stomach, impaired ability to digest it, the pangs of dyspepsia, and a doctor's bill. DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, the great Teetotal Restorative of the age, without over stimulating the palate or irritating the stomach, imparts a healthful appetite, promotes digestion, regulates the liver and bowels, purifies the blood, and thus, instead of entailing four evils, confers four inestimable benefits.

An Irishman called at a drug store to get a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment for the Rheumatism; the druggist asked him in what part of the body it troubled him most, "Be me soul," said he, "I have it in ivery houl and corner er me."

For loss of cud, horn ail, red water in cows, loss of appetite, rot, or murrain in sheep; thick wind, broken wind, roaring and for all obstructions of the kidneys in horses use Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders.

The finest flavor imaginable is imparted to fish when served at the table by the use of the famous Halford Leicestershire Table Sauce. If you will test this standard article you will be satisfied with the result.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhea arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.
